60 MINUTES

- 07/08/18      "Redemption" - a profile /interview of Shon Hopwood, a convicted felon who became a Georgetown University Law Center professor. Sentenced prison for bank robbery in 1999 at age 23, Hopwood became a jailhouse lawyer and found success after a case he filed for a fellow inmate for appeal was heard by the Supreme Court. Includes interviews with: Seth Waxman, appellate lawyer and former US solicitor general; Andy Cockle and Trish Billotte, owners of Cockle Legal Printing; Professor Steven Goldblatt, faculty director of Supreme Court Institute, Georgetown Law; Ann Marie Metzner, Hopwood's wife. (C: Steve Kroft – P: Maria Gavrilovic) (OAD: 10/15/17)

07/22/18 "Pelican Bay" - a report on the current reform of solitary confinement practices at California's Pelican Bay State Prison. Originally embraced as a means to counteract gang violence inside prisons, solitary confinement in small Security Housing Units, better known as "the Shu", have since been proven to cause severe psychological damage. Includes interviews with: Aaron Franklin, Pelican Bay inmate; Danny Murillo, former Pelican Bay inmate; Troy Williams, former Pelican Bay inmate; Steve Czufra, former Pelican Bay inmate; Scott Kernan, California State Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation; Craig Haney, psychology professor UC Santa Cruz; Clyde Jackson, Pelican Bay inmate. Includes a brief excerpt of "Pelican Bay", OAD: 09/12/93. (See also: "Pelican Bay", OAD: 09/12/93; "Pelican Bay", OAD: 01/15/95, which was an update on "Pelican Bay"; and "Maximum Security?" -Pts. I & II, OAD: 05/15/05) (C: Oprah Winfrey – P: Rome Hartman) (OAD: 10/22/17)

08/19/18 "Saving a Generation" – a report on the increasingly common practice of grandparents delaying retirement to take care of their grandchildren, neglected due to the parents' opioid addictions. This segment focuses on one of the healthier states struggling with this crisis, Utah. The opioid epidemic has left more than one million children in neglect. Includes interviews with: Cheyenne Nunn, child and her grandmother Cheryl Nunn; Alexia Ansley, Brayden Klaus, Mackenzy Goode, and Ember Goode, siblings with a drug-addicted mother, and Beth Klaus, their grandmother; Bacall Hincks, founder of non-profit Grandfamilies; Ellie Kligman, teenager living with her grandparents; Bill and Cindi Rogers, grandparents of Ellie. (See also: "The Whistleblower", OAD: 10/15/17; and "Too Big To Prosecute", OAD: 12/17/17) (C: Bill Whitaker – P: Robert G. Anderson, Aaron Weisz) (OAD: 05/13/18)

08/26/18 "Collateral Damage" - a report on innocent Chinese-born American citizens accused of espionage-related crimes. The U.S. government is being vigilant against Chinese theft of U.S. trade secrets and intellectual property, but it's causing traumatic experiences for American citizens who are accused of being spies for China, which they aren't. Includes interviews with: Americans accused of espionage-related crimes: Xiaoxing Xi, scientist at Temple University and Sherry Chen, flood forecaster; and Peter Zeidenberg, attorney representing Xi and Chen. (See also: "The Great Brain Robbery", OAD: 01/17/16) (C: Bill Whitaker – P: Marc Lieberman) (OAD: 05/15/16. Includes an update.)

09/09/18 "Aly Raisman" - an interview with Aly Raisman, Olympic Gold Medal gymnast who describes for the first time the sexual abuse suffered at the hands of Lawrence Nassar, a doctor for the US Women's National Team. Includes interviews with: Lynn and Rick Raisman, Aly's parents. Also includes an excerpt of an interview with Jessica Howard from "USA Gymnastics", OAD: 02/19/17. (See also: "USA Gymnastics", OAD: 02/19/17) (C: Dr. Jon LaPook – P: Andy Court) (OAD: 11/12/17 - Includes an update.)

09/30/18 "Inside the Epidemic" – a rare prison interview with a Florida pain clinic doctor sentenced to 157 years for the sale of opioids. While hundreds of doctors have been imprisoned for their role in the opioid epidemic, CEOs from drug manufacturers and drug distributors have yet to be charged, despite their internal knowledge of unscrupulous doctors and clinics. Companies like Mallinckrodt, one of the country's largest opioid suppliers, face little more than paltry settlements due to fearful Justice Department employees. Includes interviews with: Barry Schultz, imprisoned doctor; Dave Aronberg, Florida state's attorney; Carol Tain, mother to David, who died of overdose from pills prescribed by Dr. Schultz; Jim Rafelski, former DEA agent. Includes commentary from Dr. Russell Portenoy, President of American Pain Society. ## 48 HOURS

07/07/18

48 HOURS: "Red Notice For Murder" - a report on the international search conducted by Nadia Ford and private detective Herman Weisberg for Viktoria Nasyrova, a Russian woman suspected of the 2014 murder of Ford's mother, Alla Aleksenko, in her Russian hometown and of stealing her money and other valuables. Nasyrova was believed to be the last person to see her alive. When Aleksenko vanished, Ford went to Russia where she spent several months unraveling the mystery of what happened to her mother. Her investigation led to the discovery of a traffic cam video of Nasyrova driving with Aleksenko's body in the front seat of the rental car. Nasyrova fled the country when she found herself with a Red Notice on Interpol's list of most wanted fugitives. Later, to Ford's disbelief, she discovered Nasyrova was living in Brooklyn, NY, just blocks away from her own home. After the NYPD could not locate her, Ford enlisted former police officer and private detective Herman Weisberg to continue the search. He hit paydirt - discovering Nasyrova was continuing her life of crime with several other victims, from a man who met her on a dating site, to a woman with similar looks who believes she was out to kill her and steal her identity. He closely examined her online life and was able to track the alleged killer down. Police arrested her. She remains in custody. Original on-screen text graphic: Viktoria Nasyrova has been in jail for 7 months. She will stand trial in New York for her alleged crimes. Russia will then formally request Viktoria Nasyrova be sent back to stand trial for the murder of Nadia's mother. On-screen text graphic for the 07/07/18 rebroadcast: Viktoria Nasyrova has been in jail since March 2017. Nasyrova will stand trial in New York for her alleged crimes. Russia will then formally request Nasyrova be sent back to stand trial for the murder of Nadia's mother. Interviewed: Nadia Ford; Herman Weisberg; Ruben Borukohov (dry cleaner/victim); Olga Tsvyk (victim). (C: Peter Van Sant – P: Chris O'Connell, Jonathan Leach) (OAD: 10/21/17)

07/14/18

48 HOURS: "The Widow on Solway Road" – an investigation into the murder case against Raynella Leath for the death of her second husband, David Leath, who was found shot dead in his marital bed, the trial, and the mysterious death of the widow's first husband, Ed Dossett, originally classified as an agricultural accident. Raynella and Ed Dossett were a power couple in Knoxville, Tennessee, where Dossett was the Knox County District Attorney General. Tragedy befell them, when Ed was diagnosed with terminal cancer; he then died in a freak accident on the family farm. Six months later, Raynella married David Leath, the local barber. After Leath's death, the wheels of justice moved slowly, and Leath's daughter, Cindy Wilkerson, filed a civil suit against Raynella. Prosecutors took notice and interest was revived in Dossett's death. One theory was that Dossett's unusual death was more about insurance money than cancer. His medical records were reviewed and the cause of death was ruled to be a morphine overdose. In 2009, Raynella went on trial for David Leath's death but the jury deadlocked. In the second trial, she was convicted of first degree murder and sentenced to life in prison. After six years, the conviction was tossed out, because the judge was revealed to have been impaired by drug addiction. In 2017, fourteen years after Leath's death, a third trial begins, but before the jury has a chance to deliberate, Judge Paul Summers (soon to be retiring), grants an acquittal (not guilty), dismissing the case; saying that prosecution had not met its case. Under Tennessee law, there is no appeal. Prosecutors are stunned. Jurors believe that, had they deliberated, they would have convicted her. Information also came to light about her trying to murder another man, Steve Walker, who had found out that his wife had given birth to Ed Dossett's biological child. Raynella Leath is a free woman. On-screen text graphic for the original broadcast and the 07/14/18 rebroadcast: Prosecutors intend to file a petition to exhume the body of Raynella's first husband, Ed Dossett, to gather more evidence. They will decide whether to review charges against her for his death. Raynella has moved back to the farm outside Knoxville on Solway Road. Interviewed: Diane Fanning (author); Cindy Wilderson (Leath's daughter); Beth Roberts (Leath's cousin); Steve Crump (prosecutor); Rebecca LeGrand and Josh Hedrick (defense attorneys); Dr. Greg Davis (Kentucky state medical examiner/defense consulting doctor); Steve Walker (intended victim); Paul Summers (trial judge, now retired); Michael Persicano, Jesse Caps, William McMichael (jurors) (C: Erin Moriarty – P: Josh Gaynor, Lisa Freed) (OAD: 09/30/17)

48 HOURS: "Moment of Truth" – an investigation into the death of Patrick Gilhuley, a retired NYPD officer and former bodyguard to stars Angelina Jolie and Brad Pitt. Gilhuley died at the Mount Olive, NJ home of his on-again, off-again girlfriend, schoolteacher Virginia Vertetis. On the night of March 3, 2014, Gilhuley placed a series of frantic calls to his daughter; she heard shots, and within minutes of those calls, he was dead. When police arrived, Vertetis at first lied about an intruder, then said she shot Gilhuley in self-defense. What got Gilhuley and Vertetis to this point is at the center of this complicated case. She claimed he was going to kill her and she shot him in self-defense, but lied about an intruder in the house to police. The prosecution maintains Gilhuley was murdered because her life was falling apart and he was leaving her for another woman. A broken storm door takes center stage during the trial – she claimed the glass broke as Gilhuley slammed it shut. Forensic tests disprove this – bullets from the gun shattered the glass. One of his daughters testified that the murder weapon was Gilhuley's police revolver that was last seen at his house in Staten Island. The prosecution believes Vertetis stole the gun from the house. Vertetis takes the stand to tell her side of the story. After seven hours of deliberation the verdict is guilty of first degree murder. On-screen text graphic for the original broadcast and the 07/21/18 rebroadcast: Virginia's daughter and son did not attend the trial or sentencing. Her mother says Virginia did not want them to see her that way. Interviewed: Ed Bilinkas and Sara McArdle (defense attorneys); Jim Faulkner (third husband); Matt Troiano (prosecutor); Jim Molinaro (forensics expert); Jennifer Gilhuley (daughter); Patti Meudt, John Hoover, Gina Samara (jurors). (C: Erin Moriarty – P: Sarah Prior, Lourdes Aguiar, Alicia Tejada) (OAD: 10/07/17)

07/28/18

48 HOURS: "Death and the Dentist" (9:00 – 10:00p) – an updated rebroadcast of "Death and the Dentist" (OAD: 09/17/16), which includes an exclusive interview with Kingston, New York dentist Gilberto Nunez, who faces second-degree murder charges for the death of his lover's husband, Thomas Kolman, the case against him, and the secrets exposed during the homicide investigation. In 2011, Thomas Kolman was found dead by his wife, Linda, in his car outside of a gym he frequented. At first, no foul play was suspected; Kolman suffered from sleep apnea and was slightly obese. However, the medical examiner found an unusual drug in Tom's system -- midazolam -- a sedative sometimes used by those in the dental profession, and the death was ruled a homicide. Further investigation revealed that his best friend, Dr. Gilberto Nunez, was having an affair with his wife, Linda Kolman. Nunez told police Kolman knew about it and was fine with it. There were hundreds of text messages between all the parties, including some where Nunez impersonated other people. Even the name of the CIA was dragged into the case through a fake ID. It took four years for prosecutors to charge Nunez with second-degree murder and forgery. Nunez hired two top New York City defense attorneys who presented a very different scenario, saying Tom Kolman died of natural causes, insisting this was a murder case without a murder. The verdict: Nunez was acquitted of the murder charges and found guilty on the forgery charges. The Kolman family was unhappy with the verdict. Some former jurors were interviewed and were adamant that there were too many unanswered questions to prove the murder charges. Update for the 04/08/17 rebroadcast: In 2017, Nunez was sentenced for the forgery, insurance fraud and perjury convictions. He will spend the next two to seven years in prison. The Kolman family finds some comfort in knowing that he is behind bars. Original on-screen text graphic: Gilberto Nunez is expected to be sentenced on his forgery related charges later this year. On-screen text graphic for the 04/08/17 rebroadcast: As part of Gilberto Nunez's sentence, he was ordered to have no communication with Linda Kolman. A New York State review board is deciding if Nunez's dental license will be revoked. On-screen text graphic for the 07/28/18 rebroadcast: As part of Gilberto Nunez's sentence, he was ordered to have no communication with Linda Kolman. In May 2018, Gilberto Nunez was granted parole. His earliest release date is September 10, 2018. The New York State review board revoked Nunez's license to practice dentistry. Interviewed: Gilberto Nunez; Detectives Michael Thomas and Brian Reavy; Lieutenant Kyle Berardi; Michele Kolman-Weber (former wife); Jillian Kolman (daughter); Marie Kolman and Tom Kolman, Senior (parents); Mary Ellen McManus (dental hygienist); Murray Weiss (criminal justice editor DNAinfo/48 HOURS consultant); Grant Fredricks (forensic video expert); Yameil Nunez (Gilberto Nunez' new wife); Gerald Shargel and Evan Lipton (criminal defense attorneys); Frances Kwak and Michael Dougherty (jurors). (C: Richard Schlesinger - P: Ruth Chenetz, Dena Goldstein) (OAD: 09/17/16; 1st Rebroadcast: 04/08/17)

