Dry Conditions See Tulsa Firefighters Sent to Panhandle Fire

Date: 4/14/18 4pm

Duration: 2:00

Jenny Young

Thirty members of the Tulsa Fire Department's Wildfire Task Force headed to Woodward County in Western Oklahoma to help battle the wildfires started 2 days ago thanks to dry and windy weather. The taskforce was called up by the state forestry service. It was formed 6 months ago and made up of firefighters from departments across Green Country. Since the wildfires started, state officials say well over 366,000 acres have burned, destroying homes, causing evacuations, and even killing one man. Air tankers and National Guard helicopters are among the resources being used to battle the historic flames. The Tulsa team sent 7 brush trucks and 3 support vehicles to join the more than 500 fire fighters from across Oklahoma. The Oklahoma Forestry Service predicts the fire risk in western Oklahoma to remain high through the middle of next week, due to the weather conditions.

Hot Temps Help Boost Lake Businesses

Date: 5/27/18 5pm

Duration: 2:00

Mariah Ellis

The heat is driving visitors to Keystone Lake in droves, something local businesses are thankful for. Pier 51 Marina says business was hit hard last year thanks to the flooding that happened over Memorial Day weekend. The marina owners had to turn off power, limit gasoline and generators, and couldn't open the majority of the area including the café and retail store. This downturn came after another big flood hit 2 years before, in 2015. The owners are thankful for a respite in the rain and anticipate a great start to the summer. They have already had to close their boating ramp because they're at capacity.

Heat Wave Prompts Cooling Centers

Date: 6/2/18 5pm

Duration: 2:00

Mariah Ellis

An earlier than normal heat waves has had the Salvation Army downtown seeing a wave of people taking advantage of the cooling centers they have set up. Several dozens of people have been visiting the cooling center, but up to 300 are staying at the shelter. Not only does the Salvation Army provide a free meal, but also water to stay hydrated and shade from the heat. The Salvation Army is not the only place in town folks have sought a respite, the John 3:16 mission says they've seen their numbers increase too.

Warm Weather Sees Package Theft Spikes

Date: 6/3/18 5pm

Duration: 2:00

Mariah Ellis

It's not unusual for package thefts to rise during the summer. The Tulsa County Sheriff's Office says the uptick is due to the temps warming up, kids are out of school, and there are generally just a lot more people outside. The warm weather brings more opportunity for crime, especially car and package theft.

The sheriff's office warns that when there's an easy opportunity, chances are thieves will take advantage of it.

Okmulgee County Picking Up Damage After Storms

Date: 6/24/18 5pm

Duration: 2:00

Mariah Ellis

Okmulgee residents are assessing storm damage after this morning's storms rolled through the area, knocking over power lines and trees. Residents have reported everything from power and gas outages and holes in homes due to large trees and limbs falling. One man even reported water coming through a hole in the roof caused by a tree falling. The city announced it would be picking up limbs and tree damage curbside in an effort to help residents clean up the damage left behind.

Muskogee County Storms Cause Power Outages

Date: 6/24/18 5pm

Duration: 2:00

Cornelius Hocker

In Muskogee, storms raked the town and left power knocked out for many around 55th street between Hancock and Smith Ferry. The city said restoring power is tough because so many lines are down thanks to the storms. Residents reported high winds in the area, and said they bought ice for their freezers because they don't know when power will be turned back on. There currently is no timeline on when crews will be able to restore power because of the current conditions with rain moving back in.

State of Emergency Declared in Okmulgee

Date: 6/25/18 12pm

Duration: :20

Mariah Ellis

Commissioners declared a state of emergency for Okmulgee county today. It's among several places that saw heavy storms Sunday morning. The National Weather Service announced straight line winds caused the damage. Many people spent the majority of Sunday cleaning up the mess left behind and say it could take several days to finish.

