Duration: 5:00AM-6:00AM

ISSUE	DESCRIPTION	DATE
Crime	A Wheeling man charged with attempted murder will be in court for a pretrial hearing at 10am. Kevin O'Brien is charged with attempted murder and malicious assault stemming from a domestic incident. The alleged incident happened back in September when O'Brien's live in girlfriend claims he punched, stomped, and choked her until she lost consciousness. The Ohio County Grand Jury indicted O'Brien, in September.	4/2/15
Education	The future of all high school sports in the state of West Virginia is now in the hands of a Wheeling man. Bernie Dolan has been named as Executive Director of the West Virginia Secondary Schools Athletic Commission. Dolan will lead the SSAC after a 30 year career in Ohio County Schools including stops as a math teacher, a track and football coach, the Wheeling Park Athletic Director, a principal, and the last three years as the Assistant Superintendent.	4/15/15
Political	The Register Herald is reporting that Jim Justice is considering running for governor of West Virginia. Justice is the owner of The Greenbrier Resort. He's worth more than a billion dollars, much of which was made through coal mining.	4/22/15
Economy	Gas prices are on the rise in both Ohio and West Virginia, just in time for Memorial Day weekend. Triple A says in Ohio, the average is $2.60 for a gallon of regular gas. That's up 12 cents from last week, but still lower than prices in West Virginia. The average is at $2.69 across the river. That's about 2 cents higher than last week. Analysts say a weaker U.S. dollar and strong gasoline demand drove the increase.	5/19/15
Economy/Political	In Ohio, legislation intended to give veteran-owned businesses a boost would add the state to a growing number taking similar actions to assist veteran entrepreneurs. A bill now in the state's House Ways and Means Committee would provide a 5 percent of $5,000 bid preference to veteran-owned businesses competing for state contracts. The National-Owned Business Association says at least 27 states already have some type of law or executive order to help veteran-owned businesses.	5/25/15
Education	West Virginia University has sealed its purchase of the former Mountain State University campus in Beckley. President Gordon Gee says the deal was completed yesterday, and the university hopes to offer classes at the Beckley campus by fall 2016. Carolyn Long, campus president of the WVU Institute of Technology, will lead the WVU Beckley Campus while continuing her leadership role at Tech. WVU purchased the campus land for $8 million.	6/2/15

ISSUE	DESCRIPTION	DATE
Economy	If you are looking for a job, head on over to the ninth annual Ohio Valley Job Fair today at the Ohio Valley Mall. It will be held in the center court and Boscov's court from noon to 4. The event is put on by Ohio Means Jobs Belmont County, which is a part of Belmont County Job and Family Services Department. There will be a wide range of employers from fields such as oil and gas, retail, food services banking and hospitality.	4/8/15
Political	It's shaping up to be a pretty crowded race for the governors office in West Virginia, however one familiar face will not be in the running. Senator Joe Manchin has decided to stay in the Senate and not run for the open governors seat in 2016. Manchin had debated another run at Governor after he says he was unhappy with the way things were being run on Capitol Hill. Manchin says it was a rough first term but things are starting to look up.	4/20/15
Political	Gov. John Kasich says his ability to raise money and compete in the early primary states will guide his decision on whether to make a full run for the 2016 Republican presidential nomination. Kasich told a CNN political analyst that Democratic presidential candidate Hillary Clinton would be formidable in Ohio and that Republicans and Democrats alike share the same concerns and want to see solutions to the nation's problems.	4/27/15
Healthcare/Education	West Liberty University is making sure their faculty and staff are taking the right steps to lead healthy lives on campus. The university kicked off a new health program this past week as pedometers were handed out to members who signed up. The steps program followed a round of health screenings the school had just held for the faculty and staff as the Hilltoppers show an increased interest in the health of their employees.	5/4/15
Crime	Moving to Jefferson County, where the man convicted of murder of two Franciscan University students back in 1999 will be back in court today. Nathan "Boo" Herring's murder conviction was thrown out in Ohio after an appeal on the basis of those murders actually taking place just over the Pennsylvania line. We'll be in the courtroom today.	5/20/15

ISSUE	DESCRIPTION	DATE
Crime	A former West Virginia Division of Corrections officer will spend time in prison after pleading guilty to having sexual contact with someone in jail. The plea agreement was reached just a short time ago in Judge James Mazzone's court in Ohio County. Krisinda McMahon pleaded guilty to one count of imposition of sexual acts on an incarcerated person at the Ron Muholland Juvenile Detention Center. McMahon will spend from 1 to 5 years in the West Virginia Penitentiary and has to register for 10 years as a sex offender. The juvenile victim told the court she was in love with McMahon.	4/6/15
Education	A major investigation is underway at Union Local High School. Officials say Belmont County Sheriff's deputies escorted Union Local's private security officer of the schools grounds yesterday. Sheriff Dave Lucas tells us the man was a private duty officer employed by the school system. The sheriff says the man will not return to the school until an investigation is complete. He says the man is not arrested or jailed, but allegations are being investigated. The sheriff also says no information is being released about those allegations.	4/21/15
Education	Officials at West Liberty University have come up with a plan to keep three campus buildings open for the next school year. The buildings include College Hall, Shotwell Hall and the ceramics studio, located in the Annex. Interim president Dr. John McCullough says "We always work to be receptive to those needs identified by our students and faculty, while maintaining a close eye on our budget which remains balanced for the coming year."	4/29/15
Crime	Vicki Cooper is charged with the illegal manufacture of drugs after the Jefferson County Drug Task Force found the items in her home on State Street Tuesday evening. Authorities say they've been getting complaints about the location for a while. Detectives got there before any cooking had begun. She will be back in court next Friday.	5/7/15

