

KHKA 1500 AM / K272GC 102.3 FM (effective October 2021)
Honolulu, Hawaii
1st Quarter
January 2022 – March 2022

1. KHKA/K272GC broadcasts numerous public service announcement throughout the day to benefit local non-profit groups and our community. 501c3 groups as the Hawaii Bowl Foundation, Hawaii Speed and Quickness, and National Kidney Foundation. (schedule of PSA's run are attached)
2. KHKA/K272GC television news partnerships
 - a. On November 8th, 2021, KHKA/K272GC entered into a television partnership with KHON-TV, the local FOX affiliate. The radio stations aired KHON2's local morning news show, Wake Up 2Day, from 5-8 a.m., and its sister show, Take 2, from 8-9 a.m. Additionally, special reports featuring press conferences from the governor, mayor, and law enforcement were occasionally aired on the radio station.
3. On May 4th, 2020, KHKA rebranded to CBS 1500. The station carries additional news programming, such as the "CBS Evening News with Norah O'Donnell," a re-air of CBS Television's nightly 30-minute news program. The show covers national and global breaking news and other pertinent stories.
4. Additional news programs include "America in the Morning" (M-F, Midnight-1 a.m. and 2 a.m.-3 a.m. / 1-2 a.m. and 3-4 a.m. when the clocks changed in November) and "First Light" (M-F 1 a.m. – 2 a.m. / 2-3 a.m. when the clocks changed in November)
5. KHKA airs high school sports broadcasts from the Interscholastic League of Honolulu and the Hawaii High School Athletic Association.

Friday, January 21	Sacred Hearts Academy vs. Hanalani (ILH Girls BKB) Hawaii Baptist Academy vs. Hanalani (ILH Boys BKB)
Friday, January 28	Mid-Pacific vs. Kamehameha (ILH Boys BKB) Hawaii Baptist Academy vs. Mid-Pacific (ILH Girls BKB)
Friday, February 4	Punahou vs. Iolani (ILH Girls BKB Championship)
Monday, February 7
Tuesday, February 15	Damien vs. Mid-Pacific (ILH Boys BKB Tournament)
Wednesday, February 16	Punahou vs. Kamehameha (ILH Boys BKB Tournament)
Saturday, February 26	Maui Prep vs. Kaimuki (HHSAA DII Boys BKB Championship) Saint Louis vs. Mililani (HHSAA DI Boys BKB Championship)

6. Holiday specials from CBS News Radio

New Year's Day Special – January 1st (also includes Christmas content, similar special)

- We will hear how a canonized Saint became Santa
- There are new Chanukah Songs set to the music of West Side Story and just in time for the Steven Spielberg reboot of the beloved musical
- And why is January 1st the start of the new year? We'll explain the surprising story.

Martin Luther King Jr. Day Special – January 17th (Topics and Guests include)

- Nina Turner, an American educator and former Ohio state senator, examines the influences that shaped Rev. King's activism as a global champion of human rights.*
- Author and filmmaker Priyanka Kumar on how Mahatma Gandhi inspired King to pursue the path of nonviolence in his civil rights leadership;
- Clayborne Carson, director of the Martin Luther King, Jr., Research and Education Institute at Stanford University discussing King's relationship with his parents and how they helped to formulate Rev. King's calling*
- King Biographer Richard Lischer examines the formative years that Rev. King spent at the Crozer Theological Seminary, where he became class president of the majority white student body .
-

LIVE COVERAGE – State of the Union Address (March 1st, 3 p.m.)

KHKA, through CBS News Radio, aired live coverage of President Joe Biden's State of the Union address from Washington D.C. Following the address, the Republican response was also aired.

LIVE COVERAGE – “January 6: One Year Later” (4 a.m.)

KHKA, through CBS News Radio, aired live coverage of the one year anniversary of the January 6th attack at the United States Capitol. It included remarks from President Joe Biden and Vice President Kamala Harris.

LIVE COVERAGE: Governor David Ige's address on the Mask Mandate (March 8, 1 p.m.)

KHKA, through the KHON2 News, aired Governor David Ige's press conference on March 8th announcing the end date for Hawaii's mask mandate.

LIVE COVERAGE: Governor David Ige's State of the State Address (Jan. 24, 10:00 a.m.)

KHKA, through the KHON2 News, aired Governor David Ige's final State of the State Address.

