1. HEALTH CARE

The topic of this category was a discussion on the vote by the United States House of Representatives to Repeal the Affordable Care Act, and the future of the bill in the United States Senate.

KD/PG SUNDAY EDITION

Sunday, May 7, 2017, 11:30AM – 12:00PM, 30 minutes

Guests: Karen Wolk Feinstein, Ph.D. - President & CEO, Jewish Healthcare Foundation
Martin S. Gaynor, Ph.D. – Professor, Carnegie Mellon University
Rosemary Donley, S.C., Ph.D. - Professor

Topic: With no Democratic votes, the Republican-controlled United States House of Representatives voted to Repeal the Affordable Care Act (ACA) (also-known, as “Obamacare”), and replace it with their own American Healthcare Act (AHCA). What impact would the loss of the Affordable Care Act have on this country if also passed by the United States Senate, and what future does the bill have in the United States Senate? Our guests, all healthcare experts, discussed the likelihood that states and hospitals might have to pick up the tab for indigent citizens in need of healthcare services if the Affordable Care Act disappears. Sister Rosemary Donley, with special expertise on Capitol Hill as a professor of nursing, and a nurse practitioner, talked about whether there is a moral obligation for government to provide healthcare to citizens.

2. RUSSIAN INTERFERECNE IN THE 2016 PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION

Topics discussed in this category included a discussion on the appointment of a Special Counsel to investigate charges of alleged interference by the Russians in the 2016 American Presidential election, and a discussion on of where this investigation stands, and what might come next.

KD/PG SUNDAY EDITION

Sunday, May 21, 2017, 11:30AM – 12:00PM, 30 minutes

Guest: Laurel Brandstetter, Esq. - Partner, Schnader Harrison Segal & Lewis LLP

Topic: Deputy United States Attorney General Rod Rosenstein announced the appointment of a Special Counsel (former F.B.I. Director Robert Mueller) to investigate charges of alleged interference by the Russians in the 2016 American Presidential election. What investigative powers would the Special Counsel have, who is likely to be called as a witness in this investigation, and what might happen after the findings by the Special Counsel are released? Our guest, attorney Laurel Brandstetter, is a partner with the law firm Schnader Harrison Segal & Lewis LLP. She is a former Pennsylvania state prosecutor, former Senior Deputy Attorney General under Kathleen Kane, and personally testified against Kane, who was convicted of two felony counts of perjury and other charges of lying, and abuse of power, and who was also forced to resign from office.

KD/PG SUNDAY EDITION

Sunday, June 18, 2017, 11:30AM – 12:00PM, 30 minutes

Guests: Laurel Brandstetter, Esq. - Partner, Schnader Harrison Segal & Lewis LLP
J. Alan Johnson, J.D. - Jones, Gregg, Creehan & Gerace, LLP

Topic: There were new developments in Special Counsel Robert Mueller’s (former F.B.I. Director) investigation into possible interference by the Russians in the 2016 American Presidential Election. Special Counsel Mueller is now looking into charges of personal interference by President Donald J. Trump, through reported comments to then-F.B.I. Director James Comey to drop an investigation into former National Security Advisor Michael Flynn, when the two spoke in February. (Comey recalled that Trump told him – “I hope you can see your way clear to letting this go, to letting Flynn go. He is a good guy. I hope you can let this go.”) We welcomed back former Pennsylvania Senior Deputy Attorney General, Laurel Brandstetter to this program, and we also called on former United States Attorney for the Western District of Pennsylvania, J. Alan Johnson (appointed by President Ronald Reagan), for analysis of where this investigation stands, and what might come next.

3. DRUG EPIDEMIC

Topics discussed in this category included a discussion regarding treatment and rehabilitation services to those who are suffering from drug addiction, in addition there was a discussion from recovering addicts who shared their story about addiction and recovery, and there was a discussion regarding the powerful synthetic opioid, Fentanyl.

