

KQSS MIAMI, AZ PROGRAM LISTS AND REPORTS 1st QUARTER 2023

The first quarter of 2023 was relatively uneventful, with winter weather being the exception. Globe-Miami rarely experiences snowfall. As expected, the February and March storms had little impact locally but their effect on travel was significant. Ice and snow at Top of the World made driving to the Valley hazardous on several occasions. And nearby rain produced sufficient moisture to return the Roosevelt Reservoir to pre-drought conditions. In fact, water levels are higher than they've been in years.

In addition to airing regularly scheduled newscasts (seven in weekday mornings on the half hour, five in weekday afternoons between 3:30 and 5:30 focused solely on items of local interest including upcoming events and meetings, police reports, obituaries, and almost constant mentions of local job openings), KQSS airs public service announcements around the clock, scheduled hourly at a minimum with immediate coverage of breaking events such as weather and flood warnings, which are a near constant in Globe-Miami.

Nothing exceeds Mining for impact on the local economy, so attention is paid to periodic reports from companies with a local presence. Freeport McMoRan (FMM) released its 4Q22 report in January with a healthy profit of $697 million dollars. Consolidated sales included a billion pounds of copper, 1.8 million ounces of gold, and 75 million pounds of molybdenum. Average price of copper sold for the quarter was $3.77, with cost to produce at $1.53. 2022 prices for copper sold from FMM ranged from a high of $4.87 in March 2022 to a low of $3.18 in July.

Vancouver BC based Capstone Mining, owner of the Pinto Valley open pit mine near Miami released its 2022 financial report. From their four mining operations including Pinto Valley, Capstone's total profit was $136.1 million (US). But the 4Q22 results showed a $28.4 million loss. Fourth quarter production at Pinto Valley was 15,000 tons of copper sold at $3.74 a pound at a cost of $2.48 a pound to produce.

Grupo Mexico, with its Asarco mine and smelter nearby, in addition to a Texas refinery, copper mines in Mexico and South America, and the majority of Mexican railroads, reported consolidated revenue from all sources for 2022 to be $13.87 billion (US). The mining division was responsible for $10.96 billion in revenue, which was a 9.3 percent drop from the previous year. Grupo Mexico attributes the drop to higher costs of operation due to inflation. Copper production at 1,006,934 tons was down 7.2% compared to 2021, and the cost of production was up 22% from 2021 at $1.02 a pound. The cost to produce at Asarco showed a 41% increase from 2021, at $2.91 a pound. Asarco produced 112 tons of copper in 2022, a drop of 11.4 compared to the previous year. Grupo Mexico, which continues to have the largest copper reserves worldwide, reported its 2023 focus will be on addressing inflation and the labor environment in the US.

BHP currently has no producing mines in Globe-Miami, but they remain one of the largest land owners in the area with over 4,000 acres. Drilling exploration on recently acquired property is ongoing. Their six-month report as of 12/31/22 showed a net profit of $6.46 billion (US) worldwide, which is down from $9.44 billion during the same period a year earlier when strong prices boosted the bottom line. That in addition to current inflation accounts for the drop. But BHP is positive that the outlook for copper demand will be strong in 2023. That's actually a mixed statement when looking at BHP reasoning: the Chinese projected economic recovery along with strong expectations in India should counterbalance a slowdown in the US and Europe.

Locally, the mining big question is unchanged: what will happen with Resolution Copper? The giant underground mine in nearby Superior should have been at full employment by now, but its development was halted by the Biden administration. There was no news in the first quarter of 2023 as to its ultimate fate. This continues to be a major concern for the region's Economy.

Like everywhere else, the big economic issue here this past quarter was inflation. Rapidly rising prices impacted quality of life significantly. And as driving to the Valley is more of a necessity than a luxury, rising gas prices were an issue. Gas was routinely well over $4 a gallon locally. Statewide, the lowest price this quarter was $2.55 in Golden Valley, with the highest prices exceeding $5.00 in several areas.

Also on the rise nationally this quarter was the cost of postage when the US increased the price of the first class Forever stamps to 63 cents. Post cards are now 48 cents.