07/28/18

48 HOURS: "Murder In Pinyon Pines" (10:00 - 11:00p) – an updated rebroadcast on the investigation into the triple murders and the long quest for justice for Vicki Friedli, her boyfriend Jon Hayward, and Vicki's daughter Becky Friedli. In 2006, in Pinyon Pines, California, Friedli and her boyfriend were shot dead and their house set on fire. Outside the home, investigators found the charred remains of Becky Friedli, in a wheelbarrow. She was burned so badly, they could not determine how she died. Retired policeman Ron Friedli, Vicki's ex-husband and Becky's father, had a theory about what happened: Becky was deathly afraid of fire and he suspected she knew her killer. Police searched for clues but the case went cold. Years later, Luis Bolanos, a private investigator and a former colleague of Ron's, asked if he could get involved; he said he could get the case back in the news. He did just that. Seven years after the murders, police arrested Becky's ex-boyfriend Robert Pape and his best friend Christian Smith and charged them with murder. Their families say they are innocent. But an unexpected courtroom twist turned the case upside down. The District Attorney said there was an “issue” in the grand jury proceedings against Pape, and dropped the charges against them both. However, it may not be completely over; the investigation continues. Original on-screen text graphic: A new DA was sworn in last week. He says he will review the case “with an open mind”. Christian Smith has been honorably discharged from the Army. On-screen text graphic for the 08/01/15 rebroadcast: A new DA was sworn in in January. He said he will review the case “with an open mind.” Christin Smith has been honorably discharged from the Army. Epilogue for the 07/28/18 updated rebroadcast: In June 2016, stating new evidence, the police re-arrested Robert Pape and Christian Smith. In January 2018, they said they had a fingerprint match. In April 2018, almost twelve years after the murders, the trial began. After one month of testimony and ten days of deliberation, the jury reached a verdict: Robert Pape and Christian Smith were found guilty of the first-degree murders of Vicki Friedli and John Hayward. Pape was also found guilty of the second degree murder of Becky Friedli. On-screen text graphic for the 07/28/18 updated rebroadcast: Robert Pape, 30, and Christian Smith, 29, face life without parole. Their sentencing is next month. Robert and Sara Pape were divorced at the end of 2015. Interviewed: Tanya Friedli, Drew Friedli, Ron Friedli (Becky’s sisters and father); Katie Hayward (Hayward’s daughter); Daniela Zermeno (Becky’s cousin); Luis Bolanos (private investigator); Kathleen Pape and Christy Pape (mother and sister of Robert Pape); John Conrad Smith (Smith’s father); Brandon Kugler-Harrison (friend of Pape and Smith); Richard Blumenfeld (Pape attorney); Eduardo Roy (attorney for Becky’s friend Javier Garcia Junior) (Correspondent: Troy Roberts; Correspondents for the 07/28/18 updated rebroadcast: Troy Roberts, Maureen Maher (Introduction & Epilogue) – Producers: Lourdes Aguiar, Peter Shaw) (OAD: 01/17/15; 1st Rebroadcast: 08/01/15)

48 HOURS: “The Evidence Room” (9:00-11:00p) – An exploration of the sometimes emotional and occasionally frustrating preparations that go on behind closed doors before a jury ever walks into a courtroom as detailed in two cases prepared by The Evidence Room, a company run by CBS News Consultant Scott Roder. The Evidence Room prepares visual representations, made by cutting-edge forensic animators for either the defense or the prosecution and they may play a significant part in the trial or they may not, depending on the legal strategies the teams choose to take. As detailed in two cases, Roder and his team prepare analysis as detailed: 1) the murder cases against Colleen McKernan, charged with shooting her husband, Robert McKernan ten times on New Year’s Eve in 2014. Her attorneys claimed it was self-defense and hired Roder to create visual representations of her story. The Evidence Room staff re-created the crime scene to prove the defense theory. As the case went to trial and testimony progressed, the prosecution had the re-creation excluded from the trial. The defense focused on battered woman syndrome and Colleen took the stand to testify. The verdict: a mistrial. At the second trial, with a new defense team, Roder presented some of the animation to the jury, but the result was the same – a mistrial. On March 17, 2017, a resolution was reached in the case: in a plea offer, McKernan pleaded guilty to one count of voluntary manslaughter. 2) in a civil suit, The Cochran Firm client Emmanuel Bracy was left partially incapacitated and in a wheelchair, after being shot by Los Angeles Police detectives. Bracy was the suspect in a string of robberies and police used Vehicle Containment Technology to capture him. Three of the four detectives claimed he had a gun, and a shootout resulted. Bracy was severely injured. Bracy pled guilty to the crime, but that did not stop him from seeking justice. After the shootout, Bracy and the car suffered heavy damage, but there was no gun in plain sight, although one was found wrapped in a cloth, hidden inside an air conditioning vent in the dashboard. The Evidence Room was hired to prove that the gun that was found was not used by Bracy. They re-created the entire scene with cars, guns and ammunition. In the end, after all the time and effort, the jury never saw the presentation. The state's forensic expert was not able to testify, and Roder, as a rebuttal expert on the case was not able to either. After nine days of testimony, the jury returned a judgement in favor of the LAPD. On-screen text graphic: Colleen McKernan is currently serving her sentence at the Ohio Reformatory for Women. She could be released as early as September 2020, by a judge's decision based on her behavior in prison. Interviewed. Interviewed: Scott Roder (CBS News Consultant); Evidence Room employees: Amy Metzgar (logistics coordinator), Patrick Mooney (biomedical illustrator), Marcus Sidoti (criminal defense attorney); Ian Friedman (McKernan defense attorney); Jennifer Dave (lead prosecutor, State of Ohio); Dr. Daniel Spitz (forensic pathologist); Colleen McKernan; Dennis and Kathie McKernan (parents of Robert McKernan); Gary and Jan Owen (parents of Colleen McKernan); Laura Mills (new McKernan defense attorney); Brandon Dunn (Cochran Firm attorney). 08/11/18

48 HOURS: "Death on Valentine's Day" – a retitled and updated rebroadcast of "What Did the Children See?" (OAD: 02/20/16), focusing on Curtis Lovelace, a former Quincy, Illinois prosecutor on trial for the second time, for the February 14, 2006 murder of his wife, Corey Lovelace. The main question in this case is the cause of Cory Lovelace's death -- alcohol abuse or murder. Lovelace was an All-American high school athlete who went on to become a prosecutor who seemed to have everything including a successful career and a loving family. On Valentine's Day 2006, Lovelace returned home after dropping his children off at school to find his wife dead. After an investigation, the cause of death was never determined and the case was closed. Eight years later, in 2014, a Quincy detective reopened the case. This investigation determined the cause of death as suffocation. Lovelace was arrested and charged with murder. The case hinged on two things – science and the testimony of the Lovelace children. The first trial resulted in a hung jury and a mistrial was declared. Lovelace has remarried twice since he wife's death. At the time of the second trial, the family was and still is deeply divided: daughter Lyndsey Lovelace has not spoken to her family since Lovelace's arrest and is moving on with her life. His first ex-wife Erika Gomez was a witness at the second trial. Following the second trial, more than ten years after his wife's death, Curtis Lovelace walked out a free man after being found not guilty. Original on-screen text graphic: Lovelace's new trial date is scheduled for May 31st. Curtis Lovelace's bail was set at five million dollars. He remains in jail. On-screen text graphic for the 03/18/17 Rebroadcast: Christine Lovelace adopted Curtis' three sons. Lyndsay was already 18 years old. Christine and Curtis are undecided if they will return to live in Quincy. On-screen text graphic for 08/11/18 Rebroadcast: Christine Lovelace adopted Curtis' three sons. Lyndsay was already eighteen years old. Christine Lovelace filed a federal civil rights lawsuit against Quincy police and Adams County officials. He claims he was denied due process and constitutional rights and was the subject of malicious prosecution. Interviewed: Bob Goush (journalist); Marty Didriksen (Cory Lovelace's mother); Steve Belko, Beth Dobrzynski (Cory Lovelace's friends); Lyndsay Lovelace (daughter); Cole Miller (EMT); James Keller (Deputy Coroner); Adam Gibson (Quincy detective); Dr. Jane Turner (Asst. 48 HOURS: "Death on the Hudson" (9:00 – 10:00p) – a revised and updated rebroadcast on the case against Angelika Graswald, who has been charged with killing her fiancé Vincent Viafore, during a kayaking trip on the Hudson River in April 2015. New information and evidence may prove there was no murder. Ten days after

Viafore's death, Graswald was questioned by police for approximately 11 hours, then arrested for murder in the second degree. Investigators maintain Graswald killed Viafore for financial gain after their relationship soured. Her defense team argues his death was a boating accident. The case is examined through interviews with legal experts, friends of the couple and an examination of key evidence in the case. 07/29/17 Epilogue: After years of proclaiming her innocence, Graswald pleaded guilty to criminally negligent homicide. The Orange County District Attorney explained the decision to downgrade the charges, saying it would be difficult to prove intent, even though she did admit to pulling the plug from the kayak. Pulling the plug would only cause death when combined with a number of other factors. This plea spares her a possible twenty-five years to life prison term; with time served, she could be on parole by the end of the year. Epilogue for the 08/18/18 revised and updated rebroadcast: On December 21, 2017, Angelika Graswald was released on parole. She had served less than 32 months behind bars. Her future is uncertain; when her parole is completed, she could be deported back to Latvia. Original On-screen text graphic: Angelika has been in jail for more than four months. Her trial is expected in Spring 2016. Angelika's family says they are giving their life savings to help pay for her defense. On-screen text graphic for the 07/29/17 updated rebroadcast: Angelika Graswald is scheduled to be sentenced November 1, 2017. On-screen text graphic for the 08/18/18 revised and updated rebroadcast: Despite her conviction, Angelika Graswald had not forfeited her right to claim to Vincent Viafore's life insurance. His policies reportedly totaled around five hundred thousand dollars. But earlier this week, Graswald and the Viafore's family agreed to a confidential settlement over the life insurance proceeds. Interviewed: Amanda Hoysradt (Viafore's former roommate); Sheri Parte (friend of Graswald's); Monte Nesheiwat (Sheri Parte's boyfriend); Michael Colin (Graswald's former boyfriend); Buddy Behney (kayaker); Jeff Schaack (Cornwell Yacht Club Commodore); Michael Archer (defense expert); Jeff Chartier (defense attorney); Richard Portale (lead defense attorney); Jim Tranium (former detective/interrogation expert) (C: Peter Van Sant – P: Patti Aronofsky, Lourdes Aguiar, Elena DiFiore) (OAD: 09/12/15; 1st Rebroadcast: 07/29/17)

