:37 01/19/15 5AM

Slug: LOGGING

The logging industry plays a significant part of the Coulee Region's history, and on Saturday the community learned a little bit more about La Crosse's past. From the 1850-s until 1905 forests near the Black River were clear cut and sent down the river to mills in the La Crosse and Onalaska area. Most of the land that was harvested was abandoned after entire forests were completely cleared.

Time: First Aired Show
1:30 01/20/15 6PM

Slug: AGRICULTURE

Milk prices in Wisconsin are at a record low. Overseas, China and Japan are pulling back on imports. Russia stopped dairy trade with the US all together, which means supply is outpacing demand .News 19's Ginna Roe joins us now to tell us how the plummeting prices are impacting one local farmer. FOR Randy Lemke dairy farming is his livelihood. He says he's seeing the impact of foreign markets trickle down to his farm. While there are many factors that influence milk prices, Lemke says this year's prices are shockingly low.

Time: First Aired Show
1:53 02/03/15 5AM

Slug: DAIRY TODAY

In this segment of Wisconsin Dairy News we visit a shop in Mount Horeb that's serving up gourmet hot chocolate. Gourmet hot chocolates may be their signature items, but because Sjolind's carefully roasts their own blend of cocoa beans they also have several different items to offer. Incorporating real Wisconsin dairy products into all the chocolate they make gives a distinctive taste.

Time: First Aired Show

Slug: MILK TRUTH

Some state Dairy advocates are going online to defend their products against people who say consuming too much dairy could give you cancer. They're using the hashtag "Milk Truth" to promote the health benefits of dairy products, including milk and cheese. This comes after several studies were published with the claim that too much dairy could increase people's risk of prostate and ovarian cancers.

Time: First Aired Show
1:37 02/11/15 5PM

Slug: FISH BAN

DNR officials and several Native American tribes want to ban walleye fishing on some Minocqua area lakes....and the ban could last years. D-N-R officials say the walley population has been down in the 6 lakes that make up the Minocqua chain. The minimum length of walley that can be kept went from the statewide 15 inch minimum to a 18 inch minimum. But that is not working. The DNR has been working with tribal officials and state fishing clubs. Together they decided in order to get the lakes back into good fishing condition they might have to ban walleye fishing for up to five years. While the proposal would put a hold on some Northwoods fishing for a while officials say the end results will be worth it

Time: First Aired Show
:27 02/27/15 5PM

Slug: ORGANIC FARMING

About three thousand people are in town for the MOSES Organic Farming Conference. MOSES stands for Midwest Organic and Sustainable Education Service. Consumer demand for organic products has led to more than ten percent growth in organic farming in recent years. Supporters say more organic farms in Wisconsin could lead to lower prices for products due to lower production costs.

Time: First Aired Show
:23 03/06/15 5PM

Slug: ANTIBIOTIC

A new FDA study shows little evidence of antibiotic contamination in milk. In 2012, the agency tested raw milk samples from almost 2-thousand farms across the country. Today's results show that less than 1-percent of the samples contained any illegal drug residue. Antibiotics and other drugs can end up in milk when they're given to dairy cows to keep them healthy.

Time: First Aired Show
1:38 03/17/15 6PM

Slug: FARMING OUTLOOK

We never did get that big snowfall this past winter and we also haven't seen any rain since the weather turned warmer. While that has reduced the risk of spring flooding, farmers have to start thinking about what it means for their fields. We've received just under one and a quarter inches of water and that's right about two inches *below* where we should be this time of year. The farm fields are dry but of course they're not ready for planting quite yet despite the warmer weather we've been having. While there's no need to sound the alarm yet, the agriculture industry is closely watching because it could become a problem later if we remain dry.