"IN FOCUS"

"In Focus with Dave Kawada" is a news and interview show hosted in the interim by Josh Pacheco. The show features interviews with newsmakers, people of influence, and people of impact. It airs on Thursdays from 3-4 p.m. and is archived on the Sideline Hawaii app. (Note – the show was placed on hiatus following the March 10th airing)

List of guests featured on "In Focus"

January 6th, 2022 – Dr. Mark Mugiishi, CEO and President of HMSA (impact on the healthcare industry and turning the pandemic to an endemic)

February 3rd, 2022 – Todd Lewis, COO of the Blood Bank of Hawaii (how they are keeping the blood supply up during the pandemic)

March 3rd, 2022 – John Batchelor, host of CBS Radio's "Eye on the World" with John Batchelor. (Russia/Ukraine conflict)

LONGFORM NEWS/INFORMATION PROGRAMS

"America: Changed Forever" – Saturdays at 4 p.m.

January 1st - On this very special edition of America: Changed Forever, host Jeff Pegues looks at the biggest stories of 2021 and the original exclusive coverage we delivered to you on ACF over the past year.

January 29th –As tensions mount in Eastern Europe, host Jeff Pegues speaks with three experts about Vladimir Putin: Alexandra Vacroux, Executive Director of the Davis Center for Russian and Eurasian Studies and lecturer on Government at Harvard University; John Sipher, 28-year career veteran at the Central Intelligence Agency's National Clandestine Service, who served as Deputy Bureau Chief in Moscow; and Max Bergmann, a former member of the Secretary of State's policy planning staff and now a senior fellow at American Progress, where he focuses on Europe, Russia, and U.S. security cooperation.

February 5th - This week on "America: Changed Forever", host Jeff Pegues looks at the explosive allegations of systemic racism in the NFL levied by former Miami Dolphins' head coach Brian Flores, who appeared this week on CBS Mornings. And a look at the spike in deadly crime and the increased availability of "Ghost Guns" with an exclusive interview with Marvin Richardson, acting Director of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms.

February 12th - This week on “America: Changed Forever”, host Jeff Pegues begins with what could be the end of the pandemic in sight, with Democratic-led states dropping mask mandates. This Super Bowl weekend, the big game is overshadowed a bit by accusations by former Miami Dolphins coach Brian Flores who alleges that the NFL is failing when it comes to giving black coaches an opportunity. We’ll hear from Jeremi Duru, a professor of law at American University’s Washington College of Law, and the author of Advancing the Ball.

February 19th - The court, this week on ‘America: Changed Forever.’ Host Jeff Pegues talks with Political Scientist Dan Cassino about how President Biden's potential Supreme Court nominee is creating strange bedfellows and Law Professor Laurie Levensen about the surprising increase of the Supreme Court's use of the “shadow docket.”

February 26th - Ukraine, this week on America: Changed Forever. Host Jeff Pegues is joined by Fred Kaplan, author of the War Stories column for Slate to analyze Vladimir Putin's motivations for the invasion of Ukraine. Other guests include Washington Post columnist and a senior fellow at the Ethics and Public Policy Center, Henry Olsen and Security Analyst Malcom Nance.

March 19th - The latest on the War in Ukraine, this week on 'America: Changed Forever.' Host Jeff Pegues is joined by retired US Naval War College professor Tom Nichols who is a specialist on international security affairs, including U.S.-Russia relations, nuclear strategy and NATO issues and a contributing writer to The Atlantic. CBS News Correspondent Steve Futterman checks in from the Ukrainian border while CBS Financial Analyst Jill Schlesinger looks at the Federal Reserve's recent guidance about interest rates and the toll inflation is taking on the US economy.

“The Takeout with Major Garrett” – Saturdays at 6 p.m.

January 1st - This week on ‘The Takeout’, CBS News technology reporter Dan Patterson joins Chief Washington Correspondent Major Garrett to discuss the influx of misinformation and disinformation on the internet, the state of QAnon heading into 2022, and whether there is an appetite in the public for the "metaverse" that Google, Facebook and other tech giants are rolling out.

January 29th - This week on ‘The Takeout,’ Major is joined by CBS News Senior Foreign Correspondent Holly Williams, who's currently on assignment in Kyiv, Ukraine. They discuss the buildup of Russian troops around Ukraine's eastern border, the situation on the ground inside Ukraine and the many pronunciations of 'Kyiv.'

February 5th - Legendary journalist Carl Bernstein joins Major Garrett this week on 'The Takeout,' to discuss his new memoir Chasing History: A Kid in the Newsroom, his early days as a cub reporter at the now-defunct Washington Star and the concept of neutrality in reporting.