Crime	Police are still searching for 19-year-old Trevar Da'Sean Nettles of the Columbus and Toledo area. They believe he fired a shotgun at someone in the Hil Dar section of Wheeling early around 1 o'clock yesterday morning.	5/13/15
Political	Republican West Virginia Senate President Bill Cole will soon announce his intentions in the 2016 West Virginia governor's race. GOP consultant Kent Gates says Cole will make the announcement tomorrow. The first event will be at the auto dealer's Nissan location in Mercer County. Additional events will follow at the Capitol in Charleston. Cole would be the first Republican front Runner to enter the race. Congressman David McKinley and Attorney General Patrick Morrisey are also considering bids.	6/1/15
Political	There's a new man in charge in Weirton. Last night's election left Harold "Bubba" Miller the winner over incumbent George Kondik. Miller isn't a stranger to Weirton politics though, he's served on city council in the past and has been involved in the community for decades. He owns businesses in Weirton and even helped get CO2 detectors in schools and is currently working to get them into some senior centers in the city	6/10/15

ISSUE	DESCRIPTION	DATE
Political	U.S. Senator Joe Manchin says it's "about a 50-50 toss-up" whether he'll run for governor next year. He's expected to make a decision by Memorial Day at the latest. Manchin says his decision will be partly based on Senate Minority Leader Harry Reid's impending retirement, among other Washington changes. Manchin served two terms as governor before first winning his Senate seat in 2010.	4/7/15
Economy	More than 200 employees at Murray Energy have been laid off, including more than 150 people in Ohio and Marshall Counties combined. The company is blaming the layoffs on President Obama and his supporters saying it is "the ongoing destruction of the United States coal industry." Murray also says that despite the layoffs, the company has increased its West Virginia employment by about 400 jobs since the mines were acquired from Consol Energy in December 2013.	4/14/15

Crime	For the second time in less than a year, Valley Pain Management is back in the news. A 7 News viewer tipped us off something was happening at the McMechen Clinic. When we got there federal agents were removing boxes. We also reached out to the U.S. Attorney's office but we're told since it's an ongoing investigation, they had no comment. No one at the clinic answered the phone this afternoon. This is Doctor Roland Chalifoux's practice, which came under scrutiny last year when the clinic was closed and the doctor's license suspended for alleged unsafe practices. However Chalifoux's license was reinstated on August 28 th when it was ruled the West Virginia Board of Osteopathic Medicine failed to show he engaged in practices that posed a public threat.	4/28/15
Healthcare	A local hospital has given 7 News a sneak preview of its brand new emergency room. Each patient has a private room and each room has a specific purpose. There's a seamless anti-microbial floor, and an air flow system that keeps germs from one patient from spreading to the next. They say Barnesville Hospital has always served the under-served, especially now with gas and oil drilling. Phase one of the new emergency room opens May 19. Phase two, which will be the refurbished existing facility, will open in September.	5/8/15
Education	OSU is expected to implement spending cuts next school year because of a projected 10 million dollar budget gap in the university's College of Arts and Sciences. The college has been forced to hire fewer grad students and lecturers next year. Leaders of 23 departments and centers in the college told the university provost in a letter this month that they are losing confidence in Dean David Manderscheid. Dean Manderscheid says he's focused on fixing the college's problems.	5/18/15
Economy	Officials in Brooke County are now starting to get a picture of the type of lodge Brooke Hills Park could support. Talks have been ongoing for months, and today Larson Design Group unveiled their plans. They include a lodge with 15 to 20 units, more than six cabins, and a banquet and reception hall that can seat 150 people. BDC director, Patrick Ford says the group was able to utilize the whole park to support year-round recreational activities.	5/27/15