KD/PG SUNDAY EDITION

Sunday, April 9, 2017, 11:30AM – 12:00PM, 30 minutes

Guests: Cheryl Emala, LCSW - Clinical Director, SPHS Behavioral Health
Frank J. Salotti, MS - Director, Outpatient Services, Gateway Genesis
Dirk Matson - Coordinator of Human Services, Westmoreland County
Darla Ressler - In Recovery, from Drug Addiction
Josh Rimmel - In Recovery, from Drug Addiction

Topic: This program was especially critical, to the mission of this broadcast, as it attempted to provide significant information about one of the most important developing news stories of the year, and also tried to personalize the impact of that story on our audience. New statistics show that drug addiction is at epidemic levels in Westmoreland County as well as elsewhere in our community and the nation, with that county reporting the highest number of drug and fentanyl-related overdoses in the county’s history. Our guests, in the first segment of the program, provided treatment and rehabilitation services to those who are suffering from drug addiction. Our guests, in the second segment, were two people from Westmoreland County who are recovering drug addicts. They shared their story of how they became addicted to drugs, and how they are courageously attempting to recover from their addiction.

KD/PG SUNDAY EDITION

Sunday, June 11, 2017, 11:30AM – 12:00PM, 30 minutes

Guest: Karl E. Williams, M.D. - Chief Medical Examiner, Allegheny County

Topic: Sobering figures were released by the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) in June, noting that drug overdoses in America are now the main cause of death for people in America, age fifty and under. In fact, more people in this age group die from overdoses than in car accidents. Our special guest, Allegheny County Chief Medical Examiner Karl E. Williams, M.D., voiced particular concern over the increasing presence of the powerful synthetic opioid, Fentanyl, which is supposed to be prescribed carefully to treat cancer patients, but which is now being snorted directly. Williams says that illegally manufactured versions of Fentanyl, being made in places like China, are being illegally sold as counterfeit pills and as a “filler” in heroin and cocaine to boost the drug’s potency.

4. FEDERAL AND STATE BUDGET CUTS

Topics discussed in this category included a discussion that the Trump Administration is considering sharp cuts in the Federal budget to programs that help those who are in need of food assistance, a discussion on proposed budget cuts by federal and state governments that would affect the ability of organizations like Neighborhood Legal Services Association to recruit attorneys for “free” services to those clients in need, and a discussion on education funding that is likely to be cut, on both the federal and state level.

KD/PG SUNDAY EDITION

Sunday, April 2, 2017, 11:30AM – 12:00PM, 30 minutes

Guests: Maxwell King - President & CEO, The Pittsburgh Foundation

Lisa Scales - CEO, Greater Pittsburgh Community Food Bank

Topic: This program was devoted to a discussion of reports that the Trump Administration is considering sharp cuts in the Federal budget to programs that help those who are facing food “insecurity”. Vulnerable populations are not limited to urban areas and minorities, but also include the elderly, and some members of the middle-class, who cannot make ends meet, and who often must choose between money for food or heating. Our guests discussed the critical role that philanthropic foundations will play in helping to close the funding gap, and the key role that the Greater Pittsburgh Community Food Bank plays in helping different segments of the population. Federal funding cuts could also mean that the burden of helping the same vulnerable populations will fall upon state government and state taxpayers.

THE SUNDAY BUSINESS PAGE

Sunday, May 7, 2017, 6:30AM – 7:00AM, 10 minutes

Guests: Robert V. Racunas, J.D. - Neighborhood Legal Service Association of Pittsburgh

Antoinette “Nette” Oliver, J.D. - Partner, Meyer Unkovic Scott, LLP

Topic: The American Bar Association held a conference in Pittsburgh on the subject of legal aid and pro bono work services, which have been provided to help those who must have an attorney, but who could not otherwise afford one. One of the topics at this conference was the growing concern over the impact of proposed budget cuts by federal and state government that would affect the ability of organizations like Neighborhood Legal Services Association to recruit attorneys, for pro bono or “free” services to those clients in need. Our guests included the Executive Director of Neighborhood Legal Services Association of Pittsburgh (NLSA), Robert V. Racunas, J.D., and Antoinette “Nette” Oliver, J.D., a Partner with the Pittsburgh law firm Meyer Unkovic Scott LLP, who helps the Association administer legal assistance to those in need.