February 12th - Major is joined by CBS News correspondent Jamie Yuccas, who is currently on assignment at the Winter Olympics in Beijing. They discuss the COVID protocols on the Olympic grounds, the greater scrutiny American-born athletes competing for China are facing and the top athletes to watch for Team USA.

March 19th - Former National Security Advisor H.R. McMaster, who just joined CBS News as a foreign policy and national security contributor, joins Major Garrett, this week on 'The Takeout.' The two discuss President Biden labeling Russian leader Vladimir Putin a "war criminal," the possibility of a negotiated settlement to end the Russia-Ukraine war and China's view of the conflict.

"Eye on Veterans" – Sundays at 5 p.m.

January 2nd - 2021 in review, from the veterans' point of view, with Special Forces veteran and ConnectingVets.com journalist Jack Murphy. The year ahead; trends for military veterans in 2022, War Office Productions; a veteran owned company that advises Hollywood productions to ensure military movies have an authentic look and feel, with insight from former Army Ranger and Film Production Advisor Jariko Denman, and what it's like to work with actor Danny Wahlberg on a movie set

January 23rd - Army veteran Marjorie K Eastman served as an intelligence soldier and then became an Intel Officer with tours in Iraq and Afghanistan. She now hopes to bring her experience to the US Senate, as she runs for the Republican nomination in North Carolina. We talked to her about her background and the issues she's fighting for.

January 30th – The host talks about LEAD Tactics.org; A veteran founded company helping school systems prepare for active shooter situations using lessons learned in the Battle of Fallujah, and the Hermland Valley Growers Company, created by five Marine Corp veterans to produce medical cannabis products in California

February 13th – The host talks about Military toxic exposure research and treatment with Dr. Patricia Hastings, Chief Consultant for the VA's Post Deployment Health Services, the disconnect between research studies the VA uses to determine the scope of airborne hazards related to military burn pits and the real time aftereffects Vets continue to suffer, and interviews Marine Corp veteran and WWE Wrestling superstar Lacey Evans and how she transitioned from the Marines to the wild world of WWE Wrestling.

February 27th – The host talks about Veterans delivering everything from highly classified DOD satellites to next day Amazon Prime packages, VOX Space and their role in placing crucial DOD satellites into orbit using rockets and 747's, with insight from VOX Space President Retired Brigadier General Mark Baird, and Amazon's Delivery Service Partnership Program, which enabled Army veteran Will Boyd and Navy veteran Damon Darienzo to successfully launch their own delivery companies

March 6th – The host talks about The nation's fastest growing and veteran owned energy drink: Kill Cliff

March 13th – The host talks about President Biden's State of the Union promise that the VA will take care of vets suffering from burn pit related illnesses and the recent House passed bill ensuring veterans get care and treatment, what those promises mean for veterans suffering right NOW, with insight from Marine Corps combat vet Tim Jensen, COO of the vet owned military apparel brand Grunt, and the rewards and challenges of married veterans running a business together, with insight from Stretch Zone franchise owners and Army vets Garnet (gar-NET) and Zaimis (ZAY-mis) Brooks.

March 20th – The host talks about MOS Apparel, a veteran father and son company founded by Desert Storm Army Artillery Vet Chris Jones, and their plan to print "How to fire a Javelin missile" instructions on clothing that will be sent to Ukraine's citizen soldiers, who are fighting with little or no training. Plus, Adaptiv DC; a custom design firm this entrepreneurial vet also created that transforms kids' rooms or any room into anything from an amusement park to an elaborate man cave.

March 27th – The host talks about the determination and drive of the first disabled vet to race at a NASCAR national series event, how Air Force vet and Traumatic Brain Injury survivor Keith McGee is persevering against the odds and TBI migraines to pursue his life's dream, and the war in Ukraine with insight from Josh Skovlund (Skove-lund), who is one of three former Army Rangers who reported from the front lines.

"60 Minutes" – Sundays at 6 p.m.

January 2nd - On this week's "60 Minutes Presents," The Ritchie Boys. The Ritchie Boys were members of a secret U.S. military group whose mastery of German language and culture helped them provide battlefield intelligence that proved pivotal to the Allies' victory.

