"The Arctic Frontier" – a report from the Arctic Circle about the competition for oil and mineral resources between Norway, Greenland, Canada, United States and Russia, since climate change is opening up the Arctic Ocean. United States scientists and naval personnel built a makeshift city called Sargo over the Arctic ice for a five-week long scientific and military exercise called ICES 2016. Their mission was to learn how to survive and operate in the extreme weather conditions and to map the underneath portion of the ice so drones can patrol the waters looking for enemy submarines because last year, Russia staged an unannounced military exercise in the Arctic. Includes interviews with: Chuck McGuire, principal engineer at the University of Washington's applied physics lab; Commander Scott Parker, Navy Atlantic Submarine Force meteorologist; Doug Horner, Naval Postgraduate School (NPS) research professor; Ret. "Nate Parker" – an interview with Nate Parker, who wrote, produced, directed, and stars as Nat Turner in "Birth of a Nation", the upcoming historical movie based on Nat Turner's slave rebellion in Virginia in 1831. The independent film was bought by Fox Searchlight for the most money any studio had ever paid for a movie at Sundance, but Parker's past has threatened the film's success. Seventeen years ago, as a student at Penn State University, Parker and his roommate Jean Celestin were accused of rape. Parker was found not guilty; Celestin was convicted and went to prison, but his conviction was eventually overturned and his criminal record expunged. The accuser eventually dropped out of Penn State and committed suicide in 2012. The two men remain friends and Celestin, a writer, helped Parker with the movie. Includes excerpts from the movie "Birth of a Nation"; the 1915 movie "The Birth of a Nation"; and "CBS This Morning". Also includes a comment by Rick Francis, Southampton, Virginia County Clerk. (C: Anderson Cooper – P: Keith Sharman)

"Don't Mess With Mary Quin" – an interview with former Xerox executive Mary Quin, a dual citizen of the United States and her native New Zealand, who was taken hostage while sightseeing in Yemen in 1998. As her tour group drove through the Yemeni desert a truck full of terrorist gunmen, led by Abu Hassan, forced her convoy to stop and they were kidnapped. During a shoot-out between the kidnappers and the Yemeni army, Quin was able to wrestle a gun away from one of the terrorists and escape, but four of the tourists in her group were killed. Quin investigated the kidnapping and discovered a radical Islamic cleric, Abu Hamza, was working with the kidnappers in Yemen because he wanted his stepson released from a Yemeni prison. Quin flew to London and approached Hamza at his mosque. Hamza allowed Quin to record their conversation, which she later gave to the FBI. In 2014 in New York, Hamza stood trial and Quin testified against him. In January 2015, he was sentenced to life in prison without parole. (C: Bill Whitaker – P: Robert G. Anderson, Aaron Weisz)

"Crime and Punishment" – a report on the German prison system, focusing primarily on Waldeck -- a maximum-security prison. Their system emphasizes humane treatment and rehabilitation, rather than punishment, and allows convicts an amount of freedom American prisoners do not have. German prisons cost less than those in America and produce fewer convicts who return. American politicians and prison supervisors are looking at Germany's model to see what they can implement in America. Includes interviews with: German prisoners: Bernd Junge, Joerg Muehlbach (through translator) and Chris Templiner; Joerg Jesse, director of prisons in Mecklenburg-Western Pomerania; Governor Dannel Malloy, (D-CT); and John Wetzel, Pennsylvania's secretary of corrections. "Bonobos" – a report on bonobos, a primate cousin of humans that looks like a chimpanzee. Bonobos are a separate species of ape that live in female-dominated groups and do not kill each other. Bonobos are endangered species and can only be found in the Democratic Republic of Congo in Central Africa. Conservationist Claudine Andre created Lola Ya Bonobo Sanctuary, an orphanage in Congo that's caring for bonobos. To save these primates from extinction, Lola has released some back into the wild and, so far, they are thriving. Includes interviews with: Claudine Andre; Brian Hare, Duke University evolutionary anthropologist; and Suzy Kwetuenda, biologist who oversees bonobo rehabilitation at Lola Ya Bonobo. - "The Brothers Rosenberg" – an interview / profile of Michael and Robert Meeropol, sons of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, convicted Communist spies who were sent to the electric chair in 1953 for conspiring to provide the secrets of the atomic bomb to the Soviet Union during the height of the Cold War. Starting in 1975, the brothers sought to clear their parents' names, and with the aid of independent historians, uncovered secret messages, intercepted cables, and files from the archives of the FBI, the CIA, and the KGB. The brothers realized their father was indeed a Soviet spy and that his spy network stole technology for jet fighters, radar, and detonators, but believe their mother to be innocent. Michael and Robert got the New York City Council to issue a proclamation declaring the government wrongfully executed Ethel Rosenberg, and are asking President Barack Obama to exonerate her. Part two of the segment includes an interview with Ron Radosh, author and historian, whose research came to conclude that the Rosenberg's were indeed guilty. - "Thrown for a Loss" – an investigation into the investment loss suffered by many of the National Football League's (NFL) biggest stars, who bought into a risky venture, brought to them by Jeff Rubin, a financial advisor registered by the National Football League Players Association (NFLPA), and which has become the largest loss at the hands of one advisor in NFL history. There is mounting concern that young, rich, and unsophisticated players are falling into financial traps, often led by those paid to protect their newfound wealth. In 2010, several players invested in Country Crossing, an Alabama-based entertainment and gambling complex which ultimately went bust after gambling laws changed in the state. The NFL players lost a total of $43 million. Rubin has since been barred from serving as an investment adviser by the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) and by the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). Despite the loss, the NFLPA still has registered advisers under the union's program who are unfit to advise. The NFLPA declined an interview request. Includes interviews with: Jeff Rubin, financial adviser; Troy King, former attorney general of Alabama; Rand Getlin, writer for Yahoo Sports; Chase Carlson, lawyer representing NFL players who claim Rubin ripped them off; Fred Taylor, former NFL player; and Vernon Davis, current NFL player. (C: Armen Keteyian – P: Draggan Mihailovich)

