Monday: On Mondays WIHS, Journal Anissa Porticelli will speak to Pastor Doug Christdou, from the Valley Community church in Avon to talk about their Perspectives course. It is a course that is designed to teach and to enhance the knowledge of Missions and to stir up a passion to help the lost. You can hear this interview at 3:15am; 12:13Pm and 5:49Pm right here on your live and local station WIHS!

Tuesday & Wednesday: On today's WIHS Journal, hear excerpts from a news conference staged by Republican legislative leaders after they passed a measure to restore the Medicare Savings Program in Connecticut. In the midst of a budget crisis, Governor Dan Malloy had delayed implementation of the Medicare Savings Program. Leaders in both House and Senate, across party lines met in special session to restore the program, saying senior citizens had let legislators know they couldn't make it without the program. Hear this issue on the WIHS Journal today at 3:15am; also at 12:13 and 5:49pm here on WIHS Middletown, Live and Local!

Thursday & Friday: On today's WIHS Journal hear about a Christian leader who speaks out regardless of what the community and society around him think about the issue he chooses to address. Bishop Thomas Tobin currently serves the Diocese of Providence after earlier service in Pennsylvania. He has in the past been referred to as a troublemaker for his direct stand for life and refusal to accept the destruction of human life in the womb or natural death. Bishop Tobin spoke at an event sponsored by the Family Institute of Connecticut. Hear him today on the WIHS Journal at 3:15am; also at 12:13 & 5:49pm here on WIHS Middletown—Live and Local 24/7!

Saturday: On today's WIHS Journal, hear Governor Dan Malloy as he announces former legislator and Governor's counsel Andrew McDonald of Stamford will be the next Chief Justice of the Connecticut Supreme Court. McDonald was the first openly homosexual man in the Connecticut General Assembly. After three terms there, he went on to work for Governor Malloy when the former Governor of Stamford became state chief executive. McDonald went on to become an associate justice on the state supreme court. Now he will preside over it and manage the judicial branch of state government. Hear excerpts of his nomination on today's WIHS Journal airing at 3:15am; also at 12:15 & 5:10pm here on WIHS Middletown—Live and Local 24/7!