January 9th - On this week's "60 Minutes," a program is asking Americans from across the political spectrum to stop demonizing one another and start communicating as part of the oral history project called StoryCorps. Norah O'Donnell reports. People are quitting jobs at an unprecedented rate and some are simply taking a "time out" from work entirely. Bill Whitaker reports on what some are calling the "Great Resignation." Jon Wertheim interviews Baltimore Ravens kicker Justin Tucker, who is on a trajectory to go down as perhaps the greatest NFL kicker there ever was.

January 23rd - On this week's "60 Minutes," Jon Wertheim's 's two-part segment on the investigation into who betrayed Anne Frank and her family by revealing their hiding place to the Nazis. In 2016, a team of investigators, led by a veteran FBI agent, decided to bring modern crime-solving techniques and technology to this case. And now, they believe they have an answer. Country music star Chris Stapleton on his life and career has collaborated with some of music's biggest names and won five Grammy Awards, but as he tells Sharyn Alfonsi, stardom has never seemed to be the goal for him.

January 30th - On this week's "60 Minutes Presents," an hour of music. Tony Bennett has Alzheimer's Disease, but when it comes time for him to sing, the 95-year-old crooner emerges from the fog of dementia. Anderson Cooper talks with Lady Gaga and others about Bennett's onstage transformation. Half-century old footage of the Beatles at work tells different story of the band's darkest days. Jon Wertheim speaks to Peter Jackson, the director of the documentary "Get Back." Finally, Sharyn Alfonsi introduces us to the self-dubbed "Best Band in the Land," New Orleans' St. Augustine High School Marching Band.

February 6th - On this week's "60 Minutes," there's an ongoing problem with military service members. As Lesley Stahl reports, they are being killed -- not in combat -- but in vehicular accidents during training. Covid hospitalizations and staff shortages are pushing healthcare workers to the brink. Sharyn Alfonsi reports. Last year, when archaeologists detected what they believed to be 200 unmarked graves at an old school in Canada, it brought new attention to one of the most shameful chapters of that nation's history. , Anderson Cooper reports on the residential schools of Canada, where more than 150,000 indigenous children were sent after being forcibly removed from their communities.

February 13th - On this week's "60 Minutes Presents," Europe's wine industry being altered by climate change. Lesley Stahl reports. British pubs were on the decline before COVID-19 and the pandemic looked to be last call for these cornerstones of British community life. But as the pandemic winds down and England reopens, the British are realizing just how much they missed their locals. Jon Wertheim tells us more.

February 20th - On this week's "60 Minutes," Foreign Minister Dmytro Kuleba tells Lesley Stahl that Ukraine is not signaling abandonment of NATO plans. High-ranking Homeland Security officials in the Trump administration say they were overcome with feelings of vertigo, confusion and memory loss while on White House grounds and in their Washington, D.C.-area homes. The incidents and symptoms they describe are similar to the "Havana Syndrome" that has been reported by American diplomats in foreign countries since 2016. These claims were corroborated by former National Security Adviser John Bolton, who fears there is a threat to the highest levels of the U.S. government. In a two-part segment, these officials speak with Scott Pelley.

February 27th - On this week's "60 Minutes," as tensions with Russia intensify, Bill Whitaker investigates threats to the U.S. electric grid. Lesley Stahl reports on Americans unjustly imprisoned abroad by foreign governments with whom the U.S. has thorny relations. Jon Wertheim reports on a new threat faced by local newsrooms.

March 6th - Head of the CDC Dr. Rochelle Walensky is cautiously optimistic that the U.S. may be entering a new phase of the pandemic and says “we have to be vigilant.” Scott Pelley reports from a getaway to and from the war in Ukraine. And legally blind Jacob Smith is shredding up the ski slopes.

March 13th - Why is the world so enthralled by “Ted Lasso?” Norah O’Donnell travels to London to speak with the cast and crew of the hit comedy. Anderson Cooper sits down with Transportation Secretary Pete Buttigieg about his big task at hand... fixing the nation’s crumbling infrastructure. With the midterm elections around the corner Bill Whitaker looks at claims of voter fraud that continue to persist well past the 2020 presidential election.

March 20th - A lot has changed in women’s basketball since Sue Bird started her WNBA career 19 seasons ago, and its no coincidence. Jon Wertheim sits down with the basketball legend on her impact on women’s sports. Residential rent went up an average 15% last year in the U.S., almost twice the overall rate of inflation, and tenants are paying the price. Lesley Stahl investigates why rents are skyrocketing. As Russia’s invasion into Ukraine continues Sharyn Alfonsi looks at how U.S. sanctions are affecting President Vladimir Putin and the Russian economy.\

March 27th - Is it possible to speak with a Holocaust survivor who passed away years ago? With the help of artificial intelligence, Lesley Stahl finds out. Norah O'Donnell sits down with Dave Isay, founder of the "One Small Step" program. He hopes to bridge the political divide.