"In God's Name" – an interview with Abdirizak Warsame, the 21-year-old American Muslim man who pleaded guilty to conspiring to help the Islamic State (ISIS/ISIL/Daesh). Warsame faces a maximum of 15 years in prison and is awaiting sentencing next month. Released from jail specifically for this interview, Warsame admits remorse for his actions. Warsame, who grew up in Cedar Riverside, Minnesota after his parents immigrated to America from Somalia, became radicalized after watching YouTube videos of American-born cleric Anwar Al-Awlki. Warsame was instrumental in helping two friends from Minneapolis, Yusef Jama and Abdi Nur, leave the country to join ISIS. Both are believed to have died fighting for the terrorist group. Also includes an interview with: Mohamed Amin of Minnesota, who is fighting the ISIS message by producing anti-ISIS cartoons under the name "Average Mohamed"; Andrew Luger, U.S. attorney for Minnesota; and Yusuf Abdurahman, father of Zacharia Abdurahman, who pled guilty along with Warsame. - 10/01/16 48 HOURS: "My Mother's Murder" (9:00 – 10:00p) – an updated rebroadcast of 48 HOURS MYSTERY: "My Mother's Murder" (OAD: 04/10/10). On the morning of June 5, 2005, Noura Jackson, a teenager, called the police to report that she had discovered the body of her mother, Jennifer Jackson, in their Memphis, Tennessee home. Jennifer, a 39-year-old divorced single parent, was a successful bond trader, who provided Noura with a generous lifestyle. Due to the brutality of her murder, police initially considered a possible link between Jennifer's death and the unsolved shooting death of her estranged husband, Nazmi Hassanieh, seventeen months prior; they also focused on Jennifer's ex-boyfriend, Mark Irvin, a minister, who had an alibi. Although there was a lack of physical evidence at the crime scene, Noura's conflicting accounts of her activities in the hours before she called 911, a gap in her cell phone usage, and an early morning trip to Walgreen's to purchase first aid supplies for a cut on her hand, caused police to focus on her as a suspect. While none of the DNA at the crime scene matched Noura's, she was eventually charged with her mother's murder. Four years later, at her trial, prosecutors alleged that the seemingly good relationship between mother and daughter was strained due to Jennifer's criticism of Noura's hard-partying lifestyle and charged that this was the motive for the crime. The jury found Noura guilty of second-degree murder -- she still maintains her innocence. Onscreen text graphic: Noura Jackson was sentenced to 20 years in prison. She will be 39 years old when released -- the same age her mother was when she was murdered. 10/01/16 Update: In 2015, after Noura Jackson spent almost a decade in prison, the Tennessee Supreme Court granted her a new trial because the prosecution had withheld evidence from her defense team and had violated her right to remain silent during closing arguments. With a second trial looming, the prosecution offered Noura a plea deal. Using a rare legal procedure, called an Alford Plea -- the defendant proclaims innocence, yet pleads guilty -- Noura accepted a deal: a plea of Voluntary Manslaughter and 15 years. In 2016, Noura Jackson walked out of prison -- still proclaiming her innocence, vowing to pressure the State of Tennessee to find her mother's killer. On-screen text graphic for the 10/01/16 updated rebroadcast: Noura Jackson is in a legal battle with some of her family over her mother's $1.5 million estate. Interviewed: Noura Jackson; family friends Susan Tobey, Renea McMillan, Ansley Larsson, Dana Frederick; Sergeant Tim Helldorfer with the Memphis Police Department; Memphis detectives Lieutenant Mark Miller and Sergeant W.D. Merritt; Sergeant Connie Justice, the first officer to interview Noura; Valerie Corder, Memphis Defense Attorney; Prosecutor Amy Weirich. - 10/01/16 48 HOURS: "The Mortician, The Murder, The Movie" (10:00-11:00p) – an investigation into the 1996 death of Marjorie Nugent, a wealthy Texas widow, who was shot dead by her constant companion, Bernie Tiede, a mortician 40 years her junior; the film the case inspired; and the latest twist in the case, which has thrust the story back into the headlines. Bernie Tiede arrived in Carthage, Texas in 1985 and became a popular figure around town, eventually becoming the constant companion of Marjorie Nugent following the death of her husband. In 1996 Tiede shot Nugent and hid her body in a freezer, where she remained for nine months. All along, Tiede maintained she was alive, but when police searched her home, he confessed to the crime and was sentenced to prison. The bizarre story captured the attention of filmmaker Richard Linklater, who made it into the 2011 film, "Bernie". The film caught the attention of lawyer Jodi Cole, who raised allegations that Tiede was abused as a child and by Nugent, leading him to murder Nugent. Marjorie Nugent's family maintains Tiede is conning everyone, and that he killed Marjorie Nugent to hide the fact that he had squandered the widow's money. On-screen text graphic: Bernie Tiede will be eligible for parole in 2029. He will be seventy years old. His attorneys are appealing his sentence. Interviewed: Bernie Tiede; Carlton Shamburger (funeral home owner); Richard Linklater (filmmaker); Jack Black (actor); Jack Paine, Ira Bounds (Bernie's friends); Danny Buck Davison (district attorney); Lisa Cockrell and Ruth Cockrell (Nugent's cousins); Skip Hollandsworth (journalist); Shanna Nugent, Alexandria Nugent, and Susan Nenuil (Nugent's grandchildren); Jodi Cole (Bernie Tiede's attorney); Lisa Turner (assistant Attorney General); and Jane Stanes (prosecutor). - 10/08/16 48 HOURS: "Killer Performance" - a report on the 2010 murder investigation of 23-year-old dancer Julie Kibuishi in Southern California, and how her friend, former U.S. Army soldier Sam Herr, became the prime suspect in the case until investigators encountered an aspiring actor with a horrific tale to tell. Kibuishi was found dead in Herr's bedroom, shot twice in the head. Police immediately believed Herr was the prime suspect, but friends and family thought otherwise. While searching for Herr and tracing his ATM and credit card usage, police were led to Herr's neighbor, actor Daniel Wozniak, who told police that Herr confessed to him and was on the run. Suspecting he was lying, detectives continued to question Wozniak, and he became their prime suspect. They also brought his fiancé, fellow actor Rachel Buffet, in as well, and she barely reacted to the news -- another red flag to investigators. Under further questioning, Wozniak confessed to killing both Julie and Sam. He told police he had lured Herr to the theater, where he killed and dismembered Herr, ultimately disposing of his body in a park. Herr then went back and performed in a play. The investigation eventually revealed that Daniel Wozniak planned and executed the murders in order to steal Sam Herr's life savings, which he planned to use to pay for his honeymoon trip with Rachel Buffet. After murdering Sam, Wozniak set Sam up by texting Julie to come to Sam's apartment, where he killed her. Wozniak then went back to the theater and performed with his fiancé in a play. Rachel Buffet and his brother Tim Wozniak were arrested as accessories after the fact. Five and a half years later, in a five day trial, the jury found him guilty in two and a half hours. During the penalty phase, Wozniak's attorney tried to shift the blame Rachel Buffet. Family members addressed the court to speak about Sam and Julie and their friendship. No one spoke for Wozniak. The judge sentenced him to death. On-screen text graphic: Rachel Buffet and Tim Wozniak's trial dates are pending. Interviewed: Steve and Raquel Herr (Sam's father and mother); Masa Kibuishi and June Kibuishi (Julie's parents); Jose Morales, Ed Everett, and Mike Cohen (detectives); Miles Foltz (friend of Sam's); Wesley Freilich (friend of Daniel Wozniak); Matt Murphy (prosecutor); Deborah Kennedy and Kara Kessener (Wozniak's castmates). - 10/15/16 48 HOURS: "Shadow of Death" (9:00 - 10:00p) - an updated rebroadcast on the murders of Andra and Brad Sachs, who in 2014 were killed during a suspected home invasion, in which their younger son was left paralyzed. Evidence in the crime points towards one of their older sons, Ashton Sachs, who was allegedly fascinated by the 1989 Menendez brothers murder case. The Sachs were a wealthy couple with five children, who had divorced, but continued to live together in upscale San Juan Capistrano, California. Investigation first led to the theory of a business deal gone bad, but a month after the shootings, then-19-year-old Ashton Sachs was charged with murder. Family members say that Sachs was an avid player of violent video games and had been fascinated with the sensational 1989 Menendez murders. Through interviews with various family members and experts, including highly respected child psychologist Ali Mattu of Columbia University, a portrait of Ashton Sachs emerges as a very troubled individual potentially suffering from mental illness. Warning signs of a troubled life were on the surface, and family dynamics played a part in the case. Sachs remains in a California jail and is scheduled to go on trial for the murders in March 2016. Original on-screen text graphic: Ashton Sachs is being held in solitary confinement. Authorities will not confirm reports he has tried again to take his own life. 10/15/16 Update: In the two years since the murders, unexpected developments have occurred: a dispute over who would administer the family estate was settled; Myles Sachs has been awarded custody of his three siblings, including Landon, who is confined to a wheelchair; and Ashton has remained in jail. Ashton declined to be interviewed by 48 HOURS. In September 2016, Ashton fired his public defender, decided to represent himself and surprised everyone by pleading guilty: he intentionally killed with premeditation and deliberation both Bradford and Andra Sachs. On October 14, 2016, Ashton Sachs was sentenced to four life sentences -- all without the possibility of parole. On-screen text graphic for the 10/15/16 updated rebroadcast: Under California law, Ashton Sachs' life sentences are subject to automatic appeal. Interviewed: Orange County Register Meghann Cuniff; reporter/48 HOURS consultant Jack Leonard; Orange County realtor Monte Burghardt; Andra's close friend Nina Lifshultz; weapons expert Nabil Khattar; trauma surgeon Dr. Enrique Ginzburg; Ashton's friend Connor Ward; attorney Mary Fulginiti; Columbia University child psychologist, Ali Mattu; Andra's sisters Lesley Summers and Stephanie Garber. - 10/15/16 48 HOURS: "Driven to Extremes" (10:00 - 11:00p) – a report on the death of millionaire trucking magnate Bill Hall Jr., and the subsequent murder trial of Frances Hall, his wife of 32 years. Bill Hall Jr. was a man in an open affair with a younger woman. On that fateful day, Hall's estranged wife, Frances Hall, was driving on a Texas highway and saw Bill on his Harley Davidson, followed by his mistress, Bonnie Contreras, in the family Range Rover, going in the opposite direction. She did a U-turn and gave chase, reaching speeds of up to 90 miles an hour in an effort to confront Contreras. During the chase, Bill Hall Jr. was hit by the Escalade driven by his estranged wife and ended up dead. Contreras claimed Frances Hall rammed the Range Rover multiple times during the chase and ran Bill Hall Jr. down. Prosecutors charged that Frances Hall intentionally killed him after being driven into a jealous rage. Frances Hall claimed she just wanted to confront her husband's mistress about menacing text messages and had no intention of hurting her husband. On September 18, 2016, Frances Hall was found guilty of murder and aggravated assault. At the sentencing trial, facing a possible life sentence, Hall's attorneys conjured up a bold defense -- sudden passion -- a legal term for a profoundly human moment when one is unable to think clearly in the heat of the moment. Now, some three years after Bill Hall Jr.'s death, his family is shattered, his company has filed for bankruptcy, and Frances Hall received her sentence: two years in prison instead of life. On-screen text graphic: Bonnie Contreras filed a lawsuit against Frances Hall alleging infliction of bodily injury and emotional distress. She is seeking $2.5 million. Bill Hall's estate has filed against Bonnie Contreras seeking items that she allegedly stole from Bill. Interviewed: Nikki Hall (daughter); Hank Hall (cousin); Bonnie Contreras (Hall's mistress); Leigh Cutler and Adam Cortez (attorneys for Frances Hall); Stephanie Paulissen (prosecutor). - 10/22/16 48 HOURS: "Death After Midnight" - a followup to "Death After Midnight", (OAD: 04/11/15), a report on the 2012 death of Ashley Fallis, a married mother of three who was found with a single gunshot wound to the head in the bedroom of her Evans, Colorado home. What is unknown is whether it was suicide, as her husband Tom Fallis maintains, or was it murder, as Ashley's parents insist. Tom Fallis maintains that his wife killed herself with a gun she kept hidden beneath the mattress. Police interviewed him that night, noting he was agitated, gave various versions of events and had scratches on his chest. The coroner ruled Ashley's death a suicide and the police closed the case within days. Her parents were convinced their son-in-law had killed their daughter. Fallis moved to Indiana with the children to go to graduate school. In 2014, a local TV reporter began his own investigation after receiving a tip that something was not right. His investigation led to the case being re-opened and handled by a larger police department in the area. Two years after Ashley's death, Tom Fallis was indicted for murder and arrested in Indiana. In March 2016, the trial began with Fallis' defense team putting on a vigorous defense, often using many of the prosecutions own witnesses to make their case. Also, a family history of suicide was made known. Ultimately the reliability of many witnesses was put in doubt by the defense. The jurors quickly decided the verdict: not guilty. Two jurors agreed to speak and explain their verdict. They are adamant they made the correct decision. Ashley's parents maintain their daughter did not commit suicide. Tom Fallis declined to be interviewed. Original on-screen text graphic: Ashley's parents are fighting for custody of their grandchildren. They have also filed a federal lawsuit against the Evans Police Department, alleging police misconduct. Authorities found no evidence to bring criminal charges against Evans Police Officer Michael Yates for the alleged discrepancies in his report. The court has not yet set a date for Tom Fallis' trial. On-screen text graphic for the 10/22/16 followup: The three children remain in Tom Fallis' custody in Indiana. Jenna Fox and Joel Raguindin are fighting in court for visitation rights. Interviewed: Jenna Fox and Joel Raguindin (parents of Ashley Fallis); Chief Rick Brandt (Evans, Colorado Police Chief); Justin Joseph (KDVR-TV reporter). New interviews for the 10/22/16 followup: Dillon Pierce and Davana Mijares (jurors). Not appearing in the 10/22/16 followup: Bryce Fox-Raguindin (brother); Scott Roder (forensic recreation specialist). 10/29/16 48 HOURS: "Bad Boy" - an investigation into the 2011 disappearance of Shelley Mook, a young mother from Bedford County, Tennessee; her ex-husband Tyler Mook -- the last person on record to see her alive -- and why investigators consider him the chief person of interest in her disappearance. The case exposed strained family relationships and left investigators wondering how Shelley Mook could just vanish without a trace. Shelley Mook was last seen by her 6-year-old daughter entering the home of her ex-husband. Tyler Mook didn't have much to say when questioned by police -- there was no crime scene and no body. Neither Mook -- who used the Fifth Amendment more than 150 times to refuse to answer questions about what happened to his ex-wife in a family court custody case -- nor his family or family lawyers, would speak on his behalf to 48 HOURS. Local authorities also declined to discuss the case. Tyler Mook remains a person of interest in Shelley's disappearance. Eventually, Tyler moved to Florida, where many women found him charming to be around. He was arrested and charged with attempted murder when he attacked an on-again, off-again girlfriend while on a boating trip with his brother and his brother's girlfriend. Tyler tried to drown her because she disrespected his family. No one wanted to defend Tyler, except his one friend, Erica Tucker. At his trial, his brother, Andrew Mook, was forced to testify against him. He was found guilty of attempted murder and sentenced to 12 years in prison. Back in Tennessee, Shelley's case remains open. Investigator Kevin Keele hopes someday to find Shelley's body. On-screen text graphic: Tyler Mook remains a "person of interest" in the disappearance of his ex-wife. 11/05/16 PREEMPTION