Slug: YMCA TEEN CENTER

New plans unveiled for the La Crosse YMCA's Teen Center expansion. The city approved the expansion in August. The current teen center near the corner of King and South 11th street is nothing more than a house built in 1903 that has been re-purposed to fit the needs of the YMCA. The new teen center would occupy the empty lot next to that house. Once completed, the current building will be taken down and be replaced with a small parking lot. It is needed because the current building just cannot keep up with the y's demand for space and function. The ability to serve more 8th through 12th graders is one of the top priorities for the new teen center.

Two people are missing following an explosion that leveled three buildings in Manhattan yesterday. Twenty five people were injured, four critically. After the explosion rocked the city's East Village, survivors rushed from the flames, some jumping from windows as two hundred firefighters battled the blaze. Utility crews visited one of the buildings just an hour before the explosion to inspect work being done on gas lines. The cause hasn't officially been determined but officials believe it's related to a gas leak.

Slug: BUGGYCRASH

A young father and his baby riding in a horse-drawn buggy were killed in Western Wisconsin yesterday morning. Chippewa County authorities say a pickup truck rear-ended the buggy on Highway 64 in the town of Colburn. The child's 21-year-old mother was also inside and taken to a hospital with extensive injuries. Investigators say alcohol is not believed to be a factor and they're still looking into the crash.

A welfare check in a Wisconsin town reveals an extreme hoarding scene and dangerously unsafe conditions for the children living there. Authorities found three hundred thirty one caged chinchillas inside this Waukesha home which has now been deemed unlivable. Waukesha fire department Battalion Chief Mark Sweet says crews were called to the home for a welfare check. Once inside they made a shocking discovery, three hundred chinchillas, at least two dozen dead. The conditions inside the home are some of the worst the fire chief says he's seen in his 30 years on the job.

The Wisconsin Sierra Club weighs in with opposition. And, the Milwaukee streetcar moving forward, sort of. BizTimes Milwaukee executive editor Steve Jagler on how the project has divided businesses, big and small.

FEBRUARY 1, 2015: This Sunday on "UpFront with Mike Gousha," a new home for the Milwaukee Bucks takes shape, but it'll require a public assist. Gov. Walker offers up a plan for the state to borrow to help pay for the arena. State Rep. John Nygren, R-Marinette, on why some Republican lawmakers say the governor's plan isn't a slam dunk for approval. Then, huge cuts in store for the UW System. UWM Chancellor Mark Mone on what the loss of millions of dollars will mean for the school and its students. Plus, U.S. Sen. Tammy Baldwin under fire for not acting sooner on the Tomah VA drug scandal. Gannett Washington reporter Donovan Slack on how much political damage Baldwin has suffered.

FEBRUARY 8, 2015: This Sunday on "UpFront with Mike Gousha," cuts and controversy on campus. UW chancellors push back against the governor's plan to cut $300 million from the UW System, while Gov. Walker has to explain what exactly his administration tried to do with the "Wisconsin Idea." UW System President Ray Cross responds to it all. Then, the governor's plan for K - 12 education includes lifting the statewide cap on school vouchers. Two educators, Dr. Demond Means, superintendent of the Mequon-Thiensville School District, and Henry Tyson, superintendent of St. Marcus Lutheran School in Milwaukee, talk about the effect of the governor's plan on their schools.

FEBRUARY 15, 2015: This week on "UpFront with Mike Gousha," Milwaukee moves forward with its controversial streetcar. But could support for this project hurt the city's chances for state help with a new arena? Mike asks Milwaukee Mayor Tom Barrett, and Assembly Majority Leader Jim Steineke, R-Kaukauna. Then, Gov. Scott Walker faces more questions, and more scrutiny, as he moves ever closer to a 2016 bid for the White House. Journal Sentinel Washington Bureau Chief Craig Gilbert on the week that was for Walker.