“Weekend Roundup” – Saturdays at 5 p.m.

January 1st - CBS's Mark Strassman with an update on the new CDC Covid guidance on quarantining and isolation when exposed. CDC Director Dr. Rochelle Walensky expands on the guidance and criticism. CBS's Major Garrett looks back to the January 6th attack on the Capitol. Where does the House investigation stand? And, is the Capitol safer now? CBS's Stacy Lyn talks to Congressional Reporter Zak Hudak. And, more stories on crime and the courts from 2021 with CBS's Steve Dorsey. CBS Mornings takes a look at the life and legacy of legendary sportscaster and Hall of Fame football coach John Madden, who passed away at the age of 85. CBS's Steve Futterman explores the other big sports stories of the year. Our Matt Pieper on the viral stories that had us talking and Peter King with what happened in space in 2021. In this week's Kaleidoscope, CBS's Allison Keyes discusses a University of Washington study on who is most likely to be exposed to poor air quality. The pandemic hit the airline industry hard. CBS News Travel Correspondent Errol Barnett tells us what to expect in 2022. Beloved actress Betty White died at the age of 99. CBS's Tom Foty looks back at her iconic career. What were the biggest stories of the year in the world of music, tv and movies? CBS's Anthony Pura and Debra Rodriguez give us the scoop. And, as we begin 2022, what will the big food and drink trends be? CBS's Stacy Lyn has that for you.

February 5th - host Allison Keyes updates us on Pfizer's seeking FDA approval for Covid-19 vaccine shots for children under the age of 5, with Dr. Ruth Kanthula at MedStar Health, and on the plight of exhausted health-care workers amid the ongoing pandemic. We'll get details on President Biden's decision to send more US troops to Europe as Russia increases troops along its border with Ukraine. In the Kaleidoscope, Allison speaks with Renee Knake Jefferson, Doherty Chair in Legal Ethics at the University of Houston Law Center, and co-author of "Shortlisted: Women in the Shadows of the Supreme Court," about President Biden's vow to nominate a Black woman to the high court.

February 12th - host Allison Keyes gets the latest on the controversy over Covid-19 mask restrictions from CBS News Medical Contributor Dr. David Agus, as well as how women have been hurt by the pandemic from CBS's Nikki Battiste. We'll hear about Super Bowl betting and ads ahead of the big game on Sunday. In the Kaleidoscope, for Black History Month, Allison marks the 23rd anniversary of National Black HIV/AIDS Awareness Day. She speaks with Marc Meachem at ViiV Healthcare and the Presidential Advisory Council on HIV/AIDS, about why that community continues to be disproportionately affected.

February 19th - host Allison Keyes gets the latest on an HIV cure that may mean new horizons in the global battle against the epidemic. We'll also get the latest on the state of Covid-19, from Dr. Ashish Jha, as daily infections continue to drop. In the Kaleidoscope, Allison speaks with Cynthia Chavez Lamar, the newly minted director of the Smithsonian's National Museum of the American Indian. Chavez Lamar is the first Indigenous woman to lead a Smithsonian Museum.

March 19th - host Allison Keyes gets an update from CBS News Correspondent Steve Futterman on the Ukraine Polish border on the Russian invasion. We'll have the latest on a possible surge in Covid-19 as restrictions continue dropping around the world from CBS's Rylee Carlson. In the Kaleidoscope, Allison speaks with Community Oncology Alliance (COA) president Dr. Kashyap Patel about how the pandemic led to a drop in cancer screenings, and now many patients are showing up with advanced cases. He says people of color are particularly affected.

March 26th - host Allison Keyes has an update on President Biden's trip to Poland amid the war in Ukraine and hears from CBS's Wendy Gillette from the Polish Ukraine border. CBS's Nikole Killion reports on the confirmation hearing for Judge Ketanji Brown Jackson, who may become the first Black woman on the Supreme Court. In the Kaleidoscope, Allison speaks with University of Chicago professor Robert Kaestner about research showing that the gender wage gap may have roots extending back into childhood.