Education	Now to continuing coverage on the settlement between former West Liberty President Robin Capehart and the state ethics commission. Just one day after reaching that settlement, Capehart has opened up about the incident. Capehart acknowledged he solicited private business from a former part-time worker, when he asked her to serve as an executive producer on a movie he invested in. The commission then dropped all 13 of the remaining charges against Capehart, who will pay a total of 10-thousand dollars in costs and fines. He also opened up about the huge divide among people who believe that he should not be tied to the university in his new endeavors as Legislative Liaison.	6/5/15
Crime	New details after a meth lab was busted this afternoon in Moundsville. Officers served a warrant at 223 Thorn Avenue just around noon. Inside they found 33-year-old Joshua Powers and 35-year-old Billie Jo West, who are in the Northern Regional Jail tonight. Officers found an active meth lab with all the components of making meth inside. There were also two kids living in the house who were not at home at the time of the raid. Moundsville Police Chief Tom Mitchell tells me the home will remain sectioned off until a decontamination team can get in to clean. Mitchell says these kinds of situations dangerous for responding officers and the community.	6/8/15
Healthcare	A wonderful gala is set for this summer to benefit the WVU Children's Hospital. On August 1 st , you'll be transported to a tropical paradise, and enjoy a cocktail hour, dinner, music, dancing and more. It's a black-tie optional event and each year a family who have used the services is honored, along with someone in the community for the work they've done. Chairperson Brenda Miller says the proceeds are near and dear to their hearts.	6/9/15

Economy	Hiring veterans has become a mission of many local companies, and they're gathering in Charleston to find more veterans to employ. About 50 local companies are due in town tomorrow. This will be the sixth job fair organized by the VA Regional Office in Huntington. They changed the location this year, from Huntington to Charleston, since they are focusing more on placing West Virginia's veterans. Fields include government, medical, engineering, retail, and more.	4/21/15
Healthcare	Today kicks off National Nurses Week. In Mercer County, nurses at Bluefield Regional Medical Center are being recognized. According to a press release, more than 3.1 million registered nurses help to save lives and maintain the health of people around the country. The annual event is sponsored by the American Nurses Association. Each year, the event always brings on Florence Nightingales birthday. She's known as the founder of modern nursing.	5/6/15
Political	Huntington Mayor Steve Williams is being accused of misuse of city funds by the city council chairman. Chairman Scott Caserta has filed a citizen complaint over the mayor's decision to pay nearly $34,000 in unused sick-leave to former police chief Skip Holbrook upon his departure from the police department. In an email, Caserta says the mayor disregarded rules that say in order to be eligible for a pay-out like that, the departing employee must be over 65 years old, have worked for the city for at least 20 years, or be disabled. Holbrook did not meet those conditions. Caserta has forwarded his complaint to the prosecutor's office. A special meeting is being held in about an hour to discuss Caserta's status as chairman of council.	5/20/15
Healthcare	The American Heart Association recognized the WVU Healthcare Stroke Center as one of the best in the nation. The recognition is based on a collection of data and statewide comparisons. In more than 50% of cases, doctors at Ruby Memorial Hospital treat stroke patients within the hour they enter the emergency room. Patients who receive quick treatments often have shorter recovery times. Now, stroke center leaders say, they want to share their success with other stroke-care facilities in the state.	5/28/15
Crime	Now to an attempted bank robbery in Morgantown. A Pennsylvania man is in custody after he attempted to rob a Huntington Bank. Stephen Gaza admits he attempted to rob the bank yesterday. Gaza also admitted to three other robberies this month. Pennsylvania State Police pursued Gaza after he robbed the United Bank in Uniontown about an hour after the attempted robbery in Morgantown. Gaza did not take any money from Huntington Bank. But did steal a small amount of cash in the Uniontown robbery.	6/16/15

Education	New details tonight on the ethics complaint against former West Liberty University President Robin Capehart. We now know that the hearing against Capehart has been postponed until June 29 th . His attorneys said one of their key witnesses would be out of the country at the time and would not be able to testify, hearing examiner Jennifer Taylor agreed. The complaint stems from accusations Capehart misused University funding to help develop two movies during his time as President.	4/1/15
Economy	Many local businesses and labor organizations in West Virginia are gearing up for major changes. That's because the state's new prevailing wage law went into effect today. Public construction projects of 500-thousand dollars or less will no longer have to pay workers prevailing wages. We spoke to several local contracting businesses who tell us they are afraid they will now lose bids to out of state companies on small projects.	4/13/15
Crime	The investigation continues tonight after police say a man was shot in the leg yesterday on Wheeling Island. Wheeling Police, Ohio County Sheriffs Department and West Virginia State Police responded to reports of shots fired on South Penn Street early Friday morning and found the victim before searching the area for two black male suspects who police believe ran away from the scene. Investigators were able to gather some evidence on the scene and take statements from witnesses to help in the investigation as police look into a motive. The victim was taken to the hospital with non-life-threatening injuries.	4/18/15
Crime	An anonymous tip to local authorities lands one man behind bars after he allegedly stole 2 TV's. The Ohio County Sheriff's Department was investigating a break-in in Valley Grove on National Road when they received a call from the Ohio Valley Drug and Violent Crimes Task Force. They had received an anonymous tip saying that Zachary Foster had committed the burglary. Deputies say they found a power cord belonging to the victim at Foster's home along with a screwdriver they believed was used in the break-in. Foster was arrested on burglary charges and given a $25,000 bond.	4/25/15
Political	Four candidates have announced that they will run for office in the Friendly City. The Wheeling Brewing Company hosted the announcement today as Glenn Elliott made his intentions to run for mayor known while Chad Thalman, Jeremy Morris, and Wendy Scatterday say they will run for Wheeling City Council. The Revitalization of Wheeling was a key platform for all four candidates.	5/11/15
Education	It was a beautiful morning at Bethany College as graduates of the Class of 2015 were awarded diplomas in the college's 175 th Commencement Ceremony. The sounds of bagpipes filled the air around the Bethany campus as about 120 students filed into the Tillock Amphitheatre in the Pennington Quad. Bethany alumnus Bob McCann, a 1980 grad and the current president of a wealth management firm gave the keynote address.	5/16/15

