

Issues addressed included diversity, education, health, the economy, politics, conservation, environment, and the arts.

Ongoing Local Programs addressing Diversity:

- Noon-3pm Mondays - Deer Tracks - Native Music
- Noon-2pm Tuesdays - Kind Beat - Minority-hosted World and Native Music
- Noon-2pm Wednesdays - Blues Nation with Professor Dana Chandler - Minority-hosted African American Music and Culture
- 2-3pm Thursdays - Don't Worry Be Happy hour - African American woman hosts public affairs program exploring women's issues, and positive approaches to life:
- Noon-1pm (through 5/29/15), then 1-2pm Fridays (Starting 6/5/15) - Navajo Nation Radio Network hour - bilingual Navajo Public Affairs in Diné and English
- 9-11pm Fridays - Tropical Reggae, (positive messages in music, featuring performance by African-American and Caribbean artists, with a focus on diversity)

Ongoing Syndicated Programs addressing Diversity:

- 11am-Noon Mondays through Fridays - Native America Calling, Public Affairs
- 9pm-11pm Tuesdays - Concierto, Spanish classical music, Bilingual Spanish / English
- Noon-1pm Thursdays - Fiesta, Spanish classical music, Bilingual Spanish / English
- 1-2pm Thursdays - Latino USA, Public Affairs
- 11:30pm-Midnight Thursdays - Talking Drum, Native music program
- 8:01-8:06am Saturdays - Word With a Champ Native sports w/ "Cherokee Cowboy" Randy Taylor

Ongoing Syndicated Programs addressing Environmental and Social Justice concerns:

- 2-2:29pm Wednesdays - The Bioneers, Revolution From the Heart of Nature
- 2:30-3pm Wednesdays - Making Contact, Public Affairs

Ongoing Syndicated News Programs addressing all issues of concern, Worldwide:

- Midnight-6am, each night - BBC World Service News
- 6-9am weekdays - NPR's Morning Edition, including Marketplace economic reports
- 4-6pm weekdays - NPR's All Things Considered
- 9-11am Saturdays and Sundays - Weekend Edition
- 6-7pm Saturdays and Sundays - All Things Considered

Ongoing community outreach and public service announcements:

Approximately 35 minutes of PSAs spread throughout the 24-hour broadcast day, at :29:30 after the hour during the BBC World Service hours airing overnight; at :59 after the hour, on average every other hour, at :19 after and :49 after during NPR's Morning Edition 6-9am weekdays; during Performance Today's first break, weekdays, in each hour; at 19: after and :49 after during NPR's All Things Considered, 4-6pm weekdays; during NPR's Fresh Air, 6-7pm weekdays; during evening programs each weekday; throughout weekend network avails, as well as live public service announcements during the live locally hosted music programs.

Education, History, Environment, Health, Nutrition, Culture, Politics, and Media:

04/10/15, 1:00pm (59min) - Gallup resident Dr. Eileen Barrett, on her service with Ebola patients in Sierra Leone

04/17/15, 1:00pm(59min) - "The Adaptors" BURN's Earth Day Special, chronicles how people are adapting to climate change. We're all adaptors. That's what makes us human. So while climate change stories often feel impossibly hopeless and divisive, The Adaptors suggests the opposite — finding people from all walks of life who are creatively heading-off our energy and climate crisis. The Adaptors, a one-hour special from SoundVision Productions and American Public Media.

05/01/15, 1:35pm (21min) - Sustainable Gallup Board, with Bill Bright (recycling & conservation)

04/03/15, 1:00pm (59min) - Gallup Mayoral runoff candidates George Galanis and Jackie McKinney.

04/24/15, 1:07pm (22min) - Election of Navajo Nation President Russell Begaye and VP Jonathan Nez.

04/24/15, 1:52pm (6min) - Kenworth Jones of the Jim Harlin Community Pantry discusses the upcoming Mail Carriers food drive, happening 5/9/15.

05/08/15, 1:06:30pm (19min) - KGLP's Ivah Benally speaks with folks at the RMCHCS-sponsored Health Fair at Rio West Mall, held on 5/02/15.

05/08/15, 1:26pm (29min) - Coverage of the 5/4/15 Sustainable Gallup Board, discussing curbside recycling, Gallup Land Partners, and other issues relating to water conservation, recycling, and sustainability.

