On Wednesday, August 25, 2010 KFJX & KOAM TV Station Promotion Manager Vance Lewis took part in the Going on Faith convention held in Joplin, Missouri. Vance is a volunteer member of the Joplin Area Convention and Visitors Bureau Board of Directors & acted as a bus tour guide for about 60 of the visitors to the Going on Faith Convention. Additional information about the convention is below:

The Going On Faith Conference returns to the heartland for its sixth annual meeting this year, scheduled to take place in Joplin, Mo., Aug. 24-26. Attendees will get to know Joplin, a central Missouri city within a short drive of Branson; Fayetteville, Ark.; and Tulsa, Okla. Along the way, they'll appreciate the destination's combination of modern amenities and hometown charm. The conference will bring together more than 200 church travel planners and travel industry professionals who represent destinations, attractions, hotels and tour operators from around the country. Representatives from several foreign countries will also be on hand to help group leaders plan church trips to Europe and the Holy Land. Over the course of the three-day event, delegates will gather at a number of educational seminars, social events and business meetings to share travel ideas and opportunities. The core of the interaction will take place during two

Marketplace sessions, in which church group leaders and travel industry representatives sit down for short, prescheduled appointments to collaborate on trip ideas. Special tours and social events give attendees an opportunity to build new relationships and get to know the host city. During Tuesday night's opening dinner, Joplin's own Offset Sunset will perform original music from the group's forthcoming album. Magician Kevin Wade, who performed during the closing luncheon at the 2009 conference, will make an encore appearance after dinner. The next afternoon, both group leaders and travel industry delegates are invited to explore Joplin on sightseeing tours, which will include a stop at a chocolate factory, a museum complex, a nature center and one of the Midwest's largest home and garden shops. Wednesday evening will feature a fun family-style event at Joplin's Route 66 Carousel Park. The activities will include an outdoor barbecue meal and an evening of free rides and activities on the park's carousel, bumper boats, go-karts, mini golf course and midway games. Each morning of the conference will begin with a hosted breakfast, followed by an educational seminar presented by leaders in the faith travel industry. On Wednesday morning, Brian Jewell, editor of Going On Faith, will share ideas for integrating worship, fellowship and service into itineraries to make your church trip more than just another group tour. On Thursday, travel industry veteran Cindy Brodhecker will draw on her years of planning and leading faith-based trips around the globe for a presentation on the wide variety of travel opportunities available to church groups. The conference is being hosted by the Joplin Convention and Visitors Bureau and its local hospitality partners. Other sponsors include the Galveston Island Convention and Visitors Bureau; the Globus Family of Brands; the Hughes Brothers Theatre; the Fireside Dinner Theatre; the Rogers, Ark., Convention and Visitors Bureau; the Great Passion Play; the Richmond Convention and Visitors Bureau; the Little Rock Convention and Visitors Bureau; and Cracker Barrel Old Country Stores. On the second day of the Going On Faith Conference, attendees will have a free afternoon and the opportunity to take a sightseeing tour, courtesy of the Joplin Convention and Visitors Bureau. Stops on the tour will highlight some of the most popular group travel attractions in the city, including: Wildcat Glades Conservation and Audubon Center — Opened in 2007, Wildcat Glades is Missouri's first Audubon Center. Adjacent to two creeks, the center features a 1,300-gallon aquarium, large exhibit spaces and numerous bird-watching opportunities. Candy House Gourmet Chocolates and the Chocolate Factory — In 1970, an old rock tavern in the Ozarks was renovated and turned into this candy shop. Groups can schedule guided tours of the store and factory, which always end with free samples. Joplin Museum Complex — Numerous cultural and historical institutions can be found under one roof at the Joplin Museum Complex. The Everett J. Ritchie Tri-State Mineral Museum has an extensive collection of lead and zinc ore dating back to Joplin's mining days. On Thursday, September 2, 2010 KOAM Account Executive Patrice Wecker & FOX 14 Account Executive Stacy Krokroskia attended the Joplin, MO R-VIII Bright Futures initiative. We currently have many students enrolled in Joplin Public Schools. The following, which comes from the Bright Futures web site, <http://brightfulpresjoplin.org>, explains the Bright Future program:

Each one of them has a name, a face, and a story. 54% of them live in poverty, but they all have hopes and dreams, and each and every one of them deserves a bright future.

Children are the world's most valuable resource and its best hope for the future.

- John F. Kennedy

That's where Bright Futures comes in. Actively working to address high school dropout rates and the future of Joplin School's students, Bright Futures is helping create the structures around kids that they need to be successful learners and successful members of the community.

