Topic:

Today on Insight, John and Josh Rosenstern discuss the latest elections that are bringing forth more pro-abortion candidates to victory. Ohio voters, by a 56-percent majority, passed a Constitutional amendment for the right to have an abortion in their state, and also voted in favor of the recreational use of marijuana. Brother Josh says the younger generation, which tends to be more liberal, is turning out to vote with a passion, while the majority of older, more conservative voters only turn out in large numbers for the bigger races, particularly Presidential elections. The war in Israel is continuing to cause great division, and the US House has censored Representative RashidaTlaib for her hate speech, as she has called for harm to come Jewish people abroad and here at home.