AAA Warns Drivers About Summer Heat

Date: 6/27/18 12pm

Duration: 2:00

Mallory Thomas

With the summer temps continuing to soar, AAA is warning drivers to have water in their car at all times in the event you are stranded on the road waiting for a tow truck. The company says some preventative measures drivers can take include checking all car fluid levels and making sure everything is in good condition before hitting the road for a road trip. AAA says with the summer heat even just driving on the highways around town could be breaking down your tires. AAA says they are seeing an increase in the number of cars they have been towing for issues from the battery to a tire blow out.

Heat Drives People To Water Park By The Hundreds

Date: 06/30/18 5pm

Duration: 2:00

Mariah Ellis

People from all over Tulsa and the surrounding areas are seeking refuge from the oppressive heat at places like Safari Joes H2O water park. Residents are hitting up the water slides, lounging in the wave pool, and taking advantage of the shade. A park supervisor estimated they saw 2500 guests at the park today alone, but staff reports business has been pretty constant all season. EMSA has already reported at least 5 heat-related calls today, and the heat advisory in effect will likely last into the night.

City Hosts Annual Drug Take Back Program

Date: 4/21/18 5pm

Duration: 2:00

Jackie DelPilar

The Tulsa Drug Enforcement Administration office spent today making sure prescription drugs didn't end up in the wrong hands. The agency set up 11 Drug Take-Back collection sites throughout Oklahoma's northern district. The city of Tulsa also participated in the free and anonymous service. The Department of Justice says in previous events, the DEA and partners took in more than 9 million pounds of prescription drugs.

STEM Summit Begins in West Tulsa

Date: 4/28/18 5pm

Duration: 0:20

Jackie DelPilar

The Neighbors Along the Line hosted a STEM summit in West Tulsa today. Kids got to see different activities that involved science, technology, engineering, and math. The Tulsa Regional STEM Alliance said the event brings families together. Older children got the change to talk with college and career representatives in the STEM alliance.

Tulsa High School Student Takes Home Trophy at Science Fair

Date: 5/27/18 5pm

Duration: 2:00

Mallory Thomas

Cascia Hall student Braden Milford is celebrating his third-place win at an international science fair, but is also getting ready for his next science fair in two weeks. Braden has spent countless hours in research labs during the school year, focusing specifically on removing heavy metals from contaminated streams. Braden and another student were working to find funding for science fairs across the state two months ago, and now Braden has moved on to follow his passion and compete in multiple fairs. He's spent months working to find a cheaper way to remove heavy metals from city water sources. Braden says right now the EPA spends millions of dollars to do it, but his system consists of 600 beads and only costs ten dollars to make. The project caught the attention of the judges and he even got a special award encouraging him to trademark his research.

Health Department Board Member Honored

Date: 6/15/18 5pm

Duration: :20

Shae Rozzi

The Tulsa Health Department invited city and state leaders to honor a board member who has been with them since the 1960s. The THD says James Goodwin first became a board member in 1968. 50 years later, he still serves. The department says he's been an instrumental part in helping communities that have seen inequalities when it comes to health care. The Tulsa Health Department even named their new center near 51st and 129th street after Goodwin in 2013. The celebration will be held tonight at Gilcrease Museum.

Date: 6/19/18 12pm

Duration: :20

Tiffany Alaniz

Fresh off the heels of Tulsa's popular 5-day Juneteenth celebrations, Senator Kevin Matthews introduced a bill about the historic event. House Bill 3221 was officially introduced to teach students in Oklahoma schools about the event celebrating the day African Americans got the news that the slaves were free. Senator Matthews says that although we recognize Juneteenth, it is not widely taught in schools.

Governor Vows Special Session on Medical Marijuana

Date: 6/26/18 12pm

Duration: :20

Ron Terrell

Lawmakers are preparing for a special session if voters pass state question 788 today. The state question would legalize marijuana for medicinal use in Oklahoma. Governor Mary Fallin announced last week the legislature would be called back for a special session to set up frame work on how to regulate medical marijuana if the question passes.

