However 35 years is a long time to constantly stay busy producing shows, cutting tape, on stage, in front of cameras or behind the microphone when you are about to turn 78 years old. So now after fulfilling God's commission, Dr. Bobby Jones is stepping away from the BET Sunday Morning Gospel platform to retire.

He even organized an exit strategy that would dictate his final taped shows for BET and his special guests including Kirk Franklin, Vickie Winans, LeAndria Johnson, Dottie Peoples, Dorothy Norwood, Melvin Williams, Earnest Pugh, Rance Allen, Minister Earl Bynum, Bishop Hezekiah Walker, Richard Smallwood and a long list of others.

As apart of this weekend of closure it was on Sunday afternoon when the final curtain was drawn and the last show was taped for "Bobby Jones Jones," with Kirk Franklin co-hosting.

To celebrate this bitter sweet moment an Invitation Only celebratory dinner was held in honor of Dr. Jones at the Mayflower Hotel in the heart of our Nations Capital in Washington, D.C. on Sunday evening.
