NOVA #4207H

THE GREAT MATH MYSTERY DESCRIPTION

NOVA leads viewers on a mathematical mystery tour-a provocative exploration of math's astonishing power across the centuries. We discover math's signature in the swirl of a nautilus shell, the whirlpool of a galaxy, and the spiral in the center of a sunflower. Math was essential to everything from the first wireless radio transmissions to the prediction and discovery of the Higgs boson, and the successful landing of rovers on Mars. But where does math get its power? Astrophysicist and writer Mario Livio, along with a colorful cast of mathematicians, physicists, and engineers, follow math from Pythagoras to Einstein and beyond, all leading to the ultimate riddle: Is math an invention or a discovery? Humankind's clever trick, or the language of the universe? The Great Math Mystery is a show for everyone; whether we think we're good with numbers or not, we all use math in our daily lives. The Great Math Mystery sheds fascinating light on how math works in our brains and ponders the ultimate mystery of why it works so well when decoding the universe.

POTUS 2016 #101H SERIES

Anchored by public radio's Peabody Award-winning host Brian Lehrer, POTUS 2016 is already airing in the New York region where it is helping to satisfy the large appetite that public television viewers have for serious election related coverage. While The Newshour and Washington Week do excellent segments on the campaigns, we have found viewers seek more, and something different from the commercial network offerings which they find shallow, sensationalist and unsatisfying to their sensibilities. POTUS 2016 is unique for being a regularly scheduled program solely devoted to the campaign season: The program has a rotating group of regulars who know Brian Lehrer well from previous radio and TV appearances. Among those to be invited for 2016 appearances: Steve Forbes, Editor-in-Chief Forbes magazine; Gail Collins, New York Times Columnist; Ta-Nehisi Coates, Senior editor for the Atlantic; Law Professor Zephyr Teachout, campaign finance expert and former gubernatorial candidate, Mark Hugo Lopez of the Pew Research Center. We will also invite thinkers outside the political arena such as author Malcolm Gladwell.

THROUGH THE EYE OF THE NEEDLE: THE ART OF ESTHER N #000H

DESCRIPTION

In this award-winning 28-minute documentary film, a Holocaust survivor's remembrances, told in uniquely beautiful stitched images, bring an uplifting life story to the screen. Esther Nisenthal was 15 years old in October of 1942 when the Jews of her village in Poland were ordered by the Nazis to report to a nearby train station. Esther refused to go. Instead, saying goodbye to their family, she and her 13-year old sister Mania invented new identities for themselves as Polish Catholic farm girls, hiding in plain sight from the Nazis. Esther's story of survival is remarkable on its own. But it is all the more extraordinary because of her method of storytelling--stitching and embroidering. It comes to us with unexpected beauty in a series of 36 large fabric collages, intricately embroidered in vivid color, created more than 40 years after the war. They depict one young girl's eyewitness account, scenes of tragedy and trauma juxtaposed with the exquisite beauty of the natural surroundings. It is as if nothing escaped Esther's attention, or her memory. Through Esther's own words and images of her art work, as well as interviews with her daughters and others, "Through the Eye of the Needle" explores the capacity of the human heart to heal. Through these reflections, we are reminded that genocide and other acts of baseless hatred are still with us, and that Esther's story, and those like hers, compels us to build a just and peaceful world for all.

FINDING ELIZABETH'S SOLDIERS #000H

DESCRIPTION

The 2013 documentary Portraits For The Homefront: The Story of Elizabeth Black first introduced viewers to Elizabeth Black, a Pittsburgh artist who sketched charcoal portraits of American soldiers across Europe during World War II. Her story lives on in the follow-up documentary FINDING ELIZABETH'S SOLDIERS. This half-hour sequel explores efforts to find homes for dozens of soldiers' sketches found among Elizabeth's memorabilia. Through detailed searches, detective work and the kindness of volunteer genealogists and other researchers, WQED in Pittsburgh is working to find the soldiers and/or their survivors. From Philadelphia to San Francisco and points in between, the film features encounters with both amazed and appreciative families.

