Paul Schuytema talks about the plan that was submitted and the next step for the community. Schuytema added that whether the community is able to advance or not, they have been given the tools to help improve the community for the better through this competition.
Agriculture	Morning Show Interview	4-Dec	8:15 AM	15 MIN	Diversified Services will be hosting four meetings around the area for farmers to discuss local agronomy. David Brint of Diversified Services, says that they will be visiting different venues so everybody has a chance to attend if they want to. Brint added that if you have any questions about these meetings or to reserve a spot for these meetings, give him a call at 309-255-9010.
Education	Morning Show Interview	8-Dec	8:15 AM	15 MINUTES	As the regional office of education approaches the halfway point of their first year of their consolidation, Jodi Scott, the regional superintendent, says that she believes they are finally getting a chance to settle down and get their work done. Scott says that they have been able to expand programs that are available in both counties to provide them for both counties. In the future, Scott says she is hopeful that they will be able to rewrite grants available to one county in order to make these grants available to the entire region.
Education	Morning Show Interview	14-Dec	8:15 AM	20 minutes	The Monmouth-Roseville School District teamed up with the Monmouth Police Department recently to take part in ALICE training which helps to prepare the faculty and staff at the district to help control a shooting situation at a school. Monmouth-Roseville Superintendent, Ed Fletcher, talks about the training program. The training comes off the heels of several incidents recently around the local area involving threats of school shootings including threats at both United and Monmouth-Roseville school districts.
City Government	Morning Show Interview	15-Dec	8:15 AM	20 minutes	With the announcement that the Illinois house has recently passed a bill that

					releases funds to local municipalities, the City of Monmouth is hopeful that they will be able to access the near $175,000 they are owed by the state. City Administrator, Lowell Crow, says that a major part of that funding is motor fuel tax. A rebuilding project in the city of Monmouth that focused upon reconstructing several roads in town was put on hold earlier in the year due to the budget impasse holding back motor fuel taxes.