48 HOURS: "Grapes of Wrath" (10:00 – 11:00p) – a report about the 2015 showdown between two millionaires, Robert Dahl and Emad Tawfilis, whose bitter money dispute over a Napa Valley winery business ended in murder. Entrepreneur Robert Dahl was drawn from Minnesota to the Napa Valley wine scene, while wealthy Silicon Valley businessman Emad Tawfilis wanted to be an investor in the lucrative wine business. Dahl invested in two failed businesses -- the first with Dominic Foppoli; and the second with local business couple Greg and Francine Knittel. Dahl still always had money. Dahl eventually partnered with Emad Tawfilis, which also failed. After hiring a private investigator, Tawfilis filed a lawsuit, hoping to get his money back. Dahl and Tawfilis met at the vineyard where they consulted their attorneys via a conference call. They then decided to talk privately. Something went drastically wrong, resulting in Tawfilis running through the vineyard while being shot at by Dahl. Tawfilis managed to call 911. Police arrived at the scene to find him shot in the head. Dahl tried to escape, but after a chase, committed suicide. They found other articles in his truck that suggested he had other victims in mind. On-screen text graphic: Dahl's wife and kids still live in California wine country. The grapes on the old Dahl vineyard were harvested last fall. The property is for sale. Interviewed: Dominic Foppoli (Napa Valley businessman); Lew Perdue (tech entrepreneur/wine writer); Francine and Greg Knittel (Napa Valley business couple); Myles Davis (electrician who worked for Dahl); Jonathan Kesselman (film director/Tawfilis friend); Steve Burch (winemaker); Dawn King (private investigator); David Wiseblood (Tawfilis' attorney); Jasmin Duel and Kousha Berokim (Dahl's attorneys). 48 HOURS: "Sins of the Father" (9:00 – 10:00p) – a followup to 48 HOURS: "The Last Confession" (OAD: 03/01/14; 1st rebroadcast: 07/26/14; 2nd Updated Rebroadcast: 04/16/16), which was a report on the investigation into the 1960 murder of Irena Garza, in McAllen, Texas, and the efforts that family members and police have taken to bring the suspect, a Roman Catholic priest, to trial for the crime. Nearly 60 years after Irene Garza disappeared after going to confession on Easter weekend, the priest accused of murdering her goes on trial. In 1960, Irene Garza told her family she was going to church for confession but never returned home. Five days later, her body was found in a drainage canal. Police say she was beaten, sexually assaulted and suffocated. The investigation kept leading to Father Feit, who admitted hearing her last confession in the church rectory. Information about another attack, also led to Father Feit. He pled no contest to aggravated assault and was fined, but the Irene Garza case went cold. Rumors swirled that there was a conspiracy between the church and the authorities. Feit was re-assigned. In 2002, the McAllen Police Department asked the Texas Rangers' cold case unit to re-examine the evidence. The investigation took a dramatic turn when a former monk, Dale Tacheney, told police that Feit admitted to killing a young woman while Tacheney was a counselor at a monastery. Despite the new finding, Hidalgo County District Attorney Rene Guerra did not believe the case was strong enough to take to court. In 2016, the new District Attorney said he had new facts and evidence and that a jury would get past the threshold of reasonable doubt in this case. John Feit was arrested, and flown back to Texas to stand trial. In December 2017, at trial, the latest details, including evidence and testimony from witnesses that the prosecution said was evidence of the long-suspected cover-up between authorities and the church lead to a guilty verdict in this case. Original on-screen text graphic: Former DA Rene Guerra says he has no regrets about how he handled the Irene Garza case. He plans to make another run for the DA's office this year. 48 HOURS PRESENTS: LIVE TO TELL: "The Long Road Home" (10:00 – 11:00p) - a report on the recovery of Sebastien Bellin, an international basketball star-turned tech entrepreneur, who was nearly killed in the March 2015 Brussels airport terror attack. His recovery is detailed over the course of eight months as he recovered from the bomb attack that caused him to lose over fifty-percent of his blood and left him with shattered bones and torn muscles. Following his basketball career, Bellin moved to Battle Creek, Michigan with his family and began a new career as a tech entrepreneur. The job involved regular travel to Brussels, including during the tense time in Europe. On March 22, 2015, he arrived at the Brussels airport to fly home and that day ISIS terrorists set off bombs at the airport and at a nearby train station. Bellin was severely wounded. This report takes a look at what it takes to survive an attack and put a life back together -- including Bellin's first-person account of the attack, his refusal to let the terrorists win, how his 15 years as a basketball player in Europe prepared him for the moment his life would change forever, his three months in the hospital, the quest to get back home to his family, hours of intense physical therapy and an inspirational return to the basketball court. Original on-screen text graphic:

48 HOURS: "Mystery at Eagle Creek" (9:00 – 10:00p) – a rebroadcast of an updated report on the 2009 death of Rhonda Casto, who went hiking in Oregon's Columbia River Gorge with her boyfriend, Stephen Nichols, only to never return home, as detailed in 48 Hours: "Trail of Tears" (OAD: 03/05/16). In a new interview, Stephen Nichols, addresses what may or may not have happened that fateful day, giving bizarre answers and elusive clues. Before Casto headed out on her hike, she joked to a friend that Nichols was either - "going to propose or kill me". Somewhere along the trail, she slipped or fell 150 feet to her death. An autopsy seemed to support Nichols' version of events, but authorities declined to declare the death an accident, and Nichols was never charged. Investigation revealed several tawdry elements, including insurance policies, a potential love triangle involving Rhonda's younger sister and theft of Social Security payments by Rhonda's mother, Julia Simmons. Nichols moved to China, and began a new life with his daughter. In 2014, a secret grand jury heard evidence and indicted Nichols for murder. He was arrested during a trip home and pleaded not guilty. In 2016, while awaiting trial, Nichols pleaded guilty to two counts of sexual abuse of Rhonda's younger sister, Melanie Casto. In 2017, the prosecution decided to agree to a plea deal of criminally negligent homicide and coercion. Nichols received credit for time served and will remain on parole for three years. He says the reason he took the deal was time was running out for him to regain custody of his daughter. Original on-screen text graphic: About half of Rhonda's million dollar life insurance policy is being held in a court-controlled account for her daughter. The rest of the money has gone to attorneys' fees and Julia Simmons. Stephen Nichols still awaits a decision regarding custody of his daughter, now nine years old. On-screen text graphic for the 09/08/18 rebroadcast: Since this broadcast last aired, Stephen Nichols publicly admitted to having sex with Rhonda's younger sister, Melanie. An Oregon court terminated Nichols' parental rights. He is appealing that decision. 48 HOURS: "Who Killed Fabio?" (10:00 – 11:00p) - a report on the 2017 murder of famed hairstylist and beauty company executive Fabio Sementilli who was found stabbed to death by his pool in Los Angeles, California. At first, police believed he was the victim of the "knock-knock" burglars, a ring targeting Los Angeles celebrities. Sementilli grew up in Canada, and became a superstar in the world of hairdressing. He moved to Los Angeles with his second wife and seemed to live a charmed life. Police investigation revealed that even though the Sementilli house had video surveillance, the DVR was gone. His widow, Monica, was anxious – calling the police every day. Police soon ruled out the burglars – they had never killed anyone before, and an $8000 watch was still on Sementilli's wrist. DNA from blood left at the scene led to Robert Baker, a man with a colorful past, and a member of Monica Sementilli's racquetball league. Finally, clues led them to believe that he and Monica were responsible for the murder, motivated by Fabio's life insurance policy. Monica had been quite unhappy in Los Angeles and wanted to return to her native Canada and had enlisted Robert Baker to help her.