Face the Nation – Sundays at 7:30 a.m. / 7 p.m. during NFL season

January 2nd - On this week's "Face the Nation" with moderator Margaret Brennan; former FDA Commissioner Dr. Scott Gottlieb discusses the direction of the pandemic, as COVID-19 cases spike across the country. We'll hear from Education Secretary Miguel Cardona about the recent surge in COVID cases and what it means for America's students. Despite backlash from her party, Rep. Liz Cheney sits as vice chair of the January 6 Select Committee, and gives us the latest on the state of the Republican Party. Rep. Adam Schiff discusses the future of American democracy as the country deals with the effects of the January 6 attack on the U.S. Capitol one year later. University of Chicago Political Science Professor Robert Pape looks at where our democracy stands - and examines the January 6 Capitol attack one year later. Plus, CBS News Election and Surveys Director Anthony Salvanto on the latest survey conducted by CBS News.

January 9th - On this week's "Face the Nation," moderator Margaret Brennan's exclusive interview with House Speaker Nancy Pelosi, who talks about what to expect from Democrats in 2022. We'll hear from David Becker, the Executive Director and Founder of the Center for Election Innovation Research, about the state of elections and American's confidence stands. Georgia Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger defends his state's 2020 election integrity to former President Trump, and talks about the future of elections in Georgia after the state legislation stripped his position of oversight. Newly appointed New York City Mayor Eric Adams, discusses what he plans to do about the surging COVID19 cases. As COVID cases continuing to rise, we turn to former FDA Commissioner Dr. Scott Gottlieb for his expertise on how to best protect yourself. Meanwhile, President Putin is essentially playing a game of chicken, a Cold War style game of brinkmanship that is ratcheting up tensions, trying to extract concessions from the US and its European allies, We'll get the latest from CBS's Holly Williams.

January 16th - On this week's "60 Minutes" with moderator Margaret Brennan: The COVID pandemic, inflation, voting rights, and more! We asked Americans how they feel the Biden administration is handling the issues impacting them the most. Plus, CBS News Election and Surveys Director Anthony Salvanto with a poll on President Biden's first year in office.

January 23rd - On this week's "Face the Nation" with moderator Margaret Brennan; after a week of escalating tensions and even more military buildup at the Russia-Ukraine border, we ask Secretary of State Antony Blinken what the U.S. is prepared to do in the event of more Russian aggression. Rep. Michael McCaul (R-TX), ranking member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, discusses what Congress can do to deter a potential Russian invasion of Ukraine. We'll also get the latest out of Ukraine from CBS's Holly Williams. Meanwhile, the House committee investigating the January 6 attack received a big win after the Supreme Court dismissed former President Trump's plea to hold over 700 documents from the committee. We hear from Committee Chair Rep. Bennie Thompson (D-MS.) Former FDA Commissioner Dr. Scott Gottlieb has the latest on the COVID-19 vaccine for children ages 5 and under. Finally, we hear from a "Listening to America" focus group, who do not believe we are in a better place now with the pandemic than a year ago.

January 30th - On this week's "Face the Nation" with moderator Margaret Brennan, Ukrainian President Zelensky is asking the U.S. to tone down the rhetoric around a possible Russian invasion of his country. She discusses how her country is viewing Russia's military build-up on their border. is asking the U.S. to tone down the rhetoric around a possible Russian invasion of his country. One of President Biden's top diplomats, Victoria Nuland, joins discusses efforts to find a peaceful solution to the Ukraine-Russia Crisis. House Majority Whip James Clyburn (D-SC) says he urged President Biden to nominate a black woman to the Supreme Court back in 2020. Following the retirement of Justice Stephen Breyer, he believes South Carolina judge Michelle Childs should be the one. Senator Lindsay Graham (R-SC) discusses President Biden's pending Supreme Court nomination and the latest in the ongoing Ukraine-Russia crisis. Finally, former FDA Commissioner Dr. Scott Gottlieb has the latest on the coronavirus -- including new variants, guidelines, and more.

February 6th - On this week's "Face the Nation" with moderator Margaret Brennan; Former National Security Adviser H.R McMaster discusses how the Biden administration is handling relations with Russia, China and more. Senator Marco Rubio (R-FL) shares his thoughts on the U.S.-China relationship as the Olympic games kick off in Beijing. The U.S. added 467-thousand jobs in January -- surprising economists. We'll hear from Deputy Treasury Secretary Wall Adeyemo about the administration's next steps for economic recovery. Former FDA Commissioner and Pfizer board member Dr. Scott Gottlieb has the latest on the developments with a coronavirus vaccine for children under 5 years old. Finally, we hear from those who voice their concerns about parenting during the pandemic.

