

Alabama Public Radio Newsroom
Public File
April 2, 2018 through June 29, 2018

Topics Covered—

Civil Rights
Alabama History
The Arts

April 4, 2018—"The King of Alabama." Wednesday, April 4 marks the fiftieth anniversary of Dr. Martin Luther King, Junior's assassination. For the past month, the Alabama Public Radio news team has been examining Dr. King's work and his impact here in Alabama. You've heard a photographer from Montgomery recall documenting King's work. APR guest reporter Ousmane Sagara shared how people in his nation of Mali remember Dr. King. You also heard about the house where King hid from white supremacists, just days before his assassination. This documentary is the culmination of APR's effort... (28:59) 7 pm

April 4, 2018 – "A House Where the World Came In..." Dr. King in Selma – April 4, 2018 marks the fiftieth anniversary of Dr. Martin Luther King, Junior's assassination. For the past month, the Alabama Public Radio news team has been examining Dr. King's work and his impact here in Alabama. APR's Alex AuBuchon reports on a place in Alabama closely connected to Dr. King, and how his influence is being felt by a new generation...

May 30, 2018 -- "Cigar Box Guitar Festival in Huntsville" APR's Alex AuBuchon reports on the annual Cigar Box Guitar Festival held at Lowe Mill in Huntsville, including interviews with musicians and instrument makers and clips of performances.

April 26th- "Alabama's Moving Capitals: St. Stephens" We're almost halfway through Alabama's bicentennial celebrations. One interesting aspect of Alabama's history is the number of cities that have been the capital of the yellowhammer state. A-P-R's Stan Ingold went to each one to find out more about Alabama's capital cities. Today we go St. Stephens, Alabama's territorial capital... (05:17) (7:44, 4:44)

June 28th-“Alabama’s Moving Capitals: Huntsville”

As part of our way of looking at Alabama’s bicentennial we’re taking a look at each of Alabama’s past capitals. The second capital we’re looking at holds that title with a little controversy. A-P-R’s Stan Ingold heads up to the northeast corner of the state to take a look at the second of Alabama’s capitals...

(5:56) (7:44, 4:50)