1/3/16 Program 16-01 Duration 1:48

SEGMENT 1: The Importance of Music and Arts Education

Synopsis: Many schools are cutting back or cutting out music education because of funding restraints. Is this a good idea? What do music and the other arts bring to a child's overall education and development? We talk to two arts experts and some students about the value of music education in a child's life, and hear from some students about their experiences playing and studying music in and out of school.

Host: Gary Price. Guests: Rachel White-Hunt, Curriculum Fellow for the Julliard-Nord Anglia Performing Arts Programme and Director of Music at the British International School of Chicago – South Loop; Diane Persellin, Professor of Music Education at Trinity University in San Antonio, TX; Santiago Oskandy, Vanya Lazarevic, and Rachel Spahn, students at the British International School of Chicago – South Loop.

Compliance Issues Covered: the arts, education, child development, psychology

SEGMENT 2: The American Revolution: When did it really begin? 10:01

Synopsis: In school we learn that the American Revolution began with the battles of Lexington and Concord. But did it? We talk to a historian and author about the events that preceded those battles that effectively threw out British rule in Massachusetts and set the stage for the other colonies to revolt and fight for freedom from England.

Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Ray Raphael, co-author with Marie Raphael of the book, The Spirit of '74: How the American Revolution began.

Compliance Issues Covered: war, law, human & civil rights

1/10/16 Program 16-02 Duration 1:48

SEGMENT 1: Humor: It makes serious topics easier to discuss

Synopsis: Sometimes talking about serious subjects, even with friends and family, can cause arguments and bad feelings. But just as Mary Poppins said, "...a spoonful of sugar makes the medicine go down," humor can make the discussion of serious subjects go down easier. Our guests are two very talented and funny people who use humor, satire and irony to make their points about women in science and technology, and the immigrant experience.

Compliance Issues Covered: immigration, women's issues, discrimination, science & technology, media

SEGMENT 2: Drew Barrymore: A child actress talks about life, love and family

Synopsis: Everyone remembers little Gertie from the movie E.T.: The Extra-Terrestrial and the actress who played the part – Drew Barrymore. It's been a long time since she made that film and she's had her ups and downs since then. Now, as a 40-year-old mother of two, Barrymore talks about her growing up, the problems she had with her family, fending for herself at age 14, and what she's learned on the way to becoming an accomplished actress and a mature and loving mother.

Host: Marty Peterson. Guest: Drew Barrymore, actress, director, producer, businesswoman, and author of the memoir Wildflower.

Compliance Issues Covered: children & family issues, the arts

1/17/16 Program 16-03 Duration 1:49

SEGMENT 1: Immigrants: Why we need them and how they can help our economy and culture 11:28

Synopsis: There is a lot of talk by politicians and others about immigration policy in the United States. Many Americans are all for open immigration for those fleeing poverty and oppression. Others think that we need to stem the tide of refugees and undocumented immigrants to our shores. Our guests talk about what immigrants to this country offer to all of us and our economy, and how we should create a plan to allow them to become full members of the community and receive the education and training they need to succeed in their adopted home.

Host: Gary Price. Guests: Jamie Merisotis, CEO of the Lumina Foundation, author of America Needs Talent; Deepa Iyer, Sr. Fellow, Center for Social Inclusion, author of We Too Sing America.

Compliance Issues Covered: immigration, religion, discrimination, education, labor, business

SEGMENT 2: Little Victories: Appreciating the small things in life 9:04

Synopsis: In our fast-paced world, people get stressed out about things that aren't that important, such as traffic jams, their fantasy football team and if they're wearing the latest fashions when they take the kids to school. By worrying about those things, they often ignore those everyday events that make life joyful. Our guest shows us through stories from his own life that we should take joy in the little victories that make life happy and fulfilling.

Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Jason Gay, sports columnist for The Wall Street Journal, author of Little Victories: Perfect rules for imperfect living.

Compliance Issues Covered: family, health & wellbeing, culture, employment

1/24/16 Program 16-04 Duration 1:49

SEGMENT 1: Great is the Truth: A story of sexual abuse at school 11:04

Synopsis: Many stories of child sexual abuse in schools by trusted teachers, coaches and clergy have come to light in the past decade or so. One of the latest is the abuse suffered by some students at the Horace Mann School in New York City. We talk to a former student of the school about how the story of abuse came to light, how teachers and coaches lured children into sexual situations and how the draconian statute of limitations on child sex abuse in New York and other states hurts victims who wait until adulthood to reveal their horror.