05/15/15, 1:06pm (53min) - UNM-Gallup Professor Martin Link, recipient of The Richard A. Bice Award for Archaeological Achievement. This prestigious award for excellence in the field of archaeology was presented at the annual Archaeological Society of New Mexico meeting in Taos, New Mexico during the weekend of May 1 & 2. The plaque reads "For his 55 years of service to, and being the initial creator of the Plateau Sciences Society. Martin's leadership over the years and his relationship with the Navajo Tribe has resulted in the Navajo Tribal Council approval of the Navajo rendition of the Federal Antiquities Act of 1906. Martin was instrumental in the establishment of the Kinlichee Tribal Park and supervised the excavation and restoration of this 12th century Anasazi/Ancstral Pueblo site. Martin's long association with the Plateau Sciences Society and dedication to the field of archaeology has, over the years, been enormously beneficial to the Archaeological Society of New Mexico." Professor Link will speak about his career, Plateau Science Society's (PSS) May 16th Native and Xeric Plant Sale and the PSS meeting Sunday, May 17, 2:30pm at Red Mesa Center in Gallup, NM.

05/29/15, 1:06pm (53min) - Interviews with two authors of books dealing with wild horses: Craig Downer, who wrote "The Wild Horse Conspiracy", and Alan Day (brother of former Supreme Court Justice, Sandra Day O'Connor), who wrote "The Horse Lover".

06/05/15, 12:00pm (24min) - Plans for the June 12th Relay for Life event in Gallup's downtown plaza, with Bev Crowe and Joyce Greer discussing this fundraiser for the American Cancer Society.

06/05/15, 12:35pm (24min) - Ken Collins, Director of the San Juan Center for Independence branch in Gallup's Rio West Mall, discussing the "Fight or Flight" response as it relates to those with brain injuries.

Education, History, Environment, Health, Nutrition, Culture, Politics, and Media (continued):

06/12/15, 12:00pm (59min) - Eddie Scott Yazzie, Media Representative for the Navajo Nation Special Diabetes Project, discussing several events including a July 25th half-marathon and the "Run for a Stronger and Healthier Navajo Nation" taking place throughout the tribe's territories from July 25th through August 1st, 2015.

06/19/15, 12:07pm (35min) - On June 5, 2015, U.S. Senator Martin Heinrich (D-NM) toured Navajo Technical University's STEM programs (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics). This segment features details of NTU's new radio station and Digital Manufacturing program, in particular.

06/26/15, 12:06pm (53min) - Excerpts from the June 6, 2015 Work in Beauty workshops on sustainable agriculture, including Owl McCabe's sessions on Permaculture and the Microbiology of Soils, the latter particularly important for the Gallup area, given how poor the soil in the region is for agriculture, and how vulnerable it is to the detrimental affects of irrigation, which builds up salts and other minerals, leading to a steady decline in yields.

Diversity and the Arts:

04/24/15, 1:30pm (22min) - Bill Kryzmowski of Gallup's Red Rock String Ensemble on the upcoming community concert featuring the Ensemble and special guest Michael Chapdelaine, classical guitarist from Albuquerque.

05/01/15, 1:06pm (29min) - UNM professor and architect Samir Wahid, of Iraq.

05/08/15, 1:55pm (4min) - Excerpt of El Morro Area Arts Council (EMAAC) 1st Quarter Open Mic variety show, with "Bob" performing Roy Orbison's standard, "Crying".

05/22/15, 1:06pm (53min) - KGLP Station Manager Rachel Kaub visited the New Mexico Pueblo of Acoma on June 30, 2014, where FCC chair Tom Wheeler and Senator Tom Udall conferred with tribal leaders on the national need to expand tribal broadband.

06/03/15, 6:45:36am (4min) - Leaf Ashley, discussing the June 6th plans for the 2nd Annual Belly Dance Showcase, featuring girls and women of all ages, shapes, and backgrounds.

06/04/15, 8:45:36am (4min) - Leaf Ashley, discussing the June 6th plans for the 2nd Annual Belly Dance Showcase, featuring girls and women of all ages, shapes, and backgrounds.

06/05/15, 6:45:36am (4min) - Leaf Ashley, discussing the June 6th plans for the 2nd Annual Belly Dance Showcase, featuring girls and women of all ages, shapes, and backgrounds.

06/05/15, 12:24pm (11min) - Leaf Ashley, discussing the June 6th plans for the 2nd Annual Belly Dance Showcase, featuring girls and women of all ages, shapes, and backgrounds.

06/06/15, 08:01am (4min) - Leaf Ashley, discussing the June 6th plans for the 2nd Annual Belly Dance Showcase, featuring girls and women of all ages, shapes, and backgrounds.

06/19/15, 12:42pm (11min) - Interviews with the cast and crew of "JoHanna Hartwig and Friends", a musical featuring original Harp compositions with vocals at the Old School Gallery near El Morro National Monument on 6/27/15.