Topic: Election Machines

Earlier this year, the Cook County Board of Elections made a fifty-million dollar investment computer scanners and touch screens to replace old "Punch Card" ballots. The technology was "supposed" to make ballot counting easier. But, as WGN's Judie Garcia reminds us, that's not always the case. The March 2006 primary election marked a milestone for Cook County voters. For the first time, they cast ballots. The March 2006 Primary Election marked a milestone for Cook County voters. For the first time, they cast ballots either by an optical scan paper ballot or by touch screen. But, when it came time to merge those two technologies at each precinct before the results could be transmitted to the board of elections there were major problems. Despite all the problems in March and they're well documented, no one has ever said that the votes were not counted accurately, said Langdon Neal, Board of Election's Chair. But, the full count took a week after the primary election. This time, elections board and the voting systems manufacturer hope to head off potential problems with improved technology and a back-up system which includes 25 remote transmit sites in Chicago, 29 in Cook County.

Topic: Macular Degeneration

A new way to treat a common and sight robbing disorder. It's a shot at seeing better if patients can tolerate an eye injection. Age related macular degeneration is an epidemic in this country. It looks like this. No, there's nothing wrong with your television, the central spot is the view people with macular degeneration are left with. The disease deteriorates the macula and puts a black hole in patients' sight. Dr. Seenu Hariprasa/U OF C, Ophthalmologist: abnormal blood vessels grow underneath the retina; cause the retina to separate from the layer beneath it. In the past, patients got laser treatments and injections. Over the last year Lula Moise has tried 5 treatments. Yet her vision remained 20/150. Then she came to the University of Chicago where doctors tried a new approach, an eye injection of Lucentis. Lula Moise, Macular Degeneration patient: it looked like a skin or something was over the eye, but after I started taking the first treatment that cleared it up so I could see, that was beautiful. 90% of individuals actually and stabilized vision and did not lose greater than 3 lines of vision but was a new patient receiving this treatment actually left with improved vision?

Topic: SUDC (Sudden Unexplained Death in Children)

Toddlers going to sleep and never waking up. You've likely heard of SIDS where infants die in their sleep. But as a child grows the risk doesn't necessarily get smaller. From his first picture, Joshua Burda looked like a little fighter. His smile made his parents laugh and make each day better than the next. He walked, talked and kicked and climbed. A strong boy who made friends and played music. Rob and Diane Burda, Josh's parents: he had little shakers he liked to shake to the music when I played and he'd sing along. The sweet sounds ended one day as a 20 month old Josh fell asleep in his mother's arms. She put him down for his nap. I needed to get him up to feed him lunch early so that we could get out of the house, so I went up to get him and he was gone. All doctors could say was Josh died of Sudden Unexplained Death in Childhood. Ongoing studies point to a possible genetic mutation. Whether it will be one gene or it will be a composite of several polymorphisms or genetic variations among more than one gene, we don't know yet. We're certainly aggressively studying so that we can get to the answer for that and yes then the parent would at least know what the risk is. With this information parents could perhaps monitor children more closely. But that understanding of SUDC is likely years away.

Topic: Football Heart Attacks

Tackling the question of how football affects men's health? Would you think with the Bears playing so well, most men would feel good, right? The problem is when they feel bad; they ignore their health if the game's on. Michael: I have friends and family members who are diehard fans and they'd rather die than go to the hospital or whatever, if their team is on the verge of losing. Sam: sometimes you don't feel good or you feel a little dizzy. You tough it out and stay with the game. Rex: I would just suck it up and enjoy if it was really a good game. These men are not alone, a new study finds if the game is on, men are in front of the TV, no matter how they feel. Chest pains linger, breathing problems persist according to the American College of Emergency Physicians. ER visits skyrocket in the hours following a game. Matthew Belden, MD, emergency physician, Rush University Medical Center: I wouldn't put it off till the end of the game because it may not be caused by the food you are eating and it may be something serious like some type of heart problem.

They can obliterate brain tumors and block back pain. They are the super men and women from around the world, meeting in Chicago this week to discuss the latest advancements in neurosurgery. It's called a knife but it doesn't cut. Instead the gamma knife delivers precise radiation to tumors. And now it can skirt important brain structures while reaching down into the neck and even treating multiple brain lesions at once. Dr. Cerullo, Chicago Inst. Neurosurgery and Neuroresearch: the perfection, is able to expand the word envelope 300%, so that a whole new category of people can now be treated effectively using this state of the art, the gold standard technology which is known as gamma knife.

