Brayden's Pawfect Treats	Youth Fundraising	8/25	10 Min	News and Interview	KCLD loves to support youth doing amazing things! Check out this awesome company started by a 9 year old. Brayden is a nine-year-old boy diagnosed with Autism, ADHD, and Anxiety. These issues cause him to struggle with finding coping skills that you and I find extremely easy in our daily lives. That was until he picked up a mixer and started making dog treats. Then, he

					started a small business in 2020 with just a little parental help. It has helped him learn new social skills, a way to focus/learn, stay on task with deadlines, and gets to know dogs, which has created a calming environment for him. Brayden donates part of his earnings to Simply Love International, founded by Erin Cannon, which supports children and orphans in a village in Tengeru, Tanzania.
