Summer of Service

We are excited once again to launch the 2017 Summer of Service! Youth Service America (YSA), The Walt Disney Company and Disney|ABC Television Group are teaming up this summer to inspire kids and families to make a positive impact in their community. Summer of Service grants will offer young changemakers $500 to gather their friends and turn creative ideas into projects that will positively impact their communities. Winners will be awarded individual $500 grants to implement their projects. Applications will be accepted through September 30, 2017 at Disney.com/BeInspired or YSA.org/BeInspired. Youth, ages 5-18, in the U.S. are eligible to apply for Summer of Service grants. Previous recipients are also eligible to re-apply to further sustain funding on a current project or a fund new project of their making.

Another idea on how to tie the “Be Inspired” brand into a station project is, for example, if you have a local school supply drive and a young person from our market has a service project of their own helping to collect and stuff school backpacks for kids, that person can apply for a grant to help further his/her project and help more school children out.

There are a number of ways you can help promote this great project. All materials are on ABC ANET. We have a number of PSAs you can locally tag to promote this project as well as web banner ads. Here are some additional thought starters as well:

Social Media Toolkit

PSA – Chalkboard (for digital use only)

PSA – Suit Up (Broadcast and Digital – cannot be sold) Texted and Textless Versions

PSA – Spark Tank (Broadcast and Digital – can be sold and will be available July 24)

Text HARVEY to 90999 to make a $10 donation

Day of Giving

The Walt Disney Company and its owned ABC television station KTRK in Houston today jointly announced a $1 million cash commitment to the American Red Cross in support of recovery efforts for communities affected by Hurricane Harvey.

On Thursday, August 31, Disney/ABC Television Group (DATG) will host a “Day of Giving” to benefit those impacted by the Hurricane Harvey. Starting in the morning with ABC local affiliates and Good Morning America, and throughout the day on ABC, Freeform, Radio Disney and across all DATG social platforms, there will be a call-to-action to donate to the American Red Cross, with those dollars going to benefit those most impacted.

Our hearts go out to the thousands of people affected by this catastrophic disaster in Texas. We know this is a challenging and emotional time, and the American Red Cross is working around the clock to get help to where it is needed most.

Thousands of people have been forced to leave their flooded homes, losing everything they own – and the storm isn’t over yet. It is anticipated that many more families will be impacted as rain continues to fall and flooding persists. The area of Texas that’s underwater is comparable to the distance between New York and Boston. Tropical Storm Harvey will continue to devastate this large geography for the next several days, delivering as much as another 30 inches of rain. Significant flooding and tornadoes are predicted.

Water rescues are still occurring. Numerous hospitals and nursing facilities are evacuating patients and residents. All public transportation is at a halt. Schools and airports are closed and hundreds of thousands of people are still without power. PLEASE NOTE: PSA (:15 & :30) are coming soon.

Campus Shooting

Self-defense or murder? That is the question dividing Flagstaff, AZ following a shooting on the campus of Northern Arizona University a few weeks into the 2015 fall semester. "20/20" reports on the tragedy and the trial's surprising conclusion. It was a typical Thursday night, with a party at "The Courtyard"-- where some NAU students live--when witnesses heard a verbal altercation outside the party and then gunshots. When police reached the scene they found junior Colin Brough dead, his fraternity brothers Nick Piring, Kyle Zientek and Nick Prato wounded and freshman Steven Jones identifying himself as the gunman. Steven claimed that he shot them out of self-defense. Prosecutors disagree and charge him with first degree murder. Correspondent Matt Guttman reports. (OAD: 9/08/17)

LOS ANGELES, June 28, 2017 –XQ Institute and the Entertainment Industry Foundation (EIF) invite the public to help rethink the future of American high schools with a special one-hour event, “EIF Presents: XQ Super School Live.” The telecast will air live from Los Angeles on all four major U.S. networks – ABC, CBS, FOX and NBC – on Friday, Sept. 8 at 8:00-9:00 PM ET live/PT tape-delayed.

“EIF Presents: XQ Super School Live” will combine live musical, comedy and documentary segments to bring to life the past, present and future of the American high school system. Audiences can expect to see the biggest stars from film, television, sports, music and digital media in the televised event.

Over the past 100 years, the United States has gone from the typewriter to the touchscreen and the switchboard to the smartphone, yet its high schools have remained virtually unchanged. To prepare America’s youth for the 21st century, high schools must be rethought and reshaped so every student can succeed in college, career and life. XQ seeks to bring Americans together to create new school models reflecting the needs and experiences of the students they serve.

The broadcast will challenge viewers to understand that transforming high school education is crucial for the future of our country. And, it will show how educators, parents, school administrators, entrepreneurs, business leaders and students can serve as key influencers of change. This challenge of reshaping the education system starts at the local level, requiring each and every person to come to the table with a shared commitment to ignite change. This telecast will give viewers insight into how to spark this transformation and tools to initiate the process within their communities.

The telecast will be produced by Done + Dusted and directed by Hamish Hamilton. Additional partners of the telecast include Anonymous Content, MACRO and Wise Entertainment.

A tune-in campaign will launch in early July. The show will also include multi-platform digital components to encourage viewers to engage and participate online, on mobile and in their communities. To join the movement and learn more, visit <https://xqsuperschool.org/live/>.

About XQ Institute

XQ inspires communities to help reshape high school so it prepares every American student for success in college, career and life. XQ was founded by CEO Russlynn Ali, former Assistant Secretary of Education for Civil Rights under President Barack Obama, and board chair Laurene Powell Jobs, president of Emerson Collective. Board members include Yo-Yo Ma, Marc Ecko, Geoffrey Canada, Michael Klein and Leon Wieseltier.

XQ: The Super School Project launched in September 2015 as an open call to rethink and design the next American high school. Thousands of school builders, and tens of thousands of supporters from towns and cities across all 50 states united to take on this important work. Nearly 4,000 Teams of students, teachers, parents, community leaders and many more came together to conceptualize innovative models for 21st century learning. To date, XQ has pledged more than $100 million to a growing number of the most promising ideas, actively supporting these teams on their journeys to become Super Schools. About the Entertainment Industry Foundation

The Entertainment Industry Foundation (EIF), established in 1942, harnesses the collective power of the entire industry to generate awareness and funds for critical health, educational and social issues. Stand Up To Cancer (SU2C), a division of EIF and its largest initiative, was established in 2008 by film and media leaders who utilize the industry's resources to engage the public in supporting a new, collaborative model of cancer research, and to increase awareness about cancer prevention as well as progress being made in the fight against the disease. SU2C accelerates research to get new therapies to patients quickly. Since its founding nine years ago, SU2C has launched 20 collaborative "Dream Teams" comprising over 1,200 scientists from 144 leading institutions around the world. That research, including over 170 planned, initiated or completed clinical trials, has led to Food and Drug Administration approval of two new treatments. Hunger Is, EIF's collaboration with The Albertsons Companies Foundation, has raised awareness of childhood hunger and supports breakfast, afterschool and out-of-school meal programs.