Topic: Lung Cancer

If you smoke, you are the first to go on the list. It doesn't matter if you have symptoms, you get a scan. Dr. Daniel Ray, Head of Pulmonary and Critical Care Medicine, Evanston Northwestern HC: to see if this technique would allow cancers to be detected when they are small, when they can be surgically resected and then to see if that translates into an improvement in survival from lung cancer. Survival odds for lung cancer are generally slim, only about 5%. But across the country when doctors gave at risk people a low dose spiral CT scan, they say the odds skyrocketed raising the projected 10-year survival rate for lung cancer patients to 92%.

Topic: Plan B

Beginning next week a new plan is in effect for pregnancy protection. Plan B is moving to store shelves. Regina: "I think it's really important and I'm absolutely in support of it". Many women support the move which will make Plan B more readily available to women. Up until now the delay getting the prescription likely meant the "Morning After" pill would not work as well. But some worry improved efficacy and access may translate to abuse. Phyllis: "I think its going to be abused because I think that people are not going to be careful with what they do, because they know they can run to the drugstore anytime to get the pill. The pill is really two pills: high doses of the hormone progesterin found in birth control pills. Plan B is first taken immediately following intercourse and again 12 hours later to prevent, not terminate a pregnancy.

Topic: Weight Monitor

Your doctor is watching you, checking your weight and more, from home! New technology is making medicine a bit like big brother and patients say "bring it on!" Vernon Berrien and his family look at images of a healthy one and one enlarged and failing. While he didn't know what it looked like, Vernon knew what heart failure felt like. He needed an implantable pacemaker to set his heart's rhythm and defibrillator to shock it when necessary. But Vernon's device had a few extra gadgets that make him feel super special. Vernon Berrien, Latitude patient: I always got somebody watching me. Every day his doctor can look at how his heart is pumping. Nats: we can watch from a remote location on computer display and analyze the rhythm. The device extracts information from Vernon then sends the data wirelessly to his doctor. It really provides some reassurance both to the physicians and the patient that there's a way to identify problems soon.

Topic: Holiday Heartburn

The painful symptoms sneak up quickly and can spoil a Thanksgiving meal. How you can avoid holiday heartburn. I think the biggest problem is that we over indulge and tend to overeat. There's nothing like it, turkey, mashed potatoes, stuffing and pumpkin pie. But for those with gastro esophageal reflux disease or chronic heartburn indulging in holiday food, is a recipe for disaster. Generally when we think of Thanksgiving, we think of turkey and turkey is usually not too bad in terms of fat. That's the good news. But watch out for fatty side dishes. Dr. Carline Quander, Gastroenterologist, Rush University Medical Center: one of the things that fat does is slows down emptying in the stomach so when you have a stomach that is not emptying, then it is more likely for whatever it is in the stomach to come back up into the esophagus. When that happens, acid from the stomach irritates the esophagus and causes painful burning in the chest. But doctors say follow a few simple rules for a reflux-free holiday.

Topic: Milk Tests

Milk for medical tests. They say it does a body good. Now it's helping doctors look inside the body better. When doctors suspect an internal problem with a patient, they often order a CT scan. And patients have to drink a thick, chalky, foul testing liquid to line the bowels to fill and highlight them for radiologists. Then someone asked, got milk? Dr. Lisa Shah-Patel, Radiology resident, St. Luke's Roosevelt Hospital: we actually compared a traditional oral contrast agent which is usually barium based to milk. Milk goes down easy, people even like it. It has calcium and according to doctors, shows real promise for gastrointestinal imaging compared to barium. Both of them appear grey so when radiologists are looking at CT scans, the stomach, small and large bowel, appear grey, which is exactly what we want and they both provide distension and by distension we mean expansion of the small and large bowel which is exactly what radiologists needs in order to find out why a patient is having abdominal pain.

Men and sixpacks. We're not talking about beef but what the beer can do to the gut. A local doctor says she is erasing belly fat and making way for fabulous looks. Charles Milligan, Liposuction patient: when I turned about 30 I looked up one day and I noticed that I had a little fat around the midsection. Here it is, the extra fat Charles Milligan wanted gone, immediately. After an office procedure, here is the result. I think I have a much sleeker look and I just feel better about myself. It's not as if he didn't try on his own. I did weights, basketball, a lot of cardio stuff. Been able to get just about any other part of my body to respond to exercise and working out, but the midsection has just consistently been a problem.