Economy	A new report from WVU projects that coal production in the state will continue to decline. Statewide coal production has declined substantially over the last six years. The new report from the bureau of business and economic research anticipates that coal production will decline by one-third from its peak in 2008 by the end of next year. These findings correspond with the predictions made by the Monongalia County Coal Company, which says it is cutting more than 500 jobs due to a decline in market conditions.	5/28/15
Economy	Continuing coverage now on the layoffs at local coal mines. In order to help those affected miners figure out what happens next, meetings were held today in Marshall County with one goal in mind, to find a way to support these men and women and their families. Representatives from the Department of Health and Human Resources, Division of Rehabilitation Services and the US Department of Labor were on hand to help. Deb Meredith, the state coordinator of Rapid Response for Workforce West Virginia, says people have to understand it's okay to ask for help.	6/3/15
Crime	A mother is arrested after autopsy results come back for her 16-month-old baby found dead on June 8. 25-year-old Amber Newlon was taken into custody today. She's facing charges of reckless homicide, involuntary manslaughter, and endangering children. She does have another child that was taken from her custody and placed with child protective services. Right now, there are no details released regarding how the child died.	6/16/15
Healthcare	In health news tonight, a local fire department was recognized by the American Heart Association for their success in treating patients who suffer a heart attack. The Wheeling Fire Department has earned the 2015 Lifeline EMS Silver Award. That is given to department that meet or exceed the Associations standards of care for severe heart attack patients. Wheeling Fire Chief Larry Helms credits the EMS staff for their skill dedication in treating patients before they reach the hospital.	6/29/15

Healthcare	There's nothing better than putting a new book in a kids hands and now that's possible thanks to Michael's at the Highlands. Michael's held a two-week promotion asking their customers to donate a book to Wheeling Hospital's Center for Pediatrics. They got enough donations for 518 books. Now they'll be distributed among Wheeling Hospital's pediatrician offices, pediatrics floor, and pediatrics rehab center.	4/30/15
Education	The fight over education is not completely over in Monroe County. Earlier today the Switzerland of Ohio School Board scheduled a meeting for tomorrow to re-evaluate the closing of Beallsville High School. 7 News has learned within the past few hours that the meeting has now been canceled. Board member Jackie Hupp sent a release saying one of the board members was not informed about the meeting 2 days prior. The release does not mention a rescheduled time.	5/6/15
Economy	Appalachian Power is providing little information to justify the closing of three coal-fired power plants in West Virginia, one of them in the Ohio Valley. A petition filed by the staff at The Public Service Commission says that the agency needs more information to determine whether the closures are the best course of action. Appalachian Power spokeswoman Jeri Matheney says the company has discussed its decision in several cases. The Kammer Plant in Moundsville is one of the proposed plants closing.	5/12/15
Education	Many high school seniors are celebrating their graduation today! Hundreds of students from Wheeling Park High School received their diplomas this afternoon at WesBanco Arena. Our Scott Nolte read the names of the students graduating. In addition, students from Shadyside, Linsly, Valley, Bridgeport, Buckeye Trail, Bellaire, and Magnolia also received their diplomas.	5/24/15
Crime	One women is recovering tonight in a Pittsburgh hospital after being shot in the leg last night. Police in Steubenville received a call last night of shots fired at a St. Andrews Drive address and allegedly found Dawn Liggett of Fernwood Avenue with a .38 caliber revolver. Police say Liggett then turned the gun on herself and threatened suicide. Officers then reportedly rushed Liggett and during a struggle a gun went off and hit Liggett in the leg. She will face numerous charges when released from the hospital.	5/26/15
Economy	New seating has been put in to the Wheeling Plaza, along with a new business and the name says it all, its called MMM Popcorn. Landscaping crews are still working to plant trees, lay down bricks, and construct all new sidewalks. The updates will allow for more parking and seating, a major upgrade to a project that will be a big piece in Wheeling's future.	6/12/15
Political	A busy day for West Virginia Governor Earl Ray Tomblin as he paid a visit to the Friendly City. Tomblin spoke to members of the Wheeling Rotary Club on how to highlight workforce development efforts across the state. He also announced a new partnership with Southwestern Energy. Southwestern donated $250,000 in scholarship funds to both West Virginia Northern Community College and Pierpont Technical College. These funds are an effort to provide more specialized work force training for students.	6/22/15

