60 MINUTES

04/21/19 "Superbugs" – a report on antibiotic resistant bacteria, or "superbugs," and their growing prevalence worldwide. Studies have shown that two-thirds of all antibiotic prescriptions are unnecessary, and overuse by humans combined with the integration of antibiotics into farm animal feed has spurred the evolution and proliferation of antibiotic resistant bacteria. Includes interviews with David Ricci, former patient, infected while teaching in New Delhi, India; Ramanan Laxminarayan, an economist and senior research scholar at Princeton University; Dr. Mamta Jajoo, a doctor at the neonatal intensive care unit at Chacha Nehru Children's Hospital in New Delhi; Michael Baym, a Harvard University biologist; Jeff O'Regan, the first American diagnosed with MCR-1; and Dr. Sarah Turbett, a microbiologist and infectious disease doctor. (C: Holly Williams – P: Denise Schrier Cetta)

04/28/19 "Online Overdose" – a report on fentanyl, a synthetic opioid that has seen a rise in popularity in the U.S. and that experts say is responsible for the recent rise in U.S. overdose deaths. Fentanyl is largely produced in Chinese labs and shipped to the U.S. through the postal service. One particularly profitable drug ring, Gordon Jin, boasts that it ships fentanyl to 5 continents and all 50 states. Includes interviews with James Raugh, whose son overdosed; Matt Cronin and Justin Herdman, U.S. attorneys; Senator Rob Portman (R-OH); and half of the team posing as Gordon Jin. (C: Scott Pelley– P: Pat Milton, Robert G. Anderson, Aaron Weisz)

05/05/19 "Ransomware" – a report on ransomware, a type of computer virus which encrypts files to lock the owner out until a ransom is paid. The virus SAMSAM was unleashed on the Hancock Regional Hospital and city government offices in Leeds, AL, and has typically targeted municipal governments and hospitals – entities that cannot afford to lose their files and prefer to pay the modest ransom of $50,000. Though SAMSAM has gone quiet since an FBI indictment, 26% of cities and counties in the United States now report having to fend off a ransomware attack every hour, and Mike Christman of the FBI says "everyone should expect to be attacked." Includes interviews with Hancock Regional Hospital CEO Steve Long; Mayor David Miller of Leeds, Alabama; head of the FBI cybercrime unit, Mike Christman; Tom Pace, vice president of BlackBerry-Cylance; and Howard Shook, a councilman and chair of the finance committee in Atlanta, Georgia. (C: Scott Pelley – P: Henry Schuster)

05/12/19 "The Most Unlikely Meeting" – a report on the Restorative Justice Project, a program at the University of Wisconsin Law school which introduces victims of violent crimes to the convicts who committed those crimes. The project was founded by Angel Wendt who lost her brother, Michael, to drunk driver Lee Namtvedt. Wendt described her reaction to her brother's death as committing herself to a life of vengeance against Namtvedt, and founded the Restorative Justice Project after confronting and forgiving him so that she could move on. The program has given victims like Wendt the opportunity to move on from their grief and prisoners an opportunity for redemption. Includes interviews with Angel Wendt, Jackie

Millar, and Mary Rezin, all relatives of the victims; Lee Namtvedt, Craig Sussek, and Daniel Cerney, who committed the crimes; and director of the program Jonathan Scharrer. (C: Scott Pelley – P: Aaron Weisz)

05/19/19

“One Loose Thread” – a report on Howard Wilkinson, the whistleblower who discovered and revealed Danske Bank was involved in the laundering of approximately $230 billion coming from Russia and former Soviet Union states. Wilkinson worked at a small branch of Danish bank Danske in Estonia, and when asked by a colleague for help with one of the branch’s large clients, discovered the client was merely a shell corporation whose public record claimed it was a dormant company but was passing up to $20 million a day through the bank in Russian rubles and withdrawing the money as US dollars. After Wilkinson’s whistleblower report, Danske Bank was slow to respond to his concerns and he resigned. An investigation, which is still ongoing, eventually opened into Danske Bank and the money laundering; Wilkinson says it will be very difficult to trace it now. Includes an interview with Stephen Kohn, Wilkinson’s lawyer. (C: Steve Kroft – P: Keith Sharman)

06/16/19

“Huntington, WV” - In a small city overwhelmed by opioid-related drug overdoses, a desperate police department began sending an addiction counselor along on drug raids in a successful effort to reduce the unrelenting demand for drugs. Eventually, drug-related murders came down in Huntington almost 70% and overdoses dropped more than 40%. Includes interviews with the head of the drug unit Rocky Johnson; police chief Hank Dial; mental health addiction specialist Krishawna Harless; and Breanna Dement, who received treatment through the program. (C: Sharyn Alfonsi – P: Ashley Velie)

