INDEPENDENT LENS #1704H

EAST OF SALINAS

DESCRIPTION

East of Salinas is a story about immigration, childhood, and circumstance. With little support at home, Salinas, California third grader Jose Ansaldo often turns to his teacher, Oscar Ramos, once a migrant farm kid himself. Oscar helps Jose imagine a future beyond the lettuce fields where his parents work. But Jose was born in Mexico - and he's on the cusp of understanding the implications of that. As we watch this play out, we begin to understand the cruelty of circumstance - for Jose and many millions of migrant kids like him. East of Salinas asks: What is lost when kids like Jose are denied opportunities?

NEXT DOOR NEIGHBORS - COMMUNITY #000H

DESCRIPTION

We are a nation of immigrants. For over 400 years America has been a beacon for individuals around the globe searching for a better life. While our new international neighbors make many contributions to our community, they also face challenges that come with adapting to a new environment. A number of charitable organizations work tirelessly to address those challenges, and "Next Door Neighbors: Community" highlights three of those organizations.

CLOSING THE GAP: 50 YEARS SEEKING EQUAL PAY #000H

DESCRIPTION

Half a century after President Kennedy signed the Equal Pay Act, women in both high-paying, high-growth STEM careers and those in part-time, low-wage jobs still only make, on average, 77 cents for every dollar earned by men. In that time span, the current wage gap improved at a rate of less than half a cent per year; if it continues at that pace, the wage gap will not close completely until 2053. Month to month, women - primary or co-breadwinners in six out of every 10 American families - face greater financial burdens in meeting living costs such as food, housing, transportation, health care and child care. The wage gap also limits their options to afford education. And across the span of a lifetime, women face less financial stability heading into retirement, with fewer pensions and lower Social Security payments to sustain them. In front of a live studio audience, CLOSING THE GAP: 50 YEARS SEEKING EQUAL PAY scrutinizes hotly debated statistics and moves beyond highly politicized and over-simplified talking points to explore the factors contributing to the wage gap and strategize on ways to attain equal pay. CNBC's Sharon Epperson serves as the program host, with guests including the namesake of the 2009 Fair Pay Act, Lilly Ledbetter; National Organization for Women (NOW) President Terry O'Neill, American Association of University Women (AAUW) Executive Director and CEO Linda Hallman, Ms. Foundation for Women CEO Teresa Younger and YWCAUSA CEO Dr. Dara Richardson-Heron. CLOSING THE GAP offers advice for overcoming wage secrecy policies in the workplace and researching fair salaries for jobs; considers pathways to improved public policies; arms women with the information and skills they need to earn fair pay at all points on the career continuum; and provides tips on achieving a financially secure retirement.

MODERN SURGERY: IMPROVING HEART HMEALTH #000H
DESCRIPTION

Cardiovascular disease is one of the leading causes of death worldwide. It is responsible for 45% of deaths in the western world and nearly 25% in developing countries. Prevention strategies, such as educational campaigns aimed at the general public, have the potential of greatly reducing the incidence of cardiovascular disease at every stage. But in order for such campaigns to be effective, it is necessary to both understand and reduce the many risk factors for cardiovascular disease. Learning about effective forms of heart disease management is important, and regular checkups with diagnostic testing are often recommended. Understanding Mitral Valve Disease is also an important part of an overall understanding of Heart Disease. Mitral valve disease is a condition of the heart's mitral valve. When a mitral valve is not working properly, you can experience symptoms such as fatigue and shortness of breath, caused by the defective valve allowing blood to flow backwards into the left atrium. When this happens, the heart cannot pump enough blood out of the left ventricular chamber to supply the body with oxygen-filled blood. However, many people with mitral valve disease experience no symptoms at all. In this one-hour special we will learn about Heart Disease and Mitral Valve Disease, be introduced to important forms of disease management, and learn about new surgical techniques available for patients. We will also learn how to improve our overall heart health by lowering blood pressure, reducing levels of bad cholesterol, eating healthier, and focusing on the right kinds of exercise. Also, we will speak with physicians who are encouraging their patients to be more proactive in their overall health care while providing them with the tools necessary to have a healthier heart!

