WTVN
Quarterly Issues/Programs List

WTVN provides its listeners with programming and public service announcements that address issues of concern to our local community. Among the issues determined to be of most concern to the community during the preceding calendar quarter were:

- Organ donation: Staff members and volunteers donors from Lifeline of Ohio discussed the high number of people across Central and Southern Ohio have signed up to be organ donors. However, they noted that a disproportionately high number of people are on the state's transplant waiting list.
- Chemotherapy and cancer treatment: Officials from the American Cancer Society talked about how patients undergoing chemotherapy can develop preconceived notions about cancer and its treatment, saying they believe chemotherapy means giving up certain aspects of their life.
- Managing retirement income: Officials from the nonprofit Life Insurance Settlement Association discussed that people over 70 years of age can sell their unwanted life insurance policy and pay off health care bills or supplement their retirement income.
- Auto safety: Members of the Ohio Car Care Council offered information on taking extra care of your car during the COVID-19 pandemic. They said to be diligent on changing fluids and filters, not neglecting the tires, not following a service schedule and to avoid aggressive driving.
- Internet safety: Internet safety and fraud expert Matt Wilson talked about the thousands of Ohio victims of identity fraud and how fraudsters are getting more sophisticated. He said account takeover and online fraud are becoming more common.
- Resources for seniors during a pandemic: Staff and volunteers from the Hilliard Senior Center discussed a program that connects older adults and their caregivers to local resources and support. They said among the other services is helping them find information on accessible transportation, medication safety, benefits, living with dementia and more during the COVID-19 pandemic.
