1. National Economy	Into the News	10/3/23	9:00-9:20 a.m.	20min.	The federal government shutdown was averted by a dramatic last-minute stopgap budget in Congress, but it has only been delayed for 45 days. Therefore, a formal budget must be passed again within 45 days, which is unpredictable due to the removal of House Speaker Kevin McCarthy and the bi-partisan support for funding Ukraine.
2. Health & Society	Inside America	10/9/23	9:20-10:00 a.m.	40 min.	Research has found that there is a widening gap in the correlation between educational attainment and life expectancy. In the United States, a study found that the higher the educational level, the longer the life expectancy. The analysis is that college graduates are wealthier than those with low education, so they can pay more for health care. In addition, it was found that the lower the education, the higher the mortality rate due to drug overdoses.
3. International News	Morning Focus	10/12/23	9:40-10:00 a.m.	20 min.	Attention is focused on whether Hezbollah, a much more powerful militant group than Hamas, and one of Israel's biggest enemies, will intervene in earnest before the deployment of Israeli ground forces. If Hezbollah intervenes, it could spread the war to the entire Middle East beyond Israel and Palestine, and it could even escalate into a world war.
4. Domestic Response to Hamas War	Into the News	11/3/23	9:00-9:20 a.m.	20 min.	Since the start of the war between Israel and Hamas, public opinion in the United States has been sharply divided, and it has been criticized as a madness comparable to McCarthyism in the early 1950s. It is pointed out that the movement to silence dissent by criminalizing it instead of acknowledging it is undermining the freedom that is the foundation of American society.
5. Society & Culture	Good Day LA	11/14/23	2:10-3:00 p.m.	50 min.	Since the COVID-19 pandemic, one-third of Asian and Pacific Islanders have experienced racism, according to a new poll. In particular, 15 percent say they have been victims of hate crimes, which is shocking.
6. Business	Inside America	11/16/23	9:20-9:40 a.m.	20 min.	As the progressive-leaning state of California continues to raise its hourly minimum wage, businesses are fighting back, with popular fast-food chains such as McDonald's and Chipotle signaling their willingness to raise prices. In order to meet the $20 per hour minimum wage in CA, these corporations see no alternative but to raise prices, and the burden of the hourly minimum wage increase will be passed on to consumers.
7. Public Health	Morning Focus	12/4/23	9:40-10:00 a.m.	20 min.	In California, COVID-19, flu and RSV, the respiratory syncytial virus, are on the rise, raising concerns about another tripledemic. Health officials have reiterated their call for residents to get vaccinated.
8. Public Health & Culture	Inside America	12/7/23	9:20-9:40 a.m.	20 min.	A New York Times columnist pointed out that South Korea's declining birthrate is very serious. He pointed out that Korea's birth rate is declining more than it was during the Black Death epidemic in medieval Europe, the most significant population decline in human history, and that the future of Korea is bleak.
9. Crime	Into the News	12/18/23	9:00-9:30 a.m.	30 min.	With 2023 coming to an end, the number of homicide victims and car fatalities in Los Angeles has already surpassed grim metrics. In particular, the number of pedestrians killed by vehicles was the highest since 2014.