But a looming price increase that worries many local residents is the cost of water. Homeowners served by Globe Water will not be affected, but for everyone else—Miami, the unincorporated local areas, and parts of the City of Globe—the rate hike requested by Arizona Water Company is steep. If the Arizona Corporate Commission approves the request (which won't be known until the fall at the earliest), the current rate of $39.66 for 5400 gallons of water a month, will jump to $52.96.

The Arizona Office of Economic Opportunity released good news in March with non-farm employment increasing by 98,400 jobs compared to a year earlier. The unemployment rate decreased statewide in January to 3.8%, slightly higher than the national average of 3.4%.

Continual job alerts were featured on KQSS, with perhaps the most interesting being the call for extras by Fox Sports. Arizonans were invited to apply. Hundreds of extras were hired for Superbowl week events.

Addressing both Blight and the local economy, the project to convert the former Hill Street School into a senior apartment complex in Globe is ongoing. A pre-bidding conference was held this quarter with offers due on March 31st. (At this writing no details are available on what was submitted.)

Infrastructure enhancements this quarter ranged from water system upgrades in Globe to a new sidewalk (thanks to federal grants) for Central Heights. The Miami Town Council held a public hearing on how to spend the $196,000 Community Block Grant money it received. An elevator for Bullion Plaza, Keystone stairs rehab, solar panels at the wastewater treatment plant and several street repairs are expected.

Creating interest and participation in community meetings is the often-elusive goal of local community leaders everywhere. To facilitate wider-reach and easier-access, the Chairman of the Gila County Board of Supervisors, Tim Humphrey uses KQSS as the origination point of his monthly meeting. Listeners and residents are invited to participate, but for those who miss the live meeting, it is replayed the following weekend on KJAA, and is available as a download on KQSS.net, though scheduling and illness resulted in only one such meeting this quarter:

Tim Humphrey Community Meeting
January 9, 2023 5:30-6 PM

The Russell Gulch Landfill extension was discussed in depth. Over $2.7 million is being spent to create more space for the local dump adjacent to the current site. A new sedimentation pond, weigh station, and metal buildings will be installed. Plans are being considered to be able to have composting in the future, which would further extend the life of the landfill. Dollar a Day Dump Days continue on the second Saturday of every month for Gila County residents. Work is ongoing on the new Tonto Bridge. State representative Wendy Rodgers is introducing a bill to fund state transportation projects. It includes money for Gila County, but providing transportation to the area remains an elusive goal. Even within the county, with so much land separating various communities, it's not feasible to provide public transit. There's better news on the local level, with Copper Cities Transit serving Globe-Miami with fixed routes and dial-a-ride, but widening it to other areas under county direction is not yet feasible.

KQSS enhances its public service presence with two long-form nationally produced shows chosen for their coverage of issues impacting the local area. Unlike stations that choose to bury required public interest programs, KQSS is proud to offer an hour-long block of this information in morning drive on Saturdays.

Health Care is an issue of critical importance to all Americans. Not only is cost a factor for most people, in rural areas like Globe-Miami in particular, availability is an issue, from where to find care to what treatment options exist. Radio Health Journal is a weekly half hour program dealing with all facets of health care from scientific to sociological. This quarter, here are the topics covered and the time and date the programs ran:\Saturday January 7, 2023 7:00-7:30AM

SEGMENT 1: DRUNKOREXIA: A POPULAR PRACTICE THAT LEADS TO MALNOURISHMENT 11:23

Synopsis: 'Drunkorexia' is a habit that's popular among young people where they refuse to eat before a night of drinking. Though many assume this will help keep their calorie consumption low, experts reveal why engaging in this practice can lead to weight gain and other health risks. Compliancy issues covered: excessive drinking; compulsive drinking; disordered eating; public safety; student safety; alcohol; alcoholism; healthy living; weight gain; peer pressure; vulnerable populations

SEGMENT 2: 'THE MOST POWERFUL DRUGS KNOWN TO MAN': A GUIDE TO ANESTHESIA 8:51

Synopsis: Many patients believe all they need to know about anesthesia is that it takes their pain away, but Dr. James Cottrell says that's just the tip of the iceberg. He believes everyone should be knowledgeable about these dangerous drugs in order to ask questions and make sure you're getting the best anesthesia – and anesthesiologist -- for your needs. Compliancy issues covered: anesthesia; patient safety; drugs; vulnerable populations; medical history