FEBRUARY 22, 2015: This week on "UpFront with Mike Gousha," is Democratic U.S. Sen. Tammy Baldwin doing damage control after the Tomah VA scandal and her firing of a top aide? "UpFront" asks Milwaukee Journal Sentinel investigative reporter Dan Bice. Then, Republican lawmakers say Milwaukee County and city must help pay for a new downtown arena. County Executive Chris Abele on what the county is prepared to offer. And, Republican Duey Stroebel is a virtual lock to be the next new member of the state Senate. Will he now provide the go-ahead vote on right-to-work legislation?

MARCH 1, 2015: This Sunday on "UpFront with Mike Gousha," a right-to-work bill is all but assured to become law. Republican Assembly Speaker Robin Vos and Democratic Minority Leader Peter Barca join Mike to discuss the effect of a right-to-work law in Wisconsin. Plus, Sheila Cochran of the Milwaukee County Labor Council discusses what's next for unions. Then, the effect of a $300 million cut to the UW System on the two-year schools. Cathy Sandeen, chancellor of UW Colleges and UW Extension, on whether the autonomy the governor has promised will really help the smaller schools.

MARCH 8, 2015: This Sunday on "UpFront with Mike Gousha," Gov. Walker is proposing significant changes for the Department of Natural Resources. Plus, the DNR secretary suggests possibly selling state park naming rights. Former DNR secretary, now Wisconsin Wildlife Federation executive director George Meyer on the changes being discussed. Then, right to work is now nearly the law in Wisconsin. Former Republican Assembly speaker-turned-lobbyist John Gard on why there could be potential political fallout for Republicans. And he's been called the "It" candidate of the moment. Scott Walker plans a trip to the early-voting state of New Hampshire as he explores a bid for the presidency. "UpFront" asks WMUR-TV political reporter Josh McElveen what Walker needs to do to be successful in the Granite State.

MARCH 15, 2015: This Sunday on "UpFront with Mike Gousha," U.S. Sen. Tammy Baldwin in her first, in-depth TV interview on the Tomah V.A. Medical Center drug abuse scandal. Baldwin talks to Mike Gousha about the mistakes she says were made by her office in the handling of a whistleblower's report of the trouble at Tomah. Plus, Madison Police Chief Mike Koval on the fatal shooting of an unarmed, black man by a white officer. Why did he apologize before the exact circumstances have been made public? And, the judge who hopes to unseat an incumbent state Supreme Court justice in the spring election. Rock County Judge James Daley on why he says Justice Ann Walsh Bradley has put politics into her decisions.

MARCH 22, 2015: This week on "UpFront with Mike Gousha," Scott Walker is riding high in the race for the Republican presidential nomination. So why is now taking fire from some of his fellow conservatives? Mike Gousha discusses Walker's expected bid for the White House with our political roundtable -- Christian Schneider of the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel, and John Nichols of the Capital Times. Then, deep cuts are proposed for K-12 education in Wisconsin. Waukesha School District Superintendent Todd Gray on what the loss of more than $2 million would mean for his students.

MARCH 29, 2015: This week on "UpFront with Mike Gousha," is the long, costly court fight over Voter ID finally done? Wisconsin Attorney General Brad Schimel on implementation of the law, and whether opponents have any last chance to continue the fight. Then, several members of Wisconsin's congressional delegation will attend a field hearing on the Tomah VA opiate abuse scandal. U.S. Rep. Sean Duffy, R-Wausau, on what he expects to come from the hearing. And, the governor's plan for the state to put up $220 million in bonds to help build a new home for the Milwaukee Bucks isn't flying. Tim Sheehy of the Metropolitan Milwaukee Association of Commerce on why the deal seems so difficult to pull together.

NASTY NEIGHBORS

Neighbors engage in Border War over their property line...20/20 reports on what life can be like when your neighbors are nasty.