11/12/16 48 HOURS: "Buried Truth" - a report on the investigation into the case of Todd Kohlhepp, a South Carolina real estate broker, and now a suspected serial killer. His violent history was discovered after a missing woman named Kala Brown was found chained inside a shipping container on his property this month. This led to information that potentially solved a well-known 2003 South Carolina cold case, known as the Superbike Murders. The police investigation into Brown's missing person case led to Kohlhepp's property. Brown, who had once worked for Kohlhepp, told police that Kohlhepp had shot her boyfriend Charles David Carver dead, and that she had been a hostage for two months. Kohlhepp was arrested. While in custody, he asked for three things before starting to talk, then he told police more than they had ever suspected. He admitted to killing a young couple, later identified as Johnny Coxie and Meagan McCraw last December. In the most shocking twist of all, he revealed information known only to police in the well-known 2003 South Carolina cold case of four murders at a Spartanburg motorcycle shop. Also examined are : (1) the life of the self-confessed killer, who on the outside, seemed to be a model citizen, but who after a troubled childhood, moved to Arizona to be with his father. While there, he sexually assaulted a 14-year-old girl at gunpoint and had then served a 15 year sentence in prison. Includes an interview with his mother Regina Tague; (2) the Superbike case and the feelings of the victim's relatives upon hearing the news; and (3) the discovery of the bodies of Johnny Coxie and Meagan McCraw on Kohlhepp's property. On-screen text graphic: Todd Kohlhepp now has a public defender. His next court appearance is in January. Kala Brown continues her recovery and is staying with friends. Charlie Carver will be buried next Saturday on his birthday. He would have been thirty-three. 11/19/16 48 HOURS: LIVE TO TELL: "Sophia's Secret" (9:00 - 10:00p) - the story of Sophia Putney-Wilson, a Michigan teenager, and her work to expose the growing dangers of dating and break-up violence, following her own years of mental and physical abuse at the hands of her ex-boyfriend Adam Shigwadja. After meeting in 2011, the relationship between 14-year-old Putney-Wilson and 16-year-old Shigwadja seemed to be a typical teenage romance, but it quickly evolved into something much darker. Shigwadja often threatened to hurt himself or her family as a way to control Sophia, and after one attack, where he held her at knife point, she broke up with him. Despite a court order of separation, they started secretly seeing each other again. In 2014, she broke up with him again. Days later, he broke into her bedroom, held her at knife point and set her room on fire. Putney-Wilson was badly injured: Adam had escaped and was on the loose, and the family was terrified. Shigwadja was arrested the next day. He said that he had gone there with a knife and that his only intent was to harm himself and not Sophia. He was charged with home invasion with the intent to commit assault, and with felonious assault because he attacked Sophia with a knife. Shigwadja opted for a bench trial. Sophia testified that she felt she would only be safe if Adam was locked up. The defense argued he never meant to harm her and that his purpose for the visit was to kill himself. The judge found him guilty on home invasion and arson counts, but did not find that the burden was met for the charges of assault with intent to murder. The community was outraged. At sentencing, the judge surprised everyone, when she sentenced Adam Shigwadja to a minimum of twenty-nine years in prison. When questioned, Judge Pamela Lightroet said the uproar over her verdict had no influence on her ruling. On-screen text graphic: Sophia continues to speak with high school students about teen dating violence. Interviewed: Sophia Putney-Wilcox; Kristin Putney (mother); Kiely Putney-Wilcox (brother); Jeff Williams (Assistant District Attorney, Kalamazoo County); Susan Thomas (Adam Shigwadja's mother); Detective Bill Moorian (Detective, Kalamazoo Public Safety) (C: Tracy Smith - P: Josh Gelman, Jonathan Leach, Chuck Stevenson)

