

WIHS Journal Promos for the Week of November 14-19, 2016

Monday & Tuesday: On Monday and Tuesdays WIHS journal you can hear a two-part interview with the senior vice president of Faith Comes by Hearing. Anissa Porticelli, will host this two broadcast. Morgan Jackson, will highlight how the ministry has just reached a milestone of recording scripture in over 1,000 languages. Faith Comes By Hearing has Bible recordings in 1,016 languages spoken by 6 billion people. Over 454 million people in virtually every country have been reached through this ministry and its wide range of programs. You can hear this interview at 3:15am, 12:13PM and 5:49PM; right here on your live and local station WIHS.

Wednesday & Thursday: On today's WIHS Journal, hear an interview with the head of an organization seeking to provide help for orphan children, especially those approaching "age out." That means orphans in care, usually in institutional facilities who can stay only until their 18th birthday, then considered adults they have to leave and make their own way. Hear a conversation called "Upended" with Orphan Care head Jedd Medefind. This broadcast hosted by Paul Kretschmer airs today at 3:15am; also at 12:13 & 5:49pm here on WIHS Middletown—Live and Local 24/7!

Friday: On today's WIHS Journal, hear about "fusion voting" which simply means a candidate for public office is endorsed by more than one political party. Governor Dannel Malloy was endorsed in his first run for governor by both the Democratic and Working Families parties and received votes on two party lines on the ballot. In fact Malloy's vote tally on the Democratic line only was lower than his Republican Thomas Foley. It was Malloy's vote tallies on both lines his name appeared, added together, that defeated Foley. Hear this conversation between Paul Kretschmer and Yankee Institute investigative reporter Marc Fitch today at 3:15am; also at 12:13 & 5:49pm on WIHS Middletown—Live and Local 24/7!

Saturday: This approach of the holiday season in November and December also signals the Operation ELF season in Connecticut and nationwide. Operation ELF is set up to assist families when an adult member is activated by the armed forces of the United States and will be gone during the holiday period. Gifts for family members are available as well as more practical items like fuel for motor vehicles, supplies for the family food pantry and more. Hear excerpts from a kickoff event hosted by Connecticut Lieutenant Governor Nancy Wyman and aired recently by the Connecticut Network. The WIHS Journal with Paul Kretschmer is aired today at 3:15am; also at 12:15 & 5:10pm on WIHS Middletown—Live and Local 24/7!