TREBLINKA'S LAST WITNESS #000H

DESCRIPTION

Samuel Willenberg, now 92 years old, is the last living survivor of the Treblinka death camp in Nazi-occupied Poland, where an estimated 900,000 Jews were murdered in a 13-month period at the height of World War II. Still haunted 70 years later by the horrors he witnessed as a young forced laborer, Samuel has immortalized his harrowing experiences in a series of bronze sculptures of the tragic victims who dwell indelibly in his memory like ghosts. In TREBLINKA'S LAST WITNESS, the sculptures, together with archival footage and photographs from the period, illustrate Samuel's riveting narrative, telling a singularly powerful and personal story of the annihilation of Polish Jewry in the death camps built by the Germans to carry out Hitler's infamous "Final Solution." As a prisoner at Treblinka, he witnessed the death of his two beloved sisters, Itta and Tamara in the gas chambers, among countless others. In his sculptures, the most poignant of these individual tragedies are brought back to life. TREBLINKA'S LAST WITNESS focuses on one man's personal odyssey to reflect the enormity of the genocide inflicted upon Poland's 3.5 million Jews, at the time the world's largest Jewish community, and seven times greater than the Jewish population of pre-war Germany. Samuel Willenberg's story is one of survival against staggering odds and though heart-rending and horrifying, it is ultimately one of triumph.

AMERICAN WAR STORIES: VIETNAM #101H

ESCALATION SERIES

This three-hour documentary focuses on the personal stories of individuals who served in the Vietnam conflict and provides insight into a war that continues to profoundly affect the lives of those veterans and their families today including our general culture, politics and lives. Approximately three million troops served in Southeast Asia during the Vietnam War. However, many Vietnam veterans are reluctant to share their experiences. Due to the controversy over the war and the reaction many experienced upon returning home, these men and women have carried a greater burden. They put away their uniforms and medals and tried to put away their memories, but these are memories that cannot be forgotten. This documentary gives those veterans a voice so that we can better understand their experiences and the Vietnam War's effect on all of our lives. The documentary is structured as three one-hour programs; Escalation, focusing on the growing U.S. involvement in Southeast Asia from the mid-50's to 1967; Turning Point, the turbulent and tide-turning period of 1968 and '69 ; and Draw Down, the eventual reduction of forces until America's departure in 1973, followed by the fall of Saigon in 1975.

WAR JOURNAL: THE INCREDIBLE WWII ESCAPE OF MAJOR D #000H
DESCRIPTION

WAR JOURNAL: THE INCREDIBLE WORLD WAR II ESCAPE OF MAJOR DAMON "ROCKY" GAUSE tells the true story of one of the most impossible escapes in World War II. American airman Damon "Rocky" Gause escaped a prison camp on the Bataan Peninsula in 1942, swam to nearby Corregidor Island, and then sailed with U.S. serviceman William Lloyd Osborne in a leaky 20-foot fishing boat from the Philippines to Australia. Fifty-two days and 3,200 miles later, the two Americans reached freedom. Despite facing typhoons, constant threats from Japanese ships, submarines and airplanes, a lack of water and food, and even a visit to the world's largest leper colony, both Gause and Osborne survived to recount their harrowing ordeal. Filmed in Bataan, Corregidor, and in Manila, the 90-minute documentary is narrated by threetime Emmy Award-winning daytime soap opera star Chandler Massey. Actor Kyle Chandler (NBC's Friday Night Lights and the films Argo, Zero Dark Thirty and Carol) provides the voice of Rocky Gause, with Tom Kane voicing William Lloyd Osborne.

VETERANS - THE TELLING PROJECT #000H
DESCRIPTION

Once a community institution, the U.S. military now has less than 1% of Americans serving in uniform. To help close the distance between civilian society and those who volunteer for duty, a group of six Tampa Bay veterans and one military spouse have embarked on a journey to share their stories. As part of the national Telling Project initiative to connect veterans and the public through the power of theater, this team of local vets created dramatic performances from their personal experiences and performed them live at local theaters. By crafting, rehearsing and performing their own narratives in their own words, the veterans produced an artistic and therapeutic work, expressing on stage what is often challenging to address in everyday life. WEDU PBS filmed the compelling journey from storytelling to stage for Veterans - The Telling Project, a 60-minute documentary. The film goes behind the scenes of the theatrical process, following the diverse cast of service members for five months as they learn their dramatic cues, cultivate friendships and reconnect with emotional memories. Drawing on powerful experiences during boot camp, duty stations and combat deployment, the veterans explain how their roles in the military unfolded, as well as their difficult transitions back into society. They offer unflinching accounts of post-traumatic stress disorder, traumatic brain injuries, military sexual assault, amputation and struggles with suicide, as well as the humor, sense of belonging and honor they found in service.

SUZE ORMAN'S FINANCIAL SOLUTIONS FOR YOU #000(
DESCRIPTION

We all have financial issues and problems. Suze Orman's latest special sharply focuses on her helping individual viewers "find financial solutions for you." As always, Suze's advice is based not just on numbers, but on a critical understanding of ourselves and our emotional needs. The special's central theme is that our financial decision-making should be guided by an understanding of "the goal of money." As Suze perceptively defines it: "The goal of money is to make you feel secure." Our financial solutions should work to fulfill that goal. In addition, Suze stresses the importance of making financial decisions that you feel comfortable with. Financial problems are caused when you do things with money that do not seem "right" to you, despite pressures and advice from others.