Host: Gary Price. Guest: Amos Kamil, author, with Sean Elder, of Great is the Truth: Secrecy, scandal, and the quest for justice at the Horace Mann School.

Compliance Issues Covered: child sexual abuse, education, justice system, media

SEGMENT 2: Lab Created Diamonds and Gemstones: Are they real? 10:36

Synopsis: Mined diamonds and gemstones can cause a great deal of environmental damage getting them out of the ground, not to mention the horrible working conditions of miners – some just children have to endure in some of the world's diamond mines. Lab-grown diamonds and gemstones don't require dangerous working conditions, and they're made with just a fraction of the environmental impact of mined gems. But are those stones grown in laboratory really diamonds? Do they look the same as the mined versions? We talk to a spokesperson for lab-grown diamonds and to a geologist about the issue.

Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: T.J. Walker, spokesperson for Pure Grown Diamonds, manufacturers of lab-grown diamonds; Marcia Bjornerud, Professor of Geology, Lawrence University, Appleton, WI.

Compliance Issues Covered: science, technology, environment, labor, consumerism

1/31/16 Program 16-05 Duration 1:49

SEGMENT 1: Super Bowl Gold: A look back at the Big Game 10:21

Synopsis: Super Sunday is coming up, and football fans are planning their viewing parties. The first game between the Packers and the Chiefs was barely attended, but interest grew through the decades and now it's the biggest American sporting event of the year. We take a look back at the game and some of its stars, coaches and dynasties.

Host: Gary Price. Guests: Kostya Kennedy, editor of the Sports Illustrated book, Super Bowl Gold: 50 Years of the Big Game.

Compliance Issues Covered: business, recreation, sports

SEGMENT 2: Super Bowl Ads: What makes them memorable? 11:11

Synopsis: The Super Bowl is the big game for the NFL, but it's also the biggest game for advertisers. Many people who don't even like football, tune into the game just to see the ads. But what makes a really good Super Bowl ad? We talk to three marketing specialists about how to craft a good ad, how ads are effectively measured and what makes an ad memorable.

Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Aaron Goldman, Chief Marketing Officer for 4C Insights; David Stewart, President's Professor of Marketing at Loyola Marymount University in Los Angeles; Richard Krevolin, branding consultant and author of the book

Compliance Issues Covered: commerce, media, popular culture, business, technology

2/7/16 Program 16-06 Duration 1:51

SEGMENT 1: The Wage Gap: Why we have it and how we can narrow it 11:16

Synopsis: It's campaign season, and we're hearing from politicians about the wage gap between the top 1% of earners in this country and the rest of us. What is the gap? When did it begin to develop and why? And what can we do to narrow it? Our guests offer their opinions on the subject and some solutions.

Host: Gary Price. Guests: Les Leopold, Director of the Labor Institute in New York, and author of Runaway Inequality: An activist's guide to economic justice; David Lewin, Neal H. Jacoby Chaired Professor Emeritus in the Anderson School of Management at UCLA, and an expert on executive compensation.

Compliance Issues Covered: employment, finance, taxes, business

SEGMENT 2: Biohacking: Scientists look to expand our senses 10:17

Synopsis: Do humans have more than five senses? Can we detect more in our environment than what we normally perceive through sight, sound, smell, touch and taste? Our guest wanted to know, so she spoke to scientists, engineers, and biohackers about learning more from our five senses and perhaps even finding a 6th sense.

Host: Marty Peterson. Guest: Kara Platoni, lecturer in the Graduate School of Journalism at the University of California-Berkeley and author of the book, We Have the Technology: How biohackers, foodies, physicians, and scientists are transforming human perception one sense at a time.

Compliance Issues Covered: science & technology, healthcare, senior citizen issues

2/14/16 Program 16-07 Duration 1:42

SEGMENT 1: Sex & Labor Trafficking: Why it happens; how we can help the victims 12:16

Synopsis: Sex and labor trafficking are big business in the U.S. and around the world. Often it's young people and immigrants who are forced to work in the sex industry or in sweatshops, restaurants and hotels with little pay, horrible hours and horrible living conditions. We talk to an author who's experienced dealing with young people caught in this web, and a university lecturer who's an advocate for trafficked victims, about the extent of the problem, how desperate people become ensnared in the trafficker's trap, and how law enforcement and communities can help the victims escape from a life of slavery and abuse.