Fabio's sister believes there is more to the story. Both are currently in custody in Los Angeles and will be tried together. There is still one loose end – a third person was involved. Original on-screen text graphic: The knock-knock burglars continue to hit homes in Los Angeles. The trial of Monica Sementilli and Robert Baker is expected to be later this year. On-screen text graphic for the 09/08/18 rebroadcast: The knock-knock burglars continue to hit homes in Los Angeles. 48 HOURS: “Killer Performance” (9:00 – 10:00p) - a report on the 2010 murder investigation of 23-year-old dancer Julie Kibuishi in Southern California, and how her friend, former U.S. Army soldier Sam Herr, became the prime suspect in the case until investigators encountered an aspiring actor with a horrific tale to tell. Kibuishi was found dead in Herr's bedroom, shot twice in the head. Police immediately believed Herr was the prime suspect, but friends and family thought otherwise. While searching for Herr and tracing his ATM and credit card usage, police were led to Herr's neighbor, actor Daniel Wozniak, who told police that Herr confessed to him and was on the run. Suspecting he was lying, detectives continued to question Wozniak, and he became their prime suspect. They also brought his fiancé, fellow actor Rachel Buffet, in as well, and she barely reacted to the news -- another red flag to investigators. Under further questioning, Wozniak confessed to killing both Julie and Sam. He told police he had lured Herr to the theater, where he killed and dismembered Herr, ultimately disposing of his body in a park. Herr then went back and performed in a play. The investigation eventually revealed that Daniel Wozniak planned and executed the murders in order to steal Sam Herr's life savings, which he planned to use to pay for his honeymoon trip with Rachel Buffet. After murdering Sam, Wozniak set Sam up by texting Julie to come to Sam's apartment, where he killed her. Wozniak then went back to the theater and performed with his fiancé in a play. Rachel Buffet and his brother Tim Wozniak were arrested as accessories after the fact. Five and a half years later, in a five day trial, the jury found him guilty in two and a half hours. During the penalty phase, Wozniak's attorney tried to shift the blame Rachel Buffet. Family members addressed the court to speak about Sam and Julie and their friendship. No one spoke for Wozniak. The judge sentenced him to death. Original on-screen text graphic: Rachel Buffet and Tim Wozniak's trial dates are pending. UPDATE for the 09/15/18 updated rebroadcast: Daniel Wozniak went on trial for the double murder of Julie Kibuishi and Sam Herr. After five days, his fate was in the hands of the jury and after five-and-a-half years, he was found guilty and sentenced to death. In September 2018, after a week-long trial, Rachel Mae Buffett was also found guilty. On-screen text graphic for the 09/15/18 updated rebroadcast: Rachel Buffet will be sentenced November 8. She faces almost four years in prison. 48 HOURS: “The Last Ride Home” (10:00 - 11:00p) – an examination of the 2016 case of wealthy lawyer Tex McIver, who shot his wife Diane McIver from the backseat of a car while their friend drove them home. Exactly what led to the gunshot that killed Diane McIver is at the heart of the case against her husband. During the drive home, traffic got bad and Diane told the driver Dani Jo Carter to take the back roads towards the Buckhead section of Atlanta. Tex McIver asked for his .38 caliber handgun, which he kept in the car because he was concerned about the neighborhood they were in at the time, and Diane handed it to him. He told police he fell asleep and the gun accidentally went off, shooting Diane, who was in the front passenger seat, in the back. Carter sped to a hospital four miles away at Tex’s insistence, even though there were closer hospitals. He never called 911. Diane died on the operating table, but not before telling doctors she thought the shooting was an accident. The Atlanta Police Department investigated and decided that it was not intentional. The Fulton County District Attorney charged McIver with involuntary manslaughter and reckless conduct. The District Attorney thought there was more than meets the eye and conducted their own investigation finding out that Tex was broke and even owed Diane money. He also started selling off her belongs with the money going to the estate, not to him, even though the couple kept their finances separate. They charged him with murder, thinking that he killed her because he was desperate for money. The defense says the shooting was nothing but an accident. In March 2018, the trial began in Atlanta and this week, Tex McIver was convicted of felony murder. Interviewed: Anne Schwall (friend of Diane); Linda and Rance Winkler (neighbors); Howard Sills (friend); Dani Jo Carter (friend/driver of vehicle); Bill Rankin (reporter); Vincent Hill (law enforcement analyst/former police officer); Bert Davis (Georgia Bureau of Investigation agent); Bruce Harvey (Tex McIver’s attorney); Paul Howard (Fulton County DA). 48 HOURS: “Death by Text” – an updated rebroadcast about the death of Conrad Roy III, and the groundbreaking case against Michelle Carter, who prosecutors say influenced Roy, via text messages, to kill himself. On July 12, 2014, Conrad Roy died of carbon monoxide poisoning after sitting in his truck with a gas-powered water pump running in the backseat. Prosecutors say Roy was driven to kill himself through hundreds of incessant messages from Carter, who was more than 30 minutes away at the time he died. Carter was later charged with involuntary manslaughter. Her defense team maintains Roy decided to kill himself on his own. As seen through his own videos, Conrad Roy talked about his own struggles with social anxiety, depression and thoughts of suicide. His mother Lynn Roy, also talks about the death of her son and the pain she lives with. Though they lived an hour apart in Massachusetts, the couple communicated almost exclusively via texts, online and by phone. The prosecution maintained Carter could have done something to stop Roy. The heart of the case is the question of whether Carter’s texts and messages pushed Roy to take his life, or would he have done it anyway. Prosecutors argued that Carter played on Roy’s mental health and her actions were reckless; she knew what she was doing and just wanted attention. The defense maintains Carter had her own psychological problems and that she was also involuntarily intoxicated by the antidepressant drug Celexa: she was enmeshed in the delusion that it was a good thing to help him die. The prosecution hoped the judge paid attention to the text Carter sent to her friend a week after his death, in which she admitted she could possibly go to jail. After three days of deliberation, the judge rendered his verdict, completely rejecting Carter’s defense and finding her guilty. At sentencing Michelle Carter could receive twenty years behind bars. The Roy family knows that words have power, and that they can forever change lives. UPDATE for the 08/05/17 updated rebroadcast: Nearly seven weeks after being convicted, Michelle Carter, arrives for sentencing. The prosecution asked that Carter serve 7-12 years in prison. Her attorney requests probation. Judge Lawrence Moniz sentences Michelle Carter to fifteen months behind bars – a sentence that does not please the defense, who will appeal the conviction. Her attorneys request to stay the jail sentence. The judge grants the stay, meaning Michelle will be out on probation until the appeal makes its way through the Massachusetts court system. Neither Michelle nor her family, have reached out to the Roy family. On-screen text graphic for the 08/05/17 updated rebroadcast: Lynn Roy has filed a 4.2 million wrongful death suit against Michelle Carter. The goal is to establish a memorial for Conrad. On-screen text graphic for the 09/22/18 rebroadcast: Lynn Roy has filed a 4.2-million-dollar wrongful death suit against Michelle Carter. 48 HOURS: “Murder on the Dark Web” (9:00 – 10:00p) and “Click For A Killer” (10:00 – 11:00p) - a two-part report on the alarming world of murder-for-hire on the mysterious “dark web”. The two-hour season premiere exposes an international criminal organization in a hunt for a self-described murder mastermind simply named Yura. The six-month investigation, which covered 30,000 miles, uncovered solid information that led law enforcement to arrest people in four separate cases, who were allegedly willing to pay to have someone killed. Includes: (1) “Murder on the Dark Web” - 48 HOURS learned first learned of Yura, the unknown person behind an alleged hit-man-for-hire organization, while investigating the shooting death of Amy Allwine in Minnesota. Police learned of a plot to murder Amy Allwine in 2016. The FBI investigated, but nothing was discovered. From that point on, Amy lived with the knowledge that someone wanted her dead. Another threat asked her to commit suicide. Soon after, Amy was shot dead. Police did not believe it was suicide and immediately suspected her husband Stephen Allwine. Investigation led to the conclusion that Stephen was unhappy in his marriage and divorce was not an option in his life. Stephen had hired Yura, but things did not work out and he finally took matters into his own hands – Stephen drugged and shot her to death himself. After an eight day trial, the jury convicted him of first-degree murder. He was sentenced to life in prison without the possibility of parole. (2) “Click For A Killer” – Anchor Peter Van Sant and the 48 HOURS team investigate deep into the “dark web”, discovering information which lead to arrests in four murder plots. They found that anyone with money, a computer and the right software can find websites advertising hitmen for hire with as much ease as online shopping. With the help of Chris Monteiro, a white-hat computer hacker; and writer Eileen Ormsby, they continue their search for Yura. At one point, Yura agrees to meet with Van Sant in London, but he backs out at the last minute. Then Yura begins to share the names of potential hit targets, turning on the customers who have paid him thousands of dollars in bitcoins. 48 HOURS shared the information with law enforcement. One of the targets identified by Yura was Sydney Minor, a 22-year-old single mother in Tennessee. Told of the plot, she realized her married boyfriend, Brandon States, had ordered the hit, because she refused to have an abortion. Another target includes Tina Jones, a woman allegedly involved in a wild love triangle, accused of trying to pay thousands in bitcoin to have her lover's wife murdered. The team also notified authorities in India, Iran, Taiwan and Singapore about plots. Lastly, they contacted the authorities about the case of a woman named Laurie, in San Luis Obispo, California, who was the subject of a murder-for-hire plot meant to look like an accident. Ultimately, clues led to her step-son Beau Brigham, who was identified as the suspect. In yet another twist, Monteiro and Ormsby raise questions about whether Yura is running a real murder-for-hire site or just swindling people out of money. Authorities aren't sure either. On-screen text graphic: Yura is still generating new customers. One inquiry, just last week, was trying to secure a hit man in New York City. Interviewed: Chris Monteiro (computer hacker); Eileen Ormsby (writer/ CBS News consultant); 1) Terry Raymond (Cottage Grove Detective); Gwen Martin (Cottage Grove Sergeant); Randy McAlister (Cottage Grove Police Captain); Jamie Kreuser (Washington County (MN), Prosecutor); Jane Sharpe (Amy Allwine's friend); Kevin Devore (defense attorney for Allwine); 2) Sydney Minor (target); Justin Kmitch (journalist); Wong Pei Ting (journalist); Dan Dow (District Attorney, San Luis Obispo County); John Bledsoe, Suzie Welsh, Antony Peluso (San Luis Obispo law enforcement officers); John Lehr (Central Coast Cyber Forensics Laboratory); Beau Brigham (stepson of potential victim); Alexis Brigham (mother of Beau). Thanks for joining us. The Savannah Police Department is looking for a woman they believe was involved in a hit and run last night. One person is seriously injured. It happened just before 10 at 44th and Florence streets. A car stopped at the intersection and then went through. That's when a Chevy Suburban - traveling west on 44th - slammed into the passenger side of the car. The person in the passenger seat was seriously injured. Both people in the car were taken to the hospital. A 17 year old who was in the Suburban arrived at the hospital later with injuries. Police believe 34 year old Ayesha Allen was driving the suburban. She may have had six children - from 3 to 17 - in the SUV at the time of the crash. Anyone with information - should call police right away.

Now to an update on a story we broke to you yesterday. We now know where a shooting happened yesterday afternoon on St. Helena Island. Two teens went to the hospital. The Beaufort County Sheriff's Office says it happened near the intersection of Seaside and Ball park roads. The 2 teen boys were shot by a another person around 3. One of the teens was driven to the hospital in a private car. The other teen went to a gas station and met a Beaufort County ambulance to go to the hospital. One of the teens was treated and released last night. The other is still in the hospital and listed in stable condition. Anyone with information should call deputies.

		(STINGER) We have an update on some breaking news we were following Friday morning here on the news at Daybreak. Police in southern Georgia say a standoff involving a former police lieutenant started with shots being fired around 9 Thursday night on Tolomoto Island. Officers found Katies Sasser and Johnny Hall dead inside a home there. Their only suspect was Robert Sasser. He was seen in McIntosh County. Deputies chased him to his home in Glynn County, which turned into a standoff. We did reach out to the District Attorney's office looking for answers. The office sent a statement saying it's looking into if Sasser violated his bond before Thursday.

The News at 7/2/2018 5pm	SEAN: CHATHAM CO. COUNTER FEIT MONEY	Chatham County Police have been looking into the spread of counterfeit bills for several weeks now, last week they told us this area is one of two where they've noticed a concentration of counterfeit cash being passed over the counter to unsuspecting clerks at several businesses. The other area police say counterfeit-ers targeted was near the Highway 17, Quacco Road intersection. These are just a couple examples of bills passed at a convenience store in this shopping center. At first glance this fake 20-dollar bill doesn't look much different from the real one right beside it. And for clerks who might be in a hurry, trying to thin out a long line of customers, it might be good enough to make it to the cash drawer. "There are some good fakes out there. But you can normally feel." Kathie Harrington, who works at the Gateway Fruit Stand at the 204/I-95 intersection, is talking about the feel of the paper. One option... Triple-A's Tow To Go program. It will be available starting at six tomorrow morning until July 5th. All you have to do is call 855-2-TOW-2-GO - and a tow truck will take you and your car to a safe place within 10 miles - for free. The service is only offered in Georgia... not in South Carolina. But services like UBER... Lyft... or a cab... are much cheaper than a D-U-I!	0:00:31

		Chatham Area Transit is receiving a Compassionate Business award from PETA for running the group's anti-fireworks PSA . It urges people not to set off firecrackers or fireworks this Fourth of July because of the harm that they can inflict on animals. The potentially lifesaving ad, which will appear on the interior of 63 buses, shows a dog, cat, and exploding firecrackers with a message about scaring animals. During fireworks displays, dogs have jumped fences, broken chains, torn through screens, and even leaped through glass doors in panicked attempts to escape the blasts.

		A 31-year-old Savannah woman was arrested today after admitted to falsely reporting an armed robbery and sexual assault at her home in March. According to savannah police, Holley Frawley was booked into the Chatham County Detention Center today on charges of false report of a crime and reckless conduct . Police were called to her home in the 100 block of E. DeRenne Avenue, where she stated that a man who was posing as a delivery driver forced his way into her home and then let two more men inside the home. As two of the men collected items, the other raped her. During the investigative process, Frawley admitted to detectives that she fabricated the story.

		Expect a heavy police presence downtown tonight. Tonight will mark one year since a deadly crash and shooting during Independence Day celebrations on City Market. Savannah Police tell us they'll have officers out in City Market, as well as River Street, Hutchinson Island and any other area they expect to find a crowd. Last July 4th, restaurant manager Scott Waldrup was hit by an SUV and killed. The man police say was driving that SUV, Jerry Chambers, is set to stand trial in November.

		So we know safety is top of mind for a lot of you heading to River Street tonight because of last year's deadly July 4th crash and shooting. WTOC wanted to find out who monitors the number of people downtown to gauge how many police need to be on duty. Turns out the City of Savannah doesn't measure crowd size for the fourth of July. The Savannah Police Department does not track the number of attendees either... So the question is if we don't know how many people attend major public events, how does the police department know how to properly staff the event? SPD tells WTOC because they expect large crowds they increase the number of officers. SPD say they analyze the data every year including crime numbers, but one key missing element is crowd size.

Not every stop is a bad stop though, and we got to see one of those today while out on patrol. It's not always about writing citations when Sergeant Danny Walker heads out to patrol the many waterways of Chatham County. But some things they have encountered this holiday week are boaters not having proper lighting, or any at all, while out on the water at night. That violation will get you stopped by officers, and possibly a ticket costing you anywhere from 70 to 120 dollars. While out with Marine Patrol today, though, we got to see two young boaters rewarded with free t-shirts for following a very important boating law. More than a quarter of a century ago, Stanley Jackson was shot to death near this intersection, at 33rd and East Broad. In the fall of 1992, three Fort Stewart soldiers, Dominic Lucci, Kenneth Gardiner and Mark Jones were tried and found guilty of malice murder for the death of Jackson. The men were sentenced to life in prison, and served more than two decades of that sentence when a non-profit group called Centurion picked up their case to prove their innocence. After digging into the court documents and witness testimony, there was a push for an appeal hearing that was eventually granted to overturn the ruling. That hearing was a turning point for the three former soldiers. "An individual in this case recanted and gave statements at the hearings, at the subsequent hearings to the jury trial stating that what he said at the jury trial was not what really happened." That testimony at a habeas corpus hearing was from a Savannah reverend who identified the form

They say between 7:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. - officers responded to four auto break-ins at The Hamptons apartment complex and one at Caribe Condos. The victims said their car had been gone through and various items had been removed. All appeared to have been left unlocked and showed no signs of forced entry. Police hope others will use this as a cautionary tale and a reminder to always lock your car and take your valuables with you if possible.	0:00:38

They tell me they've made it through hurricanes, floods, and they'll get through this experience which is recovering from yesterday's storm. Chainsaw POP It was cleanup central this morning on several neighborhood streets just off Highway 80 on Whitmarsh Island, including Wilma Road. Larry and Pat North have called Wilma Road home for over four decades. Larry says he was on his deck when he spotted the rotation Friday afternoon. "It really looked bad. I thought it was just downtown, but then it started coming and then it started swirling." Larry decided to head inside and before he knew it, the storm was right in his yard. "As I was going through, I thought it knocked the window out because I saw it crashing and everything." 		"As you can see behind me, crews are already trying to repair the roof at Marshpoint Elementary School after that tornado came through yesterday. But there is still one big question that remains, why was there no warning sent out about that tornado?" "The environment was not conducive or really the conditions were not there to produce a tornado. Or at least that's what we thought." Multiple local agencies held a press conference today with new details on yesterday's tornado. The National Weather Service was asked why a warning or advisory was not sent out. "This was a situation where multiple boundaries came together very quickly and actually developed a tornado differently than what you may be thinking about. This was not your classic what we call Kansas tornado that comes from the top down." Morales said it likely developed from the bottom up similar to a water spout. He said these land spouts can happen quickly and cause a lot of damage like at Marshpoint elemen

			A big sewage spill in Brunswick! The Brunswick-Glynn Joint Water and Sewer Commission says an estimated 100-thousand gallons leaked from a pipe near the sanitary sewer pumping station on Bishop Lane - Saturday afternoon. The cause - a "malfunction of a gasket on the 16 inch bypass force main." The sewage leaked into Hog Crawl Creek and the Hidden Lakes Drainage Lake... The commission says the Environmental Protection Division of the Georgia Department of Natural Resources was notified - along with local authorities and the Glynn County Health Department.