- 11/19/16 48 HOURS: "Hunted" (10:00 - 11:00p) - an investigation into the case of a serial rapist, who preyed on women young and old, in multiple states and over a period of years -- and the search to stop him. The rapist worked with military precision, tracking the women's schedules, photographing them during the attacks and then forcing the women to shower or bathe as a way to clear out any evidence. Investigators from two Colorado police departments (Golden and Westminister) and the FBI pieced together the assailant's trail through smart policing, collaboration and luck. In 2011, a Golden, Colorado case, led to a similar case in nearby Westminister, Colorado. In comparing details of the attacks, detectives realized they were on the trail of a serial rapist. That information and another nearby case led them to Marc O'Leary, a 32-year-old Army veteran, who was eventually arrested. O'Leary ultimately pled guilty to sexual assault charges and then agreed to talk about the crimes. This led to a rare glimpse into the mind of a serial rapist, something detectives could never have imagined. Also featured is the story of a young Washington woman who the detectives discovered had been raped by O'Leary. Initially, the Lynnwood, Washington police did not believe her story. After the truth came out, the police force received training regarding this mistake. On-screen text graphic: Stacy Galbraith is now an agent for the Colorado Bureau of Investigation. Edna Hendershot was promoted to the rank of sergeant with the Westminister Police Department. Galbraith and Hendershot both stay in contact with the women Marc O'Leary attacked. Interviewed: Mary (rape victim, not her real name); Stacy Galbraith (Golden CO police detective); Edna Hendershot (Westminister, CO police detective); Jonny Grusing (FBI Special Agent); Bob Weiner (Deputy Jefferson County District Attorney); Amy Wozny (O'Leary's former girlfriend); Julie Pech (potential victim); Rodney Cohnheim (Lynnwood, WA Police Department Commander). (C: Maureen Maher - P: Chris O'Connell, Lauren Clark, Lindsey Schwartz)
- 11/26/16 48 HOURS: LIVE TO TELL: "The Long Road Home" - a report on the recovery of Sebastien Bellin, an international basketball star-turned tech entrepreneur, who was nearly killed in the March 2015 Brussels airport terror attack. His recovery is detailed over the course of eight months as he recovered from the bomb attack that caused him to lose over fifty-percent of his blood and left him with shattered bones and torn muscles. Following his basketball career, Bellin moved to Battle Creek, Michigan with his family and began a new career as a tech entrepreneur. The job involved regular travel to Brussels, including during the tense time in Europe. On March 22, 2015, he arrived at the Brussels airport to fly home and that day ISIS terrorists set off bombs at the airport and at a nearby train station. Bellin was severely wounded. This report takes a look at what it takes to survive an attack and put a life back together -- including Bellin's first-person account of the attack, his refusal to let the terrorists win, how his 15 years as a basketball player in Europe prepared him for the moment his life would change forever, his three months in the hospital, the quest to get back home to his family, hours of intense physical therapy and an inspirational return to the basketball court. On-screen text graphic: Sebastian is back flying to and from Europe. He even flies into Brussels airport. Sebastian is writing a book about his story of survival. 12/03/16 48 HOURS: "The Psychiatrist and The Selfie" - a report on the case against Jacob Nolan, who claims his cousin and psychiatrist, Dr. Pamela Buchbinder, brainwashed him into attempting to kill her former lover, fellow psychiatrist Dr. Michael Weiss, during the time the unmarried couple was going through a custody battle for their son. On November 12, 2012, Nolan attacked Dr. Weiss in his office with a sledgehammer and a knife. Weiss fought back. After the struggle, while covered in blood, Nolan snapped a selfie. He was arrested and charged with attempted murder. At the time of the attack, Nolan was living with Buchbinder, who was also treating him for depression, anxiety, and bipolar disorder. Dr. Buchbinder was also going through a nasty custody battle with Dr. Weiss. Today, Jacob Nolan says that Dr. Buchbinder manipulated and brainwashed him to hate Dr. Weiss and that hatred turned into their plan to kill Dr. Weiss. After the attack, Nolan was in a manic state and taken to the ER. Dr. Buchbinder went to the hospital, but was not allowed to see him. Although there is evidence of Dr. Buchbinder purchasing the sledgehammer, she has not been charged with any crime. Nolan was freed on bail and went to live with his parents in Miami. Dr. Weiss was granted custody of his son. Today Nolan seems rational and insists he was not in control of himself at the time of the incident, and even tried to commit suicide in 2015. In March 2016, the trial began. The prosecution insisted Nolan could have rationalized his thoughts and backed out at any time. The defense argued diminished capacity: Dr. Buchbinder had replaced Nolan's free will with a cult-like mentality. The verdict: guilty. Nolan was sentenced to nine and a half years in prison. He says he is genuinely remorseful for what happened and still says Dr. Buchbinder needs to take responsibility too. Dr. Weiss is raising his son alone, and his attorney says he still lives in fear. On-screen text graphic: The New York City Police Department says the investigation into the attack on Doctor Michael Weiss is "ongoing". But a spokesperson would not say whether Doctor Pamela Bookbinder is a suspect. Interviewed: Jacob Nolan; Debbie and Jim Nolan (parents); Charlie Haines (former police officer); Dr. Sasha Barded (psychiatrist); Rebecca Rosenberg (reporter, NY Post); Roland Acevedo (Weiss' attorney); Steven Brounstein, Robert Stavis, Allison Stavis (defense attorneys); Yale Shih (alternate juror) (C: Peter Van Sant - P: Clare Friedland, Susan Mallie, Chris Young Ritzen, Tamara Weitzman)