Why is addressing the dropout rate important? For starters, one high school dropout can have a ripple affect on the entire community through the loss of productive worker and more. Dropouts are much more likely than their peers who graduate to be unemployed, living in poverty, receiving public assistance, in prison, unhealthy, divorced, and single parents with children who repeat the pattern and drop out of school themselves.

We can change the dropout rates, and reshape Joplin's future, if we work together.

Bright Futures is a grass roots, community based program that is creating partnerships and utilizing resources in the community with one common goal - to help our kids, and to strengthen our families and our community.

Bright Futures is about cultural change and building a community where education is important and valued.

We are in the beginning stages, but ultimately, Bright Futures will create a system of support for our kids that educators can utilize and it will happen with your help. Working closely with each school administration team, Community Ambassadors are already at work throughout the district, assessing the needs, realized that each and every student is priceless, and as a community, we are responsible for their success.

It takes a village to raise a child, and it isn't just up to the parents, the schools, the business community, faith based organizations, or human service agencies to respond to these needs, it's up to all of us. Together, we can use our resources to make a lasting impact. Together, we can make a difference. Think about what you can do to help Bright Futures, the future of our community depends on it.

KFJX & KOAM are a Bright Futures Business Partner with Duenweg Elementary School. Patrice & Stacy are our Bright Futures Team Leaders and currently about 15 employees are volunteer with them. For more information about the Bright Futures initiative and the stations role please feel free to contact the Bright Futures Business Partner volunteer organizer:

48 HOURS MYSTERY

07/03/10 PREEMPTION

07/10/10 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Seven Days Of Rage: The Craigslist Killer" - a follow-up to "Craigslist: Classified For Murder" (OAD: 04/25/09). On April 14, 2009, model and masseuse Julissa Brisman was found murdered in a Boston hotel. Over the course of the next seven days, police investigation revealed that Brisman and two other female victims of assault had been contacted through ads they had placed on the website Craigslist. Police traced computer evidence to Philip Markoff, a medical student at Boston University. He was arrested for kidnapping, armed robbery and murder. A search of his apartment produced incriminating evidence, including the gun that killed Julissa Brisman. Further investigation of Markoff's e-mail address revealed his own ads on several adult alternative-lifestyle websites. Concluding onscreen graphic: Philip Markoff is expected to stand trial next June. Craigslist renamed its erotic services section, calling it adult services. Critics say nothing has changed. Among those interviewed: Trisha Leffler, Markoff's first victim; Maria Cramer, reporter, The Boston Globe and 48 HOURS consultant; Joe Moura, private investigator and 48 HOURS consultant; Paul LaRosa, 48 HOURS producer; Mark Pines, friend of victim Julissa Brisman; Maureen Orth, writer; Casey Jordan, attorney and psychologist; Morgan Houston, friend of Philip Markoff; Steve Huff, crime blogger and contributor to the True Crime Report. 07/16/10 48 HOURS: LIVE TO TELL: "The Year We Disappeared" - On August 31, 1979, John Busby, a Falmouth, Massachusetts police officer, was ambushed in his car by a gunman in a passing car who shot him point blank in the face with a shotgun. Although brutally wounded, Busby was able to write a note for police at the scene that said "Not an accident. Mel Reine." Melvin Reine, a convicted arsonist and suspected murderer of three people, was a local thug whose brother, John Reine, had been arrested by John Busby. For undetermined reasons, Melvin Reine had long intimidated the Falmouth police, and the attempted murder of John Busby was not aggressively investigated. Fearing for their safety, the Busby family moved to an undisclosed location in Tennessee. Twenty-four years after the shooting, in 2003, John Reine confessed to the police that his brother Melvin had indeed shot John Busby while he, Melvin, drove the car. However, because of the statute of limitations, the Reines will remain unpunished. Melvin is now institutionalized, in a state of dementia. John Busby and his daughter Cylin have written a memoir together, entitled "The Year We Disappeared". Includes narration by John Busby; Cylin Busby, his daughter; Kellie Collier-Driscoll, his niece; Polly Busby, his wife; Rick Smith, Falmouth police officer. (Producers: Chuck Stevenson, Liza Fialey, Katherine Davis, Chris Young) (OAD: 02/14/09)