Host: Gary Price. Guests: Ellen Hopkins, author of the young adult verse-novels, Tricks, and Traffick; Tony Talbott, director of Anti-Human Trafficking Initiatives at the University of Dayton.

Compliance Issues Covered: immigrants, teen issues, slavery, crime, law enforcement & criminal justice system, substance abuse

SEGMENT 2: Resolutions – Ways to keep them going throughout the year 9:26

Synopsis: About this time of year, New Year's resolutions begin to wane -- and most die. How do you keep them going? And how can you make better ones that you're more likely to keep in the future? Our guests give advice on crafting a goal and setting up a process that will help you attain it.

Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Brett Blumenthal, author of the book, 52 Small Changes for the Mind; Achim Nowak, author of the book, The Moment: A practical guide to creating a mindful life in a distracted world.

Compliance Issues Covered: business, mental health, productivity

2/21/16 Program 16- Duration 1:42

SEGMENT 1: The Scholar Denied: W.E.B. Du Bois 11:29

Synopsis: At the beginning of the 20th century, the study of sociology was dominated by the University of Chicago and other, historically white universities. Scholars at these schools conducted “armchair” theorizing – developing theories without actually going into cities and towns to talk to the people they were studying. One man – an African-American scholar and author– changed all that with his groundbreaking research and writing about Black people, their culture, and economic and social situations in urban areas. We talk to a sociologist about W.E.B. Du Bois and his work, and why he was denied the accolades he deserved for developing a new way to research and study various populations in the United States.

Host: Gary Price. Guest: Aldon D. Morris, professor of sociology and African-American studies at Northwestern University, author of the book, The Scholar Denied: W.E.B. Du Bois and the birth of modern sociology

Compliance Issues Covered: African-American studies, education, science, urban issues, racial discrimination

SEGMENT 2: Post-Apocalyptic and Dystopian Lit: Why young people are drawn to it 10:14

Synopsis: A great many books and films these days deal with a dark, forbidding world where young people are warring with the villainous adults to save civilization. Teens are drawn to these stories, but why? What is it about dystopian fiction that fascinates young people? We talk to two successful authors of these stories about how kids are working out some of the issues in their own lives through these post-apocalyptic novels and learning valuable lessons about hope, trust, friendship, good and evil.

Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Marie Lu, author of The Young Elites series of books, including The Rose Society; Tom Isbell, professor at the University of Minnesota-Duluth, author of The Prey and The Capture young reader books.

Compliance Issues Covered: education, literature, popular culture & media, teen issues

2/28/16 Program 16-09

Duration 1:42

SEGMENT 1: Con Men: We’re all susceptible! 10:26

Synopsis: Films like The Sting, Oceans’ 11, and American Hustle portray con artists as charismatic heroes out to help the little guy get his due. Well, our guest says that they are charismatic, but they’re hardly heroes. She’ll explain the personality of the con man and woman, tell us some of the techniques they use to trick their victims, and warn us that anyone – including the con artists themselves – is vulnerable to their scams.

Host: Gary Price. Guests: Maria Konnikova, psychologist, author of The Confidence Game: Why we fall for it...everytime.

Compliance Issues Covered: crime, mental health and human behavior

SEGMENT 2: Cheetahs: Helping to preserve this endangered species 11:28

Synopsis: Cheetahs are the fastest of all land animals – they can reach speeds of up to 70 mph in short bursts. Despite their speed and hunting ability, cheetahs are endangered in Africa and Asia, and don’t breed especially well in captivity. In Africa, they can attack livestock herds for food, and that puts them in danger from the subsistence farmers who need to protect their flocks. We talk to a wildlife expert who lives in Namibia, Africa and who has studied cheetahs for decades, and a wildlife photographer who spent three years documenting the lives of a family of cheetahs and other animals, about this amazing cat and why it’s important to protect it for future generations.

Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Dr. Laurie Marker, cheetah researcher, founder and executive director of the Cheetah Conservation Fund, author of A Future for Cheetahs. Suzi Eszterhas, award-winning wildlife photographer, who created photographs for A Future for Cheetahs.

