Nina Kraus, Professor, Northwestern University: the same syllable "me" can mean horse or mother or marijuana depending on the intonation in which it is spoken.

[TAKE SOT

If you look at the colored lines, this is the way the non-musician... the brainstem was tracking or really not tracking the pitch of the stimulus. It's wildly off and it is not showing the kind of precision that you can see in the musician.

(TRACK)

THE NEURONS ARE FIRING BETTER AND THAT MEANS BETTER PERFORMANCE.

[TAKE SOT

Just by looking at this, you can see a very clear synchronis response by the neurons in the musician compared to the non-musician where the neurons are fire-ing in a rather disorganized manner.

DIRECTOR: STEVE NOVAK

SHOW TOPICS: Tens of thousands of protestors took to the streets demanding immigration reform. Also a Humboldt Park baker is creating a national stir.

SUMMARY: The need for immigration reform took center stage around the country on Tuesday. Several marches in different cities drew millions of people and Chicago was again, home to the biggest march. Community activists talked about the effects of the march. The minutemen who advocate for current immigration laws to be enforced did not stage a counter protest that day but we did speak with the spokesperson of the minutemen to get their views on things. Also on the show thirty seven year old Orlando Serrano, a head decorator at a Humboldt Park bakery was victorious in a national cake-making competition airing on the Food Network.

NOTE,

SHOW TOPICS: A sobering topic, cases of HIV/Aids growing in minority communities. Also on a much lighter, a workout program that is fun for the entire family. And an encore presentation of singer "Zyana"

SUMMARY: Although Latinos and African Americans account for one quarter of the total population they actually make-up seventy percent of new aids cases. In the Midwest specifically those same minorities represent more then half of all newly reported cases. How does the role of physicians, physician assistants and nurses specifically their ethnic background play in these alarming numbers? Also on the show health experts say people who dance can benefit more than people who walk by almost doubling the amount of physical activity in the same amount of time. That's why Mario Lopez of Dancing with the Stars and Saved By The Bell is now promoting dance as a way of improving your health. And we had an encore presentation on salsa music sensation "Zyana"
