SYNDICATED PROGRAMMING

ISSUE	PROGRAM/TITLE	DESCRIPTION	DATE/TIME	DURATION
Alcohol/ Drug Abuse/ Sex Addiction	Steppin' Out	Dr. Howard Samuels is the founder of The Hills Treatment Center in L.A., who has written a new book about his experiences as an addict who is also the son of a prominent politician both nationally and in New York State. Greg Williams' first drink was at age 12. In his middle teenage years, his parents put him in treatment programs to save his life. Barbara is a sex and love addict. SL addicts derive a dependency on sex and love from a perceived lack of approval of others. It lead to sex-driven relationships with men in order to satisfy a fear of being alone and disapproved of.	4/6/14	7:00-9:00am
Alcohol Abuse	Steppin' Out	Dennis drank so early in hopes it could help him fit in with the other kids. The first person to confront Dennis about his drinking was his bartender. Cynthia thinks her first drink was age 4 or 5. When she drank, her teenage insecurities melted away and she felt different, funny popular and sexy. John says his first drink was a child, at church. He was never comfortable with himself and thought it's odd that a child could detest himself so much. His drinking lead to deathly health problems that lead John to finally seek sobriety. Maggie's first experience with alcoholism was when she was a child. Her own mother died of alcohol-related illnesses at the age of 27. She pursued the alcohol because it allowed her to relax and enjoy herself, where she had no knowledge how to do that sober.	4/13/14	7:00-9:00am
Alcohol Abuse	Steppin' Out	Brian remembers his first blackout at age 13. He actually felt proud he could drink with the adults. Rick's first drinks came by way of an adult friend when he was in high school. Those drinks began a life spent chasing alcohol. Dorothy's first drink came at age 16 but her alcoholic drinking didn't begin until her college years. She hoped to become a nurse, and she did, but she would quit her job to stay home and drink.	4/20/14	7:00-9:00am
Alcohol/ Drug Abuse	Steppin' Out	Pablo began doing drugs at age 12 with his older brother. When away from home for the first time at college, he learned to start drinking. He eventually tried crystal meth, which he says ruined his life. Adam decided to try designer pills in his college years. The worst came when trying crystal meth with a sex partner. He found something that caused insatiability with him & very quickly became a daily user of meth. Bob says his use of crystal meth stems from a desire to be accepted. He is the gay son of southern Baptist blue-collar military parents. By the sixth grade he was a problem drinker and as an adult, the booze began to not be enough & he tried amphetamines.	4/27/14	7:00-9:00am

Food Addiction	Steppin' Out	Sue didn't know her desire to eat certain foods was an illness. She remembered hovering around candy dishes and taking way more than her share of special holiday treats. She was clean-cut and by no means obese. She now realizes she had trouble feeling love &amp; she used the food to fill what she says was a feeling of emptiness. Claire is a food addict. They are not overeaters, often, but they use food and its ingredients as a drug. She feels she was born with an addiction to sugary &amp; floury foods, and she's now "sober."	5/4/14	7:00-9:00am
Alcohol/ Drug Abuse	Steppin' Out	Bill drank himself through medical school, but the dean eventually asked him to leave due to his drinking. He was prompted to seek help one day in November of 1963 when emerging from a blackout to news that President Kennedy had been killed. Joanne thinks her alcoholism began at age 12 or 13. She blamed all of her mishaps on anything but alcohol. She eventually turned to prescription drugs, both in pill &amp; injectable forms. As a doctor she had access to drugs but one day she made a mistake, and injected herself with something that paralyzed her.	5/11/14	7:00-9:00am
Alcohol Abuse	Steppin' Out	Michelle's first drink alone was at age 11. Her family home was complete with a bar that was never locked. She came home from school one day and found an open bottle of wine in the kitchen fridge, and so she tasted it. She felt guilty about the taking the sip, but she kept repeating the drink each day when coming home from school. Jenn had her first drink in her first week of her freshman year in High School, but she had wanted to drink for a long time leading up to it. She was too scared to drink at home, but found friends a couple of hours away whose parents permitted the teenagers to drink. Her first drunk was with these friends, at a beach-side bonfire.	5/18/14	7:00-9:00am
Food Addiction	Steppin' Out	Jill would worry constantly that if she ate just a bit too much at one meal, she would get fat; she would refrain from eating for the rest of the day. She thinks it started in childhood, when her very trim grandmother would make comments to her about her weight. Joe's very large extended family regularly engorged themselves at Sunday dinners. He remembers the adults in his life praising his huge appetite which made him think that eating would earn him praise and love. But the reverse became true.	5/25/14	7:00-9:00am
Gambling Addiction	Steppin' Out	Larry started gambling as a child with marble games &amp; pitching coins. As an adult he became a weekly visitor to Atlantic City. At age 49 he hit his bottom and was jobless and gambling. James played games for money as a kid but his first real rush from gambling didn't come until his twenties. He decided to stay away from casinos for the next couple of years. He became a successful man but a trip to a casino with friends would turn his life upside down. Maria's addiction began in adulthood. She found the casinos to be a place of escape; she could forget about family &amp; work problems. But as she lost money, she'd grow nasty &amp; mean. Losses would make her suicidal &amp; she soon started embezzling money to cover the debts. At age 57, she wound up in prison for her crimes. Dale started gambling in his teens, playing the ponies. That's	6/1/14	7:00-9:00am when he got hooked. He went in and out of recovery through the years, losing money to the point he often considered ending his own life. He finally wound up in prison, getting caught stealing money from his employer.