Compliance Issues Covered: wildlife, farming, environment, science

3/6/16

Program 16-10

Duration 1:36

SEGMENT 1: David Axelrod on Obama and Politics 10:53

Synopsis: The presidential election season is in full swing, and candidates are doing their best to make themselves attractive to the primary voters and to the general public for the November election. Our guest was in the thick of things during the last two election cycles and talks about how Barack Obama got elected to the highest office in the land. He also offers some insight into the president's terms in office, the rambunctious candidates on the stump now, and the parties' strategies in this campaign season.

Host: Gary Price. Guests: David Axelrod, former campaign strategist and senior White House advisor for President Barack Obama, and author of the book, Believer: My forty years in politics.

Compliance Issues Covered: politics, elections, media, healthcare

SEGMENT 2: The Waste-Free Kitchen: Saving more, eating better 11:02

Synopsis: Americans throw away hundreds of dollars per household on discarded and spoiled food, not to mention wasting the water and energy needed to grow it. Why is that? And how can we decrease waste, save money help the environment and eat better? Our guest has some advice on buying, storing and cooking food to minimize waste and create healthy meals.

Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Dana Gunders, staff scientist at the National Resources Defense Council and author of the book, Waste Free Kitchen Handbook: A guide to eating well and saving money by wasting less food.

Compliance Issues Covered: agriculture, food & nutrition, personal finance, the environment

3/13/16 Program 16-11 Duration 1:46

SEGMENT 1: Kids & Character: How do you teach it? 12:12

Synopsis: Character in a person is something we admire, and something we all would like to think that our kids grow up to achieve. But how do you teach them character? What are some of the virtues that go hand-in-hand with character and how can we instill them in our kids? We talk to two people who work with character education efforts to find out how two very different organizations are teaching kids teamwork, responsibility, fairness, friendship and other character traits in some very trying environments.

Host: Gary Price. Guests: Glenn Wilke, Executive Director of the Midtown Educational Foundation, Chicago; Cynthia Levinson, journalist, author of the book, Watch Out for Flying Kids! How two circuses, two countries and nine kids confront conflict and build community.

Compliance Issues Covered: education, international conflicts, urban issues, poverty, racism, religion

SEGMENT 2: How To Have a Really Good Day 9:38

Synopsis: People tell us all the time to "have a good day," but what does that really mean? How do you work on having a really good day? Our guest has researched the topic and has come up with some very interesting and helpful information from neuroscience and psychology that anyone can use to make their day more productive, less anxiety-provoking and just more pleasant.

Host: Marty Peterson. Guest: Caroline Webb, economist, management consultant, CEO of Sevenshift, author of the book, How to Have a Good Day: Harness the power of behavioral science to transform your working life.

Compliance Issues Covered: mental & physical health, productivity, employment, family issues

3/20/16 Program 16-12 Duration 1:36

SEGMENT 1: Everyone's a Critic! Why it's important that you should be 9:05

Synopsis: You've no doubt heard the line "everyone's a critic!" Our guest is one and thinks we should all be critics of the films, fine art, literature and other pleasures we indulge in. He will talk about why it's good to be a discerning viewer of the arts, how to be a better critic, how criticism makes us see things in a different light and how it helps us become better at choosing those things in life that bring us beauty and pleasure.

Host: Gary Price. Guest: A.O. Scott, movie critic for the New York Times, author of the book, Better Living Through

Compliance Issues Covered: media, literature & the arts, business

SEGMENT 2: Mastering Fear in Life and on the Job 12:44

Synopsis: We all get stressed now and then, but did you ever consider that this “stress” is actually fear? Our guests discuss why that is, how it can sabotage our lives and work, how to handle fear when it comes along, and how to do a better job on the job of recognizing fear and learning to handle it.

Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Robert Maurer, clinical psychologist, author of the book Mastering Fear: Harnessing emotion to achieve excellence in health, work and relationships; Edward G. Brown, business consultant, co-founder of the Cohen Brown Management Group, author of the book The Time Bandit Solution.

Compliance Issues Covered: business & employment, mental health, education, family

3/27/16 Program 16-13

Duration 1:47

SEGMENT 1: Teaching Politics in Schools: Fostering discussion and debate 11:30

Synopsis: Civics classes in many grade schools and high schools aren’t the same as they were 20 years ago, when teachers lectured on “how a bill becomes a law” to a roomful of bored students. These days, kids are more likely to discuss and debate some of the most pressing issues of the day. We talk to two educators about how some schools are teaching students how to debate correctly, how discussion of hot topics can foster understanding of diverse points of view, and the long-term benefits for students who engage in thoughtful, civil, debate.