Topic: Stem Cells

Attacking heart failure when bypass surgery and drugs can't help, doctors hope a new weapon will save lives. After a quadruple bypass in 1998, Larry Adwell was on top of the world. Felt great. But that didn't last. Last fall the chest pains were starting to get real bad. Adwell developed severe angina. Dr. Gary Schaer, Director Cardiac Cath Lab, Rush University Medical Center: at this point the blockages in his arteries are in vessels that are small or totally blocked and really not appropriate for repeat angioplasty or bypass. But Adwell may benefit from a cutting edge treatment doctors are testing at Rush University Medical Center. This study is a trial to try to grow new blood vessels in areas of the heart muscle that are not getting enough blood and oxygen. The way we're aiming to do it in this trial, is to use stem cells.

Topic: Choking

How to save a life. But do you know the latest lifesaving techniques? A year ago the American Red Cross changed their guidelines. And when it comes to choking you may be surprised to learn that a well known method is no longer the first line of defense. On someone who is unconscious, imagine the scene; you're enjoying a holiday meal with family and friends. Suddenly a loved one appears to be choking. Would you know what to do? Martha Dittmar, Manager of Communications, American Red Cross of Greater Chicago: of course we recommend that everyone trained, but what we would like you to remember is five and five. That's five back blows followed by five abdominal thrusts, also known as the Heimlich maneuver. It's a cycle you want to continue until help arrives or the object is dislodged.

Topic: Rocking Chairs

Sick children doing their best to make healthy people feel better. You might think it should be the other way around, but in this holiday season being able to give, helps these kids heal. WGN's Jane Boal has that story in tonight's Chicago's Very Own. Chicago's La Rabida's Hospital serves children with lifelong medical conditions, developmental disabilities and those who have been abused. For more than 100 years the hospital has provided not only medical care to mostly Medicaid patients, but they also strive to help kids reach a higher potential. Recently, they invited the sick kids to design special rocking chairs. Patricia Bailey, RN MSN, La Rabida Nurse Case Manager: because it distracts you, anything that's gonna distract you from pain. Nurse Patricia Bailey has been working with Victoria Bethel and Lyric Porter for well over ten years combined. Between the girls (who have become friends through the hospital) separately they suffer from sickle cell disease, Lupus, sleep apnea and asthma among other things. Since they're here nearly every week for one treatment or another, they agree that decorating the chairs gave them an opportunity to feel like they could do something wonderful.

For the past four years, High School kids have been building wooden toys to sell to raise money for less fortunate children who might not otherwise receive what they want for Christmas. WGN's Jane Boal went to meet some of the kids making toys this year. They're Chicago's Very Own. Students in this wood shop class are learning valuable skills other than the obvious fine woodworking trade they'll be graded for, at the end of the year. Much more than academics is being taught here. This is the fourth year that St. Charles East High School students have been making and auctioning off wooden toys. What began as a friend and family project grew into a school-wide toy collection at Bell Elementary that will give many disadvantaged children a surprise under the Christmas tree. Reporter: Valerie Warner, WGN-TV

Topic: Winter Weather

We had an unusually warm holiday weekend. In fact, seven of the past ten winters have been warmer than average. Will this one be another? Or does nature have something else in store? Tom Skilling has the answers. Love it or hate it, here it comes. Getting stranded, the power going out, I love winter. It's my favorite season. The weather changes at any moment. It could snow at any time now. Winters here touch lives. They're so much a part of life in Chicago; even politicians take them seriously. In effect, Mother Nature teamed up with Jane Byrne in 1978 – 1979 to capture the city's top office after a series of crippling December and January snowstorms made it clear the city that works, in that case, didn't.

Topic: We begin this show in the Middle East. Allison Payne traveled to that troubled part of the world last fall with the Reverend Jesse Jackson. He was on a humanitarian mission. Dr. Martin Luther King's death on a motel balcony in Memphis in 1968 catapulted Rev. Jackson into the Civil Rights spotlight. Now, Rev. Jackson has stood in that light almost as long as Dr. King was alive. Rev. Jesse Jackson recently celebrated his 65th birthday and 40 years of service, Allison sat down and talked with both the Reverend and his wife. The last segment was a tribute to the man who inspired Reverend Jackson, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. National leaders broke ground this month on the memorial for Dr. King.

[TAKE: 2-SHOT]

~~{***ALLISON***}~~

SICAT HAD TAKEN TWENTY 9TH GRADERS FROM A ROUGH BOSTON NEIGHBORHOOD INTO HIS AFTER-SCHOOL PROGRAM.

{***TOM***}

NOW, FOUR YEARS LATER ... EVERY ONE OF THOSE STUDENTS IS GOING TO COLLEGE ... A FIRST FOR MANY OF THEIR FAMILIES.

AND AS WGN'S MURIEL CLAIR REPORTS ... OLIVER SICAT'S (SEE' - cat's) ENERGY IS NOW BEING TAPPED IN CHICAGO.