- 12/10/16 48 HOURS: "Target Justice" - an investigation into the murders of Kaufman County, Texas District Attorney Mike McLelland and his wife Cynthia, and Assistant District Attorney Mark Hasse. Following the murder of Assistant District Attorney Mark Hasse, who was shot dead outside the courthouse in 2013, and after McLelland had vowed to find his killer, he and his wife Cynthia were discovered dead in their home. Investigation soon focused on the Aryan Brotherhood, a white supremacist group in Texas, and one of the most violent prison gangs, which had declared it would get revenge against law enforcement. But someone else stood out in the investigation: Eric Williams, a lawyer and justice of the peace. Hasse, under McLelland's guidance, prosecuted a case involving the theft of computer monitors from a county office. Police checked Williams out, and it seemed he had a credible alibi. Weeks later, police received a tip that seemed like a taunt to investigators. Weeks later, Williams was charged with the capital murders of the McLellands and Mark Hasse. In December 2014, Williams went on trial. Prosecutors said Williams murdered the McLellands as an act of revenge after being prosecuted for stealing the monitors. The defense made no opening statement and called no witnesses, stating that the prosecution had not made its case. Jurors had no doubt: Williams was found guilty. The most shocking testimony came during the penalty phase when Eric Williams' wife of 16 years, Kim was called to testify. Kim had also been charged with all three murders and had admitted to driving the getaway car. She confirmed her husband's motive was anger and that there were more potential victims targeted. Eric Williams was sentenced to death. On-screen text graphic: Eric Williams' request for a new trial was denied; he has filed for a stay of execution. It can take more than 20 years of appeals before an execution. Interviewed: Lt. Eric Kasper; Lenda Bush (former police officer); Kelley Blaine (court coordinator); Toby Shook, Bill Wirsky (Dallas attorneys); Lt. Jolie Stewart (lead investigator); Sheriff David Byrnes; J.R. McLelland and Krista Ball (McLelland children); Jack Douglas (KTVT investigative producer); DeWayne Dockery (Texas Ranger); Matt Seymour (defense attorney). - 12/17/16 48 HOURS: "The Fight for Melissa" - a followup to "Blaming Melissa", OAD: 02/28/15; Updated 07/18/15. Melissa Calusinski, is a young woman who claims she did not murder 16-month-old Ben Kingan in 2009, while working at a day care center in Lake County, Illinois, despite having confessed to the crime. After new evidence from the coroner's office was brought to light and the cause of Ben Kingan's death was re-classified as undetermined, a hearing was held to determine if Melissa Calusinski would be granted a new trial. Examined are police interrogations, what happens after a confession, and what can happen when a key player in the investigation admits he made a life-altering mistake. Two days after Ben Kingan's death, Calusinski was brought in for questioning; police told her Ben died from a blunt-force trauma to the head and that she was the last adult to have seen him alive. She was interrogated for nine hours, never asked for a lawyer, and eventually confessed to dropping the child in a way that may have led to a head injury. She was convicted of murder, largely on the fact that she had confessed and that the Medical Examiner's report said that the child suffered from fresh injuries to his head. Her family persuaded a newly-elected coroner, Dr. Thomas Rudd, to re-examine the evidence. His findings revealed an older head injury - a significant discovery. Eventually, state pathologist Dr. Eupil Choi admitted to missing the old injury in his report. With this information, attorney Kathleen Zellner, who specializes in cases pertaining to false confessions, said that Melissa Calusinski did not receive a fair trial. Advocates say that, under extreme conditions, 60% of people confess to crimes they did not commit. The police say they played by the rules. Two courts have allowed the conviction to stand. Attorney Zellner believed the medical evidence needed to be re-examined, but the State Attorney will not pass it on. At the latest hearing, witnesses testified for Melissa, but, the judge decided not to overturn the conviction. Attorney Zellner was not surprised; she says the next stop is the State Appellate Court. On-screen text graphic: Dr. Thomas Rudd is no longer Lake County Coroner. He lost the election in November. Kathleen Zellner will file Melissa's latest appeal in January. Interviewed: Melissa Calusinski; Paul and Cheryl Calusinski (parents); Dr. Thomas Rudd (Lake County coroner); Kathleen Zellner (attorney); Paul DeLuca (Melissa's original attorney); Stephen Schiller and Matt DeMartini (Lake County Assistant States Attorneys); Michael Nerheim (States Attorney); Dr. Saul Kassin (professor, John Jay College/CBS News Consultant); Jeff Mueller (imaging expert); Paul Foreman (former deputy coroner); Dr. Robert Zimmerman (pediatric neuroradiologist). Before learning that fact, however, his kidnappers had intended to force him to withdraw $50,000 from his bank account, and had threatened Alpert's own life and that of his father, if Alpert did not cooperate. After his release, police were able, with Alpert's help, to track down his abductors. The kidnappers (identified only as Lucky, Ren, Sen and Louis) received sentences ranging from 15 years to life. On-screen text graphic: Lucky, Ren, Sen and Louis received sentences ranging from fifteen years to life. - 12/24/16 48 HOURS: "Road to Redemption" (10:00-11:00p) - a report about Jeanne Bishop, who for more than two decades struggled to move on after losing both her sister and brother-in-law, Nancy Bishop Langert and Richard Langert -- murdered in their suburban Chicago home in 1990 by 16-year-old David Biro. In seeking closure to the crime, she pursued a face-to-face meeting with Biro in prison -- which she eventually had. In 1990, Nancy and Richard Langert were found dead in their Winnetka, Illinois home, in what seemed like a home invasion/robbery. Their killer was identified months later as David Biro, a local high school student, who bragged to a friend that he had done it. Biro was tried as an adult and convicted of murder. He was sentenced to two mandatory life terms for the murders of Nancy and Richard Langert, and the judge gave him a discretionary life sentence for the death of their unborn child. For Jeanne Bishop, the crime was a life-changing moment: her actions during the investigation made authorities think she was uncooperative, and, because of the way she was treated by police, she changed careers, going from being a high-powered corporate attorney to a public defender. Still, for 23 years, in order to forgive, she felt she needed to know what motivated David Biro, thus lifting the crushing burden victims often live with. Biro agreed to meet with her, at Pontiac Correctional Center, where he is serving his time. In June of 2012, the U.S. Supreme Court decision deeming mandatory life sentences for juveniles as "cruel and unusual punishment," meant that David Biro could qualify for a reduced sentence, or even be released. The ruling guarantees that there will be a re-sentencing. Jeanne's mother and sister have ideologically different views about forgiveness and the Supreme Court decision, but have agreed to disagree. Original on-screen text graphic: David Biro is one of approximately 80 offenders convicted as juveniles awaiting re-sentencing in Illinois. Across the country, more than 1,000 offenders may qualify for resentencing under the Supreme Court ruling. On-screen text graphic for the 12/24/16 rebroadcast: A judge denied David Biro's request to consider the discretionary life sentence for killing the unborn child. 48 HOURS (continued)