Friday, January 9, 2015

A FEW OF OUR FAVORITE THINGS

- With money on her mind, Jaqueline Luongo was charged with murdering – and then impersonating – her roommate. The key witness: Luongo’s friend and confidante Maria Calderon. For Luongo that was one witness too many, and police say that from jail she tries to put out a hit on Maria. But when the Broward County Sheriff’s office gets wind of the scheme, they give “20/20” rare access to their operation as they go undercover with a fake hitman, a fake lawyer, and even a fake corpse to give Ms. Luongo a special surprise. Matt Gutman reports.
- The California DMV lies in wait along popular hiking routes, looking for able-bodied motorists parking in coveted handicapped spaces. Jim Avila and “20/20” cameras are there as the cops swoop in.
- “20/20” outfits a Brooklyn brownstone with hidden cameras to put exterminators and their heavily-marketed bedbug dogs to the test. Is that beagle really smelling the dreaded pest, or is he just hungry for a snack? Paula Faris reports.
- Federal agents rigged up a Social Security office with hidden cameras to catch Lawrence Popp as he came in to be assessed by a local benefits administrator -- making bold, categorical claims about his inability to drive or read because of blindness, moments before he hit the freeway as he headed home. Rebecca Jarvis reports on one man caught on camera defrauding social security.

Friday, January 16, 2015

MEET THE PARENTS

- Why on earth would two highly educated lawyers and parents plant drugs in the car of a fellow parent who is the president of the PTA and a school volunteer? Chris Connelly’s report on the bizarre case out of Irvine, California includes revealing interviews with the victim, prosecutor, and police.
- Nick Watt reports on a family caught between new relaxed marijuana laws and older tighter child protection statutes. “20/20” follows all the twists and turns of a custody case involving parents whose five year old son is taken into state custody because of marijuana use even though it is legal in their state.
- They are a typical American family – a father, mother and two biological children. But in one important respect, they are anything but typical -- the parents are both transgender. Bianca was born a boy and transitioned to live as a woman, while Nick was born a girl and has lived as a man. They met and fell in love, can’t afford sex reassignment surgeries, and will remain as they are for now. Nick bore the children and they are raising their children and preparing to face the many questions from their kids and the world. They say they are ready for anything. Elizabeth Vargas has their story.
- Police allege that Diane Staudte woke up one morning and decided she had enough of being a wife and mom. With the help of her daughter and some well-mixed anti-freeze cocktails, police allege she successfully killed her husband, then her son, and very nearly another daughter – who lived to tell the tale to “20/20.” Deborah Roberts reports.

CAMPUS CONFIDENTIAL

- Logan, a junior on a scholarship at University of Massachusetts Amherst, was busted for selling drugs on campus, he was offered – and accepted – a deal not to be arrested if he became a confidential informant, helping campus police bust his former roommate for drugs. He ended up dying of his own addiction problem months later. Did the campus police forsake Logan’s well-being for its own interests? Elizabeth Vargas reports.
- Nearly one in five women are sexually assaulted on college campuses every year, and many schools are under fire for the way they handle these crimes. But Southern Oregon University’s “You Have Options” is a unique program that works to break down the barriers so many victims face -- guaranteeing confidentiality, giving victims the choice to proceed with a criminal or campus investigation, and most importantly partnering closely with local law enforcement to ensure perpetrators are held accountable. Niki, who was raped by her boyfriend during her junior year, speaks candidly to 20/20.

VANDERBILT ASSAULT TRIAL

It is the scandalous crime that has made headlines across the country -- college football stars at one of the country's most prestigious schools just this week convicted of assaulting a fellow student while she was unconscious after a night of out-of-control drinking. What really happened inside a Vanderbilt dorm room? ABC News Correspondent Ryan Smith reports.