OLIVER IS OFFICIALLY ON THE PAYROLL AT CHICAGO'S NATIONALLY RECOGNIZED NOBLE STREET CHARTER SCHOOLS. HE'S BEEN HIRED AS A PRINCIPAL-IN-TRAINING WITH THIS CHALLENGE: TAKE WHAT YOU DID IN BOSTON WITH TWENTY KIDS... AND EXPAND IT TO AN ENTIRE HIGH SCHOOL. NOBLE STREET THINKS IF ANYONE CAN DO IT, OLIVER CAN.

:45 Hi everyone!

OLIVER'S CHICAGO ASSIGNMENT BEGAN OVER THE SUMMER.

[Notes: SUPER June 19, 2006]

****2:45 MIKE MILKIE SPEAKING "I would like to officially introduce to the Noble Street staff the two '07 principals."

OLIVER AND CHICAGO NATIVE SOLEDAD RUIZ WERE HIRED BY NOBLE STREET FOUNDERS MIKE AND TONYA MILKIE TO COMPLIMENT A DEDICATED GROUP OF TEACHERS AND STAFF.

***Mike Milkie, Supt. Noble St. Charters***}

"How will he be accepted by that group of teachers and staff. My belief is he'll be accepted once they find out about the kind of work he can do."

Nats- Pritzker classes changing-bell rings

IN JUST SEVEN YEARS THE NOBLE STREET CHARTER HIGH SCHOOLS ARE DRAMATICALLY CHANGING THE CHICAGO PUBLIC SCHOOL EXPERIENCE FOR HUNDREDS OF MOSTLY MINORITY AND LOW INCOME KIDS.

{***Oliver Sicat, Principal in Training***}

"I want to know how and where I'm going to fit in. Thinking about starting over is really scary and exciting at the same time."

AT AGE 27... OLIVER SICAT IS ALREADY MUCH ACCOMPLISHED. HE WAS BORN IN CALIFORNIA TO PHILIPPINO PARENTS OF HUMBLE

MEANS...

"I saw them educate themselves, I saw my father graduate college when I was 16."

HE WENT TO THE UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA... THEN GRADUATE SCHOOL AT HARVARD. THERE HE DEVELOPED AN AFTER SCHOOL PROGRAM HE CALLED E-MAGINE. EMAGINE WITH AN "E" FOR "EQUALITY THROUGH EDUCATION."

nats website (MUST SHOOT!)

HIS FIRST TRUE TEST OF E-MAGINE WAS WITH 9TH GRADERS AT MADISON PARK VOCATIONAL IN THE ROXBURY SECTION OF BOSTON... THE EQUIVALENT OF CHICAGO'S ENGLEWOOD NEIGHBORHOOD.

Oliver bite: 14:45-ish: "We took a good cross section of every kind of student you could find at that school."

WITH A DROP-OUT RATE OF 37%... AND MANY KIDS WHO COULDN'T PASS STANDARDIZED TESTS IN READING AND MATH... HE HAD ONLY TWO REQUIREMENTS... WORK HARD... AND DREAM OF GOING TO COLLEGE. THIS FALL, THOSE DREAMS CAME TRUE... *ALL ARE IN COLLEGE.... *MANY WITH SCHOLARSHIPS.

Nat-3-2-1 Boston marathon 2006

THE BOSTON MARATHON WAS THEIR TICKET TO THE LATEST TECHNOLOGY. THEIR LAPTOP COMPUTERS WERE PAID FOR WITH GENEROUS DONATIONS AND SICAT'S SWEAT.

HE REUNITED WITH HIS STUDENTS ON THE BEACH IN AUGUST WHEN OLIVER MARRIED HIS HIGH SCHOOL SWEETHEART ZIPPORAH ALLEN. SHE'S GETTING HER MBA AT NORTHWESTERN.

"This is a mansion-(edit) Washer and dryer that's living in luxury, I've never had this in my life."

THIS WILL BE HOME UNTIL OLIVER FINDS HIS VERY OWN SCHOOL.

"and then it clicks..."

FOR NOW, HE'S WORKING OUT OF THE BRAND NEW PRITZKER COLLEGE PREP SCHOOL AT CORTLAND AND KEDVALE.

Good afternoon-good afternoon

HE'S LEARNING THE NOBLE STREET CULTURE... STRICT DISCIPLINE... A DRESS CODE... AND DEDICATION TO LEARNING.

More class nats

FOR OLIVER SICAT THE FALL OF 2006 BRINGS A NEW CITY, NEW CHALLENGES... NEW OPPORTUNITIES FOR CHICAGO KIDS.