- 12/31/16 48 HOURS: "Mommy Dearest" (9:00-10:00p) - a report on the case of Linda Cooney, a woman who became the center of attention in two shootings - two decades apart - both with the same gun. Linda Cooney, shot her ex-husband, attorney James Cooney, while her 10-year-old son Kevin, peeked out of a hole in his bedroom door. The case rocked their exclusive Palm Beach, Florida enclave and captivated locals when the aspiring socialite went on trial for murder. Investigators say she was found not guilty, largely on the weight of Kevin's testimony. Locals believed she had gotten away with murder. Cooney left Palm Beach, ending up in Las Vegas with her sons. In 2011, Linda Cooney reported another shooting; this time her son Kevin had a gunshot wound to the neck and would end up being paralyzed. Investigation revealed the gun used to shoot Kevin was the same one that had been used to shoot his father. Authorities were shocked when they found out she had asked to have the gun returned to her after the acquittal. Prosecutors believed Linda Cooney was desperate to control her grown sons and tried to kill Kevin because he wanted to move out. The defense painted a different story: Kevin was mentally unstable and accidentally shot himself. But the story that Kevin actually tells about his mother at trial startles everyone -- he himself claims that it was an accident, even though he had told the nurses in the hospital the opposite. However, in the end, it is not enough and Linda Cooney is found guilty on all charges. On-screen text graphic: After the verdict, Bob Cooney tried to visit Kevin. Kevin refused to see him. Updated 06/06/15 On-Screen Text Graphic: After the verdict, Bob Cooney tried to visit Kevin. Kevin refused to see him. Both Kevin and Christopher feel their mother's verdict was just and hope it is overturned on appeal. Kevin refused to see him. On December 16th the Nevada Supreme Court heard Linda Cooney's appeal arguing that evidence of her 1993 murder acquittal was prejudicial and should not have been allowed. A decision is expected in months. Interviewed: Las Vegas Detectives Robert Schmidt and Lance Landholm; Las Vegas prosecutors Shanon Clowers and Michael Staudaher; Bob Cooney, brother of James Cooney; Palm Beach gossip columnist Jose Lambiet; Lt. - 12/31/16 48 HOURS PRESENTS: "Janet's Secret" (10:00-11:00p) - a report on the murder of Janet Walsh and the 34-year search to find her killer, as new forensics technology allows detectives to re-examine evidence left from the initial investigation into the death of the Monaca, Pennsylvania woman in 1979. In a case which confounded investigators from the start, 23-year-old Janet, who had recently separated from her husband, Scott Walsh, was found dead in her bedroom after a night out dancing. Investigation led to a long list of suspects: (1) her husband Scott Walsh; (2) Robert McGrail, a man she met dancing; (3) Ron Ciccozzi, her boss; (4) an unidentified man; (5) Victor Ciccozzi (says he dated her/ no relation to Ron); and (6) Scott Hopkins, a secret lover. The case turned cold; no one was ever arrested. In 2011, a cold case unit took a second look at the case. They re-interviewed the suspects and using technology not available at the time, they were able to identify DNA from the sheets, nightgown and bathrobe tie. Police and prosecutors eliminated everyone except Scott Hopkins, an influential retired businessman/politician. In 2012, Hopkins was arrested. At trial, the prosecution used the DNA evidence to define the case, even calling celebrity forensic pathologist Cyril Wecht to testify. The defense countered with an expert of their own, but in the end, Hopkins was convicted of third-degree murder. Original On-screen text graphic: Hopkins is appealing his conviction based on several arguments. Among them: science cannot determine the time a DNA sample is left at the crime scene. On-screen text graphic for the 12/31/16 rebroadcast: The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has denied Hopkins' request to appeal his conviction. Interviewed: Andy Gall (Assistant Chief of Detectives, Beaver County District Attorney's Office/ original investigator); Francesco Caltieri (Janet Walsh's brother); Brittany Smith and Frank Martucci (prosecutors); Rich Matas (Pennsylvania State Trooper); Sue Niedergal (friend of Janet); Scott Walsh (husband); Robert McGrail (suspect); Rocco Demailo (cold case detective); Scott Hopkins; Larry and Georgeann Musgrave (Hopkins' friends); Karen Hopkins (Hopkins' third wife); Chad Bowers (Hopkins' defense attorney); Dr. Cyril Wecht (forensic pathologist); and Dr. Mark Perlin (defense expert). Heart Walk	E Station involvement in community	10.1.16	3 Hours	$525 donation (plus air time in 3rd quarter)	On Saturday, October 1, 2016 the station participated in the American Heart Association Heart Walk in Joplin, MO. Historic Preservation	E Station involvement in community	10.1.16	4 Hours	$450 (plus air time in 3rd quarter)	The station participated in the 2nd Annual Laborer Built to benefit Phelps House on Saturday, October 1, 2016. The station provided its photo booth to the event which provides historic preservation funds for the Phelps House in Carthage, MO. When you hear the words "historic preservation," do you immediately think "mosses fest?" Do you immediately imagine little old ladies living in dusty Victorian homes with lots of lace and daises everywhere? You probably won't admit it. However, in the interest of showing how relevant historic preservation is to you and to Carthage, here is a top-ten list of why preservation should and does matter. With HISTORIC PRESERVATION MATTERS TO CARTHAGE 1. Historic preservation means there are real "There is the Heart" which are shared by a whole community. Its history and historical structures provide a community with memories and a sense of identity and uniqueness. For example, who in Carthage doesn't identify with the Jasper 2. Historic preservation encourages heritage tourism. Heritage visitors want to visit our kind of town, and they have a big impact on the local economy. They stay longer, spend more money, and will spread the word and return if a community has something to offer. 3. It supports small business. Older, smaller buildings provide ideal locations for small business owners. 4. It contributes to job creation, for example renovation and construction work, tourism, small businesses, the service sector. 5. And as a result, money stays in the community! 6. Historic buildings and districts help to stabilize and support property values. Study after study has shown that residential historic districts increase property values of all residences within the district, not just the historic homes. 7. Historic preservation improves "walkability." Historic districts are an important component of what makes a city attractive to live in. The livability of a city attracts new people, new talent and new businesses. 8. It is the original green movement. All of the materials, labor and energy used to construct an older building have already been used. And many old buildings because of how they were designed use less operating energy and/or can take advantage of passive energy. Preservation saves not just the past but also the future. 9. Old buildings are very often works of art - they bring beauty to a community. In many cases through artful skills that no longer exist. 10. Historic preservation education is - historic structures and places tell us about our past. There are lessons to be learned from the geography of a battlefield, the physical location of a building, the building materials and on-site workmanship (or not) of an old home, servants' quarters (or not), the building's past and how they all tell us how our forebears lived and died. The mission of Carthage Historic Preservation is to advocate for historic preservation at the local, state and national level. To demonstrate period-appropriate historic preservation techniques, and to educate our community about the economic, ecological and cultural benefits of historic preservation.

