WTVN
Quarterly Issues/Programs List

WTVN provides its listeners with programming and public service announcements that address issues of concern to our local community. Among the issues determined to be of most concern to the community during the preceding calendar quarter were:

- 2016's issues of substantive importance: This edition was a year-end wrap-up of the major issues discussed on this program in 2016. Included were clips from interviews covering education, employment, housing, race relations/diversity, crime prevention and family health.
- Care for caregivers: Members of Ohio Caregiver Support Community discussed services for caregivers as they put others' needs first and largely ignore their own needs, which they said can lead to physical and emotional burnout.
- Care for seniors: Officials from the Ohio Administration On Aging discussed how seniors can take care of health problems, including those concerning proper hydration even during the winter months.
- Community health care: Representatives from Ohio Health talked about their program recognizing people doing exceptional work to improve community health care.
- Community recycling: Volunteers from RecycleOhio discussed the work they're doing with area school teachers in turning students into recycling heroes by creating crafting with used materials.
- Family finances: Representatives from the Ohio Family Financial Association offered information about seniors looking to fund their retirement and making smart choices.
- Family health: Representatives from Caring Bridge discussed positive news for many with a serious illness and the people who care for them. They talked about their online journal that updates family and friends about their health condition and how it helps healing.
- Heart health: Brianne Harman, Communications Director with the Central Ohio American Heart Association, talked about how healthy eating can help protect your family from cardiovascular disease, which is linked to excess body weight and other risk factors.
- Housing: Ohio Homeowners Association officials talked about people who still believe in the value of homeownership, even with the ups and downs of the housing market.

- Military and Veterans: Officials from Ohio Military Support Foundation talked about programs designed to provide the best possible care for veterans that also offers rewarding job alternatives for experienced nurses.
- Palliative care: Diane Meier, Director of the non-profit Center To Advance Palliative Care, discussed palliative care and how it puts more control and choice in the hands of the patient and family.
- Student health: Representatives from the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons talked about how improperly used backpacks can bring on severe back, neck and shoulder pain as well as posture problems. They discussed backpack safety tips.
- Teacher support: Volunteers from the Ohio Kids In Need Foundation talked about how they give teachers from low-income schools a chance to collect free school supplies for their students.