"I teach because I love my parents and I teach because I want to create opportunities for others who are like them."

MILKIE: ..."He has intellectual energy, he has physical energy, he has emotional energy and all those things will be needed."

E2 9 ELECTION MACHINES-TOSS

Duration: 0:17

[Anchor: STEVE AND ALLISON] {***STEVE***}

[TAKE: 2 SHOT]

EARLIER THIS YEAR, THE COOK COUNTY BOARD OF ELECTIONS MADE A FIFTY-MILLION DOLLAR INVESTMENT COMPUTER SCANNERS AND TOUCH SCREENS TO REPLACE OLD *PUNCH CARD* BALLOTS.

{***ALLISON***}

[TAKE: 3 SHOT]

THE TECHNOLOGY WAS *SUPPOSED* TO MAKE BALLOT COUNTING EASIER.

BUT, AS WGN'S JUDIE GARCIA REMINDS US, THAT'S NOT ALWAYS THE CASE.

SHE'S HERE TO EXPLAIN.

More

~~(SOT 26:45 - :56 )~~

~~(natsot from last year's count then optical scan then touch screen machines )~~

THE MARCH 2006 PRIMARY ELECTION MARKED A MILESTONE FOR COOK COUNTY VOTERS. FOR THE FIRST TIME, THEY CAST BALLOTS EITHER BY AN OPTICAL SCAN PAPER BALLOT OR BY TOUCH SCREEN.

BUT, WHEN IT CAME TIME TO MERGE THOSE TWO TECHNOLOGIES AT EACH PRECINCT *BEFORE* THE RESULTS COULD BE TRANSMITTED TO THE BOARD OF ELECTIONS -- MAJOR PROBLEMS.

~~(SOT ORR TAPE #1 1:26:06 :16 )~~

Langdon Neal / Chicago Board of Elections Chair. Despite all the problems we had in March, and they're well-documented, no one has ever said that the votes were not counted accurately.

~~(TRACK)~~

BUT, THE FULL COUNT TOOK A WEEK *AFTER* THE PRIMARY ELECTION.

THIS TIME, ELECTIONS BOARD AND THE VOTING SYSTEMS MANUFACTURER HOPE TO HEAD OFF POTENTIAL PROBLEMS -- WITH *IMPROVED TECHNOLOGY* -- AND A BACK-UP SYSTEM WHICH INCLUDES 25 REMOTE TRANSMIT SITES IN CHICAGO, 29 IN COOK COUNTY.

~~(SOT 26:45 - :56 )~~

Ed Smith / Sequoia: So, you have a backup system that was not in place in March to help get the results downtown just as quickly as possible to feed the news crews and the interested public with the results in fairly real-time.

~~(TRACK)~~

ADDED PEOPLE POWER IS ALSO PART OF THE PLAN -- COMPUTER SAVVY STUDENTS TRAINED ON THE SYSTEMS.

~~(SOT 7:08 - :15 )~~

Emily Manes / DePaul University Student: They don't want a repeat of the primaries and they're doing all they can do to make sure that it runs smoothly.

~~(SOT 5:14 - 17 )~~

Joel Baker / DePaul University Student: I feel pretty confident about my ability tomorrow.

(TRACK)

SOME VOTERS HAVE EXPRESSED CONCERN ABOUT THE POTENTIAL FOR VOTER FRAUD.

(SOT 32:46 - :56

Ed Smith / Sequoia: If it turns out that that person has already voted, maybe they voted in early voting time period and then they try to vote again on election day or something similar, that second vote can be removed.

(TRACK)

AND, THE VOTING SYSTEM MANUFACTURER SAYS THERE ARE SAFEGUARDS AGAINST POTENTIAL HACKERS.

(SOT 36:06 - :18 )

Ed Smith / Sequoia: When the data comes across that connection down here to Election Central, it asks is that the right hash code and the right security codes and, once again, they change with every election too. And, if they're not right, then the data is rejected.

(SOT DAVID ORR TAPE 1:23:32 - :39 )

David Orr / Cook County Clerk: In Illinois, we have what all the experts say is the most important thing you can have, and that's a voter verifiable paper trail.

[TAKE: MON2] {***JUDIE***}

IN ADDITION TO IMPROVED TECHNOLOGY AND MORE COMPUTER-SAVVY KIDS THIS TIME AROUND -- ELECTION *PROCEDURES* HAVE BEEN STREAMLINED.

FOR EXAMPLE, ABSENTEE BALLOTS *USED TO* BE COUNTED AT EACH PRECINCT. NOW, THOSE VOTES WILL BE PROCESSED AT ELECTION CENTRAL.