07/17/10 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Toxic" - a followup to "Tracking A Killer" (OAD: 12/11/02). On December 2, 2000, 30-year-old Eric Miller died in a Raleigh, North Carolina hospital. Blood tests had revealed that he had been poisoned with arsenic. Police investigation discovered that Eric's wife, Ann, a chemist, was having an affair with Derril Willard, a biochemist who worked at the same company as she. On the day after police initially questioned him about Eric's death, Derril Willard committed suicide. Prior to doing so, he had a confidential conversation with his lawyer, Rick Gammon. Years passed -- and in the spring of 2004, the North Carolina Supreme Court ruled that Gammon must reveal what Willard had told him about Ann's role in Eric's murder. Gammon then revealed how Ann admitted to Derril Willard that she had injected a substance into Eric's IV bag...and Willard had told Gammon that he himself had never tried to kill Eric. Ann Miller was charged with Eric's murder. Because the District Attorney and the Miller family had misgivings about the outcome of a trial, Ann was offered a plea bargain: twenty-five years in prison for Eric's murder. She accepted. Among those interviewed are: Lieutenant Chris Morgan, Raleigh, N.C. Police Department; Doris and Versus Miller, Eric's parents; Pam Baltzell and Lorann Magee, Eric's sisters; Renee Henson, Ann Miller's college roommate; Deborah Regentin, detective, Raleigh, N.C. Police Department; Yvette Willard, widow of Derril Willard; Michael Teague, forensic psychologist; Rick Gammon, attorney for the late Derril Willard. 48 HOURS MYSTERY (continued)

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Show Me The Money" - In November 2000, bank manager and single mother Michelle Renee was in her Vista, California home with her seven-year-old daughter Breea, when three masked gunmen broke into the house. The gunmen held them captive overnight, and in the morning strapped dynamite onto their backs. Breea was shoved into a closet, while Michelle was ordered to rob the bank where she worked. If she didn't comply, the gunmen said they would detonate the dynamite. She obeyed, and the next morning she cleaned out the bank vault and gave the gunmen a duffel bag containing $360,000. Police and FBI investigation soon apprehended four suspects: Christopher Butler, Lisa Ramirez, Christopher Huggins, and Robert Ortiz. But investigators were suspicious that Michelle had been involved in the robbery -- the dynamite had turned out to be fake; she had claimed that she had recognized one of the masked robbers as a customer, even though he had been in her bank only once; and she herself had filed for bankruptcy - for the second time - only a month before the robbery. However, no proof was ever discovered to confirm this suspicion. Eighteen months later, Butler and Ramirez went on trial. Ramirez's confession was ruled inadmissible because it implicated Butler, who had admitted to nothing. Finally, Ramirez was found innocent, and Butler guilty only of kidnapping Renee's daughter and roommate, Kimbra; he was not convicted of kidnapping Michelle Renee. Two months later, Huggins and Ortiz went on trial, and were found guilty of all charges, including the kidnapping of Michelle Renee. Includes interviews with Michelle Renee; Breea Renee; Lorella Myers, former co-worker with Michelle Renee; Rick Brown, neighbor of Renee; investigators Dale Martin, Rudy Zamora, Randi Demers; Tom Manning, prosecutor; Herb Weston, attorney for Ramirez. 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "A Cry for Innocence" - A report on Damien Echols, who has been on death row in Arkansas for the past 16 years, convicted of murdering three eight-year-old boys: Stevie Branch, Chris Byers and Michael Moore. At the time, amidst a country-wide media-fueled hysteria about Satanic cults, Damien, because of his affinity for long hair and dressing in black became a prime suspect, along with friends Jason Baldwin and Jesse Misskelley. The trio, known as the West Memphis Three, were convicted of triple-murder: Misskelley and Baldwin sentenced to life in prison, while Damien Echols received the death penalty. The police had no evidence linking Echols to the crime until Misskelley, whose lawyer says he has the mental capabilities of a five-year-old and barely knew Echols, confessed to helping him and Jason Baldwin commit the murders -- although many of the facts he recounted about the crime were incorrect. Misskelley was tried first, convicted and sentenced. Echols and Baldwin went on trial together; Misskelley refused to testify against them, and by law his confession could not be used against them. Still, they were convicted. As word of this case spread, so did the outrage over what many believed was a grave injustice. Members of the entertainment community, including actor Johnny Depp and musicians Natalie Maines and Eddie Vedder, came to their support. An HBO documentary, "Paradise Lost", and a book by Marc Leveritt entitled "Devil's Knot", detailed flaws in the case and now, forensic scientists have challenged the causes of the wounds inflicted on the victims, and sworn affidavits have revealed possible jury misconduct and new DNA evidence points away from the three convicted men and towards someone unexpected -- Terry Hobbs, Steve Branch's step-father at the time of the murders. As Echols prepares to take his case to federal court, he has some unexpected support from the parents of two of the victims: Mark Byers and Pam Branch, who now agree that justice has not been served. Interviewed: Damien Echols; Lori Davis, a landscape architect from New York, who married Echols after researching the case; actor Johnny Depp; victims' parents Pam Branch and Mark Byers; Jerry Driver, West Memphis juvenile officer; Dan Stidham, Misskelley's lawyer; Dennis Riordan, attorney now heading Echols' legal team; Rachael Geiser, private investigator; Terry Hobbs, Stevie Branch's former step-father; Debbie Moyer and her daughter Jannie Ballard, former neighbors of the Branch family. 07/30/10