Saturday January 14, 2023 7:00-7:30AM

SEGMENT 1: DROPPING THE PAYWALLS TO SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH 11:19

Synopsis: By 2026, all federally-funded scientific research articles will be publicly available thanks to a recent policy change by the White House Office of Science and Technology Policy. Experts explain how this will affect the public, researchers, and the publishing industry. Compliancy issues covered: federal policy; scientific research; scientific publishing; public access; open access journals; consumerism; capitalism; federal funding

SEGMENT 2: IS COVID-19 THE NEW FLU? 8:24

Synopsis: Healthcare's hope is that Covid-19 soon becomes a seasonal sickness that we deal with using yearly vaccines. And while the public seems eager to put the pandemic in the past, many people aren't following up with the recommended booster shots. An expert discusses why we can't become too lax with our treatment of this virus. Compliancy issues covered: covid-19; omicron; vaccines; vaccine fatigue; virus; immunity; virus variants; long covid; mid covid

Saturday January 21, 2023 7:00-7:30AM

SEGMENT 1: MORE AND MORE MOTHERS ARE DYING EACH YEAR – WHY CAN'T WE STOP IT? 11:34

Synopsis: America is one of the only developed nations with a rising maternal mortality rate, according to the CDC. Even with cutting edge technology and advancements in women's health, mothers are still losing their lives. Dr. Lindsay Admon joins us this week to explain the factors feeding into this crisis and offers potential solutions that could save more women. Nicky Dawkins, a professional doula, also chimes in with the benefits of bringing in extra advocates. Compliancy issues covered: pregnancy; maternal mortality; vulnerable populations; gender issues; racial inequity; consumerism; doula; mental health; hospitalizations; children at risk

SEGMENT 2: SAVING OUR HEROES: HELPING FIRST RESPONDERS HEAL THEIR PTSD 7:57

Synopsis: PTSD wasn't an official diagnosis until 1980. Before then, Dr. Marilyn Wooley was told some people were simply a lost cause. Now, she helps first responders work through their trauma – proving that a PTSD diagnosis is not the end of their careers. Compliancy issues covered: PTSD; mental health; first responders; consumerism; public health; public safety; police; psychology; depression; anxiety; trauma; traumatic experiences

Saturday January 28, 2023 7:00-7:30AM

SEGMENT 1: DOES YOUR CHILD KNOW HOW TO LEARN? 11:48

Synopsis: America's education system has long been focused on teaching -- but does this strategy benefit students? This week's show features education experts who say students need to be taught how to learn before they can be successful in the classroom. Compliancy issues covered: cognitive skills, education; public policy; teaching; psychology; student learning; active learning; academic performance; consumerism; education system

SEGMENT 2: HOW YOU CAN MAKE ANXIETY YOUR BEST FRIEND 8:20

Synopsis: Natalie Kohlhaas says anxiety has been getting a bad rap. As an anxiety expert, she says we need to recognize how feeling anxious is a good thing, and that fear is the emotion that's been holding us back. Kohlhaas explains the biological function of anxiety and how we can learn to love the feeling. Compliancy issues covered: anxiety; mental health; public health; fear; confidence; psychology; consumerism; vulnerable populations

Saturday February 4, 2023 7:00-7:30AM

SEGMENT 1: GENETIC GENEALOGY: IDENTIFYING BOTH THE GUILTY AND INNOCENT 12:18

Synopsis: Move over, fingerprints, there's a new crime-fighting technology in town. Genetic Genealogy only needs to match with one percent of DNA to find a distant relative of an unknown suspect. Experts explain how this technology is helping police track down the guilty – and why your genetic privacy is still safe. Compliancy issues covered: genetics; genetic genealogy; privacy; federal regulation; public safety; law enforcement; crime; murder; ancestry; DNA; consumerism

