This quarter's report includes information, from the quarter's Community Ascertainment Meetings. The Colorado Broadcaster's Association, holds these meetings quarterly. KPOF has in the past, and will in the future, have at least one, but generally two individuals representing KPOF at these meetings.

The issues listed, are of interest to the community as a whole, but specifically of interest to certain community leaders, activists, and philanthropists.

In addition to attending the Colorado Broadcaster's Quarterly Ascertainment Meetings, KPOF also serves the community with a number of regularly scheduled news programs, local news, regularly scheduled political commentary, and interviews with individuals of varying backgrounds and agendas.

KPOF also uses a number of other sources to determine community issues, problems, and interests. Some of these include:

- Newspapers
- Press Releases
- Associated Press
- Salem Religious News
- Public Service Announcements
- Contact with state and local government officials
- E-mail from listeners who are encouraged to share their concerns

The report contains all of the above, but is not limited to what is documented herein. This report covers KPOF broadcasts from October, November, December 2014.