THE SUNDAY BUSINESS PAGE

Sunday, June 4, 2017, 6:30AM – 7:00AM, 10 minutes

Guest: Patrick Dowd, Ph.D. - Executive Director, Allies for Children

Topic: Education funding is likely to be cut, on both the federal and state level. But that only means that the economic burden for financing education will fall on local municipalities and school districts, often through higher local property taxes. Dr. Patrick Dowd is Executive Director for Allies for Children, and talked with Jon Delano, about what is planned to fight these proposed budget cuts, and what could happen if those cuts are adopted.

5. SUPREME COURT JUSTICE

The topic of this category was a discussion on President Donald J. Trump's first nominee to the United States Supreme Court, Neil Gorsuch, was sworn into office in April.

KD/PG SUNDAY EDITION

Sunday, April 16, 2017, 11:30AM – 12:00PM, 30 minutes

Guests: Anne Marie Lofaso, JD - DPhil, Professor of Law, West Virginia University

Andrew Simpson, Ph.D - Assistant Professor of History, Duquesne University

Topic: President Donald J. Trump's first nominee to the United States Supreme Court, Neil Gorsuch, was sworn into office in April after being confirmed with the support of Republicans and three Democrats, and a change in the Senate rules for confirmation, requiring only a 51-vote simple majority instead of 60-votes. One of our guests, Anne Marie Lofaso, the Arthur B. Hodges Professor of Law at West Virginia University, studied with Gorsuch at Oxford University and talked about Gorsuch's personality and legal ability. Andrew Simpson, Assistant Professor of History at Duquesne University's McAnulty College and Graduate School of Liberal Arts, discussed the political ramifications of the Gorsuch appointment, and the historical unpredictability of judicial philosophy of any justices who are appointed to the high courts by any President.

6. PRESIDENT TRUMP TAX POLICY PROPOSAL

The topic of this category was a discussion on President Donald J. Trump's plans for historic, major changes in American tax policy.

KD/PG SUNDAY EDITION

Sunday, April 30, 2017, 11:30AM – 12:00PM, 30 minutes

Guests: Jay W. Sukits – Professor, University of Pittsburgh

Jay Cost - Senior Writer, The Weekly Standard

Topic: Just days before marking his 100th day in office, President Donald J. Trump announced plans for historic, major changes in American tax policy. If approved, they are likely to affect most taxpayers, as well as corporations and businesses of every size. The proposed reform of the tax code did not provide any detail about how the federal budget would compensate for a drop in tax revenue that would likely result from approval of that proposal (major corporate and personal income tax cuts). Our guests talked about who would be affected by this kind of tax reform, and the likelihood that the proposal would be approved by Congress.

7. TERRORISM

Topics discussed in this category included a discussion on the terrorist attack in Manchester, England, and a discussion regarding the growing concern about the ability of foreign enemies like North Korea or Russia, to disrupt America's internet system and our national security.

KD/PG SUNDAY EDITION

Sunday, May 28, 2017, 11:30AM – 12:00PM, 30 minutes

Guests: Alex Popichak - Editor-in-Chief, Point Park University's The Globe Newspaper

Lawrence Likar, J.D. - Retired Supervisory Special Agent, F.B.I. Terrorism Expert

Topic: On May 22nd, following a Manchester, England concert at that city's arena featuring star Ariana Grande, there was a brazen terrorism attack which killed 23-adults and children, and injured 119-others, 23-of them critically. A 22-year-old British Muslim, Salman Ramadan Abedi, detonated a homemade bomb containing shrapnel at the exit of that arena. Our program dealt with the increasing challenge of fighting terrorism at public events, and what might be done to strengthen the war on terrorism. Our guests included Alex Popichak, Point Park University Junior and Broadcast Major, who was attending a workshop with fellow Point Park students in Manchester, England, during the time of this attack, and Lawrence Likar, JD, Retired Supervisory F.B.I. Special Agent, terrorism expert, and Professor and Department Chair of Justice, Law, & Security, at La Roche College.

