Monday: On Mondays WIHS Journal Anissa Porticelli will be speaking to Drew Crandall from the Creation Coalition, on his Smart Science Seminar. This 3-hour, 3-session seminar is a great way to encourage and equip local Christ-followers (teens, men and women) and challenge skeptics on a Saturday morning or afternoon. Session 1 is "Introduction to Smart Science --- Session 2 is "Smart Science: DNA & Dinosaurs --- Session 3 is "Smart Science: Earth's Age & the Flood." You can hear this interview at 3:15am, 12:13PM and 5:49PM, here on WIHS Middletown—"Live and Local."

Tuesday: The issue on today's WIHS Journal with Paul Kretschmer is preparing to take the exams that students take to qualify for admittance to college. Ed Kim is an educational consultant that advises students and their parents on how to prepare for other the SAT or the ACT exams that most colleges use as part of the screening process. The WIHS Journal airs today at 3:15am; also at 12:13 & 5:49pm here on WIHS Middletown—Good News 4 Connecticut!

Wednesday: On today's WIHS Journal you'll hear about the concern for gathering blood donations from willing donors year around, including holiday seasons. From the American Red Cross, Kelly Isenor explains how the process of accepting blood donations works, and asks listeners to remember that patients need access to donated blood even at times when minds and hearts are on other things. Here to WIHS Journal today at 3:15am; also at 12:13 & 5:49pm here on WIHS Middletown—Good News 4 Connecticut!

Thursday & Friday: On today's WIHS Journal, learn how to pack lunches that can be a whole lot more nutritious than school lunches. Dr. David Erb maintains the belief that while school lunch programs are important in areas where the alternative is no lunch at all in school, those who are able can make lunches more appealing and healthy, while also being economical. Hear about it on the WIHS Journal today with Paul Kretschmer. The program airs at 3:15am; also at 12:13 & 5:49pm here on WIHS Middletown—Good News 4 Connecticut!

Saturday: On today's WIHS Journal, you'll hear an analysis on what kind of damage and impact the state budget crisis has on the cities and towns in Connecticut. Local governments across the state routinely receive aid from state tax revenues. At least they have in the past. Now, the state is facing massive problems of its own and cutting back state aid to cities and towns. Hear Marc Fitch from the Yankee Institute for Public Policy break this all down with Paul Kretschmer. The WIHS Journal airs today at 3:15am; also at 12:15 & 5:10pm here on WIHS Middletown—Good News 4 Connecticut!
