MEH

1/28 (Thurs PM & Fri AM)

While Arkansas reported 42 additional confirmed and probable deaths today (Thurs) from COVID-19, the state continues seeing an overall downward trend. The Department of Health says there were just under 19-hundred new cases of people testing positive for the virus. That's about 12-hundred fewer than the same day last week. The number of active cases, people hospitalized and those on ventilators all declined.