Host: Gary Price. Guests: Diana E. Hess, Dean of the School of Education, University of Wisconsin-Madison; Paula McAvoy, Program Director for the Centers for Ethics & Education, University of Wisconsin-Madison. Both guests are co-authors of the book, The Political Classroom: Evidence and ethics in democratic education

Compliance Issues Covered: education, politics, cultural & economic diversity, religion, community standards

SEGMENT 2: The Future of Work: Changing the way we do business 10:09

Synopsis: Economists are saying that American workers’ wages are stagnant and have been for quite a few years now despite working longer hours and being “on call” all the time through technology. That doesn’t mean that business is lagging though, since corporations, their CEOs and other high-level managers are doing quite well in that department. Our guest says that work and the way we compensate the rank-and-file workers needs to change to bring up wages and add benefits to make the work environment more equitable. We discuss why this inequality exists, look at some companies who are bucking that tide and find out ways that the system can change through education, government action and community empowerment.

Host: Marty Peterson. Guest: Thomas A. Kochan, Professor at the MIT Sloan School of Management, and author of the book, Shaping the Future of Work.

Compliance Issues Covered: business, labor, government, community activism

01/03/16-01/09/16 Program 16-01 Duration 2:03

SEGMENT 1: HOW WEATHER CAUSES PAIN 11:52

Synopsis: Millions of Americans suffer pain as a result of weather changes. Experts discuss different conditions affected by weather, why pain responds to weather changes and possible remedies to some of these maladies. Host: Reed Pence. Guests: Deni Cantrall, retired teacher and arthritis sufferer; Dr. Robert Jamison, Prof. of Anesthesia and Psychiatry, Brigham and Women's Hospital and Harvard Medical School; Bob Smirbeck, Expert Senior Meteorologist, AccuWeather.com; Dr. David Borenstein, Clinical Prof. of Medicine, George Washington Univ. School of Medicine and Health Sciences; Dr. Vincent Martin, Prof. of Medicine and Director, Headache and Facial Pain Program, Univ. of Cincinnati.

Compliance issues covered: health care; public health; consumerism; environment and weather; prevention

SEGMENT 2: TOXIC CHEMICALS IN PRODUCTS 7:54

Synopsis: The average American is exposed to more than 100 potentially toxic synthetic chemicals every day, and there is little oversight of their safety. A noted expert discusses the vast amount that we don't know about these chemicals, how the US might regulate them better, and how tougher regulation in other countries could help keep Americans safer.

Host: Nancy Benson. Guest: Ken Geiser, Emeritus Prof. of Work Environment, Univ. of Massachusetts, Lowell, and author, Chemicals Without Harm: Policies for a Sustainable World.

Compliance issues covered: environment and pollution; consumerism; consumer safety

01/10/16-01/16/16 Program 16-02 Duration 2:03

SEGMENT 1: VIOLENCE AGAINST HEALTHCARE WORKERS 12:23

Synopsis: Healthcare workers are about four times more likely than workers in any other field to be attacked on the job, usually by patients or family members, and most often in the emergency department. Experts discuss how and why attacks occur and how hospitals and health care workers can do a better job preventing them.

Host: Reed Pence. Guests: Lisa Wolf, Director, Institute for Emergency Nursing Research, Emergency Nurses Assn.;

Dr. Christopher Michos, Connecticut emergency medicine physician; Dr. Ronald Wyatt, Medical Director, Division of Healthcare Improvement, The Joint Commission

Compliance issues covered: health care; workplace violence; employment and workplace safety; prevention; education

SEGMENT 2: ANKLE REPLACEMENT 7:54

Synopsis: Hip and knee replacements are common, and doctors now say ankle replacements have become technically good enough to make fusion obsolete for arthritis patients in pain. A doctor & patient discuss.

Host: Nancy Benson. Guests: Dr. Simon Lee, foot & ankle surgery specialists, Rush Univ. Medical Center & Midwest

Orthopedics, Chicago; Robert Corwin, ankle replacement patient and judo instructor, Yorkville, IL.