SEGMENT 2: CORRECTING THE MISINFORMATION SURROUNDING PARENTS WITH DISABILITIES 7:47

Synopsis: Eliza Hull's doctor told her she couldn't be a good parent because of her disability. She now has two little boys and a passion for correcting misinformation around parents with disabilities. Hull's new book 'We've Got This' compiles stories from disabled parents around the world to prove that having a disability doesn't equate to being a bad parent. Compliancy issues covered: disability; disabled parents; vulnerable populations; mental health; physical health; consumerism; family issues; neurology; disability advocate

Saturday February 11, 2023 7:00-7:30AM

SEGMENT 1: HOW DOCTORS CAN TRANSPLANT ORGANS WITHOUT A DONOR MATCH 11:01

Synopsis: Colette Hurd needed two new lungs and a kidney after being diagnosed with pulmonary arterial hypertension. Unfortunately, her high antibody count made it nearly impossible to find a donor match. This week, we discuss how creative thinking and plasma exchange technology helped save Colette's life.

Compliance issues covered: cardiology; organ donors; antibodies; high blood pressure; surgery; lung disease; kidney disease; hospital staff; consumerism; vulnerable populations; apheresis

SEGMENT 2: WAYS YOU CAN INCREASE PRODUCTIVITY USING YOUR DREAMS 8:47

Synopsis: Whether it's a quick nap or a full eight hours, sleep is something none of us can escape. But can it be more than just a pause on life? Dr. Deirdre Barrett, a psychologist, explains how you can increase your productivity as you slumber. Compliance issues covered: dreaming; psychology; learning; education; art; creativity; athletics; lucid dreaming; consumerism

Saturday February 18, 2023 7:00-7:30AM

SEGMENT 1: HOW SCIENTISTS ARE SPEEDING UP EVOLUTION USING GENOME EDITING 11:06

Synopsis: The field of genome editing goes all the way back to the 1970s when researchers discovered how to clone DNA. Now, scientists can genetically modify DNA to eliminate genetic diseases and even create entirely new species of organisms. Experts discuss how gene editing technology can fit millions of years of evolution into mere months. Compliance issues covered: genetics; gene editing; genomics; evolution; DNA; genetic diseases; consumerism; patient safety; vaccines;

SEGMENT 2: FINDING PAIN MANAGEMENT STRATEGIES THAT DON'T INVOLVE OPIOIDS 8:25

Synopsis: We have coaches for nearly every aspect of our lives, so why not have one to help patients work through their health crises? Life Care Coaches are being integrated into hospitals to help patients safely use prescription opioids and even offer pain management strategies that don't involve drugs. Experts explain how this new position is helping decrease rates of addiction and opioid overdoses. Compliance issues covered: opioids; drug abuse; pain management; addiction; drug overdose; pain medication; vulnerable populations; consumerism

Saturday February 25, 2023 7:00-7:30AM

SEGMENT 1: GENOMICS PT. 2: DESIGNER BABIES, ILLEGAL EXPERIMENTS, AND MORAL ISSUES 12:25

Synopsis: Last week we discussed the history of gene editing and the opportunities this technology offers. In this second edition, our experts explain the ethical debate surrounding gene editing in humans. Where do we draw the moral line and have we already crossed it? Compliance issues covered: genetics; gene editing; genomics; evolution; DNA; genetic diseases; consumerism; patient safety; ethics; federal regulations; scientific innovation

SEGMENT 2: BLAME YOUR GRANDPARENTS FOR YOUR HEALTH ISSUES 7:34

Synopsis: Our personal health may be determined before even our parents are born. Scientists have discovered that our ancestors have a greater impact on us than we think. Author Judith Finlayson explains how our grandparents' habits and behaviors have a direct influence on our DNA. Compliance issues covered: epigenetics; genetics; nutrition; diet; vulnerable populations; exercise; consumerism; public health; ancestry

Saturday March 4, 2023 7:00-7:30AM

SEGMENT 1: A LOOK AT THE RISING FIELD OF GENETIC COUNSELING 11:08

Synopsis: Genetic counseling is more than just testing a patient for specific diseases. Counselors like Kevin Sweet and Colleen Jodarski become health investigators, sifting through a patient's family history to compile a complete look at their risk factors. Our experts explain how to know if you need to see a genetic counselor. Compliance issues covered: gene therapy; genetic counseling; medical history; risk factors; cancer; rare diseases; patient safety; consumerism; health risks; genetic testing; pregnancy; early intervention