WGN WILL BE AT THE BOARD OF ELECTIONS TO MONITOR THE COUNT TOMORROW NIGHT.

age related macular degeneration is an epidemic in this country.

02:30 I think the biggest problem is that we over indulge and tend to overeat.

(TRACK)

THERE'S NOTHING LIKE IT -- TURKEY, MASHED POTATOES, STUFFING AND PUMPKIN PIE. BUT FOR THOSE WITH GASTROESOPHAGEAL REFLUX DISEASE -- OR CHRONIC HEARTBURN -- INDULGING IN HOLIDAY FOOD IS A RECIPE FOR DISASTER.

02:06 generally when we think of thanksgiving we think of turkey and turkey is usually not too bad in terms of fat

(TRACK)

THAT'S THE GOOD NEWS. BUT WATCH OUT FOR FATTY SIDE DISHES.

02:41 DR CARLINE QUANDER/GASTROENTEROLOGIST/RUSH UNIVERSITY MEDICAL CENTER: one of the things that fat does is it slows down emptying in the stomach so when you have a stomach that is not emptying then it is more likely for whatever it is in the stomach to come back up into the esophagus

(TRACK)

WHEN THAT HAPPENS ACID FROM THE STOMACH IRRITATES THE ESOPHAGUS AND CAUSES PAINFUL BURNING IN THE CHEST. BUT DOCTORS SAY FOLLOW A FEW SIMPLE RULES FOR A REFLUX-FREE HOLIDAY

(TRACK) (GFX)

NUMBER ONE, DON'T OVER EAT. LARGE AMOUNTS OF FOOD EXPAND THE STOMACH AND FORCE FOOD BACK UP INTO THE ESOPHAGUS. EAT EARLY IN THE DAY OR THREE TO FOUR HOURS BEFORE BEDTIME SO YOUR STOMACH IS EMPTY WHEN YOU LAY DOWN. AND AVOID CAFFEINE AND RED WINE, WHICH MAY SPARK HEARTBURN.

05:03 there are a lot of different things that people have access to that will help people who have these things just with the holidays

(TRACK)

FOR MILD SYMPTOMS THE FIRST LINE OF DEFENSE MAY BE AN ANTACID -- A FAST ACTING LIQUID THAT COATS THE IRRITATED

ESOPHAGUS. IF THAT DOESN'T DO THE TRICK REACH FOR SOMETHING STRONGER. HISTAMINE 2 RECEPTOR ANTAGONISTS, LIKE PEPCID OR ZANTAC, LIMIT ACID PRODUCTION IN THE STOMACH. IF YOU'RE STILL SUFFERING ...

05:08 then we have meds like prilosec which is otc, it was one of the first, we call it a proton pump inhibitor. it blocks the hydrogen pump in the stomach. and so it works usually works around 80 to 90 PERCENT of time

(TRACK)

AND FINALLY, REMEMBER THIS DOCTOR'S PRESCRIPTION FOR THE SEASON.

DR LISA SHAH-PATEL, RADIOLOGY RESIDENT/ST LUKE'S ROOSEVELT HOSPITAL: we actually compared a traditional oral contrast agent which is usually barium based to milk.

(TRACK)

MILK. IT GOES DOWN EASY, PEOPLE EVEN LIKE IT. IT HAS CALCIUM AND ACCORDING TO DOCTORS SHOWS REAL PROMISE FOR GASTROINTESTINAL IMAGING COMPARED TO BARIUM.

[TAKE SOT
AT: 1:38]

both of them appear grey so when radiologists are looking at ct scans, the stomach, small and large bowel, appear grey which is exactly what we want and they both provide distension and by distension we mean expansion of the small and large bowel which is exactly what radiologists in order to find out why a patient is having abdominal pain.

(TRACK)

FOR THE STUDY DOCTORS USED WHOLE MILK WHICH DOES HAVE SOME FAT... BUT EXPERTS BELIEVE IF PEOPLE CAN STOMACH IT BETTER THAN BARIUM IT WILL NOT ONLY IMPROVE TEST RESULTS IT WILL GET MORE PEOPLE IN FOR TESTING.

[TAKE SOT
AT: 3:30]

based on patient preference, the fewer abdominal symptoms and definitely the cost benefit. traditional oral contrast agents cost up to $18.00 a patient versus whole milk costing even less than a dollar fifty when bought by the quart I think makes milk a viable alternative.

