Agriculture: Interviews with Ag industry leaders, daily moisture reports from 6 local communities via listeners when it rains or snows, and a farm and market report every weekday, three times during the AM drive daypart and twice during the PM drive daypart.

Arts and Entertainment: To focus on local music and artists our station has “Local Licks” regularly featured. There is also a pre-recorded “Entertainment Calendar” that runs at least once per day part on Thursday-Sunday of every week.

Community: WQUD reads a “Community Calendar” live on the air three times every weekday that includes non-profit organization events, public service announcements, and benefits. WQUD also donates to charities with various events every year and an ongoing aluminum can drive that sends proceeds to a different local charity roughly once a month.

Family Issues: Healthy and happy families are vital parts of our community.

Health Care: Insurance costs and government programs are addressed consistently as they remain one of the bigger challenges.

Local Government: Elections, board and city votes, and concerns with our schools are amongst the many topics we cover with local news every weekday and consistent interviews with sheriffs and local politicians.

Mental Health: Good mental health is vital to a vibrant community and WQUD provides information to people to feel confident they know what they should about our local community.

Public Welfare: Food pantries are always a big need and information on where and when people can get food is regularly shared on the station and the station's social media outlets.

Science and Technology: A focus on the future is regular discussion during interviews with industry leaders on the AM drive program and advances in space, launches, technologies, and space station sightings are highlighted on our live show from 6-10 pm.

Tourism: Interviews with Quad Cities Travel and Tourism Bureau and the community calendar help people stay informed about what there is to do in the Quad City area.