Friday, February 6, 2015

FAMILY SECRETS

- When former White House Counsel J. Michael Farren learned of his wife's plans to divorce him, he beat her nearly to death in their Connecticut mansion. Mary Margaret Farren barely escaped with her life and her two young daughters. Now, in an exclusive "20/20" interview, Mary Margaret reveals to ABC's Amy Robach the harrowing details of her escape from domestic violence and the nearly deadly marriage.
- Catch Him If You Can...The young man's hospital badge said he was a physician's assistant at Osceola Hospital in Florida. He wore scrubs, a stethoscope, and examined patients while dropping medical terminology, even performing CPR on a patient who had overdosed. Months later, he was allegedly cruising South Beach in what looked like a police cruiser, stopping other drivers to tell them to put on their seat belts. Matthew Scheidt was neither a physician nor a cop -- he was a fraud. Matt Gutman reports.

REAL ESTATE ROULETTE

How far would one woman go after losing her dream home in a bidding war to another couple? Kathy Rowe of San Diego turned to pranks on the new home owners, from re-listing the house for sale online and even advertising for a fake New Year's Eve party at the house. Yet, she was sentenced for stalking the young married couple. Rowe speaks exclusively to ABC News' Chris Connelly.

Also: As the spring real estate season kicks into gear, real estate agents are on guard as an uptick in open house criminal activity -- everything from robberies to murders -- makes showing a home a potentially risky proposition. "20/20" speaks to a survivor of an assault; relives some caught-on-cam moments; get tips from Barbara Corcoran; and attends a self-defense class customized for brokers. Rebecca Jarvis reports.

And: What happens when a very wealthy couple gets divorced but decide to continue co-habiting with their daughters in their multi-million dollar Manhattan apartment? Complicating matters, mom gets married again and has another baby. Such is the situation in the swanky building on the Upper West Side as real estate agent Carol Levy and her husband try to find some way to make it work. Deborah Roberts reports.

SLENDER MAN

What started out as a normal middle school sleepover took a horrifying turn when one 12 year-old girl was stabbed 19 times by her two best friends and left for dead in the Wisconsin woods. The girls' motive and the miraculous recovery of the survivor made headlines around the world since the May attack. The two girls, who are both charged with attempted first-degree intentional homicide, say they attacked their friend because they wanted to prove themselves to a mysterious, fictional internet character called "Slender Man," who they believe to be real. Who is "Slender Man" and why should parents be aware of him? New details have emerged in the trial and, together, "20/20" goes inside the interrogation room and David Muir's reports.

Friday, March 13, 2015

STRANGE AFFLICTION

"20/20" takes viewers into the lives of people with some of the most unusual medical mysteries.

- Cynthia and Brandon Ross of Maine rushed their infant son to the hospital with swollen legs. When doctors examined the baby, they found fractures all over his little body. They charged Brandon with child abuse and their two children were placed in foster care. Brandon and Cynthia believe their son suffers from a rare medical condition called Ehler Danlos Syndrome, which causes bruising and flexible joints. Brandon is awaiting his day in court or for the charges to be dropped. Deborah Robert reports.
- What if you woke up one morning to discover your partner was no longer the person you thought you married? After Heather suffered a potentially life threatening brain trauma and two weeks in a coma, she awoke with a change in personality. Her brain trauma seemed to make her hypersexual, pursuing men in addition to her husband. Elizabeth Vargas reports.

- Sixteen-year-old “Beckie O” went viral when she disclosed her most closely held secret to thousands of fans on her YouTube channel. She’s a “Trichster,” suffering from a hair pulling disorder. She shares with us her years of documenting her experience. Elizabeth Vargas reports.
- Jessica Mellen, 29, suffers from Anxiety Disorder. Jessica’s most intense fear is the fear of vomiting. Jessica tells her fiancé she does not think she can have kids because she is too fearful of morning sickness. Wanting to marry the man she loves, Jessica decides to put herself through “exposure therapy” and, for five months, our cameras follow her as she confronts her fears. Will she make it to the altar?

