

WIHS-FM
Middletown, Connecticut
Quarterly Issues/Program List
First Quarter, 2023

10 Minute Programs Airing at 3:15am, 12:13 & 5:50pm Monday through Friday

15 Minute Programs Airing at 3:15am, 12:15 & 5:10pm Saturday

January 16-21, 2022

Public File

Monday: The issue on this broadcast was details of the expansion of a Better Choice Women's Center in Middletown. The Center recently expanded its service area by opening a second location in New Britain. Director Anna Monticello described the changes and offered listeners a contact to find out more. The host was Anissa Porticelli.

Tuesday: The issue on this broadcast was a description of the pro-life movement in 2023. This is the month the March for Life takes place across the country and in Connecticut. Abby Johnson is an expert who provides information and strategy services for those active in the movement. The host was Anissa Porticelli.

Wednesday & Thursday: The issue on this broadcast was the story of how a man found help in breaking away from same-sex attraction. Stephen Black was in the lifestyle for some time but found himself unhappy with his view of himself. He now runs a ministry to help others leave the lifestyle behind. The guest was Paul Kretschmer.

Friday: The issue on this broadcast was the story of a ministry working out of a church in Connecticut that seeks to help people break free of addictions to alcohol and drugs. Chris Luginbuhl fought to become free of drug abuse, and having done so, felt called to help others. He described "Become Part of the Solution." The host was Steve Tuzeneu.

Saturday: The issue of this broadcast was a ministry for service personnel from the armed forces or retired and become healthy and confident. Steve Prince is a retired military member who found peace through personal faith. Having done so, he founded a ministry called, "Warrior Set Free." The host was Paul Kretschmer.