February 13th - On this week's "Face the Nation" with moderator Margaret Brennan, Inflation worries, lifted mask mandates, and updates on the Russia-Ukraine crisis and the January 6th insurrection. We'll hear from National Security Advisor, Jake Sullivan, CBS's David Martin, Federal Reserve President Mary Daly, New Jersey Governor Phil Murphy. Rep. Kinzinger (R-IL.) We'll get our weekly covid update from former FDA Commissioner Dr. Scott Gottlieb. Plus, a new CBS News poll on the mental health of children as education continues during the pandemic.

February 20th - On this week's "Face the Nation" with moderator Margaret Brennan. Breaking News -- CBS News National Security Correspondent David Martin reported moments ago on "Face the Nation" that Russian troops have been given orders to invade Ukraine. Before Sunday's news, President Biden announced Friday that the U.S had "no reason to believe" Moscow had decided to move forward with an invasion. We'll hear from Secretary of State Antony Blinken, Russia's U.S Ambassador Anatoly Antonov, and Ukraine's U.S Ambassador Oksana Markarova. According to U.S Intelligence, increased cyber attacks are meant to be the opening act of the invasion. Senator Chris Krebs discusses the U.S U.S. strategy to combat this warfare. Where does America's belief of a pending Russian invasion of Ukraine leave NATO? This Sunday, we talk to Secretary General Jens Stoltenberg for answers to that critical question and more. Uncertainty over the Russia-Ukraine crisis sent the market into flux over the last two weeks. CBS News Business Analyst Jill Schlesinger explains. Finally, we learned that Queen Elizabeth has tested positive for COVID-19. Buckingham Palace has announced that the 95-year-old monarch is experiencing "mild cold-like symptoms." She is expected to continue "light duties at Windsor over the coming week."

February 27th - On this week's "Face the Nation," with moderator Margaret Brennan; after months of warnings from U.S. officials, Russian President Putin launched a full-scale attack on Ukraine. Former National Security Adviser H.R McMaster provides his analysis on what the US can do next. We'll hear from US. Ambassador to U.S Linda Thomas Greenfield and Rep. Liz Cheney about the ongoing full-scale assault of Ukraine. CBS's Charlie D'Agata reports that street battles broke out in Kharkiv as Ukrainian soldiers and civilians struggled to keep control of the city. CBS's Mark Strassmann reports on the economic ripple effects for the global economy stemming from Russia's invasion of Ukraine. Meanwhile, what effect will the Russian attack on Ukraine have on the global economy. We'll talk to World Bank President David Malpass. This past week, President Biden officially named federal appeals court Judge Ketanji Brown Jackson to replace retiring Justice Stephen Breyer on the Supreme Court. Majority Whip James Clyburn provides perspective on the historic nomination.

March 6th - Secretary of State Anthony Blinken talked about the ongoing conflict in Ukraine and the latest on the Iran nuclear deal. Congressman Adam Schiff (D-CA) joined moderator Margaret Brennan about the crisis in Ukraine and the January six committee. U.N. High Commissioner for Refugees Filippo Grandi says, "...We need this to stop because without the war stopping, people will just continue to pour out of the country." Ukraine's Ambassador to the U.S. Oksana Markarova discusses the latest developments in the country.

March 13th - Jake Sullivan, National Security Adviser to President Biden joins to discuss reports Iran fired an overnight missile that landed near the U.S. consulate in Iraq. He also spoke about the continued conflict in Ukraine. Dmytro Kuleba, Ukrainian Foreign Minister says "President Putin definitely believes that Ukraine has no right to exist as a country. He doesn't recognize our identity. He says we are Russians, we are not Ukrainians." Kristalina Georgieva, the managing director of the International Monetary Fund, says the Russian economy is being hit hard by sanctions imposed by the U.S. and the West. Anthony Salvanto, CBS' News executive director of elections and surveys breaks down the latest CBS News poll on Americans' feelings on the war in Ukraine and rising gas prices. Mohamed El-Erian, Chief Economic Advisor at Allianz tells Face the Nation moderator Margaret Brennan the Federal Reserve can either raise interest rates and risk a recession, or allow inflation to continue to rise. The mRNA technology Pfizer used to develop their COVID-19 vaccine has the potential to cure certain types of cancer, says CEO Albert Bourla.