TERROR ON THE TRESTLE

- There may be no boss who commands more power than a movie director. But what happens when the safety of the crew is compromised for the sake of getting a great shot? When a dream sequence scene soon turns into a nightmare, tragically, 27-year-old camera assistant Sarah Jones is killed instantly and others are injured. Sarah’s death shocks the film community. Director Randall Miller pleads guilty to involuntary manslaughter making it the first time a director in the history of filmmaking is sent to jail for the death of a crewmember. Sarah Jones’ parents take a journey up the Altamaha River to see, first hand, the trestle where their daughter tragically lost her life. “20/20” reports.
- Robert Durst, the son of a real estate mogul, is under suicide watch at a Louisiana prison after being arrested in New Orleans earlier this week on a warrant out of Los Angeles, where he was charged in the 2000 murder of his friend, Susan Berman. He was arrested the day before HBO aired the finale of “The Jinx,” its documentary series about Durst covering the 1982 disappearance of his first wife in New York, his acquittal for the dismemberment murder of a neighbor in Texas and Berman’s slaying. Elizabeth Vargas reports.

OCCUPATIONAL HAZARDS

- Dov Charney, one of the most outrageous and controversial CEOs, discusses his ouster from the iconic retailer American Apparel and his plans to re-take control of the company. Gio Benitez reports.
- Confessions of a Customer Service Rep: Does anything make the blood boil more than getting stuck on the line with a horrible customer service rep? “20/20” interviews a customer service rep who says lowly paid and overworked reps sometimes deliberately antagonize their customers.
- Don’t Hit Send: That super snarky tweet or post could give you 30 seconds of happiness and a lifetime of career-crippling shame. “20/20” chronicles the case of Adam Smith, who uploaded a YouTube video of himself confronting a drive-thru clerk at a Chick-Fil-A that went viral and caused a downward spiral that took him from the CFO’s office to unemployment.
- The Quitzilla is a new breed of employee who orchestrates his or her departure into a major media event. Charlo Greene, the former Alaska local news reporter who quit live on the air after doing a segment about a medical marijuana club, tells “20/20” how she came up with her plan and that she has no regrets. Chris Connelly reports.

20/20 SATURDAY

Saturday, January 3, 2015

FROM BEST FRIENDS TO KILLERS

Sixteen-year-old Skylar Neese disappeared from her home one summer night, last seen on surveillance video sneaking out of her window and getting into a sedan. What many thought was a typical case of a teenage runaway turned out to be something much more wicked – Neese was stabbed to death by her two best friends. The police had no leads until a surprising break in the case. Correspondent Ryan Smith interviews Neese’s parents, police and high school classmates to unravel the horrific mystery and murder, and ultimately the surprising suspects.

BURNING BED

Who killed Lucy Johnson, shot in the head twice and left in a house set on fire? With no shortage of suspects including her ex-boyfriend and her fiancé, pregnant after just three weeks together and engaged after three months, “20/20” follows the twists and turns of this explosive whodunit story. Police focused on four men in her life, believing it was not a stranger since no locks in the house were forced. Even Lucy had an opinion about who might have wanted her dead, as her journal was read in court.

COLLEGE LOVE TRIANGLE

A beautiful college student loved by two young men. One vanishes. A frantic search uncovers his body in the swamps of Florida. After a two-year investigation, Pedro Bravo was accused of strangling his romantic rival and one-time best friend Christian Aguilar to death, and faced first degree murder. This murder mystery made national headlines and Bravo's trial was watched by millions. Aguilar's family speaks out about the jealous rage that cost a young college student his life. And the woman at the center of the tragic love triangle, Erika Friman, also breaks her silence with Matt Gutman reports.

