

KSHO RADIO
1st Quarterly Report 2017

These are some issues the KSHO staff deemed as important to our listening audience:

Local event: (28 seconds)

Interview with Patrick Rollens, Public Information Officer for the City of Corvallis regarding the first City Council meeting of the new year in which the council learned about a charter amendment that is expected to be on the May Primary Ballot. In addition they learned of a proposal from the City Manager, Mark Shepard regarding a strategic operational plan when it comes to future meetings of the council. This would be breaking down goals at worksession by the council that will be worked out at council meetings on a timely basis. The council agreed to the proposal.

Aired on KSHO (1/4-5/2017) in newscasts throughout those days.

Local event: (36 seconds)

Interview with Ray Towry, the new City Manager for Sweet Home on the first City Council of the new year with oath of office ceremonies and the 1st and 2nd reading of the siting of recreational marijuana facilities in the community amending the Sweet Home Municipal Code. The council agreed to the use of the emergency clause allowing a special meeting to hold the third and final reading of the ordinance to confirm its existence in the city code. The ordinance established a 100 ft buffer for siting of a marijuana facility from residential areas. The state law provides a 1,000ft distances around schools.

Aired on KSHO (1/11-12/2017) in newscasts throughout those days.

Local event: (90 seconds)

Interview with Shirley McSilvers of the Oregon State University Extension about volunteer work involving the nutrition education program with extension and food for Lane County. Volunteers are trained and become proficient with food guidance and recipes for all lane county food pantries...called the Food Pantry Project.

Aired on KSHO Senior News Update (1/17-18/2017)

Local event: (24 seconds)

Interview with Wayne Oats of the Albany Helping Hands, Gail (no last name) of The Signs of Victory Shelter, both in Albany and information provided by Dala Johnson of the Lebanon Warming Shelter about the open hours, what they provide and when their criteria for staying open during the ice and snow storms in December and early January.

Aired on KGAL (1/18-19/2017) in newscasts throughout those days

KSHO RADIO
1st Quarterly Report 2017

These are some issues the KSHO Staff deemed as important to our listening audience:

Local event: (47 seconds)

Provided a report on the much anticipated vote on whether Benton County would opt-in or opt-out of the Linn County 1.4 billion dollar class action lawsuit against the state claiming the Oregon Department of Forestry breached its contract with 15 counties, including Benton, was held in Corvallis by the three commissioners. Lili a' Neville, Benton County spokesperson reported the vote count to us and the reasoning behind it. She told us the Commissioners vote 2 to 1 to Opt-in. The Commissioners had until today, January 25th to vote on the issue.

Aired on KSHO(1/25-26/2017) in newscasts throughout those days.

Local event: (18 seconds)

The construction of the new Albany Fire Station downtown has caused the city to have to work with ODOT to determine what traffic control warning option to adopt on the nearby streets downtown. Wes Hare, Albany City Manager discussed several options in a worksession. The negotiations with the state will cover several weeks.

Aired on KSHO (2/3-4/2017) in throughout those days.

Local event: (47 seconds)

Interview with Jorge Salinas, Assistant City Manager for Albany regarding the nominations for the 2016 Albany Human Relations Commission Award. Nominations were due February 10th. The winners will be announced at a city council meeting later.

Aired on KSHO (2/8-9/2017) in newscasts throughout those days.

Local event: (38 seconds) (30 minutes)

Interview with Jenifer Weinmaster, Operations Director for the Historical Albany Carousel Project. She was hosted by KGAL's Jeff McMahon on Valley Talk and was also interviewed by the news department and broadcast in newscasts in subsequent days on KGAL AND KSHO. The Museum building was nearly complete at the time of the Interview with the month of June expected to be the time when the Carousel will be placed in the structure.

Aired on KSHO (2/8-10/2017) in newscasts throughout those days.

KSHO RADIO
1st Quarterly Report 2017

These are some issues the KGAL Staff deemed as important for our listening audience:

Local event: 45 seconds

Nominees for the 2016 Lebanon Distinguished Service Awards were announced for the awards banquet scheduled for Tuesday, March 7th at the Boulder Falls In. We talked Shelly Garrett, Executive Director of the Lebanon Chamber who announced on-the-air the nominees for Man of the Year, Woman of the Year, Junior 1st Citizen and Senior First Citizens. In addition she announced the nominees for large and small business nominees.

Aired on KSHO (3/1-2/ 2017) in various newscasts throughout those days.

Local event: 71 seconds

Interviewed Lisa Romano, Siuslaw National Forest Office in Corvallis Spokesperson regarding the Forests preparation for the August 21st Total Eclipse. She said they were preparing for the large tourist crowds scheduled for this summer and how to accommodate them and maintain security at their sites, especially locally Mary's Peak. They are preparing to hire extra security help and crowd monitoring.

Aired on KSHO (3/10-13/ 2017) in various newscasts throughout those days.