

WBFH Quarterly Issues April through June 2023

Issue: The community's desire to hear entertainment programming on the weekends.

Programming: WBFH continued to include four pre-recorded features to its weekend lineup. World Pop, airing Saturdays from 7:00 p.m. to 7:59:00 p.m. samples what music is popular in different countries from around the world. The Herman Show, airing Saturdays from 10:00 p.m. to 11:59:00 p.m. offered interviews with nationally-known musicians, entertainers and special guests of interest to our listeners; Musical Memories, airing Sundays from 6:00 a.m. to 8:59 a.m. presents a big-band format; and, Flower Power Hour, offered great music from the 60s and 70s, airing Sundays from 9:00 p.m. to 11:59 p.m.

Other Issues

WBFH continued to air a two-hour block of Asian programming: a one-hour Asian-centric episodic program, DCRTV and a broadcast of the world-renown Peking Opera which aired Sundays from 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m.

WBFH continued to run Black Hawk Beat, a weekly one-hour broadcast which publicizes news and current events in and around the campus; within the District and at the state level. Topics varied each week and include subjects of interest to STEM education, student government, co-curricular groups and organizations, local government, etc. The spotlight is on not-so-promoted clubs and athletic groups such as bowling, gymnastics, swimming, golf, lacrosse as well as Model United Nations, religious clubs and student volunteering. Topics include discussions of solutions to current community needs. The weekly one-hour program aired Fridays at 5:00 p.m.

WBFH continued to use its automated weather forecast service, ATMOS, which allows WBFH to provide current up-to-date weather information for its listening area to keep its listeners informed for future weather activity. The one-minute forecast was heard at or near the bottom-of-the hour—every hour—during the 24-hour broadcast day.

WBFH carried the WBLD/West Bloomfield-produced "Megacast," a live, 1-hour daily newsmaker interview and community information program (Monday through Friday; 10:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m.) at first, devoted exclusively to the COVID-19 pandemic, but now has evolved into a general-interest, community-focused news program covering the Oakland County, Bloomfield Hills and West Bloomfield communities. Guests included doctors, superintendents and school board officials, law enforcement professionals, city and township representatives and civic organization leaders.

WBFH Quarterly Issues April through June 2023

WBFH programming addressed a community request for a middle school remote broadcast by the East Hills Middle School administration to publicize their annual ice cream social. WBFH management created a live remote broadcast from 5:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. on Friday, May 19, 2023 which put middle school students on the air from their school while introducing them to the world of broadcasting.

WBFH programming addressed a community request for an elementary school remote broadcast by the Lone Pine Elementary School PTO to publicize their annual carnival. WBFH management created a live remote broadcast from 5:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. on Friday, June 16, 2023 which put elementary school students on the air from their school while introducing them to the world of broadcasting.

Public Service Announcements

WBFH is mindful of its obligation to present community-related information for the benefit of its listening audience. Public service announcements are a key part of daily programming, airing up to three (3) times per hour at ::20, ::30 and ::45 past the hour. These announcements were obtained from local, state and national sources; other announcements are written, produced and recorded by student staffers. Topics include everything from veterans' affairs and radon testing to health topics and women's issues.