Veterans, Armed Forces	Station involvement in community	11.12.16	2 Hours	N/A	On Saturday, November 12, 2016 the station showed its support for veterans by participating in the Baxter Springs, KS Veterans Parade held in downtown Baxter Springs. The station entered its 4-State Heroes float and was ridden by station staff. The 4-State Heroes program 4 State Heroes is our tribute to the men and women in our community who have loyally served in the Armed Forces of The United States of America. Most of them are citizen soldiers, Airmen, Sailors and Marines. Men and women from the farm, the city, from the classrooms of our schools and college campuses. Men and women not dedicated to the profession of arms, not skilled in the art of war, just ordinary people like our own sons and daughters. Just soldiers inspired by the sublime cause to defend their country. It is only fitting that this living archive represent the greatest among us so that future generations of 4-State families may better understand the true meaning of sacrifice for freedom's call. Through our framework, our affiliate communities are committed to three main goals: 1. Create communication and resource structures to meet any child's basic needs within 24 hours. 2. Build community leadership capacity to improve problem solving capabilities to address the greater challenges faced by today's youth. 3. Provide service-learning opportunities to provide students and teachers curriculum-based, hands-on service experiences to grow generations of service-minded citizens.

Dear Vance,

On behalf of Southern Media Showcase Day, I would like to thank you for your support of this year's event. The pens were good items to share with the students.

We had more than 375 students from 17 regional high schools in attendance. The competition featured 400 print and video entries. Our guest speaker was one of our graduates, a Los Angeles based video producer and media specialist, Patricia Pham.

I have enclosed one of our program booklets. Additional information about the event and winners may be found on our website: www.mssu.edu/kgcs.

We will have our annual Regional Media Hall of Fame event honoring media professionals on April 6, 2017. I will send more details as that event gets closer.

Sincerely yours,

Judy Stiles

Dear Vance,

It's the time of year for the Communication Department at Missouri Southern State University to work on plans for our annual "Media Showcase Day" and the "Regional Media Hall of Fame Awards" program. KOAM/FOX 14 has supported our programs in the past, and we are hoping you may be able to do so again this year.

Media Showcase Day is scheduled for Thursday, December 1. It will bring hundreds of high school media students to the Missouri Southern campus for a day of presentations and awards recognizing their media work. The Hall of Fame awards will be presented in April 2017, honoring local professionals.