06/23/19

“High Velocity” – a report on the AR 15, a semi-automatic rifle used in many of the deadliest mass shootings in the U.S., including those at Sandy Hook, Marjory Stoneman Douglas, and the Tree of Life synagogue in Pittsburgh last week. The high velocity bullets have the capacity to shatter bone and leave lethal wounds, more commonly seen in combat, compelling emergency services to update their protocol and stock proper equipment for treatment. Includes interviews with: Rusty Duncan, assistant fire chief, Sutherland Springs, Texas; Cynthia Bir, ballistics expert, University of Southern California; Lillian Liao, trauma surgeon, San Antonio University Hospital; Maddy Wilford, student/victim, Marjory Stoneman Douglas High; Laz Ojeda, paramedic, Broward County EMS, and Dr. Peter Antevy, Broward County Medical Director; Ryland Ward, mass-shooting victim. (C: Scott Pelley – P: Ashley Velie) (OAD: 11/04/18)

“This is no ordinary lawsuit.” – a report on Juliana versus the United States, an unusual lawsuit filed by 12 young Americans, including children, against the federal government for denying constitutional rights to a stable environment by failing to stop the use of fossil fuels. The lawsuit claims the government was aware of the link between greenhouse gases and global warming, going back fifty years -- beginning with the presidency of Lyndon Johnson, yet made no effort to convene. Includes interviews with: Kelsey Juliana, plaintiff; Levi Draheim, plaintiff; Julia Olson, Oregon lawyer, executive director of non-profit Our Children’s Trust; Ann Carlson, environmental law professor, UCLA; and Jayden Foytlin, plaintiff. (C: Steve Kroft – P: Draggan Mihailovich) (OAD: 03/03/19)

06/23/19

60 MINUTES SPECIAL EDITION (8:00-09:00p)

“Malta” – a report on the island of Malta and the scandals involving allegations of bribery, cronyism and money laundering, and the murder of a journalist who was critical of the island nation. The smallest member of the European Union offers a “golden passport program” that sells Maltese citizenship for an expensive cost. Includes interviews with: Mark Anthony Falzon, anthropology professor and local newspaper columnist; Manuel Delia, journalist; Matthew Caruana Galizia, son of murdered journalist Daphne Caruana Galizia; Glenn Bedingfield, Parliament member and advisor to Prime Minister of Malta; Ana Maria Gomes, Portuguese member of Parliament; Edward Scicluna, Finance Minister of Malta. (C: Jon Wertheim – P: Michael H. Gavshon, David M. Levine, Aarthi Rajaraman) (OAD: 12/23/18 on 60 MINUTES)

06/30/19

“Taking Aim at Opioids” – an interview with Mike Moore, the lawyer suing manufacturers and distributors of painkillers for their responsibility in the nationwide opioid epidemic. Formerly associated with the multibillion dollar settlements against Big Tobacco and BP, Moore is trying to prove that states like Ohio should collect billions from drug companies for the crisis that took tens of thousands of American lives. Includes interviews with: Mike DeWine, Ohio Attorney General and soon-to-be mayor; Burton LeBlanc, Louisiana lawyer. Update: Last month, the first of an avalanche of lawsuits filed against the manufacturers and distributors of opioid painkillers went to trial. The state of Oklahoma is trying to convince a judge that drugmaker Johnson and Johnson is legally responsible for the epidemic. Moore says he has evidence proving this is the case. (See also: “Jeffrey Wigand, Ph.D”, OAD: 02/04/96 - *includes footage; “The Whistleblower”, OAD: 10/15/17; “Too Big To Prosecute”, OAD: 12/17/17; “The

48 HOURS

04/13/19

48 HOURS: LIVE TO TELL: "The Vendetta" – the story of Texas judge Julie Kocurek who was shot multiple times in 2015 by an unknown man in the driveway of her home. Arriving home on a typical Friday night, mother and son were confronted by Chimene Onyeri, who pulled out a gun and started shooting. The gunman was armed with bullets which shattered into fragments upon impact, leaving the judge with hundreds of wounds. She was left critically wounded, put in a medically induced coma, and endured multiple operations to save her life. Authorities believed she was the target of someone planning to shoot a judge. Onyeri's girlfriend alerted authorities, but the district attorney's office investigator determined she was not credible and never alerted Judge Kocurek. Onyeri was arrested a few days after the shooting and eventually found guilty. Judge Kocurek discusses the terrifying moments of the shooting, how she found the strength to survive, and her efforts to protect other public officials. On screen text graphic: Other states are now following Texas' lead, moving to improve judicial security. Judge Kocurek is more determined than ever to seek re-election. Interviewed: Judge Julie Kocurek; Will Kocurek (son); Dr. Patrick Combs (craniofacial surgeon, Seton Medical Center); Derek Israel (Detective, Austin, P.D., Retired); Nathan Hecht (Chief Justice, Supreme Court of Texas); Gregg Sofer (Federal prosecutor, Austin, Texas). (C: Jim Axelrod – P: Anthony Venditti)