PLAY AGAIN #000H
DESCRIPTION

What are the consequences of a childhood removed from nature? One generation from now most people in the U.S. will have spent more time in the virtual world than in nature. New media technologies have improved our lives in countless ways. Information now appears with a click. Overseas friends are part of our daily lives. And even grandma loves Wii. But what are we missing when we are behind screens? And how will this impact our children, our society, and eventually, our planet? At a time when children play more behind screens than outside, PLAY AGAIN explores the changing balance between the virtual and natural worlds. This moving and humorous documentary follows six teenagers who, like the "average American child," spend five to fifteen hours a day behind screens. PLAY AGAIN unplugs these teens and takes them on their first wilderness adventure - no electricity, no cell phone coverage, no virtual reality. Through the voices of children and leading experts including journalist Richard Louv, sociologist Juliet Schor, environmental writer Bill McKibben, educators Diane Levin and Nancy Carlsson-Paige, neuroscientist Gary Small, parks advocate Charles Jordan, and geneticist David Suzuki, PLAY AGAIN investigates the consequences of a childhood removed from nature and encourages action for a sustainable future.

ZERO ENERGY AMERICA #101H
PART 1
DESCRIPTION

Zero Energy America is two one-hour documentaries that explore the quest for the zero-energy home. This look inside alternative technology and solutions for the energy crisis in America and abroad finds solutions around the world that show promise and hope for a new tomorrow in which a home of any size can be built that not only lowers overall energy consumption, but actually finds ways to create excess power. The program follows the quest of a Florida home builder to redefine his company by throwing out 50 years of building history to construct a home on Florida's West Coast using lessons learned by exploring projects here in America and around the world. The documentaries explore each phase of construction and how the right decisions in construction and material can lead to a sustainable zero energy home. The concept of the zero-energy home is to leverage emerging and current technologies that create the possibility of a home or building of any size being self sufficient on energy. The documentary explores both small and large projects around the world that are working hard to find alternative energy solutions from Project Frog that builds zero-energy schools and public centers to Sonoma Mountain Village in California that is redeveloping 750,000 square feet of industrial development into a sustainable mixed use community. The program covers BedZed, one of the first energy efficient multi-family homes projects in England and its successes and failures that led to a new development that met the goals where BedZed failed. The documentaries also explore what government can do to assist in the development of the technologies and solutions. In today's world of energy wars, global warming and oil dependency, it's time that people begin to look to alternative energy sources and America has the greatest chance for impact with the means, the population, and the ability to make this difference now. Zero Energy America shows the way to get there, demonstrate the solutions by visiting real world working examples and addresses the problems head on. The zero energy home is attainable today... and this documentary proves that a Zero Energy America can be our tomorrow.

TOSSED OUT: FOOD WASTE IN AMERICA #000H

DESCRIPTION

Farmers and growers have made gigantic advancements in food production over the last century, ensuring more food flows from farm to table than at any time in human history. Yet, some estimates say as much as 40 percent of the food produced in the U.S. goes uneaten. Food waste is the single largest source of waste in municipal landfills. An incredible 35 million tons of food were thrown away in 2012, according to the EPA. As it decomposes in landfills, the waste releases methane and other greenhouse gases into the atmosphere. Meanwhile, 1 in 6 Americans struggles with hunger and the world wonders how to address the challenge of feeding 9 billion people by 2050.

LOST YEARS OF ZORA NEALE HURSTON #000H

DESCRIPTION

Writer, folklorist and anthropologist Zora Neale Hurston, a celebrated (and sometimes controversial) figure of the Harlem Renaissance, first rose to prominence with Mules and Men (1935) and cemented her reputation soon after with her 1937 masterwork, Their Eyes Were Watching God. However, few know about the woman behind this widely read and highly acclaimed novel -particularly the last 10 years of her life. THE LOST YEARS OF ZORA NEALE HURSTON delves into the writer's life, work and philosophies, concentrating on her very productive but often overlooked, final decade. Interviews with Hurston experts and colleagues, letters from Hurston, and archival photographs piece together this fascinating chapter in the life of an American literary icon.