60 MINUTES

04/05/15

“Homeland Security” – an interview with U.S. Homeland Security Secretary Jeh Johnson, fourteen months into his tenure. Topics include: the rise of homegrown terrorism and the threat of domestic recruitment for ISIS (ISIL); 2015 study of the department; his decision to order a drone strike which killed Anwar al-Awlaki, an American-turned-terrorist in Yemen; overseeing an array of 22 federal agencies; and the 9/11 attacks in which he personally witnessed the destruction of the World Trade Center. Also includes an interview with Clark Evans, the former inspector general of the Department of Homeland Security. (C: Lesley Stahl – P: Richard Bonin)

“The Good Friday Agreement” – a report on the ongoing divisions amid the Catholic and Protestant neighborhoods in Northern Ireland, specifically Belfast, despite the “Good Friday Agreement” from 1998 which in theory ended the war, known as “The Troubles”. In 2001, in a secret project, Boston College recorded oral histories with fighters from both sides of “The Troubles”, called the “Belfast Project”. One of those fighters, Brendan Hughes, died in 2008; and in 2011, Northern Ireland Police subpoenaed the tapes from the “Belfast Project”. In the tapes, Hughes accuses Gerry Adams, Irish Republican politician and president of Sinn Fein, the political party of the Irish Republican Army (IRA), of actual involvement in the violent activities of the IRA and of complicity in the murder of Jean McConville in 1972. Adams denies these allegations. Also included is an excerpt of Brendan Hughes’ recordings. Includes interviews with: Gerry Adams; Helen McKendry, daughter of Jean McConville; Ricky O’Rawe, former member of the IRA contributed to the Belfast Project; and Bernadette O’Rawe, Ricky’s wife. (C: Scott Pelley – P: Patricia Shevlin)

“Wikimania” – a report on Wikipedia, the free Internet encyclopedia, and how the non-profit Wikimedia Foundation has kept the website among the ten most popular advertisement-free sites. Jimmy Wales, founder of Wikimedia Foundation and co-founder of Wikipedia, discusses his vision of this charity and how he’s trying to get more women involved as Wikipedians, the volunteers who write and edit Wikipedia’s articles. Includes interviews with: Jimmy Wales; Sue Gardner, former executive director of the Wikimedia Foundation; Lila Tretikov, executive director of the Wikimedia Foundation; Amanda Levendowski, Wikipedian; and Dumi Ndubane, engineer and Wikipedian. Also includes comments by unidentified people attending Wikimania event. (C: Morley Safer – P: David Browning, Jonathan Schienberg)

04/12/15

“The Attack on SONY” – a report on the cyberattack on Sony Pictures Entertainment’s computer network by North Korea last November, and the cybersecurity questions for corporations going forward. The attack forced the company to immediately revert back to workplace practices used before the advent of the Internet. Sony declined 60 MINUTES request for interviews. Experts believe it will take a technological breakthrough in cyber warfare defense to fully secure computer networks. Includes interviews with: James Lewis, director at the Center for Strategic and International Studies; Kevin Mandia, president at FireEye, Inc.; Matt Zeitlin, business reporter at BuzzFeed.com; and Jon Miller, vice president at Cylance, Inc.. (C: Steve Kroft – P: Graham Messick)

“Ambassador Kennedy” – an interview with Caroline Kennedy, U.S. Ambassador to Japan. Among the topics discussed: her relationship with President Barack Obama; the United States’ responsibility for the defense of Japan amidst the ascendance of China; and her close working relationship with Japan’s Prime Minister Shinzo Abe, despite his claims that the accounts of Japanese soldiers abusing “comfort women” during World War II are exaggerated. The Japanese have a great respect for Ambassador Kennedy’s father, President John F. Kennedy, which helped pave the way for a well-received reception upon her arrival in Japan in November 2013. Also includes an interview with Kuniko Inoguchi, Japanese political scientist and politician. Includes brief footage of Ms. Kennedy’s son, Jack Schlossberg, addressing an audience in Japan. (C: Norah O’Donnell – P: Draggan Mihailovich)

“Rush to Judgment” – an interview with Mike Pressler, former head coach of Duke University’s men’s lacrosse team, who was forced to resign nine years ago as a result of the Duke Rape Case scandal that turned out to be disproved. Pressler speaks about his life during and after the scandal and his loyalty to Bryant University. As head coach of Bryant’s men’s lacrosse team since August of 2006, Pressler has turned a Division II program into a Division I threat. Also includes interviews with: Chris Kennedy, senior deputy director of athletics at Duke; and Ron Machtley, Bryant University President. (C: Armen Keteyian – P: Coleman Cowan)

04/19/15 “A Crime Against Humanity” – a report on the August 2013 Sarin nerve gas attack on Syrian residents in the suburbs of Damascus which U.S. authorities estimate killed over 1,400 civilians, including many children. The rockets delivering the gas were types used by the Syrian army and launched from land held by the dictatorship under Syrian President Bashar al-Assad. No one has been held responsible. Includes interviews with: Kassem Eid, resident of Moadamiyah who shared video from the attack; Scott Cairns, chemist and lead inspector for the Organization for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons; and unidentified eyewitnesses of the attack. (C: Scott Pelley – P: Nicole Young, Katie Kerbstat)