Tulsa Police Warn Medical Marijuana is Still Illegal for 90 Days

Date: 6/27/18 12pm

Duration: 2:00

Rick Maranon

Even though voters approved the legalization of marijuana for medical purposes, Tulsa Police say marijuana is still fully illegal until regulations and rules take effect. Under the new bill that will take effect in the fall, possession of marijuana has a maximum fine of juse $400. But Tulsa police sergeant Shane Tuell says residents need to realize that regulations and rules including how police deal with marijuana are still up in the air. In the meantime, fines and jail time for marijuana possession and distribution are they same as they were this time last week.

Jenks Hosts Annual Plant Festival

Date: 4/28/18 5pm

Duration: :20

Jackie DelPilar

The city of Jenks held their annual Jenks Herb and Plant Festival this weekend on Main Street. Shoppers got a chance to explore hundreds of varieties of herbs, vegetables, flowers, and shrubs from more than 100 local garden vendors. Organizers say the festival not only supports the green movement, but also helps with spreading information about things people can do with their gardens. Master gardeners were also on hand to answer people's questions about their own planting needs.

Downtown Bank Breaks Ground in Tulsa

Date: 6/15/18 5pm

Duration: 2:00

Sara Hart

A new bank is bringing more restaurants, retail, and parking to downtown Tulsa. The Valley National Bank officially broke ground today on a new six-story building that will sit right across from ONEOK Field on Greenwood and Archer. The 100,000-square foot building will house a 20,000 square foot bank branch, and lease the leftover space to other businesses. Local sushi restaurant In The Raw is already planning to lease a spot, and BKD, a public accounting firm, has already reserved their spot. The building will also include a multi-purpose parking garage that both tenants and the public can use. Each floor will have a terrace providing spectacular views of the baseball field and the downtown skyline.

Local Business Celebrates 85 Years

Date: 6/21/18 12pm

Duration: :20

Tiffany Alaniz

A Tulsa original is celebrating more than 80 years of business today. Hundreds of people turned up to celebrate Wednesday at Weber's Root Beer at 38th and Peoria. The restaurant sold small hamburgers for just 85 cents to commemorate the day. The line stretched through the parking lot despite the heat and cars were backed up for blocks. The family owned and operated restaurant says they haven't changed their formula since opening in 1933.

Crystal City Revitalization Underway

Date: 6/24/18 12pm

Duration: 2:00

Preston Jones

For years, the Crystal City Shopping Center in west Tulsa sat in disrepair. But in the past few years it's come back to life thanks to revitalization efforts by the locals. Two new restaurants, The Lunch Box and La Lonchera are now open. The revitalization started several years ago when the Save-A-Lot opened at Crystal City. Since then, the Route 66 Commission and the city of Tulsa have been working to get more businesses back into the shopping center. The restaurant owners say that a few years ago they would have never thought about moving to Crystal City, but recent change happening in the area changed their mind.

Meeting Underway to Discuss Gilcrease Expressway Construction

Date: 6/28/18 12pm

Duration: 2:00

Mallory Thomas

A meeting is happening now between several agencies to discuss the construction of the Gilcrease Expressway project. The project will be 5 miles long and 4 lanes wide, with a bridge over the Arkansas river and a toll plaza. The Oklahoma Turnpike Authority says the Gilcrease stretch of highway has been a plan for several decades now, first introduced in 1961. The tollway will begin along 412 at Edison and stretch for five miles to 51st street. In total, OTA is expecting the project to cost around 350 million dollars.

Armed Robbery Caught on Camera

Date: 4/21/18 5pm

Duration: 2:00

Amber Hughes

Tulsa Police say one man is in jail tonight after an unusual armed robbery was caught on camera. In the video, a man enters a midtown Tulsa Super Stop gas station and walks behind the counter demanding money. He then walks the clerk out of the store at gunpoint. Thanks to many tips, the man was identified by Tulsa Police as Michael Herron. He was arrested on an armed robbery complaint. Herron is being held in the Tulsa County Jail on a $50,000 bond. Police credit the crystal-clear video quality with the reason Herron was caught.