IN TONIGHT'S MEDICAL WATCH -- MEN & SIXPACKS. WE'RE NOT TALKING ABOUT BEER BUT WHAT THE BEER CAN DO TO THE GUT. A LOCAL DOCTOR SAYS SHE IS ERASING BELLY FAT AND MAKING WAY FOR FABULOUS LOOKS.

[TAKE SOT AT: 17:53]

CHARLES MILLIGAN/LIPOSUCTION PATIENT: when I turned about 30 I looked up one day and I noticed that I had a little fat around the midsection.

~~(TRACK#1)~~

HERE IT IS, THE EXTRA FAT CHARLES MILLIGAN WANTED GONE, IMMEDIATELY. AFTER AN OFFICE PROCEDURE, HERE IS THE RESULT.

~~[TAKE SOT AT: 20:47]~~

i think i have a much sleeker look and i just feel better about myself.

~~(TRACK)~~

IT'S NOT AS IF HE DIDN'T TRY ON HIS OWN.

[TAKE SOT
AT: 18:13]

i did weights, basketball, a lot of cardio stuff. been able to get just about any other part of my body to respond to exercise and working out but the midsection has just consistently been a problem.

(TRACK)

EVEN IN THE PHOTOS BEFORE SURGERY, YOU CAN SEE CHARLES' ARMS HAD SOME MUSCLE DEFINITION. BUT AT AGE 43, FOR THE MIDSECTION HE NEEDED RUSH UNIVERSITY MEDICAL CENTER DERMATOLOGIST DR. ELLA TOOMBS.

[TAKE SOT
AT: 1:09]

90 percent of my liposuction patients are men.

(TRACK)

SO CHARLES DIDN'T FEEL UNCOMFORTABLE IN THE OFFICE NOR DID HE HAVE ANY DISCOMFORT DURING THE OFFICE LIPOSUCTION TREATMENT WHERE HE REMAINED AWAKE UNDER LOCAL ANESTHESIA ONLY.

[TAKE SOT

NATS: ok its been about four months so let's see where we are. (patient lifts up shirt and dr. examines abdomen)

(TRACK)

THE PROCEDURE CALLED POWER LIPOSUCTION USES AN ELECTRICAL SUCTION TOOL.

[TAKE SOT
AT: 3:30]

DR. ELLA TOOMBS/RUSH UNIVERSITY MEDICAL CTR./DERMATOLOGIST: so that it makes it an easier procedure for the patient and it is also less fatiguing for the physician, resulting in ultimately a better output, a better outcome.

[TAKE SOT
AT: 3:54]

i think it enables you to tailor and get a more refined, chiseled appearance, which is what in fact what many patients want.

[TAKE SOT

spectacular. exceeded all of my expectations.

IN TONIGHT'S MEDICAL WATCH ... ATTACKING HEART FAILURE. WHEN BYPASS SURGERY AND DRUGS CAN'T HELP, DOCTORS HOPE A NEW WEAPON WILL SAVE LIVES.

AFTER A QUADRUPLE BYPASS IN 1998 LARRY ADWELL WAS ON TOP OF THE WORLD.

[TAKE SOT]

~~11:45~~ felt great!

~~(TRACK)~~

BUT THAT DIDN'T LAST.

[TAKE SOT]

12:20 last fall the chest pains were starting to get real bad.

~~(TRACK)~~

ADWELL DEVELOPED SEVERE ANGINA.

~~[TAKE SOT]~~

DR GARY SCHAER/DIR CARDIAC CATH LAB/RUSH UNIV MEDICAL CENTER: at this point the blockages in his arteries are in vessels that are small or totally blocked and really not appropriate for repeat angioplasty or bypass

(TRACK)

BUT ADWELL MAY BENEFIT FROM A CUTTING EDGE TREATMENT DOCTORS ARE TESTING AT RUSH UNIVERSITY MEDICAL CENTER.

[TAKE SOT]

03:37 this study is a trial to try to grow new blood vessels in areas of the heart muscle that are not getting enough blood and oxygen.

[TAKE SOT]

03:49 the way we're aiming to do it in this trial is to use stem cells.

(TRACK)

VIDEO PROVIDED BY UNIV OF PITTSBURGH MEDICAL CENTER:
FIRST PATIENTS ARE GIVEN A DRUG TO BOOST STEM CELL
PRODUCTION IN THEIR BONE MARROW AND BLOOD STREAM. THEN DOCTORS REMOVE BLOOD FROM THE PATIENT AND ISOLATE SPECIFIC CELLS.

[TAKE SOT]

04:07 these are stem cells that are specific for growing new blood vessels.

