WNBC/WNJU INTERN PROGRAM

The WNBC and WNJU Telemundo47 internships offer the student real world experience while becoming familiar with NBCU's organization and work style. Internships are the perfect way to gain real world experience while learning what a career at News 4 New York or WNJU Telemundo 47 in New Jersey might hold in store for them. Interns have produced tangible results as they begin building their professional networks, and for many, it confirms their professional goals. We offer internship opportunities throughout all of our departments.

We provide college students with the opportunity to showcase their many talents and allow WNBC and WNJU to identify high potential talent for future staff hiring upon graduation as well as opportunities in the following NBCUniversal Early Career programs, i.e., NBCUniversal Page Program; News Associate Program, Tim Russert Fellowship Program, Diversity Initiative for Writers, Late Night Writers Workshop, NexTech Program, Media Operations & Broadcast Associate Program and the Universal Writers Program. WNBC and WNJU recruit students who are committed to a career in journalism/media/broadcasting and communications through experiences in their major studies, college clubs/organizations, prior media based internships or prior media work experience. Grade point average, community service, and leadership experience are all an important part of the total assessment of student applicants.

WNBC and WNJU work closely with local/tri-state colleges and universities within our area to build an active internship training program. During the current annual reporting year, a total of 45 Interns were placed in the WNBC/WNJU Internship program with a total of 24 colleges and universities represented. WNBC and WNJU have also participated in various on-site campus recruiting, career fairs, co-sponsor, hosted and have spoken on topics from resume writing, news and media to social media, diversity and culture in the media. The NBCUniversal internship cycles coincide with the traditional university semester schedules, with cycles starting each fall, spring and summer designed to accommodate the students schedule. Students are paid on an hourly basis. Internships usually last between 13 to 20 weeks per semester, either part time or full time.

Millie Quiles, HR Generalist/College Program Leader, oversees the program for WNBC and Yenny Ventura, Director HR, oversees the program for WNJU.

EMMA BOWEN FOUNDATION

WNBC and WNJU are proud sponsors of its long standing partnership with the Emma Bowen Foundation in developing minority youth for opportunities in the media. The Emma L. Bowen Foundation was established by the media industry to help increase access to permanent job opportunities for minority students. The Foundation's program is unlike other internship programs in that students work for a partner company during summers and school breaks from their junior year until they graduate from college. During that period, students have an opportunity to learn many aspects of corporate operations and develop company-specific skills. WNBC and WNJU have the opportunity to guide and develop minority students with the option of permanent placement upon completion of their college degree. Students in the program receive an hourly wage, as well as compensation to help pay for college tuition and expenses. Mentoring from selected staff in the sponsoring company is also a key element of the program. WNBC is proud to be the first local New York City television station in 1989 to work with the Emma Bowen Foundation. During the summer semesters, "Emma" students rotate through various WNBC and WNJU Owned Television stations departments while gaining experience in every aspect of media.