48 HOURS MYSTERY: LIVE TO TELL: "Kidnap on Highway 1" - In November 2007, Chris and Debra Hall, and their children, Tyler and Divinia, were driving back to California from Mexico, when they were pulled over a few miles from the U.S. border by what they thought were police. A man in a military uniform approached and suddenly put a gun to Chris' head. Moments later the family was ambushed by a second car of gunmen. As the kidnapers drove them onto a dirt road in the mountains outside Tijuana, they began asking about a race car. While in Mexico, Chris and Tyler worked as part of a pit crew at the Baja 1000. When Chris explained that there was no race car, the men ransacked the family's trailer and then took them farther into the mountains. The gunmen put the family in a ditch and threw sleeping bags over them. As the Hall family lay hugging in the ditch, the men drove away. Ultimately the Halls crawled through the brush in the night to a house where a woman took them in and called police for help. Despite her assurances that they could trust these officers, the family could not help but fear they were in danger all over again. The authorities rushed them to the border. For the moment they were safe, but with the gunmen in possession of their drivers' licenses and their address, they will carry the memory of that traumatic night with them. Mexican authorities never investigated the kidnapping, and the Halls still don't know who their assailants were. Drug gangs in Mexico are known to wear police uniforms as a way to trap their victims. The story is narrated by Divinia, Chris, and Debra Hall. Other contributors: Lt. Dave Myers of the San Diego Sheriff's Department, John Schardt, Divinia's schoolmate; and "Maria", the Mexican woman who helped them. 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Diary of a Showgirl" - Marjorie Orbin, a former Las Vegas showgirl and stripper, is currently serving a life sentence in a Phoenix, Arizona prison, having been convicted of murdering Jay Orbin, her husband of ten years and father of her son, Noah. On September 8, 2004, Jay was driving home from a business trip to Florida. He spoke to his mother on his cell phone, but then was never heard from again. Six weeks later, on October 23, 2004, his torso was found in a plastic container, just miles from his home. A police search warrant of the Orbin home discovered Jay's credit cards and business checkbook, which he always took with him on business trips - evidence that he had arrived home, but never actually left on another trip - as Marjorie had claimed. Further police investigation - including the discovery of a hardware store surveillance tape showing Marjorie buying two plastic containers exactly like the one Jay's torso was found in - pointed to Marjorie as the murderer, and she was arrested and charged on December 6, 2004. On September 14, 2009, a jury found her guilty of murder; she was sentenced to life in prison. Marjorie, however, now claims that Larry Weisberg, with whom she had been having an affair, murdered Jay when Weisberg and Jay had a confrontation in Jay's home, after Jay had returned earlier than expected from his Florida trip and found out about the affair. She says that she had never revealed this for five years, because Weisberg had threatened to kill her son if she went to the police. Marjorie is serving a life sentence in Phoenix, Arizona. Includes interviews with: Marjorie Orbin; David Barnes, detective; Treena Kay, lead prosecutor; Joanne Orbin, Jay's mother; Jake Orbin, Jay's brother; Jan Butcher, detective. Onscreen text graphic update for this 07/31/10 rebroadcast: Marjorie Orbin is planning to appeal her conviction. (C: Peter Van Sant - P: Liza Finley) (OAD: 11/21/09)

