Saturday: On today's WIHS Journal, you'll hear an analysis on what kind of damage and impact the state budget crisis has on the cities and towns in Connecticut. Local governments across the state routinely receive aid from state tax revenues. At least they have in the past. Now, the state is facing massive problems of its own and cutting back state aid to cities and towns under the remaining months of the Malloy administration. Hear Marc Fitch from the Yankee Institute for Public Policy break this all down with Paul Kretschmer. The WIHS Journal airs today at 3:15am; also at 12:15 & 5:10pm here on WIHS Middletown—Good News 4 Connecticut!