DESIGNING WOMEN

- In one of the most sensational cases Houston has ever seen, a Texas jury found Ana Trujillo guilty of stabbing her boyfriend, University of Houston professor Stefan Andersson, to death with a stiletto high heel after a night of drinking. Trujillo, who has claimed all along that she was acting in self-defense, speaks exclusively to ABC News' Ryan Smith. (OAD: 4/11/14)
- Tawny Blazejowski is a one-of-a-kind stalker who set her sights on her ex-boyfriend, Joe Good, and strangely, just about everyone he knew – from his landlord to his current girlfriend's daughter to his neighbor. Blazejowski would physically threaten her victims, plant drugs, make accusations of child molestation, and her specialty -- she distributed lots of porn. Tawny, a detail oriented stalker, documented all her actions and plans in a series of carefully kept spiral notebooks. It was a practice that helped put her behind bars. Matt Gutman reports. (OAD: 10/17/14)
- Jim Avila with the case of a 36-year-old mother accused of plotting and executing the claw-hammer murder of her child's father. Was it self-defense after years of abuse, or was she just after the insurance money. Avila's report includes interviews with the nanny and the victim's sister. (OAD: 4/11/14)

Saturday, March 7, 2015

MYSTERY ONJOHNSBURG ROAD

How does a man wind up being convicted of committing a murder at a grocery store when no body, no weapon, and no DNA link him to the scene? That is exactly what happened to Mario Casciaro in 2013 when he was convicted of killing 17-year-old Brian Carrick, and is now serving a 26-year sentence. Prosecutors were successful in getting a conviction on the very rare and controversial charge of murder by intimidation because another stock boy, Shane Lamb—in exchange for an immunity deal—told prosecutors he knocked Carrick out during a fight, and then left Casciaro with the unconscious Carrick. Yet could potentially explosive evidence, including Shane Lamb's recent recanting of his story, help Casciaro prove his innocence? ABC News Correspondent Ryan Smith reports.

ROAD TO RUIN

- The Hunt for the Kansas City shooter: This spring, motorists in the Kansas City area had to cope with much more than rush hour traffic – a lone gunman was firing at vehicles on the highway, nine times in all. Once police determined they had a serial shooter on their hands, they deployed a series of sophisticated and controversial investigative techniques to move from a series of random data points to the arrest of suspect Mohammed Whitaker and his green Dodge Neon. Jim Avila reports.
- Hazardous Guardrails?: Brian Ross investigates a major manufacturer of highway guardrails accused of making a design change that has caused these accident cushions to become lethal lances in some gruesome accidents.
- Truckers: In the wake of the Tracy Morgan fatal crash, more questions than ever are popping up about fatigued truckers and the safety of those massive rigs on the road. Matt Gutman talks to a trucker who reveals the pressures companies put on drivers to stay on the road, and he shares video of his own dispatchers telling him to keep driving even though he is complaining that he is falling asleep at the wheel. Additionally, "20/20" reports.

IN AN INSTANT

Breathtaking stories of the profound will to survive when, in an instant, you are staring death in the face. Sitting on the edge of your couch, tune in for these incredible gripping and thrilling true stories of the moment when life and death meet. Details are revealed that many of us might miss -- creating intricate human dramas that compel the viewer to watch. These docudramas bring the brilliant work of Committee Films to broadcast television for the first time.

Friday, March 6, 2015 (Premiere)

ALASKAN WILDERNESS PLANE CRASH

The Evans family wanted an Alaskan adventure, and they sure got one. When their plane emerged from dense fog, they flew straight into a mountain. With the pilot and a passenger dead, the family figured out how to stay awake – and alive – until help came.

RUSH HOUR DISASTER – LARGEST BRIDGE COLLAPSE IN AMERICA

In August of 2007, during the evening rush hour, an interstate bridge carrying hundreds of people in Minneapolis gave way. The collapse sent dozens of people into a frightening free fall. Among the survivors were a woman trapped underwater in her car and a bus full of kids who were stuck next to a burning bread truck.

BAD GUYS AT THE GOOD GUYS

In an ironic twist, a group of bad guys entered the Good Guys electronics store. This was no routine hold-up. These guys were dead set on holding everyone hostage until their demands were met. Employees and shoppers relied on their wits to avoid the bullets being shot by the erratic young gunmen.