Jasper county Sheriff Chris Malphrus says they've questioned two people ... and they're hoping that lead his investigators to an arrest sooner than later. The sheriff says the two men weren't cooperative, but haven't been charged. Investigators are hoping once forensic evidence is processed by the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division, that it will provide more clues as to who fired eight shots, six of those hitting the Fordville Road home Thursday night. Sheriff Malphrus says they believe the shots came from behind the home, near a tree line. And while he couldn't get into too much detail regarding possible motive, Malphrus did reveal this. "Based off the information we have up to this point, that particular residence, this incident was isolated and the residence was targeted." The sheriff said there were no other injuries inside the home. Sheriff Malphrus added there have been some small conflicts between the family living in the home and neighbors, and righ

8/21/2018 5:30pm	RUSS: DBAV FAKE GOODS	These items may look real enough but they are not. They are just some of a record number of counterfeit goods confiscated at U-S ports last year many of them sold on popular websites. We told you about a recent investigation last month that the Government Accountability Office did purchasing items from third party sellers. Nearly half--- 20 out of 47 turned out to be fakes. "consumers are at risk and that's why we say buyer beware." Here's some advice from the Better Business Bureau to help keep from becoming victim. First follow this adage if something looks too good to be true, it probably is. Check the spelling and the grammar on the website and the URL. Scammers often create fake websites slightly changing the spelling of a well known brand or shop in the website address. Only deal with reputable sellers using sites you know. If you are not familiar with the business, you can look it up on the better business bureau website to see if there have been complaints.	0:00:58

Beaufort county held a press conference today and wanted to stress that if anyone is in a flood zone or possible evacuation zone, then they should get out. With the shift in this storm..it makes preparations a little more difficult so the state is covering all angles when it comes to preparedness. The mayor of Bluffton says one of their biggest issues especially compared to last year will definitely be flooding. She says the highways will flood and it will make it impossible for cars to travel the roads and highways. State officials say South Carolina will likely see more rain than they ever have in the area before. So if you are in an area that usually floods, then you need to get out and get out now. You can also check your evacuation zones on the South Carolina emergency app.

Savannah Police are searching for one last suspect in the murder of a teenager. Four are facing felony murder charges. Three of those suspects have been arrested. Police arrested 17-year-old Kaisun Dixon and 19-year-old Tyquarius Washington this week. 17-year-old Yusuf Maxwell was already in custody for a probation violation. The suspect still at-large is 19-year-old Zonniq Maxwell. If you recognize her from this picture and know where she is -- give SPD a call, or use the crimestoppers hotline. This is related to the shooting death of 16-year-old Jaheim Morris, which happened on September 17th of last year.

Eldon Shaffer/parent: "He said that somebody had came up from behind him started choking him, pulled him over the couch and slammed him into the floor. He's got bruising all around the neck, the chest the back." Shaffer says he left for work around 9:30 Friday night, and the attack and theft happened just after 10. Parker's mom was upstairs asleep as it happened and woke up to him screaming downstairs. According to the Savannah Police report, the officer asked Parker how he was choked and he described that the suspect wrapped his arms around Parker's neck and squeezed until he lost consciousness. He also advised that when he regained consciousness, he saw the suspect running towards the back door, and that's when he started yelling to his mom." Eldon Shaffer

Four teenagers now facing felony murder charges for the death of another teen - 16-year old Jaheim Morris. 17-year olds Kaisun Dixon and Yusuf Maxwell and 19-year old Tyquarius Washington are behind bars, and Zonnique Maxwell is still wanted. Morris was shot last September and driven to the hospital where he died. Here's a look at the criminal background of those arrested just days ago for this deadly shooting. We start with 17-year-old Yusef Maxwell, who is already in a youth detention facility in Georgia. We do not have a mug shot because of his age. Yusuf was Morris' half brother, and he admitted to police he was a member of the 11-hundred gang. He was in the car that dropped Morris off at the hospital. Last year, he told police he believed the shooting that killed Morris was likely retaliation from a rival gang. Yusef Maxwell was also involved in one of the most extreme examples of teen violence in Savannah's City Market on July 4, 2017.

The teen accused of killing three people in Savannah's city market last year now re-indicted as prosecutors agree the violence gang related. Jerry Chambers was already indicted on three counts of felony murder for the deaths of Scott Waldrup, Spencer Stuckey and Gabriel Magulias in the July 4th, 2017 crash near city market. Now, the Chatham County Grand jury charges and accuses Chambers and five others of being members of street gangs responsible for those three killings and two others in 2017. TAKE VO: For the year, the county is seeing five percent less crime. Despite the good news, when looking at car break-ins specifically, those have actually gone up since last year. There were 198 car break-ins in the unincorporated areas of the county in 2017 as of July. But so far in 20-18, there have been almost 250 - going up close to twenty percent. Chief Jeff Hadley told commissioners it's completely preventable. Almost 96 percent of the break-ins reported to CCPD have been unlocked cars. JASPER & BEAUFOR TCO 911 OUTAGE

A heads up for people in Jasper and Beaufort Counties today. Emergency Services in both counties are experincing issues -- and your 911 call might not go through. The Beaufort County Sheriff's Office says you may be able to get through with a land line, or you can call the number on your screen right now. Jasper County is asking that you call one of two numbers, which will take you directly to their call center. You can also find these numbers on our website. Both services tell us they're working to correct the issue.

Family of inmates stepped into the South Carolina State House today, to explain the organized strike. They say inmates will refuse to work or buy food from prison canteens. The group of family delivered letters from inmates to the governor, asking for prison reforms. They want more rehabilitation programs, and the possibility of parole for everyone and more. But the director of prisons says there ARE rehab programs in place.	0:00:32

		The Effingham County Sheriff's Office says it was this man - Matthew Logan - who led deputies on that chase. It started in the Churchill neighborhood of Effingham County - an area that's known for drug activity. According to the initial report, the deputy checked the tag of Logan's car and saw that he had a warrant for his arrest with the Pooler Police Department. The deputy pulled the Honda Accord over and asked for names. When the deputy went back to his car to check information - that's when Logan sped off reaching speeds of 118 miles per hour. The chase continued all through from Bluejay Road to Highway 30 to Highway 21 to I-95 South until a deputy was able to perform a pit maneuver on the accord.

I sat down with Effingham County Sheriff Jimmy McDuffie to learn more about the recent high speed chases involving his deputies. Sheriff McDuffie says he doesn't like to see chases, because they can be extremely dangerous, but they happen. Like last Friday, when a deputy tried to stop this man Matthew Logan in the Churchill community. It wasn't long until Logan, a man who was already wanted in Pooler, drove away from the deputy reaching speeds of 118 miles per hour down parts of Midland Road, Bluejay Road, Highway 30, Highway 21, and I-95. One deputy performed a pit maneuver on I-95 just south of the Port Wentworth Exit causing the car to overturn sending three people to the hospital. Logan was treated and released. He's now behind bars. The other two: Lila Emery and Christopher Davis are still in the hospital. Emery has active warrants, so she'll head to jail once she's released. Another high speed chase took place in Effingham County near Clyo this past Monday.

His first official day on the job, Chief Minter met with assistant chiefs and majors to talk about the week ahead. Minter is technically the department's director until he's sworn in, but regardless, he's settling in. This is a picture of Minter in that meeting posted on social media earlier today. In our earlier meetings with Minter, he highlighted three goals he will work to achieve from the start. The first goal is to reduce crime and fear of crime. Second, Minter wants to operate the department with maximum fiscal and operational efficiency. The third is to continue community partnerships. "It's really getting out in the community and getting the community involved in community policing. So that's something that I'll really be working on, trying to build and maintain a stronger relationship with members of the community. And continuing to build on the strong foundation of community policing, that's already in place in the Savannah Police Department."

		36 times this year, and just in unincorporated Chatham County, guns have been stolen out of vehicles, many of them left unlocked. "And those are firearms that end up in the hands of who knows, that could be used to cause harm in our community." To highlight the worst-case-scenario of what could happen when a gun is stolen out of an unlocked vehicle, CCPD put together a video that will be out on social media soon. "Tell me what happened here." "I don't know, I heard some people arguing and then I heard two or three gunshots." "How did the suspect come into possession of the gun?" CCPD hopes the video strikes a chord, and at least reminds unincorporated citizens to double check their doors, and take guns out of their vehicles at night. "We wanted to kind of illuminate that problem and that issue here in Chatham C ounty and use the PSA as an example of what, maybe the worst case example, but nonetheless an appropriate example of what could happen if you do we've reported on some of those credit card skimmers being found in our area in the past. You do need to watch out for themâ€”and not just at ATMs and gas pumps. Take a look at this video showing just how bold some criminals can be. It's surveillance video from a grocery store in Pennsylvaniaâ€”a thief gets some cover from his accompliceâ€”and in one smooth move clicks what is known as an overlay skimmer in place on top of the checkout keypad. When an unsuspecting shopper swipes their card and enters key numbersâ€”the skimmer captures the data, tooâ€”allowing thieves to steal it and make duplicate cards. Police say it's a good idea pull a little on a card reader before you swipe. "So where you put your credit card in...if that component is, the hardware is moving, then that could be an indication that it could be something of foreign nature." Gas pumps seem to be a favorite target for these devicesâ€”you should make sure the security tape on the card reader is fully intact. Inv

Burton Fire and Beaufort Fire put out a house fire last night that left a family of 6 displaced. Just before 11:30 - firefighters were called to the home on the corner of County Shed and Rosieda roads. These are pictures from the scene. The family was able to safely get out of the home. One of the residents says she was cooking on the stove when grease ignited. Smoke detectors went off - waking up the 3 children in the home ages 1 to 10 years old. The Red Cross is helping out the family of 6. Fire officials are using this as an example of why smoke detectors in the home are so important.

This is a new picture - showing the aftermath of the fire on Dairy Farm Road in the Gardens Corner area of Yemassee - Tuesday night. Five firefighters were injured. The Burton Fire District says all of them are home with their families now - healing and resting. This is video captured Tuesday night by Marquise Grant. Firefighters say the store was fully engulfed in flames when they got there. Several other fire departments were called to help battle the blaze. The damage - significant. The Beaufort County Sheriff's Office says the two women in these pictures may be possible witnesses. If you recognize them - please call the sheriff's office.	0:00:45

We're following breaking overnight news out of Chatham County today. County Police say a house on Cresthill Drive caught fire. And it belonged to a Savannah Police officer. The deputy fire chief for the Chatham Fire Department says two people were inside the home at the time. They made it out of the house safely before fire crews arrived. The home suffered heavy smoke and fire damage, leaving the officer's family without a place to stay. The cause of the fire is still under investigation.

Turning now to a story breaking overnight in Savannah. Firefighters say a teenager saved his neighbor from a burning home. The fire department was called to that home on Alaska Street just before 10 last night. They say a 17-year-old Savannah High School student who lives next door saw the flames. He had his mom call 911 while he ran over and saved someone who was sleeping inside the house. No one was hurt, but the home was seriously damaged. Officials say the fire started because of a window mounted air conditioner. The Red Cross is helping the homeowner find somewhere to live.

		Chatham County Police and Chatham Emergency Services responded to a tanker fire that has eastbound Abercorn Extension (HWY 204) at King George Blvd closed. The tanker driver lost control and hit the center median catching on fire. The driver was able to exit the tanker without injury and no other cars were involved. The tanker is leaking sewage and diesel fuel. Clean up will take several hours and police are currently rerouting traffic at HWY 17 until the road is cleaned up. Motorist are advised to seek alternate routes and stay off Abercorn Extension (HWY204) eastbound.