48 HOURS MYSTERY

- 08/06/10 48 HOURS MYSTERY: LIVE TO TELL: "The Birthday Party" - On January 21, 1998, the night before his 38th birthday, federal prosecutor Stanley Alpert was walking home late at night in lower Manhattan, when he was kidnapped at gunpoint and held hostage for 25 hours before his captors, having learned that he was a federal prosecutor, decided to release him. Before learning that fact, however, his kidnappers had intended to force him to withdraw $50,000 from his bank account, and had threatened Alpert's own life and that of his father, if Alpert did not cooperate. After his release, police were able, with Alpert's help, to track down his abductors. The kidnappers (identified only as Lucky, Ron, Sen and Louis) received sentences ranging from 15 years to life. Stanley Alpert has written a book about his ordeal. It's called "The Birthday Party". Includes interviews with: Stanley Alpert, federal prosecutor, kidnapping victim; David Prager, friend of Alpert; Dan Dorsky, friend of Alpert; FBI special agents Kathleen Flynn, Richard Meade, David Burroughs, David Biddiscombe; Bill Glynn, NYPD detective. - 08/07/10 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Love and Death In Alaska" - an update of the 09/13/08 rebroadcast of "Love and Death In Alaska". On May 2, 1996, the body of Kent Leppink was found off a deserted road 90 miles south of Anchorage, Alaska. He had been shot three times. Police investigation discovered that he had been involved with Mechele Hughes, a young woman who worked as a stripper in a club called the Great Alaskan Bush Company. Mechele was also involved with two other men -- John Carlin III and Scott Hilke. Ten years later, after further investigation, Mechele (now Mechele Linchan) and John Carlin were indicted for Leppink's murder. At his trial, Carlin was found guilty of first degree murder and sentenced to 99 years in prison. At her trial, she was also found guilty of first degree murder. She awaits sentencing. Among those interviewed are: Mechele Linchan; Linda Branchflower, detective; Ken and Betsy Leppink, parents of Kent; Scott Hilke, salesman; John Carlin III; John Carlin IV; Megan Holland, reporter, Anchorage Daily News; Tina Brady, stripper; Kristina Hermann, friend of Mechele Linchan; Colin Linchan, Mechele's husband; Pat Gulluelsen, special cold case prosecutor; Sydney Billingslea, lawyer for John Carlin III; Kevin Fitzgerald, lawyer for Mechele Linchan. 08/07/10 Update: In February 2010, an appeals court reversed Mechele's conviction for murder and she will be given a new trial. John Carlin III was involved in a prison fight in 2008 and beaten to death. Because his appeal was pending at the time he died, the court has thrown out his entire case. In Mechele's new trial, prosecutors can't mention Carlin ever was convicted. Onscreen graphics update: Mechele Linchan's retrial is expected to begin next year. - 08/14/10 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Justice in the Heartland" (9:00-10:00pm) - On May 20, 2003, 27-year-old Mike Golub, resident of Johnson City, Kansas, left work to pick up his young son, Mikey, at the home of Shannon Albers Floyd, Mike's ex-girlfriend and the mother of their son, Mikey. Shannon was now married to Chad Floyd, a member of a rich and powerful Johnson City family. But Mike disappeared after he left work, and was never seen again. His family immediately became suspicious that Shannon and Chad Floyd were responsible: Mike had wanted more time with his son, and he and the Floyds were at odds over this. In addition, the Floyds, who wanted to move out of Kansas, had been told that, if they left the state, Shannon would probably lose custody of Mikey to his father. Five days after his disappearance, Mike's truck was found in a remote field, but with no evidence of foul play. Police investigation of the Floyd's home revealed small amounts of blood and Mike Golub's DNA on the unpainted underside of their newly repainted front deck. Other circumstantial evidence also made police suspicious of the Floyds. In 2006, Shannon and Chad Floyd were arrested and charged with Mike's murder; Chad's father posted their $2 million bond bail. In 2007, they were tried -- but the jury declared itself deadlocked after two days of deliberations. Prosecutors re-filed the charges, and in April 2008, there was a second trial -- and, once again, the jury declared itself deadlocked, after two days of deliberations. Prosecutors ultimately decided against a third trial, fearing another hung jury. The Floyds went free, and Mike Golub is officially still missing. Includes interviews with: Deb Golub, Mike's mother; Crissy Golub, Mike's sister; Danae Meurer, friend of Mike Golub; Shannon and Steve Morris, friends of Mike Golub; Mary Hart, business owner in Johnson City; Sally Orton, child custody worker, Kansas; Joseph Moura, detective, 48 HOURS consultant; Paul Ciolino, detective, 48 HOURS consultant. 48 HOURS MYSTERY (continued)

