NEWS

| AIR DATE | AIR TIME | SHOW | ISSUE | NARRATIVE |
|-----------|----------|--------------------|------------------|--|
| 1/13/2024 | 6:23AM | 13 Sunrise Weekend | Education | The owner of local non-profit "INvestED" stopped by 13News to talk about the new FAFSA college aid applications. He gives tips to families who are new to applying, and details the major changes to the application process this year. |
| 1/14/2024 | 6:32AM | 13 Sunrise Weekend | Nature & Animals | As Central Indiana dealt with extreme cold temperatures, we spoke to a local veterinarian about the best ways to keep pets safe while still giving them time outside. Our story included tips for preparing pets for the cold, as well as what to do if they are affected by the cold. |

|-----------|--------|--------------------|---------------------|---|
| 2/2/2024 | 4:45AM | 13 Sunrise | Children & Family | Our story looked into how often people are using photos posted to social media to create fake, explicit photos using artificial intelligence. It also gave tips to parents about what they should look out for to keep children safe. |
| 2/3/2024 | 6:38AM | 13 Sunrise Weekend | Community | Reporter Anna Chalker shows how the NBA All-Star tournament made an impact on local non-profits. She takes us behind the scenes of the NBA Legacy Project, which donated money to the Christamore House, which provides youth and senior educational services and programming. |
| 2/21/2024 | 4:08AM | 13 Sunrise | Military & Veterans | Our story was an exclusive interview with Governor Eric Holcomb about his decision to send the Indiana National Guard to the southern border in Texas. It also mentioned how much the move will cost, how many troops are being sent and how long they will be at the border. |
| 2/25/2024 | 6:35AM | 13 Sunrise Weekend | Public Policy | State lawmakers proposed cutting funding for the state FSSA program after a budget shortfall. The program financially helps families who care for kids with severe disabilities and medical issues. Reporter Emily Longnecker talks to a single dad about how the cuts would impact his livelihood. |
| 2/29/2024 | 4:32AM | 13 Sunrise | Public Policy | An in-depth story on a gender-affirming care ban going into effect in Indiana. We talked to the Attorney General about the ban and to a family about how it will affect them. |
| 3/3/2024 | 6:08AM | 13 Sunrise Weekend | Minority Issues | Matthew Fultz breaks down data that shows black-owned businesses are booming in Indianapolis. He talks to local black business owners about the impact that boom is having on the community. |

|-----------|--------|--------------------|-------------------|--|
| 3/10/2024 | 6:04AM | 13 Sunrise Weekend | Health & Safety | A day after a drunk driver hit three pedestrians on a busy sidewalk in downtown Indy, reporter Anna Chalker talks to businesses in the area about safety concerns with the troubled intersection. She also hears from the owners about a recent traffic change that has made the problem worse, and what can be done to fix the issue. |
| 3/13/2024 | 4:45AM | 13 Sunrise | Minority Issues | Our story was about a warehouse in Boone County hiring three full-time Spanish interpreters to help build the workforce. The program's success is helping the company find and retain more employees, while also helping a growing Hispanic population find work. |
| 3/17/2024 | 6:08AM | 13 Sunrise Weekend | Children & Family | Indy Parks announced applications for summer jobs for teens are open. They include positions as lifeguard, camp counselor and more. And the city is providing sign-on bonuses as an incentive to get more teens to work over the summer. |
| 3/19/2024 | 4:45AM | 13 Sunrise | Community | Our story focused on clean-up efforts after a tornado in Randolph County. People within the community created a Facebook group to serve as a lost and found for people looking for their belongings. We talked to a survivor who was able to reconnect with family photos thanks to the group. |