		The Beaufort-Port Royal Fire Department and the Burton Fire District both fought an apartment fire that displaced several people. The fire happened around 6:30 last night at the Parc at Broad River apartment complex. Fire officials say the fire started when a couch caught fire. Nine units have water or smoke damage. Firefighters say everyone was able to make it out unharmed thanks to fire alarms and sprinkler systems inside the units. And check this picture out - Burton Firefighter, Brittany Nicotri, holding a cat she rescued from that fire. The cat was in a third floor apartment.

They say the arrest was the result of an investigation into allegations of inappropriate sexual contact with a student on school property back in 2014. Cabrera was a teacher at Oglethorpe Point Elementary School at the time. Once the school system was notified of the investigation last week - it immediately placed Cabrera on administrative leave. The investigation continues and more charges are possible. Anyone information or knowledge of any other incidents of inappropriate conduct with a students is asked to call police.	0:00:44

WTOC has learned another Savannah State University police officer has left the force over sexual harassment. The University says sergeant Nathaniel Copeland resigned before he could be fired from findings of an investigation. He's accused by three officers of sending sexual messages, and retaliating when they filed complaints against him. Attorneys for those women tell us they're the same who complained about sexual assault and harassment by former SSU police chief James Barnwell, and they're not surprised by Copeland's resignation.

		A new study looks at how U-S schools spend their resources. It found schools have more security guards walking the halls than social workers. The study by the ACLU found there are close to 100 thousand public schools in the country. In all, there are almost 30 thousand law enforcement officers assigned to protect them, and fewer than 23 thousand social workers. At least 10 million students say their school has a resource officer, but *no social worker. A national committee recommends a ratio of 250 students to one counselor. Right now - the IEDA policy for recess says teachers can take away recess for misbehavior. However, IEDA research shows this is a counter-intuitive way to discipline children. VO: This updated policy would NOT allow teachers to revoke recess, AND raises the required time from 10 minutes to 30 minutes each day. They found recess correlates with increased test scores and student performance. They also found lower behavior issues in kids. SOT: "I think we can rest assure that the principles understand that recess is needed throughout the school day and the benefits of the children and all school levels K through 12 ... for those students to be able to disengage academically, physically and emotionally throughout the learning environment." TAG: The first reading for this policy proposal update is tomorrow. I'm meeting with Board President Jolene Byrne tonight about the overwhelming concern following her Facebook Post. You still have several hours to vote today. Those here in Chatham County will also vote on the next Savannah Chatham school board president. Current school board president Jolene Bryne says she's out after her first term. Now, Joe Buck and Betty Morgan are eyeing her spot. During the May primary, five candidates fought for the position. Buck and Morgan received the highest votes, but not a majority which is how we ended up with today's runoff. Whoever takes the seat, they'll have quite the job. Currently, the Savannah Chatham School Board is under a SACS investigation and several members are experiencing tension among others on the board. Both Buck and Morgan say the board needs more respect. Each candidate believes he or she has the right experience for the job.

		A Lady's Island Middle School bookkeeper is in jail, and accused of stealing money from the district. Beaufort Police say Patricia Sams used a school credit card to buy more than 2 thousand dollars worth of food, alcohol and tobacco products. According to a police report, Sams admitted she spent school money on personal items. The Beaufort County School District says it's implementing checks to keep it from happening again. The district also audits each card every month to check charges.	0:01:19

CHARLOTTESVILLE DRIVER
7/5/2018 7AM DAYBREAK DUE IN COURT

The man who's facing a hate crime charge for last summer's deadly attack at a white nationalist rally, is due in court today. James Alex Fields, Junior, has a hearing at a district court in Charlottesville. Fields was arrested last August, suspected of driving his car through a crowd of counter-protesters at the "Unite the Right" rally. He killed one person, 32-year-old Heather Heyer. Fields could face the death penalty if he's found guilty of murder.

	Five people were hurt when a a man drove his car into a group of protesters in Pittsburgh. It happened yesterday afternoon. They were protesting the police killing of 17-year-old Antwon Rose. Police say 58-year-old Gregory Warner was arrested on the spot. Rose was shot last month while running from officers who stopped a car he was riding in. He was unarmed at the time. The vehicle was suspected in an earlier shooting - and officer Michael Rosfeld is now facing criminal homicide charges.

	The Confederate flag will be raised on South Carolina state house grounds again today for one day only. Members of the S-C secessionist party will raise the flag on a temporary pole this morning. Today marks three years since former South Carolina governor Nikki Haley signed the flag removal bill to remove the Confederate flag from state house grounds. The action came shortly after the Mother Emanuel AME massacre in Charleston. https://www.thestate.com/news/politics-government/article214551235.html -- WIS) - Three years ago today, former South Carolina governor Nikki Haley signed the flag removal bill, which called for the Confederate flag to be removed from State House grounds. The action came shortly after nine people were killed in a massacre at Charleston's Emanuel African Methodist Episcopal Church. Haley said that the victim's families showed forgiveness after the incident, which led to the history-making removal of the flag.

New at noon - Crews in Effingham County are working to repair ash roads that were damaged during the winter storm back in January. And if you live near by - you may need to take extra precautions while the work is going on. Effingham County Environmental Health officials and the Effingham County Board of Commissioners will be reaching out to residents in impacted areas. They will be delivering postcards to affected homes prior to the work starting. The postcards are to encourage anyone spending a significant amount of time outside to wear a dust mask - as an extra precaution. The close to 50 miles of damaged roads were covered with dirt and sand following the winter storm. That helped lessen the potential for irritants in the air from the dust.

		We've spoke to several families living in Westlake Apartments over the years who've had a number of issues with the living conditions. Mold building up inside apartments and damage to furniture and other belongings only gets worse with major storm events, like hurricane Matthew and Irma. Conditions got so bad at times, it prompted visits by local elected leaders who called on federal partners for action. While repairs have been made to some of the homes, the complex remains largely in need of updating. Last Friday, Chatham county commission gave the green light to the housing authority of Savannah to issue revenue bonds to help fund renovations to all 100 apartments. According to the housing authority, each unit will get about 50-thousand dollars worth of improvements, including installing energy efficient appliances and insulation. 7AM 7/18/2018 DAYBREAK	730A ZACH: BEAFUROT CO. ROAD PROJOECTS	With more development in the Lowcountry and more people traveling the roads in Beaufort County, county officials say several roads and bridges need some T-L-C. But in order to take care of these roads, the county needs some money. So come November, residents will have to say yay or nay when it comes a one percent sales tax increase. According to the transportation referendum, if approved the one percent sales tax increase would end in four years or once it reaches 120 million dollars - whichever comes first. Now the revenue generated from the sales tax would only be used for tranpsortation projects. One of the projects on the lists is improving a section of highway 278 on Hilton Head Island. There would be improvements between Moss Creek Drive and Squire Pope Road including repairing parts of the bridges which lead to the island.	0:00:50

SC MICROHOSPITAL
11:00 PM APPROVED BY STATE

BEAUFORT, S.C. (July 29, 2018) – The first micro hospital in South Carolina moved one step closer to becoming a reality with the state's approval of the project last week. The hospital will be built and operated through a joint venture between Beaufort Memorial Hospital (BMH) and the Medical University of South Carolina (MUSC), and will offer a wide range of acute care services, including orthopedics, cardiology, general surgery, lab and imaging, as well as emergency services. The joint venture recently purchased 13 acres of land for the new facility at the intersection of Buckwalter Parkway and Bluffton Parkway. The micro hospital was originally slated to be built next to Beaufort Memorial's planned medical office building in Okatie Crossing; however, the decision was made to move the hospital's location after soil tests and surveys at the Okatie site revealed that it would be cost prohibitive to prepare the property for the additional building. Beaufort Memorial will move forward

9/6/2018 NOON	HOSPITALS GENERIC DRUGS	Several major hospital groups have a plan to combat prescription drug shortages and high costs. They're starting their own generic drug company. The new company was announced this morning. The plan is to start producing 14 drugs that are commonly used in hospitals, but are often in short supply. The first medicines should hit the market by the end of 2019. The company's member hospitals could see savings of about 20 percent, and that should get passed on to patients.	0:00:27

FEMA BUDGET
CLAIMS

The Trump administration is pushinb back against a democratic senator's claim about the budget. Oregon's Jeff Merkley says President Trump is moving nearly 10 million dollars from FEMA -- into immigrant enforcement. "I'm simply saying it will have ten million less than it would have, and ten million dollars is significant." "It does not come out of the disaster relief fund that funds everything behind me. That funds everything in the field, so it's a non-issue for us at this moment." Merkley claims the money is coming from a hurricane releif fund -- right as Hurricane Florence threatens the coast. But the department of homeland security clarifies its actually coming from a fund that cannot be spent on disaster response.

9/19/2018	11:00 PM TAXES	As growth skyrockets in any city - the question rises: who will pay for it? Folks living in the City of Richmond hill say - the people moving here. Mayor Russ Carpenter hearing for years... "We want people moving to the area or moving to the community to pay for this growth for their impact. This is exactly what a TAD is going to do." A TAD - a Tax Allocation District - is a designated district where residents pay higher taxes in order to fund infrastructure. "It will be an additional tax on the residents in the neighborhood that are in the new development." With more people coming to the area, things like roads, sidewalks, pathways, and other infrastructure deteriorate - OR - there aren't enough. These additional funds will pay for their construction and maintenance. Bobby Teston was born and raised in Richmond Hill. Now a taxpayer - he feels newcomers should foot the bill. FED RAISING
INTEREST RATES

The Federal Reserve is raising a key interest rate for the third time this year. That's a sign of good news for the economy, but will most likely have you paying more out of pocket. The Fed hiked its short-term rate by a quarter point yesterday. It's the third rate hike this year, and the eighth since 2015. A higher rate affects the price of houses, cars, even credit card interest. President Trump says he's "not happy" about the hike, but the Fed Chair says their decision has nothing to do with politics.

MARINA UPGRADES

AMANDA: With all of the boats here you can see the Downtown Beaufort Marina is a popular place for locals and tourists. The city hopes new leadership brings new opportunities to showcase what they can do better to make it more than just a stop and instead a destination. The city of Beaufort is starting its work with an engineering study, taking a look at underwater infrastructure to see if there are any improvements that need to be made. After that, it will hire a short-term management company to run marina operations for about 18 months to three years. Right now, the marina is operated by a private company, so the city doesn't have a lot of background knowledge on what is needed. The city hopes to learn what's needed during that short term contract to make some long-term plans and hire a company to see them through. SOT BILL PROKOP/ CITY MANAGER, CITY OF BEAUFORT: "We have agreed that we want this to be a top quality, regional destination because our marina offers the

So we need to bring that in, and we also can use the marina to link with businesses becasue the expectations of boaters have changed." He says boaters want more concierge-style services, opening the door for local businesses to be suppliers. The end goal for the city - make the marina a destination, not just a stop.	0:00:50

TRACK: The city released an online survey Thursday morning to figure out what people want to see in the new Savannah arena. "You have a wide range of things that can go in, so it's kind of what do you want to put in there?" TRACK: the five question survey will be open on the city website for three weeks. Leaders are also asking for input through a public meeting at the Civic center september 12th - giving everyone the chance to weigh in, even those not from Savannah or Chatham County. "We need your positive input on this, so we do a great job and don't have something sitting out there that's not going to be used." "It will greatly impact the people on the west side of the city, but we expect the region and beyond to be participants in using this facility." It honors the hardworking lifestyle of the Georgia Salzburgers. Plenty of labor happening on this Labor Day. The Georgia Salzburger Society is hosting its annual Heritage Festival at Historic Ebenezer. The Salzburgers were one of the first groups to move from Austria to America. They settled in Ebenezer, just outside of what's now Rincon, in order to pursue freedom of religion. Today - guests get to take a trip back in time - to the mid 1700s - to learn what it was like to live and work back then. Several demonstrations are taking place, everything from bread making to soap building. "This is our historical aspect of it. This is part of what brought us in. My wife's grandmother used to make soap in the yard, the old school way, and we took that idea and ran with it." But these guys aren't just demonstrators. They're entrepreneurs. 		Back in July of 2013, a referendum vote on SPLOST 6 project fund allocation was to include a million dollars for the expansion of the Hudson Hill Community Center. But that money never went to the project. In fact, it was taken out altogether, along with another million earmarked for the expansion of the Woodville Community Center. Alderman Van Johnson, Dist. 1 "Unbeknownst to Mayor Jackson, myself, other aldermen who served at the time, a last-minute adjustment in the SPLOST referendum resulted in the omission of these two projects and the $2 million allotment. The council voted on it with the understanding that the funds were allocated in the referendum. Unfortunately, they were not." Johnson says he doesn't know how that happened, adding he was told multiple times the money would be there. So now the search is on for Hudson Hill's million dollars. SHUTTING DOWN
ROADS

This is video of crews doing some early practice shots last month in Savannah's historic district. So today, filming will take place here in Johnson Square and the Abercorn Street ramp. According to the City of Savannah, filming should take place between 2 and 9. So if you have lunch plans, you should be fine. This would really affect those leaving work or maybe those coming down for dinner. Here's the roads that will be closed: Bryan Street between Whitaker and Drayton. The northbound lane of Bull between Bryan and Congress. And the southbound lane of Bull between Bay and Bryan. Those sections will be closed the entire time. Several other streets like Bay Lane, St. Julian Street, and Whitaker Street will also be closed for a short time today. The Abercorn Ramp, you know near Factor's Walk, that's going to be closed all day today and pretty much this week. We do have a lot of people that walk. Crews will stop you at times while filming is going on

EXPANSION

The GPA Board approved the funding this week, which will help the terminal better handle 10-thousand foot long unit trains on the Garden City Terminal. The whole project will cost almost 127 million dollars, with a federal grant funding 44 million. When it's finished, the number of track will jump from 8 to 18 with service to 8 cities in the south and midwest, expanding the port's reach. City and state leaders say this project will decrease congestion and delays on streets in Garden, making the project a big benefit for residents.