“TED Talks” – a report on TED (Technology, Entertainment, Design) Talks, an online lecture series that has become one of the Internet’s most popular and powerful platforms, utilizing the slogan, “Ideas Worth Spreading”. Includes interviews with the following people who have given TED talks: Bryan Stevenson, attorney; Jill Bolte Taylor, neurobiologist; Amy Cuddy, psychology professor at Harvard University; and Maysoun Zayid, comedian and cerebral palsy advocate. Also includes an interview with TED Curator, Chris Anderson. (C: Charlie Rose – P: Henry Schuster, Rachael Morehouse)

“Hoop Dreams” – an interview with Bob Petrella, who has a mysterious condition called HSAM (highly superior autobiographical memory) and can remember almost every day of his life. Bob created a basketball team in his mind when he was 13-years-old and named it, “The Holland College Golden Knights”. Now at age 64, Bob can recall all 50 seasons of the Golden Knights’ games, from players’ names and statistics, to how many championships they have won and lost. Also includes interviews with: Dr. James McGaugh, professor of neurobiology at University of California Irvine (UCI); and Bobby Simmons, Petrella’s friend. Also includes comments by Bob’s friends: Nancy Oey and Mark O’Keefe. (C: Lesley Stahl – P: Shari Finkelstein, Jennie Held)

The Mail - selected viewer comments about the segment “Rush to Judgment” (OAD: 04/12/15)

04/26/15 “Death in the Mediterranean” – a report on the rising number of migrants trying to reach Europe by dangerous boat trips across the Mediterranean Sea out of desperation to leave Syria, Eritrea and other Middle Eastern and North African countries controlled by dictatorships. Overcrowded boats leave from Libya and Turkey. Once the vessel is in proximity to Italy, a distress call is made to the Italian Coast Guard and they are rescued and brought back to Italy. Up to 2,000 migrants have died this year, including the estimated 800 who perished last week when a boat capsized and sank. Traffickers have also been taking advantage of the situation by charging exorbitant fees. Includes interviews with: Arturo Incerti, Italian Coast Guard Officer; Mulu Amale, migrant; Captain Leopoldo Manna, Italian Coast Guard; Federico Soda, regional director for the Mediterranean for the International Organization for Migration; and Ahmad Zaid al-Abdu and his wife Fatima, migrants (through translator). (C: Clarissa Ward – P: Randall Joyce)

“The Battle Above” – a report on the US Air Force’s Space Command (AFSPC) and its task of launching and protecting the satellites in space on which our daily life and national security have come to depend. With no worldwide agreement regarding a code of conduct for space operations, the Chinese tested an anti-satellite weapon two years ago. Now AFSPC, with billions of dollars from the Pentagon, is making new satellites more maneuverable to evade attack and also more resistant to jamming. Includes interviews with: General John Hyten, Commander, AFSPC; Colonel Bill Cooley, Director of Global Positioning Systems (GPS) at the Space and Missile Systems Center; Lieutenant Colonel Todd Benson, Commander, 2nd Space Operations Squadron; Lieutenant General Jay Raymond, Commander, Joint Functional Component Command for Space; Brian Weeden, technical adviser to the Secure World Foundation; and Deborah Lee James, Air Force Secretary. (C: David Martin – P: Andy Court)

DOUBLE LENGTH SEGMENT

48 HOURS

04/04/15

48 HOURS: "The Accidental Husband" - a report on Harold Henthorn, a twice-widowed man from Colorado whose two wives both died in unusual accidents, and whose changing account of events led family members to suspect that he murdered them. In 2012, Harold Henthorn surprised his wife Dr. Toni Henthorn, a successful ophthalmologist, with a weekend hike in Rocky Mountain National Park to celebrate their anniversary -- only to have it end in her death from a fall. Henthorn's version of events to family members changed several times and they began to doubt his account of events and to suspect he was responsible for her death. While reporting on the case, investigative reporter Brian Maass received an anonymous email stating Henthorn's first wife died in a freak accident as well. Maass looked into the accident and discovered first wife Lynn Henthorn had died 17 years earlier in another freak accident. He found: (1) both accidents occurred in very remote locations in Colorado; (2) Henthorn was the only witness; (3) the accidents were extremely unusual; (4) he had told numerous versions of the events; and (5) both wives had large life insurance policies, with him as the sole beneficiary. Federal investigators also discovered that Henthorn had not worked for the past twenty years. He had also taken out a fraudulent policy worth millions on his ex-sister-in-law, Grace Rishell, who now believes she was to be his next target. In 2014, two years after Toni Henthorn's tragic death, federal authorities arrested and charged Harold Henthorn with her murder. His trial is scheduled to begin in the fall. On-screen text graphic: A judge will decide if Lynn's death can be included in Henthorn's trial for the murder of Toni. Henthorn has yet to receive any proceeds from Toni's life insurance. Harold Henthorn declined our request for an interview. Interviewed: Barry Bertolet, Yvonne Bertolet and Bob Bertolet (Toni Henthorn's brother and parents); Daniel Jarvis (friend of Harold Henthorn); Tammi Abbruscato, Christie Drews (Toni Henthorn's co-workers); Brian Maass (investigative reporter); Grace Rishell (ex-sister-in-law of Harold Henthorn and Lynn Henthorn) and daughter Laura Rishell; Ann McNally, Nancy Hodges (co-workers of Lynn Henthorn); Patricia Montoya (offered aid during first accident); Lora Thomas (Douglas County Coroner); Arnold Wheat (48 HOURS consultant/ accident reconstruction specialist). (C: Peter Van Zant - P: Ruth Chenetz, Lindsey Gutterman)