THE SUNDAY BUSINESS PAGE

Sunday, May 21, 2017, 6:30AM – 7:00AM, 10 minutes

Guest: Karen Pulchalsky - Owner & President, Innovate e-Commerce, Wexford, PA

Topic: There is growing concern about the ability of foreign enemies like North Korea or Russia, to disrupt America's internet system and our national security. The latest danger is ransomware attacks, in which computer hackers from these countries are able to strike computer systems in the United States, and at least 150-countries, forcing their shutdown. Our guest, in this segment, owns a company, based in Wexford, Pennsylvania, that can help its clients overcome ransomware challenges to their computers, and protect future cyberattacks from abroad. Karen Pulchalsky is Founder and President of Innovate e-Commerce, and explained why this problem is such a security and economic threat to the country, and to businesses.

8. MEDICAL MARIJUANA

The topic of this category was a discussion regarding the Pennsylvania's Office of Medical Marijuana awarding of twelve licenses statewide, including three in Southwestern Pennsylvania, to produce medical marijuana.

KD/PG SUNDAY EDITION

Sunday, June 25, 2017, 11:30AM – 12:00PM, 30 minutes

Guests: Gabe Perlow, Esq. - CEO, PurePenn, LLP

Michael Cherepko (D) - Mayor, McKeesport, Pennsylvania

Joseph McGurk - Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania

Topic: Pennsylvania's Office of Medical Marijuana announced the awarding of twelve licenses statewide, including three in Southwestern Pennsylvania, for the manufacture of medical marijuana. One of the local facilities will be constructed in McKeesport, Pennsylvania, a Monongahela Valley city that has seen its share of job losses over recent years because of the decline of the steel industry in that area. Our guests included Mayor Michael Cherenkov of McKeesport, who discussed the potential economic impact of a medical marijuana manufacturing business in his town, Gabe Pellow, an attorney whose company Pure Penn, was granted one of the three local licenses to manufacture medical cannabis, and whose business will be located in McKeesport, and Joseph McGurk, from Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania, whose two daughters, ages twelve and fifteen, struggle with the extremely rare genetic disease Drave Syndrome. The disease causes multiple brain seizures that attack its victims, and medical cannabis, which the children have been acquiring from outside of Pennsylvania, is the only effective treatment to limit the number of these seizures.

9. POPULATION AND EMPLOYMENT

Topics discussed in this category included a discussion on population loss in Southwestern Pennsylvania, and a discussion regarding unemployment in the area.

THE SUNDAY BUSINESS PAGE

Sunday, April 2, 2017, 6:30AM – 7:00AM, 10 minutes

Guests: Doug Heuck - Founder, Editor, Publisher, Pittsburgh Quarterly
Christopher Briem - Regional Economist, University of Pittsburgh

Topic: The latest regional unemployment and population figures for the Southwestern Pennsylvania were not encouraging. Recent Census Bureau information showed that the Pittsburgh metropolitan area had the second-worst population loss, from the previous year, second only to Chicago, with a loss of almost 9000-people. Though jobs grew by almost one percent from last year, the figure is still below the “benchmark” average for similar-sized areas. Doug Heuck, Founder, Editor, and Publisher of Pittsburgh Quarterly and Director of “Pittsburgh Today”, and Christopher Briem, Regional Economist for the University of Pittsburgh’s Center for Social & Urban Research, where Heuck also works, appeared together to discuss what this means for our area’s economic future, especially with bankruptcy for Westinghouse Electric pending.

THE SUNDAY BUSINESS PAGE

Sunday, June 11, 2017, 6:30AM – 7:00AM, 10 minutes

Guest: Doug Heuck - Founder, Editor, Publisher, Pittsburgh Quarterly

Topic: It was another “mixed bag” for the latest economic report for the Pittsburgh region. Unemployment was down, a half-percent from one-year ago at this time of year (April figures), but the area lost more population, as the City of Pittsburgh’s population dropped by 239-people – from 2015 to 2016 – and Allegheny County lost almost 4,000 people during the same period of time. Doug Heuck, from the University of Pittsburgh’s Center for Social & Urban Research, and Founder, Editor, and Publisher of Pittsburgh Quarterly Magazine, was back with us for an update on the economic health of our area.