GHOSTS OF AMISTAD: IN THE FOOTSTEPS OF THE REBELS #000H

DESCRIPTION

GHOSTS OF AMISTAD: IN THE FOOTSTEPS OF THE REBELS is based on Marcus Rediker's 2012 book The Amistad Rebellion: An Atlantic Odyssey of Slavery and Freedom. The documentary chronicles a trip made by academics and historians to Sierra Leone in May of 2013 as they retrace the path of the 53 Africans who rebelled against their captors and seized the slave schooner Amistad in 1839, leading to a watershed US Supreme Court decision. Their goal: to visit the 10 villages where the Amistad rebels once lived; interview the elders about their history and how the incident is remembered; and search for the long-lost ruins of Lomboko, the slave trading factory where the Amistad Africans were incarcerated and loaded onto a slave ship bound for the New World. By interviewing local villagers, fishermen and truck drivers, and accessing their oral accounts, GHOSTS OF AMISTAD: IN THE FOOTSTEPS OF THE REBELS aims to recover the lost history of the Amistad insurrection, told from a seldom-voiced perspective in the historical struggle against slavery. CAGED BIRD: THE LIFE AND MUSIC OF FLORENCE B. PRIC #000H
DESCRIPTION

In 1933 Florence B Price made music history as the first African-American woman to have her music performed by a major symphony orchestra when the Chicago Symphony premiered her Symphony in E minor at the 1933 World's Fair. She composed songs for the great singer Marian Anderson who sang Price's music at her legendary at the Lincoln Memorial performance in 1939 -- a watershed moment in civil rights history. This is the inspiring story of a gifted woman's triumph over prejudice and preconceptions.

OYLER: ONE SCHOOL, ONE YEAR #000H

DESCRIPTION

Can a school save a community? OYLER: ONE SCHOOL, ONE YEAR asks just that, telling the story of a Cincinnati public school fighting to break the cycle of poverty. The neighborhood is urban Appalachian-an insular community with roots in the coal mining towns of Kentucky and West Virginia. Before 2006, very few teens from Lower Price Hill finished high school, much less went to college. The local Oyler School only went through eighth grade. After that, rather than ride the bus out of the neighborhood for high school, most kids dropped out. Under long-time Principal Craig Hockenberry's leadership, Oyler School is part of the growing community schools movement. The school has transformed into a "community learning center," where it serves students from preschool through 12th grade, and is open year-round, from early morning until late at night. It has become a one-stop-shop for its students and their families, combining academic, health and social services under one roof. Based on the award-winning Marketplace radio series "One School, One Year," OYLER takes viewers through a year at the school, focusing on Hockenberry's mission to transform a community and on senior Raven Gribbins' quest to be the first in her troubled family to finish high school and go to college. When Hockenberry's job is threatened, it becomes clear it's a make-or-break year for both of them.

CHOICE CUTS: MEAT IN AMERICA #000H

DESCRIPTION

"Choice Cuts: Meat in America" looks at the trends of the American meat industry, the challenges it faces and the changing face of consumer demands. This half-hour television special is a production of NET News and features reports from Kansas City Public Television and Rocky Mountain PBS for the Harvest Public Media Local Journalism Center. The U.S. has put itself in the lead for meat production and consumption. The question is, can those rates keep accelerating while continuing to feed the world? "Choice Cuts: Meat in America" visits Lexington, Nebraska to talk to new Americans in a meat-packing town. Beef producers show-off feedlots as models of efficiency, while a producer of grass-fed beef talks about what sustainability means to him. The consumer reigns as king when it comes to meat, but how exactly are producers responding to these voices? A butcher shop in Kansas City opens its doors for classes where customers go behind the counter and get "hands-on." In Texas, a former employee of meat industry giants pursues the genetics of 'prime beef at prime prices.' To see what the future plate looks like, a reporter in Colorado visits with a yak rancher and vegetarian food developer to see what kind of alternatives lie ahead.