SEGMENT 2: MEDICAL MALPRACTICE: 'I'M PRIVY TO INFORMATION THAT WOULD SHOCK PEOPLE' 8:52

Synopsis: All hospitals in the US operate under a standard of care that changes based on the clinic's size and abilities. But what happens when that care isn't upheld? Dr. Stanley Berry takes us through instances of medical malpractice and his experience dealing with negligent physicians. Compliance issues covered: medical malpractice; patient safety; standard of care; misdiagnosis; surgical errors; birth injuries; full disclosure; safety techniques

SEGMENT 1: EAT THE INVADERS: HOW YOU CAN HELP YOUR LOCAL ENVIRONMENT 11:09

Synopsis: Invasive species cost America billions of dollars each year in eradication efforts. These plants and animals cause damage to the environment and economy and are extremely hard to get rid of. This week, two experts reveal how you can help by adding the invasive species in your area into your diet. Compliancy issues covered: invasive species; endangered animals; conservation; biology; environmental research; diet; extinction; consumerism; diseases; veganism; fishing; economy; federal regulations

SEGMENT 2: IS YOUR DIET SLOWLY KILLING YOU? 9:07

Synopsis: Ultra-processed foods first appeared in the 1950s and have since taken over much of what's on our plates today. This diet leaves us lacking in several essential nutrients we need to function. Experts discuss how you can supplement your diet – with less pills and more natural ingredients – to get your health back on track. Compliancy issues covered: gut health; probiotics; prebiotics; microbiome; ultra-processed food; health; public health; diet; supplements; federal regulations

Saturday March 18, 2023 7:00-7:30AM

SEGMENT 1: ALWAYS RUNNING LATE? YOU MAY BE A VICTIM OF 'TIME BLINDNESS' 11:34

Synopsis: People with ADHD often have a weaker perception of time, called 'time blindness.' Though tardiness is usually interpreted as irresponsible, those suffering from time blindness simply don't have any sense of time. Experts discuss the condition and give helpful tips on how to improve time management skills.

Compliancy issues covered: time management; ADHD; psychology; time blindness; symptoms; psychiatry; vulnerable populations; consumerism

SEGMENT 2: NEW TEST CAN DETECT BOTH COVID-19 AND THE FLU 8:24

Synopsis: The FDA has granted emergency use authorization to Lucira Health's combined Covid-19 and flu at-home testing kit. In just thirty minutes it can detect whether you're positive or negative for Covid, influenza A, and influenza B. Dr. Emily Volk explains the EUA status and how to properly use this new test. Compliancy issues covered: covid-19; influenza; vaccine; home testing; false negatives; false positives; consumerism; public health; public health reporting; emergency use authorization

SEGMENT 1: RESEARCH MISCONDUCT: THE GROWING ISSUE OF DATA INTEGRITY IN SCIENCE 11:15

Synopsis: Thousands of Alzheimer's research papers have cited a 2006 study as a basis for their work. Unfortunately, that paper is now under investigation for research misconduct. Dr. Matthew Schrag, the whistleblower of the alleged falsified paper, explains the issue and what it means for future research.

Compliancy issues covered: Alzheimer's disease; scientific research; data integrity; consumerism; photoshop; research misconduct; NIH; patient safety

SEGMENT 2: THE WOMAN BEHIND THE POLIO VACCINE 8:44

Synopsis: The World Health Organization reports that polio cases have decreased by more than 99% since 1988, thanks to the vaccine. And while the names Sabin and Salk are often associated with the accomplishment, Dr. Dorothy Horstmann is the woman behind the cure you've probably never heard of. In honor of Women's History Month, Author Lynn Cullen explains Horstmann's crucial role in the fight against polio. Compliancy issues covered: polio; vaccine; public safety; quarantine; isolation; pandemic; cure; women in medicine; female doctors; women's history month