10. EDUCATION

Topics discussed in this category included discussions on grants by two large financial institutions in Pittsburgh that will assist education funding.

THE SUNDAY BUSINESS PAGE

Sunday, April 9, 2017, 6:30AM – 7:00AM, 10 minutes

Guest: Sally McCrady - President, PNC Foundation

Topic: PNC Foundation and DonorsChoose.Org have teamed up to fund hundreds of requests for pre-kindergarten financial resources and classroom experiences, to help school districts and teachers that are facing threatened government funding cuts. PNC Foundation President Sally McCrady appeared on our broadcast to talk about what their $504,000 “flash fund” means to the 849 projects in public and charter pre-K classrooms in 22 states and Washington, D.C., where PNC Financial Services Group conducts business. Through DonorsChoose.Org, an on-line charity that connects individual donors with classrooms in need, the PNC Foundation grant is the first expansion to reach a new audience of teachers, and will boost the amount and power of individual, charitable donors too.

THE SUNDAY BUSINESS PAGE

Sunday, May 21, 2017, 6:30AM – 7:00AM, 10 minutes

Guests: Saleem Ghubril - Executive Director, “The Pittsburgh Promise”

Todd Moules - President, KeyBank Pittsburgh

Topic: The “key” to economic success is often a college degree. KeyBank, the Cleveland, Ohio-based lending institution that has taken over former First Niagara branches, and which is fairly new to the Pittsburgh area, is fulfilling its “promise” to become a contributing part of the community. Our guests, Saleem Ghubril, Executive Director of the “Pittsburgh Promise”, a post-secondary scholarship program for qualified students in the Pittsburgh Public Schools, and Todd Moules, President of KeyBank Pittsburgh, talked with Jon Delano about why helping the Promise is an “investment” in the economic vitality of Pittsburgh.

11. DAN ROONEY

The topic of this category was a discussion on Pittsburgh Steelers Chairman and former United States Ambassador to Ireland, Dan Rooney, who died on April 13th at the age of 84.

KD/PG SUNDAY EDITION

Sunday, April 23, 2017, 11:30AM – 12:00PM, 30 minutes

Guests: Margaret Jones Patterson - Professor, Duquesne University

Rob Ruck - Professor of History, University of Pittsburgh

Jim Lamb - President, Ireland Institute of Pittsburgh

Michael Bartley - Executive Vice-President, Steeltown Entertainment Project

Topic: Pittsburghers and the professional football and sports world said goodbye to one of the most influential giants in sports history, Pittsburgh Steelers Chairman and former United States Ambassador to Ireland, Dan Rooney, who died on April 13th at the age of 84. In our first segment, co-authors Maggie Patterson and Rod Ruck, who wrote a book about Rooney’s father, Art Rooney, joined us to discuss Dan Rooney’s impact on sports and Pittsburgh. In our second segment, Jim Lamb, President of the Ireland Institute of Pittsburgh (which Dan Rooney was instrumental in founding) and also Honorary Consul of Ireland in Pittsburgh and Western Pennsylvania, and Michael Bartley, local broadcast journalist and Executive Vice-President of the Steeltown Entertainment Project, talked about Dan Rooney’s commitment to the people of Ireland, carried out both in Pittsburgh and as United States Ambassador to Ireland (appointed, to the post by former President Barack Obama). Our program even included a message from Ireland, from Daniel Crozier, who was brought to Pittsburgh by the Ireland Institute of Pittsburgh to study in America during the religious strife in Northern Ireland in the 1980’s, and who now is a broadcasting executive in Newry, Northern Ireland, from where the Rooney family hails.

12. LOCAL BUSINESS NEWS

Topics discussed in this category included a discussion on the bankruptcy announcement by Westinghouse Electric, a discussion on KeyBank’s entry into the Pittsburgh market, a discussion on the tourism dollars generated by the Pittsburgh Penguins playoff and Stanley Cup games, a discussion on the gaming industry in Pittsburgh, and a discussion on new carriers and routes at Pittsburgh International Airport.