Last year KOAM - TV provided promotional items for Showcase Day. I hope you will be able to once again help us out with a similar contribution. Continued support from sponsors for these events helps us provide a first-class program. Your contribution will be recognized in our program booklets and news releases.

Please contact me at 417-625-9777 or via e-mail at stiles-j@mssu.edu if you have questions.

Sincerely yours,

Distracted Driving, Safety	Public Service Announcement	10.1.16- 12.31.16	1 Hour, 32 Minutes	$10,320	The station airs public service announcements focusing on Distracted Driving and Driver Safety. The popularity of mobile devices has had some unintended and even dangerous consequences. We now know that mobile communications is linked to a significant increase in distracted driving, resulting in injury and loss of life. To stem this problem, the FCC is working with industry, safety organizations and other government agencies to inform and educate the public about the dangers of distracted driving. The FCC is also seeking to identify and facilitate the development of innovative technologies that could reduce the incidence of distracted driving.
Health, Children, Teens	Public Service Announcement	10.1.16- 12.31.16	10 Minutes	$2,865	Public Service Announcements for the University of Kansas Health Education Center and its message concerning the HPV Vaccine for youth. HPV vaccine is important because it protects against cancers caused by human papillomavirus (HPV) infection. HPV is a very common virus; nearly 80 million people—about one in four—are currently infected in the United States. About 14 million people, including teens, become infected with HPV each year. HPV infection can cause cervical, vaginal, and vulvar cancers in women; penile cancer in men, and anal cancer, cancer of the back of the throat (oropharynx), and genital warts in both men and women. When should my child be vaccinated? The HPV vaccine is recommended for preteen boys and girls at age 11 or 12 so they are protected before ever being exposed to the virus. HPV vaccine also produces a more robust immune response during the preteen years. Finally, older teens are less likely to get health check-ups than preteens. If your teen hasn't gotten the vaccine yet, talk to their doctor or nurse about getting it for them as soon as possible. HPV Infographic 3 Things Parents Need to Know about Preventing Cancers The HPV vaccine is given in 3 shots. The second shot is given 1 or 2 months after the first shot. Then a third shot is given 6 months after the first shot. The CDC recommends receiving the full HPV vaccine series.

American Humane is committed to ensuring the safety, welfare and well-being of animals. For more than a hundred years American Humane has been first in promoting the welfare and safety of animals and strengthening the bond between animals and people. Foundation For A Better Life, Families	Public Service Announcement	10.1.16- 12.31.16	1 Hour, 41 Minutes, 40 Seconds	$11,500	The station airs evergreen public service announcement for the Foundation For A Better Life. The Foundation for a Better Life creates public service campaigns to communicate the values that make a difference in our communities. These uplifting messages, utilizing television, movie theaters, billboards, radio and the internet, model the benefits of a life lived by positive values. We believe people are basically good but sometimes just need a reminder. We also believe that the positive values we live by are worth more when we pass them on. The goal of The Foundation for a Better Life is to offer inspirational messages to people everywhere as a contribution toward promoting good values, good role models and a better life. We choose values we hope most individuals would find encouraging and relevant. Then we provide an uplifting message based on each value, in an effort to encourage people to bring out the best in themselves. As a nonpartisan, nonsectarian organization, we carefully design our public service messages to have general universal appeal. The Foundation's small staff works with a network of writers, art directors and production professionals. These individuals represent a wide range of ideals, viewpoints and cultural backgrounds. Their diversity reinforces the idea that values can serve as common ground for all. As a nonprofit organization offering public service announcements, we receive the generous support of air time and media space from many TV, radio and billboard companies. The Foundation does not pay for air time or media space, but rather benefits from donated media space which allows these messages to be seen and heard around the world.
Children, Teens, Safety	Public Service Announcement	10.1.16- 12.31.16	1 Hour, 54 Minutes	$14,000	The station aired a series of public service announcements promoting bullying prevention. The campaign provides information about how to talk with kids about bullying, helping children understand bullying and how to cope with it. Talking about bullying directly is an important step in understanding how the issue might be affecting kids. There are no right or wrong answers to these questions, but it is important to encourage kids to answer them honestly. Assure kids that they are not alone in addressing any problems that arise.

Teens, Adults, Safety	Public Service Announcement	10.1.16- 12.31.16	1 Hour, 47 Minutes	$13,750	The station aired a series of public service announcements promoting texting and driving prevention. Texting and driving is dangerous – that is a fact. Americans are highly aware of and concerned about the issue. More than nine in ten Americans believe sending (94%) and reading (91%) texts while driving is dangerous. There have been many efforts to educate and convey the potential consequences of texting and driving using scare tactics or preachy messaging. And, while research shows that people are convinced that the behavior is dangerous, they are still doing it. In order to address the disconnect between awareness and behavior, we need to go beyond showing people the potential crashes and gruesome end result. We need to address the fact that individuals are personally engaging in a behavior that they know is dangerous. This campaign targets drivers ages 16 – 34 and seeks to hit home the idea that even though people feel impervious to the dangers of texting and driving, they are not. Nobody is special enough to text and drive. - See more at: http://www.adcouncil.org/Our-Campaigns/Safety/Texting-and-Driving-Prevention/shash.gm.jc5Vb.qpuF
Education, Teachers, Children	Public Service Announcement	10.1.16- 12.31.16	1 Hour, 13 Minutes	$11,750	The station aired public service announcements encouraging public support of teachers. Driven by a statistic from the Education Market Association that an estimated 90.5 percent of all public school teachers use their own money to equip their classrooms, frequently at a cost of more than $400 per year, Staples and Katy Perry have teamed up to inspire the public to help classrooms in need by making a donation in Staples stores or online. "I believe in education as a foundation for a great life, so I want to make sure that students across the country are inspired by their teachers and afforded every opportunity to realize their dreams," said Katy Perry. "When I teamed up with Staples in 2014, I learned firsthand how desperately teachers need our support – many of them even dig into their own pockets to provide simple tools that we would expect to already be available in our classrooms. So when Staples approached me again this year, I jumped at the opportunity because I saw the lasting effect our collaboration had on DonorsChoose.org and thousands of teachers and students." The PSA highlights DonorsChoose.org – a charity that has funded more than 700,000 classroom projects for teachers and has positively affected more than 18 million students across the country – and encourages viewers to make their own donations by visiting a local Staples store or StaplesForStudents.org. "Knowing the crucial role that teachers play in bringing learning to life for students, we're excited to join forces with Katy Perry to raise awareness of the need to support teachers across the country," said Frank P. Blidco, Jr., executive vice president global marketing, Staples. "Through Staples' $1 million donation and contributions from customers in stores and online to DonorsChoose.org during the back-to-school season, we can all help teachers make more happen in classrooms."