Compliance issues covered: consumerism; technology; health care; disabilities

01/17/16-01/23/16 Program 16-03 Duration 2:03

SEGMENT 1: GENE EDITING 12:30

Synopsis: Scientists have developed the technology to edit single genes, which could eventually eliminate some inherited diseases. If the technology is used on embryos or egg and sperm cells, it could eliminate some diseases from succeeding generations. However, doctors don't know how such "germline editing" or errors in execution of it would affect other genes for generations to come, calling the practice into question.

Host: Reed Pence. Guests: Dr. Debra Mathews, Asst. Director for Science Programs, Johns Hopkins Berman Institute of Bioethics and Assoc. Prof. of Pediatrics, Johns Hopkins School of Medicine; Alta Charro, Warren P. Knowles Prof. of Law and Bioethics, Law and Medical Schools, Univ. of Wisconsin-Madison

Compliance issues covered: technology; ethics; public health; economics; federal government and regulation

01/24/16-01/30/16 Program 16-04 Duration 2:03

SEGMENT 1: ICU PTSD 12:47

Synopsis: A surprisingly high percentage of people who've been treated in intensive care units later suffer from posttraumatic stress disorder, often including hallucinations recalling horrible ICU incidents. This has led to coining a new syndrome--PICS, or post intensive care syndrome. Experts discuss why the syndrome appears to occur and what's being done to treat and prevent it.

Host: Reed Pence. Guests: Dr. Joe Bienvenu, Assoc. Prof. of Psychiatry, Johns Hopkins Univ.; Dr. James Jackson, Asst. Prof. of Medicine, Vanderbilt Univ.

Compliance issues covered: health care; consumerism; mental illness

SEGMENT 2: SILENT REFLUX 7:12

Synopsis: Millions of people who think they have allergies, asthma, and sinus problems may actually have "silent reflux" which can travel up the esophagus all the way to the throat and head. An expert discusses telltale symptoms and the dietary triggers that can cause the disorder.

Host: Nancy Benson. Guest: Dr. Jamie Koufman, Director, Voice Institute of New York, Prof. of Clinical Otolaryngology, New York Medical College and author, The Chronic Cough Enigma.

Compliance issues covered: health care; consumerism; federal government and food regulation

01/31/16-02/06/16 Program 16-04 Duration 2:03

SEGMENT 1: SILENT HEART ATTACK 12:38

Synopsis: Heart attacks that produce few if any symptoms may be mistaken for indigestion or simple malaise, but they can be more serious than heart attacks that bring crushing pain because they often don't bring a victim to the hospital for lifesaving help. Experts discuss.

Host: Reed Pence. Guests: Dr. Martha Gulati, cardiologist, Univ. of Arizona and Editor-in-Chief, American College of Cardiology patient education initiative, Cardiosmart.org; Dr. Robert Vogel, Prof. of Medicine and Cardiology, Univ. of Colorado and co-author, The Pritikin Edge.

Compliance issues covered: health care; consumerism; public health

SEGMENT 2: HARMFUL INFLAMMATION 7:12

Synopsis: Low-level systemic inflammation is being tied to many disorders including heart disease, and now research has even tied inflammation to intermittent explosive disorder, a syndrome of repeated rage. Experts discuss these findings and how inflammation can be combatted through diet and supplementation.

Host: Nancy Benson. Guests: Dr. Melina Jampolis, nutrition specialist physician and author, The Calendar Diet; Dr. Emil Coccaro, Prof. and Chairman of Psychiatry and Behavioral Neuroscience, Univ. of Chicago.

Compliance issues covered: health care; public safety; prevention

02/07/16-02/13/16 Program 16-06 Duration 2:00

SEGMENT 1: NEW FINDINGS ON STUTTERING 11:39

Synopsis: Stuttering has been blamed even fairly recently on parenting, but new research has several new findings: a structural deficiency in the brain's wiring in stutterers; an inability to perceive rhythms; and a much more successful way to treat stuttering. Experts discuss the new advances.

Host: Reed Pence. Guests: Dr. Roger Ingham, Prof. of Speech and Hearing Sciences, Univ. of California, Santa Barbara; Dr. Scott Grafton, Prof. of Psychological and Brain Sciences, Univ. of California, Santa Barbara; Dr. Devin McAuley, Prof. of Psychology and Neuroscience, Michigan State Univ.