THE SUNDAY BUSINESS PAGE

Sunday, April 2, 2017, 6:30AM – 7:00AM, 20 minutes

Guest: The Honorable Judith K. Fitzgerald (Retired)

Tucker Arensburg, P.C. – Professor, University of Pittsburgh School of Law

Topic: Under pressure from the Japanese company Toshiba, parent company of the Cranberry Township-based Westinghouse Electric, Westinghouse announced that it was filing for bankruptcy protection under Chapter Eleven. What is Chapter Eleven, how does it work, and what will it mean to Westinghouse's employees, customers, and stockholders? We asked the Honorable Judith K. Fitzgerald, retired Bankruptcy Judge for the Western District of Pennsylvania, with five years' experience as the Court's Chief Judge. She is now a Shareholder, with the Pittsburgh law firm Tucker Arensburg, and also serves as Professor of Practice, at the University of Pittsburgh's School of Law.

THE SUNDAY BUSINESS PAGE

Sunday, April 16, 2017, 6:30AM – 7:00AM, 10 minutes

Guest: Beth E. Mooney - Chairman & CEO, KeyCorp, CEO, KeyBank

Topic: Host Jon Delano had the opportunity to talk with Beth E. Mooney, Chairman & CEO of the Cleveland, Ohio-based KeyCorp, and CEO of KeyBank, which last year acquired much of the First Niagara bank branches in the Pittsburgh area. In this interview, Mooney said that her goal is for KeyBank to be the best regional bank in the United States. KeyBank covers a fifteen-state area, from Maine to Alaska, and Pittsburgh is now a "key" part of that operation. Mooney is also the first female CEO of a top-twenty United States bank.

THE SUNDAY BUSINESS PAGE

Sunday, April 30, 2017, 6:30AM – 7:00AM, 10 minutes

Guest: Craig Davis - President & CEO, VisitPittsburgh

Topic: The Pittsburgh Penguins brought millions of dollars into the local economy through their participation in the Stanley Cup NHL Playoffs, which culminated into the Pens' second-straight championship. At this point of the long playoff schedule, Craig Davis, President & CEO of VisitPittsburgh, the Greater Pittsburgh Convention & Visitors Bureau successor, appeared on our program to look at the economic boost from the playoffs between the Penguins and the Washington Capitals. In the coming weeks, more revenue would flow into the area for restaurants, hotels, and related industries, as Pittsburgh welcomed visitors from Washington, D.C., Ottawa, Ontario, and Nashville.

THE SUNDAY BUSINESS PAGE

Sunday, May 14, 2017, 6:30AM – 7:00AM, 10 minutes

Guest: Craig Clark - General Manager, Rivers Casino

Topic: The City of Pittsburgh's Planning Commission has approved construction of a new 221-room luxury hotel that will be built between the current Rivers Casino and the Carnegie Science Center on Pittsburgh's North Shore. Rivers Casino General Manager Craig Clark talked with Jon Delano about the economic impact that a luxury hotel could have on attracting customers to the casino. He also shared his thoughts on what might happen if the Pennsylvania General Assembly approves expanded on-line poker and additional games which could provide additional revenue to casinos in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

THE SUNDAY BUSINESS PAGE

Sunday, June 4, 2017, 6:30AM – 7:00AM, 10 minutes

Guest: Christina Cassotis - CEO, Allegheny County Airport Authority

Topic: Pittsburgh International Airport finally seems to be making considerable progress in its attempt to increase the number of nonstop flights to major American cities, and international flights from Pittsburgh to the rest of the world. Christina Cassotis, CEO of the Allegheny County Airport Authority, talked with Jon Delano about new domestic, nonstop flights by Southwest and low-cost carriers, like OneJet, Frontier, JetBlue, Allegiant, and Spirit Airlines. She also talked about new, low-cost international carriers – like WOW Airlines –which will launch international service – from Pittsburgh – through Reykjavik, Iceland – to Europe and beyond, in the near future.