(TRACK)

THE NEXT STOP --- THE CARDIAC CATHETERIZATION LAB WHERE DOCTORS MAP THE PATIENTS HEART AND IDENTIFY WEAKENED AREAS WHERE BLOOD VESSELS ARE BLOCKED. THEN USING A CATHETER TO REACH THEIR TARGETS DOCTORS INJECT THE STEM CELLS -- OR A PLACEBO -- INTO THE HEART MUSCLE WHERE THEY HOPE NEW VESSELS WILL GROW.

[TAKE SOT]

06:55 the primary end point, the main focus of this trial is to make patients feel better. so our main focus is on reducing the number of episodes of chest pain that the patients have.

(TRACK)

FOR ADWELL, THE CLINICAL TRIAL MAY BE HIS BEST HOPE FOR PAIN
RELIEF AND A HEALTHIER, LONGER LIFE.

[TAKE SOT]

15:34 I don't know if I got placebo, I don't know if it's psychological but either way its helped me. I feel better.

[TAKE SOT]

14:06 LARRY ADWELL/STEM CELL TRIAL PATIENT: even if I didn't get the stem cells and things get worse for me, it could help somebody else

IMAGINE THE SCENE ... YOU'RE ENJOYING A HOLIDAY MEAL WITH FAMILY AND FRIENDS. SUDDENLY A LOVED ONE APPEARS TO BE CHOKING. WOULD YOU KNOW WHAT TO DO?

09:53 MARTHA DITTMAR/MANAGER OF COMMUNICATIONS/AMERICAN RED CROSS OF GREATER CHICAGO: of course we recommend that everyone is trained but what we would like you to remember is five and five.

(TRACK)

THAT'S FIVE BACK BLOWS FOLLOWED BY FIVE ABDOMINAL THRUSTS -- ALSO KNOWN AS THE HEIMLICH MANEUVER. IT'S A CYCLE YOU WANT TO CONTINUE UNTIL HELP ARRIVES OR THE OBJECT IS DISLODGED.

NATS 02:35 are you choking, can you speak, cough?

(TRACK)

THE FIRST STEP ... ASSESS THE VICTIM. WHEN A PERSON IS ACTUALLY CHOKING THEY ARE NOT ABLE TO SPEAK, COUGH OR BREATHE.

06:19 GLORIA TREVINO, RED CROSS/ HEALTH AND SAFETY INSTRUCTOR:

if they are making high pitches and trying to cough they are moving air and therefore there is oxygen moving into the lungs

06:35 encourage them to continue to cough until they are not able to speak cough or breathe. that is when you do the back blows and abdominal thrusts

(TRACK)

IT'S THE LATEST TECHNIQUE RECOMMENDED BY THE AMERICAN RED CROSS. EVERY FIVE YEARS THE ORGANIZATION REVIEWS ITS GUIDELINES, MAKING ADJUSTMENTS AS NEEDED BASED ON THE LATEST RESEARCH IN FIRST AID AND SAFETY.

(TRACK)

COMMON SENSE WILL HELP YOU DETERMINE THE AMOUNT OF PRESSURE TO USE FOR BOTH THE BACK BLOWS AND ABDOMINAL THRUSTS.

07:15 you are going to measure the person. a bigger person you are going to have more force.

(TRACK)
BUT ALWAYS PROCEED WITH CAUTION.

06:10 you do not want to do this to someone who is not actually choking because it is very dangerous you can actually hurt someone.

(TRACK)
AND IF A CHILD IS STRUGGLING ...

07:28 the same procedures for the adult are the same for the child.

07:31 kneel behind them and do the same thing, back blows and then go behind abdominal thrusts.

(TRACK)
A FAMILY VACATION OVER THE HOLIDAYS MAY FIND YOU NEAR OPEN WATER. WHEN IT COMES TO HELPING A NEAR DROWNING VICTIM THE GUIDELINES ARE CRYSTAL CLEAR.

12:00 call for help from a lifeguard or someone who is trained otherwise you could put yourself in danger

(TRACK)
IF THE VICTIM IS OUT OF THE WATER AND UNCONSCIOUS -- DO BASIC CPR UNTIL HELP ARRIVES. AND CONTRARY TO ANECDOTAL REPORTS IN THE PAST EXPERTS SAY CURRENT MEDICAL RESEARCH SHOWS THAT NO OTHER METHOD, INCLUDING THE HEIMLICH MANEUVER, APPEARS TO BE EFFECTIVE IN SAVING A NEAR-DROWNING PERSON.

13:58 the Red Cross does not recommend abdominal thrusts for a drowning victim because we are assuming that person is unconscious and you should never perform abdominal thrusts on someone who is unconscious.