- 08/14/10 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "The Secret" (10:00-11:00pm) - a report on the March 2007 disappearance of 911 operator Theresa Parker of Lafayette, Georgia. Theresa had recently separated from police officer husband Sam Parker, whom she had married in 1993. One night, after visiting her sister Christina Hall, Theresa vanished. Police found her car at Theresa and Sam's house, but there was no sign of her and no obvious signs of foul play. Police investigation revealed that Sam was an abusive husband with a drinking problem. When investigators found vacuum marks, Theresa's blood and Sam Parker's DNA in the back of Theresa's SUV, he was arrested and charged with his wife's murder. Prosecutors believed that Sam had murdered Theresa, drove off and disposed of her body. Parker insisted he had not killed his wife and suspected that she had run off to Mexico. The jurors said the task of deciding Sam Parker's fate was particularly daunting because they had an overwhelming amount of circumstantial evidence, but not much else. After three days of deliberation, the jurors seemed hopelessly deadlocked. The judge urged them to give it one more try. After a closer look at cell phone records, the jury found him guilty of first-degree murder. He was immediately sentenced to life in prison. Theresa's family believes that Parker may be the only one who holds the key to finding Theresa's body, but he still insists that he did not kill her and does not know where she is. Interviewed: Christina Hall; Sam Parker; Rhonda Knox, Theresa's friend and co-worker; Walker County Sheriff Steve Wilson; Special Agent James Harris of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation; Kenneth Parker, Sam's brother; FBI Special Agent Marc Veazey; Defense Attorneys David Dunn and Doug Woodward; Prosecutor Leigh Patterson; Keila Deard, Sam Parker's former wife; unidentified members of the jury. 08/14/10 - Domestic Violence Hotline number is listed onscreen. On April 14, 2009, model and masseuse Julissa Brisman was found murdered in a Boston hotel. Over the course of the next seven days, police investigation revealed that Brisman and two other female victims of assault had been contacted through ads they had placed on the website Craigslist. Police traced computer evidence to Philip Markoff, a medical student at Boston University. He was arrested for kidnapping, armed robbery and murder. A search of his apartment produced incriminating evidence, including the gun that killed Julissa Brisman. Further investigation of Markoff's e-mail address revealed his own ads on several adult alternative-lifestyle websites. Concluding onscreen graphic: Philip Markoff is expected to stand trial next June. Craigslist renamed its erotic services section, calling it adult services. Critics say nothing has changed. Among those interviewed: Trisha Leffler, Markoff's first victim; Maria Cramer, reporter, The Boston Globe and 48 HOURS consultant; Joe Moura, private investigator and 48 HOURS consultant; Paul LaRosa, 48 HOURS producer; Mark Pines, friend of victim Julissa Brisman; Maureen Orth, writer; Casey Jordan, attorney and psychologist; Morgan Houston, friend of Philip Markoff; Steve Huff, crime blogger and contributor to the True Crime Report. 08/20/10 Update: Includes a new interview with Boston Globe reporter Maria Cramer regarding the August 15, 2010 suicide of Philip Markoff. 48 HOURS MYSTERY (continued)

08/21/10 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Addicted To Love" - An update to the 08/02/08 rebroadcast of "Addicted To Love". When police arrived at the Franklin, Tennessee apartment of Lesa Buchanan on the Fourth of July weekend in 2005, they were surprised by what they found in her home: a cache of prescription drugs and sex toys. Lesa and her boyfriend, Dr. Christ Koulis, had spent most of that final weekend in her bedroom, having sex. Koulis, a plastic surgeon, had called 911 when she stopped breathing, and said he performed CPR, but that there was no pulse. When Lesa was rushed to the emergency room, the doctors trying to save her life said Dr. Koulis told them nothing about the drugs she had been using -- information that could have been crucial in saving her life. With Lesa dead, investigators quickly focused on drugs. At her apartment, detectives discovered used syringes with traces of oxycodone -- a powerful narcotic used to kill pain and available only from a prescribing physician. After a five month investigation, Dr. Koulis was arrested on four charges -- ranging from simple assault to second degree murder. At the trial, prosecutors alleged Dr. Koulis had injected Lesa with oxycodone during the course of the weekend, which eventually led to her death. But the defense claimed Lesa injected herself, and that she had a drug problem -- a claim her family and investigators disputed. Ultimately, Dr. Koulis was found guilty of criminally negligent homicide. He will likely remain free until 2009, pending his appeal. 08/21/10 Update: Five years after Lesa Buchanan's death, and with his appeal still pending, Christ Koulis was found dead at a friend's apartment. Toxicology reports state the cause of death as bronchial pneumonia due to opiate intoxication, a drug overdose. Because his case was in appeal, his attorney David Raybin was able get his 2007 conviction dropped by the state's Court of Criminal Appeals. However, the attorney general's office is fighting to have that conviction reinstated. Koulis' attorney feels the conviction should be vacated. The update also includes brief commentary from attorney Raybin and Lesa's sister, Tara Bentley. On December 30, 1999, 10-year-old Krystal Surles, a Yates, Kansas girl, and her friend Kaylene Harris were attacked in Kaylene's Del Rio, Texas home, by a knife-wielding intruder who slashed both girls' throats. Kaylene died... Krystal not only survived the attack but was able to help a police sketch artist draw an image that led to the arrest of her attacker, Tommy Lynn Sells. After his arrest Sells confessed to the crime and revealed that he had been traveling across the country killing men, women and children for twenty years and had never in the past left a witness alive. - 09/11/10 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Innocence Lost" - a follow-up to "Who Killed These Girls" (OAD: 03/25/92) and "Deadly Encounters" (OAD: 09/14/98). In December 1991, four teenage girls were found murdered in an Austin, Texas yogurt shop. The girls had been tied up, stripped down, at least one was raped, shot in the head and their naked bodies were stacked in a corner then set on fire. In the weeks after the murders, authorities received countless tips, many false confessions and even interrogated teenagers Maurice Pierce, Michael Scott, Robert Springsteen and Forrest Welborn. With no solid evidence, they were released. There were no developments in the investigation until 1999, when new detectives assigned to the case made the announcement that they had made four arrests: the same four suspects, whom police had interrogated to eight years earlier. The charges against Welborn and Pierce were dropped. Scott and Springsteen each stood trial for murder. Both were convicted, with Springsteen sentenced to death and Scott sentenced to life in prison. On appeal, the convictions were overturned when DNA evidence did not match any of the suspects. It was from an unknown male. The Travis County District Attorney, Rosemary Lehnberg, says there is no statute of limitations for murder, and they will continue the investigation until the person(s) responsible for these murders are brought to justice. For now Scott and Springsteen are free, and the girls' families are still dealing with the deaths of their daughters. Interviewed: John Jones, lead detective in 1991; Mike Huckabee, Jones' partner; Bob Ayers, Pam Ayers, Barbara Ayers-Wilson, Maria Thomas, parents of the victims; suspects Forrest Welborn, Robert Springsteen; Jim Sawyer, Springsteen's attorney; District Attorney Rosemary Lehnberg; Saul Kassin, psychology professor at John Jay College for Criminal Justice (C: Erin Moriarty - P: Gail Abbott Zimmerman, Peter Henderson) (OAD: 01/09/10)