Corporal Joseph Maciel was killed at an Afghan military base on Saturday. Two other U.S. service members were wounded and are in stable condition. Corporal Maciel was a military advisor to Afghan forces in the region. An insider attack usually means that it was carried out by a member of the Afghan security forces. Officials say the attack is still under investigation.	0:00:15
7AM 7/12/2018 DAYBREAK	NATO SUMMIT CONTINUES	Happening right now in Brussels, President Trump just finished holding a news conference at the NATO summit. He spoke for about 45 minutes, following an emergency meeting of international leaders. President Trump started the conference by saying he's convincing those nations to increase their contributions to defense spending. The current NATO guideline recommends countries spend 2 percent of their GDP to defend their allies. President Trump is pushing them to increase that to 4 percent. The president has previously threatened to pull out of NATO over defense spending. He now says NATO "remains very strong" and says that's no longer necessary. He also says he'll speak with Russian President Vladimir Putin about election meddling when they meet next week. Secretary of State Mike Pompeo also briefly discussed peace talks with North Korea, which he insists are going well. We'll have more from	0:00:51
7/13/2018 7:00 PM IN AFGHANISTAN	HUNTER ARMY SOLIDER KILLED	Some sad news to report tonight---we've learned an Army Ranger assigned to Hunter Army Airfield died in Afghanistan yesterday after being wounded by small arms fire. 32- year -old Sergeant 1st class Christopher Celiz was supporting a medical evaluation landing zone when he was killed. 7/18/2018	7:00 PM UNCASING	SEAN: 3RD CAB COLORS	About half the brigade deployed to Afghanistan last fall, recognized as Task Force Falcon. While there, the soldiers of the 3rd Combat Aviation Brigade provided aviation operations, logistics and medical evacuation support to ground forces. The colors uncasing ceremony is an Army tradition - marking the movement of the brigade into a new theater of operation. "Normally we would do this within our military formation. But given the tremendous support we received from Savannah and the local area, we wanted to do that within the community so that they could share in this military tradition." Re-united with their soldiers about a week ago, some family was on hand to watch, along with visitors just strolling through Savannah's iconic park. "It is a pleasant treat. It's the highlight of our trip, very honestly. Savannah is a fabulous city, but seeing this is the most amazing thing that we've seen. Flying three thousand miles, I would do it for this."	0:00:57
8/1/2018	7AM DAYBREAK	KOREAN WAR REMAINS IDENTIFICATION	The remains of 55 U-S soldiers who died fighting in the Korean War are back on American soil. But it could be years before we know which soldiers those remains belong to. North Korea released those remains last week as part of negotiations with President Trump. According to a U-S Defense officials, only one dog tag was found in all 55 remains. No other identification was included.	0:01:20

7AM 7/9/2018 DAYBREAK	DEADLINE TO REUNITE CHILDREN	Tomorrow is the deadline for immigrant kids under five to be reunited with their parents. A federal judge set the deadline last month. The Department of Justice is hoping to get an extension. They say they are working on processing children's D-N-A test to get them back with their correct parent. A hearing will be held today, to decide on a deadline extension for the Trump administration to reunite young children who were separated from their parents at the U.S.- Mexico border. A federal judge in San Diego ruled on June 26th...that the families must be reunited within 30 days of his order, and by July 10th if the children are younger than five. The American Civil Liberties Union says it appears the Trump administration will miss Tuesday's deadline in more than half of the cases.	0:00:47
7AM 7/12/2018 DAYBREAK	FACEBOOK RUSSIA LEAK	Your personal data might be in the hands of the Russian government right now because of a Facebook app. "Mail Dot R-U" is a Russian internet company that's developed hundreds of apps through Facebook. And up until three years ago, it had the ability to download and store private user information. The apps could also get data from users' FRIENDS. Cybersecurity experts say that means millions of Americans could have been impacted. And that information was most likely acquired by the Kremlin.	0:01:14

7AM 7/12/2018 DAYBREAK	IMMIGRATION CONGRESS	A judge has ordered all migrant families to be reunited by July 26th. Meanwhile, Congress continues to spin its wheels on immigration reform. The spreadsheet included student I-D numbers, GPAs, even home addresses. The U-S Department of Education is looking into how this happened.	0:00:24
7AM 7/26/2018 DAYBREAK	EMBASSY EXPLOSION	Breaking news overnight in Beijing. An American diplomat says an explosive device was detonated near the U-S embassy in China. The explosion was small, but it kicked up a lot of dirt and some debris in a public area. An embassy spokesperson says the only person who was hurt was the person who set off the explosive. Police say that was a 26-year-old man. China's national newspaper the Global Times reports police took away a woman who was trying to set herself on fire earlier in the day. No word on if the two instances are related.	0:00:30

7AM 7/27/2018 DAYBREAK	TRUMP RUSSIA TOWER MEETING	New this morning, President Trump's former lawyer now says the president *knew about his son's meeting with Russian operatives at Trump Tower in 2016. President Trump has denied knowing about that meeting in the past. Michael Cohen now says he witnessed Donald Trump Junior telling his father about the meeting. That meeting was between Trump Junior and a Russian lawyer connected to the Kremlin. Documents show the lawyer promised damaging information on Hillary Clinton during the campaign. The president's current lawyer, Rudy Giuliani, denies Cohen's claims, and attacked Cohen's credibility.	0:00:36
7/28/2018 WKEND 11PM	PUTIN INVITES TRUMP TO MOSCOW	Russian President Vladimir Putin says he is ready to go to Washington and has invited President Trump to Moscow. Neither event will happen right away. The White House postponed Putin's invite from this fall until after the Russia investigation concludes. The sudden interest for Putin to come to Washington could be that the Russians want to see substantive progress at an official level. That would be the diplomatic norm following the Helsinki summit. Putin offered his view on President Trump this weekend - saying he is an unusual politician and a man that makes good on his campaign promises to voters.	0:00:36
7/30/2018 NOON	TRUMP ITALY IMMIGRATION	President Trump is meeting with italian prime minister Jay-sep-pay Con-tey today in Washington. conte and trump have expressed shared views on closing their respective borders to migrants and taking a friendlier stance towards russia. the two leaders are set to discuss increasing cooperation in addressing global conflicts and economic prosperity during the bilateral meeting, which will happen after a private conversation.	0:00:22

7AM 8/1/2018 DAYBREAK	FACEBOOK ELECTION MEDDLING	Facebook says it had to remove dozens of accounts from its platforms that were part of a "sophisticated" effort to influence the midterm elections. The company found 32 fake accounts and pages that posted politically charged messages designed to divide voters. Some of the pages included "Black Elevation," "Mindful Being," and "Resisters." Almost 300 thousand users followed at least one of the pages. Facebook says it hasn't found where the accounts came from, but signs point to Russia.	0:00:40
7AM 8/1/2018 DAYBREAK	NIELSEN ON CYBERSECURITY	Kirstjen Nielsen: "A foreign power launched a brazen, multi-faceted influence campaign to undermine public faith in our democratic process. It was the Russians. We know that. They know that. It was directed from the highest levels. And we cannot and will not allow it to happen again." Several government agencies have been hard at work to ensure the midterms are safe from outside influence. The FBI has set up a Foreign Influence Task Force and intelligence agencies are collecting information on Russian aggression.	0:01:01
7AM 8/1/2018 DAYBREAK	IMMIGRATION IN CONGRESS	A Department of Health and Human Services official says his agency had warned the White House that separating families would be dangerous for children. That was during a hearing where senators grilled several members of the Trump administration about the "zero tolerance" policy that resulted in thousands of migrant families being separated at the border. One official said Health and Human Services were worried about any such policy.	0:00:23

7AM 8/2/2018 DAYBREAK	TSA LEAVING SMALLER AIRPORTS	The TSA is considering getting rid of passenger screening at smaller airports. That's according to a CNN report, which says the agency wants to focus security more at the largest airports. The proposal doesn't list exactly which airports would lose that security measures. But it does say it would include more than 150 airports that serve planes with 60 seats or fewer. The proposal says security doesn't need to be as high at smaller airports because they're less of a target for terrorists.	0:00:29
8/3/2018 NOON	MORE RUSSIAN INTERFERENCE	Top national security officials appeared at the White House YESTERDAY to warn that Russia is actively trying to interfere in the 2018 midterm elections. It's so serious---that the homeland security secretary warns democracy itself is in the crosshairs. Officials say that so far.. the activities do not appear as robust as the 2016 Russian interference effort. But they warn that could quickly change. They say the government is doing all it can for there to be a 2018 election Americans can trust.	0:00:38
6AM DAYBREAK 8/5/2018 SUNDAY	JUDGE AGAIN SAYS DACA MUST BE RESTORED	A federal judge says the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program should be fully restored. District judge John Bates says the Trump administration has yet to justify its proposal to end DACA. He's giving the white house 20 days to appeal. The decision comes as a related case unfolds in Texas. DACA protects about 800,000 undocumented immigrants from deportation that were brought to the U.S. as children.	0:00:54

6AM DAYBREAK 8/12/2018 SUNDAY	NEW TSA SCANNERS	Scott Johnson, TSA Federal Security Director at Dulles International Airport: "The officer will say to them...put all your stuff into one bag...leaving laptops and liquids in...can turn that image around and take a closer look at it." By the end of the year - 15 airports across the country will have machines like this. Right now - officers are still being trained.	0:00:22
7AM 8/15/2018 DAYBREAK	NEW PLAN FOR CARTELS	The D-E-A says it is announcing a new plan to stop drug smuggling from Mexican Cartels. A meeting will be held today in Chicago. In Chicago D-E-A agents will stand beside members of both U-S and mexican police force. The plans include putting more pressure the cartels' financial infrastructure. Plans also call for a new enforcement group based in Chicago that will concentrate on international investigations of cartels. Federal agents say they also have plans on reducing the amount illegal guns flowing into Mexico.	0:00:32
7AM 8/16/2018 DAYBREAK	REALITY WINNER SENTENCING	Prosecutors say the Georgia woman who sent government secrets to the media is facing the longest sentence ever for that type of crime. Reality Winner took a plea deal in June. That deal calls for a sentence of five years and three months in prison. In a new filing, prosecutors say their recommendation is already more harsh than most federal leak cases. But the judge in Augusta could still impose the maximum sentence -- 10 years. Winner is scheduled to be sentenced on August 23rd.	0:00:29

7AM 8/21/2018 DAYBREAK	GRAHAM CYBER THREAT PANEL	And today, Senator Lindsey Graham will lead a Senate hearing addressing Cyber Threats. Senator Graham is the chair of a subcommittee on crime and terrorism. He's been pushing to improve the U-S "cyber finfrastructure" in order to prevent another country from meddling in our elections again. That hearing will be this afternoon, and will include testimony from several experts in the field of cyber security and national intelligence.	0:00:26
7AM 8/22/2018 DAYBREAK	FACEBOOK RUSSIAN PAGES	Facebook is taking even more action against Russian hackers. The company announced it's taken down hundreds of pages linked to both Russia and Iran. More than 600 accounts were removed yesterday. The pages were removed because they were working in a quote "inauthentic way." According to the site, some of those pages are connected to the same groups that tried to influence the 2016 elections. Facebook has had to purge suspicious accounts several times now, in an effort to prevent influence on November's midterms.	0:00:31
7AM 8/23/2018 DAYBREAK	DNC RUSSIAN HACKERS	Another attempt to hack U-S elections uncovered. The Democratic National Committee says they stopped an attempt to hack its database. If that hack was successful, tens of millions of American voters would have had their private data stolen. DNC contractors notified democratic leaders of an apparent hacking attempt. Party officials say no information was compromised. They say they're not sure what party was behind the hack, but it's similar to attacks made by Russia in the past.	0:00:29

