Thursday: On today's WIHS Journal with Paul Kretschmer, hear a conversation with Jason Woolford, representing Mission Cry, formerly known as Christian Resources International. The ministry serves the church in the third world by providing Bibles and other teaching resources. It also fulfills requests for Christian literature as resources and finances allow. One particular emphasis is on the Central American country of Belize. Hear this conversation conducted by Mission Network News anchor Ruth Kramer today on the WIHS Journal. The broadcast airs at 3:15; also at 12:13 & 5:49pm on WIHS Middletown—Live and Local 24/7!

Friday: On today's WIHS Journal, the topic is pensions for state employees and how Governor Dannel Malloy seeks to reduce the cost through legislation. The Yankee Institute for Public Policy has released a study on state pension costs, and investigative reporter Marc Fitch will provide highlights from the Yankee Institute. His conversation is with WIHS news director Paul Kretschmer. Hear this broadcast at 3:15am; also at 12:13 & 5:49pm here on WIHS Middletown—Live and Local 24/7!

Saturday: It's time for the monthly presentation of the Healthline broadcast produced by the Middletown Public Health Department, and hosted by community educator Lou Carta. This month the topic is colorectal cancer. A major danger with colorectal cancer is that given the location in the colon, there are many other vital organs nearby that are more likely to become involved, given the close proximity of the colon. Hear Dr. J. Michael Parker explain how colorectal starts, how it's detected and treated. The Healthline program is a monthly presentation with community health educator Lou Carta and the Middletown Public Health Department, aired at 3:15am; also at 12:15 & 5:10pm here on WIHS Middletown—Live and Local 24/7!