March 20th - This week on "Face the Nation" with no end in sight for the war in Ukraine moderator Margaret Brennan has exclusive interviews with Secretary of Defense Lloyd Austin on the new weapons being sent to Ukraine and the diplomatic approach to arming them. Chinese Ambassador to the U.S. Qin Gang on the relations between the U.S. and China after President Biden warns Beijing not to help Russia with its invasion. Ukrainian Ambassador to the U.S. Oksana Markarova on her country's battle against Russia. A rare Sunday interview with Senate Minority Leader Mitch McConnell. And former FDA Commissioner Dr. Scott Gottlieb on the latest Covid news.

March 27th - This week on "Face the Nation" guest moderator John Dickerson discusses Russia's assault on Ukraine as it grinds into a second month. Joining will be former CIA Acting Director Michael Morell. Also on the program will be CBS National Security correspondent David Martin. There will also be insight from former Ukraine Ambassador Marie Yovanovitch. Former senator Will Hurd on his new book "American Reboot," and argues that Republicans need to admit the 2020 election was legitimately decided. And Congressman Adam Kinzinger (R-IL) on the investigation into the January 6th insurrection at the capitol.

Viewpoints – See attached sheet for content information

Mondays and Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m. (prior to Daylight Savings Time). Sundays at 6:00 a.m. (after Daylight Savings Time)

Radio Health Journal – See attached sheet for content information

Tuesdays and Thursdays at 7:30 p.m. (prior to Daylight Savings Time). Sundays at 7:30 a.m. (after Daylight Savings Time)

List of issues aired on American Radio Journal (Fridays – 7:30 p.m.)

(January 7, 2022) This week on American Radio Journal: Lowman Henry talks with John C. Scott of the Pew Charitable Trusts about automatic IRA programs; Scott Parkinson from the Club for Growth has the Real Story on the 2022 Congressional agenda; Eric Boehm from Reason magazine reports people are moving from COVID restrictive states to less restrictive states; And, Jonathan Williams from the American Legislative Exchange Council has an American Radio Journal commentary on a big tax cut for the rich.

(January 14, 2022) This week on American Radio Journal: Lowman Henry talks with Keith Naughton of Silent Majority Strategies about Joe Biden's Russia challenge; Scott Parkinson from the Club for Growth has the Real Story on the so-called voting rights bill; Eric Boehm and Joe Lancaster of Reason magazine debunk Sen. Elizabeth Warren's claim grocery stores are the cause of inflation; And, Colin Hanna from Let Freedom Ring USA has an American Radio Journal commentary on President Biden's divisive "voting rights" speech.

(January 28, 2022) This week on American Radio Journal: Lowman Henry talks with David Beckworth from the Mercatus Center at George Mason University about Federal Reserve plans to raise interest rates; Scott Parkinson from the Club for Growth has the Real Story on filling the U.S. Supreme Court vacancy; Eric Boehm of Reason magazine finds out how far private sector labor union membership has dropped from Chris Edwards of the Cato Institute; And, Jonathan Williams from the American Legislative Exchange Council has an American Radio Journal commentary on people continuing to leave high tax states.

(February 4, 2022) This week on American Radio Journal: Lowman Henry talks with Olivia Enos of the Heritage Foundation about holding China accountable during the Winter Olympics; Scott Parkinson from the Club for Growth has the Real Story on the latest federal budget delay; Eric Boehm of Reason magazine reports the national debt has hit a new milestone; And, Dr. Paul Kengor from the Institute for Faith & Freedom at Grove City College has an American Radio Journal commentary on "Mansion Marxists."

(February 11, 2022) This week on American Radio Journal: Lowman Henry talks with Timothy Head of the Faith & Freedom Coalition about President Biden's low job approval numbers; Scott Parkinson from the Club for Growth has the Real Story on the skyrocketing inflation rate; Eric Boehm of Reason magazine discusses state budget surpluses with Josh Goodman of the Pew Charitable Trusts; And, Colin Hanna from Let Freedom Ring, USA has an American Radio Journal commentary on what Republicans are for.

(March 18, 2022) This week on American Radio Journal: Lowman Henry gets an overview of gubernatorial races around the country from John Gizzi of Newsmax; Scott Parkinson has the Real Story on key U.S. Senate races; Eric Boehm of Reason magazine explains why Putin isn't responsible for runaway inflation; And, Colin Hanna of Let Freedom Ring, USA has an American Radio Journal commentary on giving Ukraine the weapons they need to defend themselves.