BRIDGING THE DIVIDE: TOM BRADLEY AND THE POLITICS #000H
DESCRIPTION

Thirty-five years before the election of President Barack Obama, the question of race and the possibility of bridging racial barriers were put to the test in an overlooked story in American politics: Tom Bradley's 1973 election as Mayor of Los Angeles: the first African American mayor of a major U.S. city with an overwhelmingly white majority. BRIDGING THE DIVIDE tells the story of how Bradley's coalition of African Americans, Jews, white liberals, Latinos and Asian Americans united a divided city, brought inclusion and access, and set the foundation for inter-racial coalitions that encouraged the elections of minority candidates nationwide, including President Barack Obama. At the same time, the film examines the complexities and contradictions of Bradley's career as a bridge builder. BRIDGING THE DIVIDE brings into sharp focus the issues of police abuse and police reform, and shows how Tom Bradley, a former police officer and a black mayor, could not break the cycles of poverty and despair that would ultimately spark the 1992 Los Angeles civil unrest, and mark the end of his era. BRIDGING THE DIVIDE is the story of multi-ethnic Los Angeles finding its voice and identity in the face of discrimination and political disenfranchisement. And it is the story of the politics of race, and complexities of coalitions in a changing America.

DESCRIPTION

These are hard times in the Quad Cities, a great American crossroads along the border of Iowa and Illinois, where the Mississippi River intersects Interstate 80. It's home to John Deere manufacturing and the nation's breadbasket. But it's also an area deeply scarred by the recession. FRONTLINE spent months following three young girls who are growing up against the backdrop of their families' struggles against financial ruin. The result is an intimate portrait of the economic crisis as it's rarely seen, through the eyes of children. At a time when one in five American kids lives below the poverty line, Poor Kids is an unflinching and revealing exploration of what poverty means to children, and to the country's future.

SUZE ORMAN'S FINANCIAL SOLUTIONS FOR YOU #000(

DESCRIPTION

We all have financial issues and problems. Suze Orman's latest special sharply focuses on her helping individual viewers "find financial solutions for you." As always, Suze's advice is based not just on numbers, but on a critical understanding of ourselves and our emotional needs. The special's central theme is that our financial decision-making should be guided by an understanding of "the goal of money." As Suze perceptively defines it: "The goal of money is to make you feel secure." Our financial solutions should work to fulfill that goal. In addition, Suze stresses the importance of making financial decisions that you feel comfortable with. Financial problems are caused when you do things with money that do not seem "right" to you, despite pressures and advice from others.

HUNTING THE NIGHTMARE BACTERIA

DESCRIPTION

"Nightmare bacteria." That's how the CDC describes a frightening new threat spreading quickly in hospitals, communities, and across the globe. FRONTLINE reporter David Hoffman investigates the alarming rise of untreatable infections: from a young girl thrust onto life support in an Arizona hospital, to a young American infected in India who comes home to Seattle, and an uncontrollable outbreak at the nation's most prestigious hospital, where 18 patients were mysteriously infected and six died, despite frantic efforts to contain the killer bacteria. Fueled by decades of antibiotic overuse, the crisis has deepened as major drug companies, squeezed by Wall Street expectations, have abandoned the development of new antibiotics. Without swift action, the miracle age of antibiotics could be coming to an end.

NOVA #4207H

THE GREAT MATH MYSTERY

DESCRIPTION

NOVA leads viewers on a mathematical mystery tour-a provocative exploration of math's astonishing power across the centuries. We discover math's signature in the swirl of a nautilus shell, the whirlpool of a galaxy, and the spiral in the center of a sunflower. Math was essential to everything from the first wireless radio transmissions to the prediction and discovery of the Higgs boson, and the successful landing of rovers on Mars. But where does math get its power?

Astrophysicist and writer Mario Livio, along with a colorful cast of mathematicians, physicists, and engineers, follow math from Pythagoras to Einstein and beyond, all leading to the ultimate riddle: Is math an invention or a discovery? Humankind's clever trick, or the language of the universe? The Great Math Mystery is a show for everyone; whether we think we're good with numbers or not, we all use math in our daily lives. The Great Math Mystery sheds fascinating light on how math works in our brains and ponders the ultimate mystery of why it works so well when decoding the universe.
