

WIHS Journal Promos for September 26-October 1, 2016

Monday & Tuesday: On Monday and Tuesday's WIHS journal Anissa Porticelli, will be speaking to Jeff Johnston, the issues analyst, from Focus on the Family. Where he researches and writes about a variety of subjects related to marriage, homosexuality and gender. He will talk about his testimony of struggling with same sex attraction, and also, discuss how to talk to children about Transgressors that has been pervaded our society. You can hear this interview at 3:15am; 12:13Pm and 5:49PM right here on your live and local station WIHS.

Wednesday & Thursday: On today's WIHS Journal, hear about a continuing effort to foster revival in Connecticut by an impromptu ministry among many local congregations across the state called Impact Connecticut. Churches have come together over the past several years, initially under the leadership of pastor Rick McKinniss from Wellspring Church in the Kensington section of Berlin. There will be ten days of prayer and ministry one for another from October 2nd through the 12th. Hear about this activity of the Holy Spirit in Connecticut, and ultimately New England on today's WIHS Journal interview between Gregg Healey and Paul Kretschmer. It airs at 3:15am; also at 12:13 & 5:49pm here on WIHS Middletown—Live and Local 24/7!

Friday: On today's WIHS Journal, hear a report on the cost of education in Connecticut and how that affects not only the budget of schools but also the financial affairs of entire communities. From the Yankee Institute for Public Policy, investigative reporter Marc Fitch says public education is the largest single expenditure in any town in Connecticut, so when the cost of running the public schools rises significantly, the rest of town or city government is under pressure to cut even essential costs to stay within revenues from local or state funding. Hear this latest in a continuing series on public policy in Connecticut from Yankee Institute investigative reporter Marc with Paul Kretschmer on the WIHS Journal. The program airs today at 3:15am; also at 12:13 & 5:49pm on WIHS Middletown—Live and Local 24/7!

Saturday: Rebecca Farnlof, Director of Community Engagement New England Region of the Arthritis Foundation is the guest on the next edition of the health-information radio program — Healthline. Ms. Farnlof will discuss the causes diagnosis and treatment of arthritis. Over 50 million Americans have some form of arthritis — a debilitating illness, which generally inflames the body's joints, tissues that surround the joints, and other connective tissue. There are more than 100 different types of arthritis and related conditions all of which have different causes and treatments. Healthline is produced by the Middletown Health Department and can be heard Saturday, October 1 at 3:15 a.m., 12:15 p.m., and 5:15 p.m. on WIHS 104.9 FM—Live and Local 24/7!