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Vegas Heat" (9:00-10:00pm) - a report on the December 14, 2003 discovery of the charred corpse of a young woman, found in a burned-out car on a Las Vegas, Nevada desert road. The car was registered to Kelly Ryan, a fitness champion who is married to Craig Titus, a Mr. Olympia competitor. Both were stars of the body building world and also hard partiers, known for using illegal drugs and pain killers. The unrecognizable body was initially thought to be Ryan, but authorities were stunned when they arrived at the couple's house only to be greeted by her at the door. When asked about the car, Craig and Kelly claimed that it had been taken the day before by Melissa James, their 31-year-old live-in assistant and a dancer, who was headed to New Jersey to spend Christmas with her mother. Melissa never made it to New Jersey and when pressed, Craig and Kelly accused her of theft -- that she stole the Jaguar and used Kelly's debit card to steal from them. Detectives were lucky and discovered that Kelly's debit card was last used at Wal-Mart by Kelly, who purchased seven bottles of lighter fluid. Panicked by the police visit, Craig and Kelly confided in Megan Foley, Kelly's friend, that a fight between Kelly and Melissa had spiraled out of control -- Kelly tased Melissa, injected her with narcotics and that it ended when Craig choked her. Megan's attorney contacted the police. Armed with that information, police issued a warrant for their arrest. Eventually, the FBI tracked the couple to Boston, where they were charged with murder and arson. Twenty-one days after the body was found, it was officially identified as Melissa James. But because the body was so badly burned, the coroner could not say for sure how Melissa died or if it was even murder. Craig had a different story and in an interview, told 48 HOURS that Melissa had attacked Kelly and that he interceded on his wife's behalf. Enraged, Melissa ran upstairs to her room and when Craig checked on her, she was dead. Craig also claimed that he, Melissa, and Kelly had been using drugs for days leading up to the fight and that her death was an overdose. High on drugs, they panicked and disposed of her body in the desert. As the trial was about to begin, Craig and Kelly each accepted a plea deal -- Craig for second-degree murder, kidnapping, and arson; Kelly for battery and arson. After further courtroom dramas, Craig Titus was sentenced to 21 to 55 years and Kelly Ryan to six to 17 years in prison. Craig has filed a motion to reduce his sentence. Kelly says her marriage to Craig is over. Graphic update for the 07/14/09 rebroadcast: Craig Titus' request to reduce his sentence or let him stand trial was denied. Kelly Ryan has filed for a divorce. (C: Peter Van Sant - P: Chuck Stevenson, Chris O'Connell) (OAD: 11/08/08; 1st Rebroadcast: 07/14/09)