Police Search for Solicitor

Date: 4/28/18 5pm

Duration: :20

Jackie DelPilar

Jenks Police are searching for a man they say tried to solicit sex from a minor. Officers say Jamie Brumlow sent inappropriate messages to someone he thought was a 14-year-old girl on Facebook. Instead, the profile belonged to an undercover officer. Police say Brumlow asked the girl for sex and sent inappropriate pictures. There is now a warrant out for his arrest.

Mounds Coach Arrested for Rape and Sexual Battery

Date: 6/14/18 5pm

Duration: 2:00

Sharon Phillips

Mounds police say Mounds basketball coach Brett Brooksher is accused of having an inappropriate relationship with a student. The Mounds police chief says he originally got a call from the superintendent who had some concerns about a relationship between Brooksher and a student. Chief Antonio Porter says after they started investigating those concerns, they realized how serious it was and contacted the Oklahoma State Bureau of Investigations to step in. Chief Porter said that the nature of the case was very concerning and after interviewing the family and the victim, they had enough finding to arrest the coach.

Traffic Stop Leads to Check Fraud Arrest

Date: 6/15/18 5pm

Duration: 2:00

Jackie DelPilar

Broken Arrow Police say they have solved at least 5 different crimes in just one traffic stop. Officers say they pulled the suspects over for a broken tail light and found stolen checkbooks and I.D.s in the car. Both suspects had active warrants. One victim said their checkbook was stolen out of their car, and another victim said their information had been used to forge new counterfeit checks. Officers found five victims in all. Officers say one of the suspects told police he had stolen the checks to support his daughter's heroin habit.

Muskogee Man Wanted for Hostages Finally Caught

Date: 6/19/18 12pm

Duration: 2:00

Jackie DelPilar

A man wanted by Muskogee Deputies for nearly a month is now in custody. Deputies say at the end of May, Robert Lane held two teens against their will. They have been searching for Lane ever since. Muskogee Sheriff's deputies say two teens were walking in the city of Muskogee when they were picked up by Robert Lane. Lane brought them to his house in Wainwright but didn't let them leave. For 12 days, the two 15-year-olds were locked in a back bedroom, with Lane only letting them out of the room a few times. The teens finally talked Lane into letting them leave, and were able to walk to a nearby convenience store for help. Neighbors were shocked to hear about what had happened just down the street from them, and are glad Lane is now in jail.

Police Still Looking for Chase Suspect

Date: 6/19/18 12pm

Duration: 2:00

Jenny Young

Sand Springs Police say they are still looking for the person who led them on a high-speed chase from Sand Springs to Owasso. The chase started when a Sand Springs police officer pulled the suspect over for a wrong tag. Officers say the driver jumped onto Highway 412 and drove all the way to Owasso, eventually turning onto a dead-end street and bailing from the vehicle on foot. Sand Springs police say Owasso police and Oklahoma Highway Patrol were also involved and that at one point the suspect was going around 120 MPH. They were not successful in following the suspect on foot.

Teens Carjacked During Drug Deal

Date: 6/21/18 12pm

Duration: 2:00

Preston Jones

Police say two 17-year-old girls used Snapchat to try to buy marijuana from a man in Jenks and ended up being victims of a carjacking. Officers say when the girls went to Jenks, they met the man and went to an apartment complex in south Tulsa. Three men in ski masks jumped out and ambushed them once they arrived. The suspect pulled the victims out of the truck, took their phone and the drug money, and then stole the truck. Officer say they found one of the phones using a GPS iPhone app, and then found the stolen truck later that morning. A spokesperson for the Tulsa Police Department warned that when you are breaking the law by doing something like buying drugs, you run the risk of becoming the victim of a crime yourself.