EXPLORING SURGERY AND UNCOMMON DISEASES #000H

DESCRIPTION

From rare disease management to repairing some of the most common physical conditions, new approaches to surgical and therapeutic treatments continue to bring about impressive results. In Exploring Surgery and Uncommon Diseases, we will look at how these advancements have made improvements in the areas of knee cartilage repair, pulmonary arterial hypertension, and cataracts - including intraocular lenses. We'll also look at a rare childhood disease known as MPS II, or Hunter's Syndrome. Although there is no current cure for MPS II, and no new surgical treatment options, researchers are beginning to make inroads in making this disease a bit more manageable. Knee cartilage damage causes doctor visits for about 6 million people in the US every year. This damage may result in significant pain, swelling, clicking, locking and catching, limiting even simple tasks such as climbing stairs. Knee cartilage repair has made great inroads with arthroscopic repair, a technique using small incisions to replace or repair the meniscus, a key element in the workings of the knee. MPS II or, Mucopolysaccharidosis Type II, also known as Hunter syndrome, is a disease that strikes children. MPS II is a deficiency of an enzyme called iduronate- 2-sulfatase, causing a harmful buildup of long chains of sugar carbohydrates that the body utilizes to make connective tissues. This buildup can damage the heart, bones, joints, lungs and central nervous system. When that happens, it can cause inflammation in the tissue and a long-term disease with progressive injury to the body's organs. Currently, there is no cure for MPS II. But for some patients, new treatment options to address this enzyme deficiency are underway. Pulmonary Arterial Hypertension (PAH) is high blood pressure in the lungs due to a thickening of the very small pulmonary arteries. When this pressure is elevated, the heart works harder to pump blood to the lungs, creating dangerous situations such as heart failure. In addition to better diet and exercise regimens, there are new surgical innovations used to address the problems associated with PAH. One of the latest is the use of medicated stents and balloons that have proven to be effective in preventing blockages from reforming in arteries. Cataracts, a cloudy film that slowly covers the lens of the eye, are mostly caused by aging, or, found in patients with diabetes or those taking certain medications. Because cataracts worsen over time, there are about three and a half million cataract surgeries done each year in the US, making it the single most common operation performed. It is an extremely complex procedure, but thankfully, due to new technology, the success rate for this procedure is extremely high. And in addition to removing cataracts, a new technique applicable to some patients, can improve their overall vision. It's called an intraocular lens, or, IOL. These lenses are surgically implanted, and can give patients better vision than they experienced, even before the development of cataracts. Overall, this one-hour program will encourage viewers to become more proactive in their own healthcare, helping them to make informed choices by working collaboratively with their doctor.

COMMUNITIES AS CLASSROOMS #000H
DESCRIPTION

Communities as Classrooms, follows producer Bob Gliner (Schools That Change Communities, Lessons From the Real World, Barefoot College) as he introduces a profound education initiative at four schools in El Salvador in the Fall of 2015. While schools in El Salvador largely resemble those in the United States, with test driven classes, fragmented curriculum and traditional lecture style teaching techniques, largely divorced from real world problems, Bob has K-12 students build an interdisciplinary curriculum around solving problems in their surrounding communities - motivated by the students themselves deciding what those problems are. Communities as Classrooms traces the process week to week over a two month period as students evolve from disinterested bystanders in their classroom experiences, to active members of a newly thriving democracy. From passive recipients of education mandates, the newly invigorated curriculum leads not only to a vibrant student driven educational experience, and the solving of real world problems, but transforms the way teachers, administrators, parents, and other community members look at the role students play in the larger society. As El Salvador makes efforts to build on this education success story, by potentially training all of its teachers to do community based education, Americans might want to consider this option as well as we look for more effective and creative ways to educate students and revitalize our democracy.

SLOW WAY HOME #000H
DESCRIPTION

The way children travel to school structures daily life for families around the world-but the means differs dramatically. In Japan 98 percent of children walk to school every day, unaccompanied by a parent. In the United States just 13 percent of children walk or bike to school, and most are driven to school by a parent. The Slow Way Home explores this divergence, examining how American families have largely given up on keeping our streets and public spaces safe enough for children, while Japanese communities have mobilized to keep their streets safe and walkable, not only for children but for everyone in society. Seen through both a historical and contemporary framing, The Slow Way Home is an uplifting examination of differences in culture that provides both insight into a distressing trend in American society and simultaneously offers hope for change.