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Buried Secrets of Las Vegas" (10:00-11:00pm) - a report on the death of gaming tycoon Ted Binion, who was found dead in his Las Vegas home more than a decade ago. The son of legendary gambling impresario Benny Binion, Ted was a brilliant casino operator himself. Paranoid about his wealth, he stashed millions of dollars worth of silver in a hidden vault in Pahrump, Nevada. Ted was also addicted to smoking heroin. Prior to his death, he became involved with Sandy Murphy, and it was she who told police in September 1998 that she had found him dead of an apparent drug overdose. However Binion's sister, Becky Binion Behnen, insisted to police that this was no drug overdose and demanded an investigation. Police discovered that Sandy was having an affair with Rick Tabish, and theorized that they were trying to steal Ted's buried treasure. Both were charged with his murder and both were found guilty of murder in the first degree. While imprisoned, Sandy contacted Alan Dershowitz, who agreed to take on her appeal. The Nevada Supreme Court agreed with Dershowitz's arguments and overturned both convictions. After the second trial, both Murphy and Tabish were found not guilty of murder, but were found guilty of stealing Binion's buried silver from the Pahrump vault. Many believe that much of Binion's money is still missing. 48 HOURS retained ground sonar experts to search the Binion estate, which had remained empty since his death; nothing was found. Tabish remains in prison because of a prior record; Murphy returned to California where she married an art dealer. Tabish's latest bid for parole is under consideration. Murphy is suing the state of Nevada, alleging false imprisonment and malicious prosecution. Interviewed: Sandy Murphy; Wayne Newton, Las Vegas entertainer; Glenn Pult, author; Becky Binion Behnen, Ted's sister; Christine Lefkowitz, Las Vegas reporter; Wayne Peterson, the Las Vegas Police Lieutenant who led the investigation; Ed Howard, Nye County Police Lieutenant, who saw Tabish digging up the vault in Pahrump; Attorney Alan Dershowitz; Rainey Williams, evidence custodian; and Jared Lampe, ground penetrating radar technician. Graphic update for the 09/18/10 rebroadcast: Rick Tabish was released on parole May 17, 2010, after more than ten years in prison. Ted Binion's home on Palomino Drive remains unsold. (C: Peter Van Sant - P: James STOL, Chris O'Connell, Jenni Jackson) (OAD: 01/23/10)

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "The Killing Game" - a report on the California criminal justice system's 40-year pursuit of Rodney James Alcala, from his 1968 abduction, rape and attempted murder of 8-year old Tali Shapiro in Los Angeles, to his 2010 conviction --with the help of advances in DNA technology -- for the kidnapping, rape and murder of five California women. Although he had been initially apprehended in New York in 1971, the prosecution at that time had no choice but to enter into a plea agreement with Alcala: Tali Shapiro's parents had moved out of the country after the incident, and Tali was unavailable for trial. He pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of child molestation and was ultimately convicted -- but released by a parole board after thirty-four months in prison. In 1979, Alcala abducted and murdered 12-year-old Robin Samson. With the help of her friend, Bridget Wilvurt, police identified Alcala as a suspect. He was arrested for Robin Samson's murder. Police discovered a storage facility he had rented in Seattle, which contained photographs he had taken of more than one hundred young women, including photos which placed him near the scene of Robin Samson's abduction. It also contained jewelry worn by Robin, and identified as such by her mother. In February 1980, Alcala went on trial; he was convicted, and sentenced to death. In 1984, the California State Supreme Court then ruled that he had not received a fair trial. He was tried and convicted a second time...and again the verdict was overturned. In 2003, DNA technology enabled Los Angeles Deputy District Attorney Gina Satriano to link Alcala to three other unsolved murders: Jill Barcomb, Georgia Wixted, and Charlotte Lamb, all of whom had been killed between November 1977 and June 1978. Evidence also linked Alcala to the 1979 murder of another Los Angeles woman, Jill Parenteau. In January 2010, Alcala went on trial for all of these murders -- and was found guilty and sentenced to death. Includes interviews with: Chris Camacho, Los Angeles police officer; Matt Murphy, deputy District Attorney, Orange County, CA; Steve Hodel, detective; Bridget Wilvurt, friend of Robin Samson; Marianne Connelly, mother of Robin Samson; Robert and Tim Samson, brothers of Robin Samson; Beth Kelleher, former girlfriend of Alcala; Pat Ellis, Detective; Lori Werts, photo subject of Alcala; Gina Satriano, deputy District Attorney, Los Angeles; Tali Shapiro, victim of Alcala; Graphic conclusion: investigators want the public's help in identifying people in Rodney Alcala's photographs.