Jewelry Theft Ends In Arrest Thanks to Tracking Device

Date: 6/22/18 12pm

Duration: 2:00

Sharon Phillips

Local police said they were able to track a jewelry thief thanks to a small tracking device. Police arrested Timothy Beaver, who is now out of jail on a $5,000 bond. It all started when Michael Hoyt said he hired Beaver to do some plumbing work at his home. Hoyt's girlfriend noticed some jewelry missing the next day, so they called Broken Arrow Police to file a report. Hoyt said the plumbing job still wasn't finished but he was concerned about having Beaver back in his home, so he put a tracking device inside his girlfriend's bag of jewelry just in case. Police say Beaver had hidden the bag in his lunch cooler outside, and Hoyt activated the noise on the tracking device while police interviewed Beaver. Hoyt says he's proud of his little tracker and that his idea kept him from becoming a victim again. Police say they searched Beaver's home and truck and found other jewelry believed to be from other houses in the area. Beaver was booked into jail on complaints of larceny and possession of stolen property.

Stabbing Victim Found Dead in Rogers County

Date: 6/30/18 5pm

Duration: 2:00

Mallory Thomas

Rogers County Sheriff Scott Walton said today that deputies were dispatched to a mobile home park just after 3am when a man and his dog found a man with apparent stab wounds while out walking. Walton says dispatch walked the called through first aid steps, and the man made every effort to check for a pulse and breathing. Walton commended both the man and dispatch for doing an excellent job. Investigators believe the stabbing happened a few hours before the victim was found, and neighbors reported hearing arguing and yelling from the trailer around midnight. A search warrant was executed at the home near where the victim was found, but investigators did not find the murder weapon in the home. Walton says this is the first workable homicide of 2018 for Rogers County.

Sooners Host Annual Spring Game

Date: 4/14/18 5pm

Duration: :20

Heather Geller

The Sooners played their annual Spring "Red vs White" game today, with stars Adrian Peterson and Trent Williams acting as honorary coaches. The game was a low-scorer, tied at 3-3 heading into overtime. Marcelius Sutton ran in a TD to make the score 10-3, and then Austin Kendall answered back with a touchdown pass to Grant Calcatarra. Team Peterson won 10-9 in overtime. Kyler Murray seems to be the shoe-in for starting QB this fall, but after this spring game, it may be up for debate.

OKC Thunder Eye Playoff Lead

Date: 4/21/15 5p

Duration: :20

Jeff Kolb

The Oklahoma City Thunder look to take a commanding 2-0 lead in the first round of the NBA playoff series against the Utah Jazz tonight. Paul George scored 36 points in the Game One win at home, but aggravated an old hip contusion. Overall the Thunder expect the Jazz to bring a relentless approach to Game Two as they try to pull even with OKC. While things went well in Game One for the Thunder, Steven Adams says there's still plenty of room for improvement.

New OSU Quarterback Plays in Spring Game

Date: 4/28/18 5pm

Duration: :20

Heather Geller

Red shirt senior Taylor Cornelius is preparing to step into the big shoes left by quarterback Mason Rudolph in the fall. He's no stranger to the Cowboys, as he served as Rudolph's backup last season. Head coach Mike Gundy said he is confident in what Cornelius is capable of, and has no worries about his new guy in the starting spot. Rudolph was drafted to the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Both Oklahoma Colleges in NCAA Golf Tournament

Date: 5/27/18 5pm

Duration: :20

Jeff Kolb

Both Oklahoma State University and the University of Oklahoma are in the NCAA golf championship this year. OSU tee'd off this morning with 2nd place on the leaderboard. Viktor Hovland hits a birdie and becomes OSU's low scorer at 4 under par. OSU eventually drops to 7 under par heading into the last day of stroke play. OU needed a bounce-back after being 6 over par yesterday. Garrett Rebrand and Grant Hirschman played well, coming back to 2 over par, which should qualify them for the 15 team cut to play on Monday.

Oral Roberts Softball Plays Must-Win Game

Date: 6/2/18 5pm

Duration: :20

Jeff Kolb

The Golden Eagles found themselves in a must-win situation in it's NCAA regional game today. ORU played Dallas Baptist for the spot.