Alcohol/Drug Abuse	Steppin' Out	Harry's family would use alcohol for kids' ailments. His mother was verbally abusive, a gambler and an absentee parent. His father would beat him. Due to the lack of supervision, he never got past the 7th grade. He started to use and deal marijuana &amp; hallucinogenic drugs in the 60's. Harry moved to cocaine, heroin and the discos. His narcotics use would continue for 16 years when he would end up in prison. Shane recalls he never fit in with his community; not his neighborhood or even his family. He tried AA but he didn't buy into the program &amp; eventually started to drink and use drugs again. He hit lowest when beating up his girlfriend, who was trying to keep his drugs away from him. Dave started drinking at a late age but it wasn't enough. He tried all sorts of drugs, but cocaine became his "drug of no-choice." He eventually went to rehab but during a meeting, he'd do a line of coke in the bathroom. Raoul is a 15 year old young man in recovery. The issue of his using drugs came up at a family therapy session, and he was sent off to live at a rehab community with other kids, where he learned how to defeat the regular drug tests.	6/8/14	7:00-9:00am
Drug Abuse	Steppin' Out	Judy admits she began abusing substances early. At age 23, she tried meth, or "crank" for the first time. She would find herself dropping out of school and becoming a welfare mom, and found that dealing meth gave her an income stream she never had previously. Nicki first used methamphetamine at age 13. At age 16, she re-acquainted with childhood friend Nick, who had long since stopped using drugs. The two became involved and became parents, but wound up using meth together while caring for a baby.	6/15/14	7:00-9:00am
Alcohol/ Drug Abuse	Steppin' Out	Jerry did not grow up around alcohol but he was drawn to it. Upon coming of age, he drank in order to get drunk. He also experimented with marijuana, LSD &amp; other drugs, but alcohol was always there. Jerry would marry, become a father, and continue to drink despite his professional life falling apart. He soon would be unable to earn a living &amp; in trouble with the law. Brian's first drink came in high school &amp; his first taste of sobriety came at age 26, but he always found himself in glass, drinking his life away. Brian says his sobriety was empty, meaningless, and that he was always waiting for a miracle. A pretty girl in a bar convinced him very easily to break his twelve-year sober run. Norman's first drink came at age 12 and continued until he was in his forties. Tom became a "blackout drinker" in high school. As a surgeon, he would work long weeks just to be able to drink during times off. He drank his way all the way through medical school.	6/22/14	7:00-9:00am
Alcohol/ Drug Abuse	Steppin' Out	Rachel drank to make herself feel comfortable. She became a heavy drunk after college, living in different places overseas doing nothing but drinking. Her lowest came when she started wetting her bed out of laziness, not wanting to leave her bed. Marianne intended to become a nun, but at age 18 she had a	6/29/14	7:00-9:00am

		cocktail and was easily convinced to take time to have fun first. After college, her drinking continued despite health problems. Jason's drinking filled an emotional void but he couldn't hold jobs and his personal relationships ended. Ray learned to drink in his youth by watching his father and other adults. His first rehab visit occurred at age 16, as he was not only drinking excessively, but stealing his sick mother's tranquilizers.