04/20/19

48 HOURS: "What Happened In Apartment 4C?" (9:00 - 10:00p) – an updated rebroadcast on the 2016 disappearance and murder of Joey Comunale after a night of partying in New York City. While out clubbing, Comunale accepted an invitation to a party at a Sutton Place apartment with people he had just met. That was the last time he was seen. His family's search led to Larry Dilione who had been with Comunale at the Grand Sutton apartment of James Rackover, an aspiring model and the surrogate son of Jeffrey Rackover, the so-called "Jeweler to the Stars". Dilione provided information that made no sense to Comunale's father or his friend Max Branchinelli, who had located Dilione on Instagram. Dilione then provided information about Rackover and Max Gemma, whose father was once the mayor of Oceanport, NJ to the police. The investigation revealed that after the murder, Comunale's body was dumped out of a window at the Sutton Place address, driven to Oceanport, and left in a hole in the ground in a wooded area behind a florist shop. Rackover and Dilione were charged with the brutal murder of Comunale and other crimes. Max Gemma was charged with hindering prosecution and tampering with physical evidence. After the arrest, police discovered that Rackover, was not really the son of the celebrity jeweler, but an ex-con from Florida named James Beaudin, who Jeffrey Rackover had befriended, explaining he was the son he never knew about. At trial, both Rackover and Dilione said the other was responsible. The primary witness in the case was Louis Ruggiero, the troubled son of popular New York television anchor Rosanna Scotto. Ruggiero, a close friend of Rackover's, testified about what Rackover told him happened that night, becoming the first witness who directly implicated James Rackover in the crime. On November 2, 2018, the jury reached a verdict: the former James Beaudoin, now James Rackover, was convicted on all counts for the murder. Dilione's trial is set for January, with Gemma being tried at a later date. Original on-screen text graphic: James Rackover will be sentenced on December 5th. Jeffrey Rackover has moved out of the Grand Sutton and has cut ties to James Rackover. On-screen text graphic for the 04/20/19 updated rebroadcast: James Rackover was sentenced to twenty-eight and two-third years to life in prison, the maximum. Larry Dilione pleaded guilty to manslaughter for a sentence of twenty-three years in prison. Max Gemma pleaded guilty to hindering the prosecution and tampering with evidence for a sentence of six months in prison. Jeffrey Rackover moved out of the Grand Sutton and cut ties to James Rackover. Interviewed: Preetham Dhivakarababu, Stephen Naso, Mac Branchinelli, Todd Green, Mike Mullan (friends of Joey Comunale); Pat Comunale (father); Lisa Comunale (mother); Alex Comunale (sister); Murray Weiss (NY crime reporter); Bob Abrams (Comunale attorney); Maurice Sercarz and Rob Calilendo (Rackover attorney). (C: Erin Moriarty – P: Paul LaRosa, Elena DiFiore) (OAD: 11/17/18)

04/20/19

48 HOURS: "In Jason's Name" (10:00 - 11:00p) – a report on the 2015 death of Jason Corbett, an Irish businessman, killed by his American au-pair-turned-wife and her father. After his wife died, Corbett hired American Molly Martens to care for his children. Their relationship soon turned romantic and they married, moving to the United States. Tracy Lynch, Corbett's sister, says that before his death, Jason professed his unhappiness in the marriage. She believes Martens acted in fear of the family's separation. Both Martens and her father, former FBI agent Tim Masters, maintain Jason had become abusive and they acted in self-defense when he tried to strangle Molly during an argument. The prosecution said it was murder. They were both convicted of second-degree murder in 2017, but have maintained their innocence. Lynch and the children went back to Ireland. In 2019, the state appeals court moved to allow oral arguments in the case. Lynch waits for the appeals court's decision and has written a book about the case. On-screen text graphic: A wrongful death lawsuit on behalf of Jason's children was settled by Tom Martens. There was no admission of wrongdoing by Tom or Molly. Interviewed: Tracy Lynch (Jason's sister); Wayne Corbett (Jason's twin brother); Lynn Shanahan (Jason's long-time friend); Mike Earnest (Molly's uncle); Paul Dillon (Jason's best friend); Keith Maginn (Molly's former fiancé); Connor Martens (Molly's brother); Alan Martin (Assistant District Attorney). (C: Maureen Maher – P: Susan Mallie, Jennifer Terker)