7AM 8/23/2018 DAYBREAK	FRANCE KNIFE ATTACK	An update now to breaking news out of France. ISIS is claiming responsibility for a deadly knife attack near Paris. Police in the town of Trappes say a man armed with a knife has killed two person, and seriously hurt at least one other. That attack happened less than 3 hours ago. Police there are also reporting that armed man was shot by officers and died. Officials are also now reporting the victims in that attack were related to the attacker. The AP reports the two people who died were the attacker's mother and sister. This is a developing story.	0:00:39
9/3/2018	11:00 PM GA: IMMIGRATION CHILD SEPARATIONS	The separation of children from their immigrant parents along the border has drawn international attention this year. But the Atlanta Journal Constitution reports that similar separations also take place far away from the border. Here in Georgia - when a parent is deported or detained - , their children may be placed in foster care if there's no other relative to take care of them. If that happens - families may have a long wait as they go through the difficult process of trying to get their child back. This is an issue the interim director of the Georgia Division of Family and Children's Services hopes to address.	0:00:34
7AM 9/5/2018 DAYBREAK	RUSSIANS CHARGED IN NERVE ATTACK	Breaking news this morning -- British prosecutors have charged two Russian men with the poisoning of an ex Russian spy and his daughter. Sergei Skripal and his daughter Yulia almost died after ingesting a nerve agent in March. They live in the English town of Salisbury. Two Russians are now charged with conspiracy to murder, attempted murder and the use of a nerve agent. Police say they believe the two men flew to London two days before the poisoning, and that the nerve agent was stored in a counterfeit Nina Ricci perfume bottle that was sprayed on Skripal's front door. Police say they're not ready to bring charges in a *second poisoning that happened near Salisbury this summer.	0:00:41

7AM 9/12/2018 DAYBREAK	NM COMPOUND SUSPECTS INDICTED	Five people who were arrested at a compound in the New Mexico desert have now been indicted by a federal grand jury. All five suspects are accused of transporting guns and ammo from Georgia to New Mexico last December. A grand jury claims those guns were meant to be used in attacks on government institutions. Three of the suspects recently had some charges dismissed because prosecutors in New Mexico failed to meet a filing deadline. These new charges are on the federal level.	0:00:31
7AM 9/17/2018 DAYBREAK	BORDER PATROL AGENT ARRESTED	A U-S border patrol agent is accused of being a serial killer. 35-year-old Juan David Ortiz is currently being held in a Texas jail, on a 2.5 million dollar bond. He's suspected in the serial murders of four sex workers that happened over ten days. Law enforcement says they found the first victim on September 4th. One woman escaped from him Friday night after he pulled a gun on her. Ortiz was arrested Saturday morning.	0:00:35
7AM DAYBREAK 9/22/2018 SATURDAY	SAV HH TO HOST TSA PRE ENROLLMENT	Soon you'll have the chance to make it to your gate at the airport a little more quickly. The Savannah Hilton Head International Airport says a "Transportation Security Administration Pre Enrollment Event" will begin Monday. The event is scheduled through October 5 and will allow passengers who sign up to experience a more efficient airport screening process by using dedicated security lanes that don't require removing shoes, light jackets, and belts. Passengers will also be able to leave laptops and certain liquids in carry-on bags.	0:00:32

RETIRED
YESTERDAY

Amidst nationwide protests over immigration enforcement, the man at the center of the agency responsible served his last day Friday. Tom Homan no longer leads the immigration and customs enforcement agency. Homan was already planning to retire more than a year ago, when President Trump asked him to stay on as the head of ICE. In April - he announced plans to leave at the end of June. Ronald Vitiello is expected to be named acting director. The white house has not commented on a permanent replacement. Whoever is nominated faces a tough confirmation vote in front of the senate, as criticism over immigration policies continues.

GOWDY FOR SCOTUS?

New this morning, Senator Tim Scott says he wants to recommend fellow South Carolinian Representative Trey Gowdy to the Supreme Court. Senator Scott called Gowdy "incredibly fair," saying he doesn't "choose a side." Rep. Gowdy chairs the house oversight and government reform committee, and famously led the committee investigating the 2012 attack in Benghazi. He recently announced he's leaving politics after this term, to pursue a legal career. One seat is open on the Supreme Court. Justice Anthony Kennedy announced he was stepping down last week. President Trump plans to announce his nominee next Monday.

According to the Wall Street Journal - the move involves the affordable care act's risk adjustment program. That's where money from lower-risk plan enrollees is transferred to higher-risk plans. The program aims to even out the market to encourage insurers to compete based on the value of their plans. However, in March, a U-S district court ruling determined calculations used to figure program payments - were flawed. The centers for Medicare and Medicaid oversees the program and expressed disappointment in the ruling.	0:01:09

The News at 7/6/2018 5pm	SEAN: SAV BUDGET CUTS	Some of the cost cutting will be gradual, and some, like the adoption of a property tax increase, have to happen by the end of next month. Another way to keep hundreds of thousands in the general fund is to start up a hiring freeze that could last the rest of the year. In the mean time, human resources and department heads for the city will be identifying critical need positions and making a case to the city manager on why those spots need to be filled. As the city manager reviews each case, the hiring freeze could be lifted position by position. Until that process plays out, the absence of staff could be noticeable by taxpayers. "There may be some services that we're not able to provide to the level that we as the City of Savannah would like to be able to provide them, because we cannot hire that additional staff that we need, that are on the books that we should be able to fill. 7/9/2018 5:30pm	SEAN: CHATHAM CO BRUNCH BILL	The vote was unanimous at commission for those voting to give voters the choice this November. The Brunch Bill, signed into law this year, gives municipalities across Georgia the option to put expanding alcohol sales on the November ballot. The sales time would go from 12:30 in the afternoon, to 11 am, for the on-premises sale. As written on Commissions agenda, this would include any licensed business that makes at least 50% of its total annual gross sales from the sale of prepared meals or food in all combined retail outlets, also where food is served in a licensed business that makes at least 50% of the total annual income from renting rooms overnight.	0:00:23
------------------------	---	---	----------------

		The city is also implementing a hiring freeze that will go into effect through the end of the year -- saving at least 500-thousand dollars. This will not include jobs like public safety and sanitation personnel. They plan to cut almost 230-thousand dollars of miscellaneous operation costs. Every year - the city financially contributes to the Metropolitan Planning Commission -- they will reduce this year's contribution by 100-thousand dollars. The early childhood program will likely not get off the ground this year now that 1-million has been eliminated. 200-thousand has been eliminated for tree stump removal and nearly 150-thousand has been cut from special events, sponsorships and community celebrations.

		City officials estimate that in four to seven years, this landfill will be full. Sitting just off Dean Forest Road, the current area of the Savannah refuse site has been in use for about twelve years, and still sits on the 130-acre plot sanitation services started on in 1984. There have been several expansions of the site over the years, and this latest will cost 28-million dollars. The City plans on paying for the expansion two ways. 17-million has already been set aside specifically for the expansion fund. The remaining 11-million will come from issuing revenue bonds. The City's general fund will not be impacted. "And this way we can go ahead and just start paying on that note with the monies that are coming in and relieve ourselves of the issue of long-term expansion. Cause that gives us several more years of a place to store our stuff. It's only going to get more expensive." How long exactly will the planned expansion tide over Savannah's sanitation disposal?

Charleston's Traffic and Transportation committee recommended just yesterday that their city council change city code to prohibit the use and rental of motor scooters on the right-of-way, and to give police the ability to confiscate any unattended scooters on public property. Even with some push-back, shared-scooters have had success across the country, thriving in cities like Atlanta. The accessibility and ease of punching up an app, selecting the electric scooter the rider wants, and taking off make it an attractive alternative source to get around. 		It looks like a busy Thursday afternoon for Savannah City Council. According to the agenda, council members will touch upon a couple of big issues. The City of Savannah is considering an evacuation plan for it's critical workforce employees. The city has more than a thousand employees who could be needed for cleanup after a big storm. This is the city's critical workforce shelter located at a water plant outside of Savannah. The area is safe during a storm, but only has room for around 250 employees. So, the city is looking at other facilities to house other employees just in case they're needed. Today, city council will hear more about the Guardian Center, an 830 acre facility that has room for around 1700 personnel. This is an aerial view of the property. It's located about three hours away in Perry, Georgia. Savannah's emergency management director says it sits in a good location which can be accessed by car and plane.

		With bird, The scooters are available at a fixed rate for anyone to use. They would be parked across town where ever the people who use them drop them off. This is video from Charleston. City leaders here say the public safety hazard and clutter around town are the main reasons they're against the scooters coming here. The first reading of the ordinance today just paves the way to adjust the ordinance at a future meeting. It would prevent people from using them in public right of ways and dumping them in public rights of way like a sidewalk. Here's what the ordinance doesn't affect.

The News at 8/30/2018 5pm	SEAN: CITY BUILDINGS FOR SALE	This is the latest round of approved sales of surplus property around the city, that ultimately moves them closer to their goal of centralizing operations and having as many departments as possible under one roof. Votes against the sales came from Alderman tony Thomas and Van Johnson. Thomas thinks its too valuable of a location to give up, and Johnson thinks more effort should go into upkeep. But in an interview with city manager rob Hernandez yesterday, he outlined why it's simply not realistic to hold onto multiple properties around the city, still in need of a lot of work.	0:00:34

9/8/2018	DAY OF SERVICE 11:00 PM TOMORROW	The City of Savannah is hosting a "Day of Service" tomorrow where agencies will come together to provide services to Savannah residents. The "Day of Service" is the second phase of the City's "Connecting the Dots" efforts to address poverty and improve citizens' economic position. Several agencies will be at the Civic Center tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. to offer services.... including applications for Temporary Assistance for Needy Families... Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program .... and Medicaid benefits... transportation assistance... housing ... and more. Margaret Williams / Assistant Dir. Human Services, City of Savannah: (14:20:20:21) "Help is always available. These agencies aren't new. They offer service every day of the week. Monday - Friday through ought the week. 			Tybee's City Council also has a lot to consider today, including possible changes to this year's Pirates Fest. Those changes include establishing a "festival control zone" around the festival grounds. A control zone allows the city to impose different regulations than usual, including banning people they think would be quote "dangerous, disruptive or inconvenient." It would also charge an extra 5 dollars if you plan to drink while inside the control zone. Those changes are similar to restrictions Tybee placed on the Orange Crush Beach Party this year. City Council banned public drinking and restricted how loud the music could be.

			This former southside firefighter wanted to remain anonymous to protect his friends and former colleagues who still work for Southside. I literally watched your story and if I wasn't angry about it -- I would have laughed In our WTOC Investigation that aired on September 5th â€ we told you that Chatham County received $5 million dollars from the state last year but didn't give southside a dime. In fact â€ Southside has missed out on a portion of more than $40 million dollars the county has received over the last 10 years from the state's premium tax. Per state law â€ the county can decide whether to put that money towards fire protection services but Georgia law does say non-profit fire departments are supposed to have a contract with the county in which they serve. Chatham County and Southside confirm that no contract exists â€ protecting residents in the unincorporated portion of the county. STORE
PROPOSAL

So City Attorney Brooks Stillwell stepped in with an explanation. He said over the six years he's served as city attorney, looking back at nuisance cases in neighborhoods, the city has had more problems with convenience stores than any other types of businesses. Stillwell pointed out much of the problem starts with the state-permitted lotto machines inside some of those stores. Brooks Stillwell, Savannah City Attorney "The problem is when you get the people standing around in there gambling for a long time on those machines, they start buying the beer and drinking the beer in the store." The city attorney added the patrons then tend to stand around outside the store in the parking lot for extended periods of time. Stillwell: "So it in effect becomes a neighborhood club house-kind of environment. And we have several neighborhoods, you all have, I'm sure everyone of you have one of them in your neighborhood, your district that you can think of where you've got tw