04/11/15

48 HOURS: "Death After Midnight" - a report on the 2012 death of Ashley Fallis, a married mother of three who was found with a single gunshot wound to the head in the bedroom of her Evans, Colorado home. What is unknown is whether it was suicide, as her husband Tom Fallis maintains, or was it murder, as Ashley's parents insist. Following a New Year's Eve party at her home, Ashley's parents left, as they had in the past, when Fallis got nasty. What happened next is uncertain: Tom Fallis maintains that his wife killed herself with a gun she kept hidden beneath the mattress. Police interviewed him that night, noting he was agitated, gave various versions of events and had scratches on his chest. The coroner ruled Ashley's death a suicide and the police closed the case within days. Her parents were convinced their son-in-law had killed their daughter. Fallis moved to Indiana with the children to go to graduate school. In 2014, a local TV reporter began his own investigation after receiving a tip that something was not right. His investigation led to the case being re-opened and handled by a larger police department in the area. 48 HOURS consultant Scott Roder prepared a forensic recreation of events. He concluded that there is evidence that could be consistent with suicide, but there is also a case for an accidental discharge. There also exists some disturbing physical evidence that leaves many questions. Tom Fallis has now, years later, supplied letters written by Ashley that seem like suicide notes. Two years after Ashley's death, Tom Fallis was indicted for murder and arrested in Indiana. He is out on bail, but must remain in Colorado. On-screen text graphic: Ashley's parents are fighting for custody of their grandchildren. They have also filed a federal lawsuit against the Evans Police Department, alleging police misconduct. Authorities found no evidence to bring criminal charges against Evans Police Officer Michael Yates for the alleged discrepancies in his report. The court has not yet set a date for Tom Fallis' trial. Interviewed: Jenna Fox and Joel Raguindin (parents of Ashley Fallis); Bryce Fox-Raguindin (brother); Chief Rick Brandt (Evans, Colorado Police Chief); Justin Joseph (KDVR-TV reporter); Scott Roder (forensic recreation specialist). (C: Erin Moriarty - P: Lindsey Gutterman, Alec Sirken, Lauren Clark, Chuck Stevenson, Chris Young Ritzen, Doug Longhini)

04/18/15

48 HOURS: "To Catch a Genius"- a report on the 1994 death of Linda Curry, a non-smoker who was found dead with a lethal amount of nicotine in her system, and the investigation which ultimately determined that it had been given to her, without her knowledge, by her husband, "Jeopardy" champion Paul Curry. Career woman Linda Curry worked at Southern California Edison San Onofre Nuclear Power Plants. She had many close friends; she dated, was a spendthrift, and owned a big house in San Clemente, California. At work, she met the much younger engineer Paul Curry. He was extremely smart, rubbed many people the wrong way, was a member of Mensa, and bragged about winning thousands of dollars on "Jeopardy". Only after they married in 1992, did she learn of Paul's two ex-wives and three children. She had several life insurance policies; Curry was the beneficiary on some. Curry also asked her to take out an additional $1million policy, but she never did. Friends told her to dump him. In 1993, she became violently ill, needing hospitalization: poisoning was suspected after lab workers discovered lidocaine in a contaminated IV bag. The investigation focused on one person: Paul Curry. Five months later, she was again hit with a mystery illness. Her IV bag again was again tampered with. Friends believed that Curry wanted to kill Linda and cash in -- but Linda remained loyal. Six months later, Linda died. The cause of death was attributed to nicotine poisoning and Ambien overdose. Her death was ruled a homicide, but Paul Curry was never charged. Linda had drafted a note giving her sister half of her estate. Curry was beside himself even though she left him the house and close to a half-a-million dollars. The case grew cold. Afterwards, Paul Curry's lies came to light: he was a complete fraud. He was not an engineer; in fact, he did not even have a college degree. He left town. In 2002, the case was re-opened by the Orange County Sheriff's Department. In 2008, Sergeant Yvonne Shull felt she had enough information to present to the prosecutor. Curry was located in Salina, Kansas where he was living a new life. He was tricked into a meeting, believing he was talking to local detectives, but all the while talking to Sergeant Shull. Using the information he spoke about in the interview, he was arrested and charged with murder. At trial, the prosecutor used Mark Curry's own words to win the case. Curry was found guilty of murder in the first degree. On-screen text graphic: In her will, Linda Curry left ten thousand dollars each to ten special friends, including Merry Seabold and Frankie Thurber. Interviewed: Merry Seabold, Bill Sandretto, Frankie Thurber (Linda Curry's friends); Ebrahim Baytieh (Orange County Prosecutor); Mike Flower (Paul Curry's boss); Sherry Bundy (Registered Nurse); Sergeant Yvonne Shull (Orange County Sheriff's Department); Dr. Neal Benowitz (Professor of Medicine, University of California, San Francisco). (C: Erin Moriarty - P: Paul LaRosa, Gayane Keshishyan)

04/25/15

48 HOURS: "The Verdict" - an investigation into the 2010 death of Robert Cline in Seminole County, Florida, and the case against Anita Smithey, who was convicted of second-degree murder for killing him, her estranged husband. While the two were in bed, she claims that she was being violently raped and that she feared for her life. Smithey admits she shot and killed Cline, but she asserts it was not murder. Their relationship started out with promise: Cline was a widower with children and Smithey also had kids. After they married, things began to change in their relationship, which Smithey attributed to Cline's addiction to marijuana. He also demanded rough sex. They eventually separated, but continued to meet every Monday for sex. During their last fateful encounter, she says he started to rape her, and then she shot him. She also said he stabbed her with a knife. During a police interrogation, Smithey went from being a victim to a murder suspect when she admitted to stabbing herself. Her attorney maintained that police bullied her into making that statement. The case pitted the couple's extended families against each other, raised questions about their relationship and whether the shooting was justifiable homicide or murder. Prosecutors argued there was no rape and say the knife wounds were self-inflicted. At the trial's end, which many believe was going the way of the defense, Smithey's attorney Rick Jancha, mistakenly opened the door to the jury being able to hear the 911 call that had been forbidden to be used. Smithey was found guilty. Just before sentencing, her attorney suffered a fatal heart attack, and another attorney has stepped in to plan an appeal. The Cline family continues to maintain that Smithey was the abuser. On-screen text graphic: Robert Cline's children were adopted by his sister, Belinda. Anita's children are being raised by her first husband. Interviewed: Anita Smithey; Drew Smithey (son); Stephanie Cline (daughter); Belinda Cline (Cline's sister); Jessica Flores (Smithey's best friend); Daniel Mattingly and Matthew DePanicis (detectives); Whitney Boan (Smithey's current attorney); Phil Andry, Audie Andry (Smithey's father and brother); Stacey Salmons and Kelly Jo Hines (prosecutors). CBS RELIGIOUS AND CULTURAL SPECIAL

04/12/15 “Faith, Hope & the Burden of Addiction” – an interfaith special examining how the nation’s prescription drug and heroin epidemic is affecting communities in America, and what can be done to lift the shame and stigma of addiction. According to the Centers for Disease Control, there are more deaths from opioids in this country than from car accidents and gunshot wounds. (1) Michael Botticelli, Director of the White House Office of National Drug Control Policy, discusses the Obama administration’s efforts to reduce illicit drug use as it moves from the cities to the suburbs. The administration believes substance use disorders are a public health issue, not a criminal justice problem, and is working to put an adequate infrastructure in place to support this change in policy. (2) Scientific advances of the last twenty years have changed how we understand addiction as a chronic brain disease. Dr. David Gastfriend, CEO of Treatment Research Institute (TRI), in Philadelphia, PA, and Dr. Kathleen Meyers, a TRI Senior Research Scientist, explain why legal and illegal drugs of today are especially dangerous in the hands of young people and why more efforts around prevention and intervention are needed. (3) Rev. Richard Cizik, President of the New Evangelical Partnership for the Common Good in Washington, D.C., lost his 23-year-old son to a heroin overdose in December 2013. Today, Rev. Cizik shares his story to raise awareness about the vulnerability of young people to illicit drug use and believes the faith community could be doing more to help reduce the stigma of addiction. Cizik and his pastor, the Rev. Toby Larson of Celebration Church, started the first drug addiction task force in their hometown of Fredericksburg, VA. (4) In Scituate, MA, a grassroots coalition was formed in response to the opioid epidemic in young adults. Annmarie Galvin, co-founder of the Scituate FACTS Coalition, describes why she helped start this organization. The Scituate FACTS Coalition brings together local law enforcement, school officials and treatment providers as a means to help prevent teen drug abuse. In April 2014, local clergy partnered with the coalition and held a vigil at the local high school. Members of the Scituate Clergy Association -- including Rev. Mike Dunfee of First Trinitarian Congregational Church UCC, Rev. Dan Eddy of Christ Lutheran Church, Rev. Jenny Styers of Harbor United Methodist Church and Pastor Barbara Welch, a minister in the American Baptist Church – discuss their efforts. (5) Meghann Perry, a native of Scituate, discusses her 18-year struggle to overcome an addiction to heroin. Clean for the past five years, she credits her recovery, in part, to connecting with her spiritual self and community. Today, she is an active member of Harbor United Methodist Church. (Narrator: Ted Holmes. Producer & Writer: Elizabeth Kineke. Associate Producer: Natalie Baxter. Director & Executive Producer: John P. Blessington. Produced in consultation with: National Council of Churches; A Consortium of Roman Catholic Organizations; The Islamic Society of North America; New York Board of Rabbis.)