04/27/19

48 HOURS: "A Death in Payson Canyon" – a report the 2017 death by suicide of 16-year-old teenager Jchandra Brown and the discovery that her friend Tyerell Przybycian, who had many opportunities to stop her, helped her complete the act instead. After moving from Idaho to Utah, Brown became depressed and started getting into trouble at school. Brown was discovered dead in the woods in Payson Canyon, Utah after not returning home from work one day. The scene initially looked like a clear-cut case of suicide. Then, police found a video on Brown's cell phone of the suicide, shot by someone else. During the search of the area, Przybycian approached police saying he wanted to explain what happened. He said he was merely helping Brown do what she wanted to do. At the time, there was no law against assisting a person in a suicide. Detectives later discovered new evidence, such as a text Przybycian sent to a friend saying "it's like getting away with murder," and prosecutors charged him with first-degree murder. As the trial approached, Przybycian was charged with witness tampering after urging friends not to testify. He asked for a deal and eventually pleaded guilty to child abuse/homicide and received a sentence of 5 years to life. A law was passed in Utah which considers assisting in a suicide to be manslaughter. On-screen text graphic: If you are thinking about suicide or know someone who is, please call the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline 1-800-273-8255. Suicidepreventionlifeline.org. You can also reach out to the Crisis Text Line a free, 24/7, confidential text message service for people in crisis. Text HOME to 741741. www.crisistextline.org. Interviewed: Sue Bryan (Jchandra's mother); Dustin Lewis (Jchandra's brother); Hanna Baldt, Grace Jacson, Ashton Wall (Jchandra's friends); Dr. Harold Koplewica (child abuse expert and adolescent psychiatrist); Brittney Johnson (Tyerell's mother); Tyler Hughes-Millman (mutual friend of Jchandra and Tyerell); Sgt. Quin Fackrell and Sgt. Josh Chappell (Utah County Sheriff's Office); Ryan McBride and Chad Grunander (Deputy Utah County Attorneys); Neil Skousen and Greg Stuart (Tyerell Przybycian's attorneys). (See also: 48 HOURS: "Death by Text", OAD: 06/16/17; 1st Updated Rebroadcast: 08/05/17; 2nd Rebroadcast: 09/22/18) (C: David Begnaud – P: Josh Gelman)

05/04/19

48 HOURS: "The Case Against Enrico Forti" – an investigation into whether Enrico Forti, a former television producer and windsurfing champion, was wrongly convicted of murder 20 years ago. Forti negotiated a deal to buy a hotel in Ibiza, Spain owned by Tony Pike. Tony's sons, Dale and Brad, felt the property was worth much more due to celebrity clientele. Dale Pike flew from Australia to Miami and was found dead on a beach. When questioned, Forti lied to the police about picking up Pike from the airport. As he was the last person to see Pike alive, Forti became the prime suspect. Forti was tried, convicted of murder, and sentenced to life in prison in 2000. One juror on the case, who voted to convict, does not believe Forti is guilty. In Italy and other parts of Europe, the case has become infamous. 48 HOURS reported on new information regarding the case and traveled to Italy and Germany to find leads on an alternate suspect. On-screen text graphic: Enrico Forti is hoping to have his sentence commuted. Interviewed: Enrico Forti; Sean Crowley (former captain, NYPD, now a private investigator); Joe Tacopina and Dina Neshweiat (defense attorneys); Chaive Mesmer (shop manager); Brad Pike (brother of victim); Veronica Lee (jury member); Dr. Gregory Davis (pathologist, University of Kentucky); Manuela Moreno (Italian journalist); Francesco Gidetti and Fabrizio Pandolfi (friends of Forti); Luisa Mancastroppa (Forti's first wife); Gianni Forti (Forti's uncle); and Thomas Knott (possible suspect). (C: Erin Moriarty – P: Paul LaRosa, Murray Weiss, Sabina Castelfranco)

05/11/19

48 HOURS: "#FindPeterChadwick" – a report on the investigation into the search for a multimillionaire real estate investor accused of killing his wife and staging a kidnapping plot. Peter Chadwick and his wife, Q.C. Chadwick, seemed to have the perfect life. College sweethearts, they were married for 21 years and had three sons. They lived in a gated community in Newport Beach, California. That dream life collapsed one day in 2012 when neither of the Chadwicks turned up to pick up their sons from the bus stop. Investigators had little idea that day the search for the couple would lead them on an international manhunt. The next morning, San Diego authorities got a 911 call from Chadwick, claiming a house painter named Juan murdered Q.C. and forced Peter Chadwick to get her body out of the house. He said a man helped Juan and they were planning to cut up his wife's body and dispose it south of the border. Law enforcement didn't believe Chadwick, and he was arrested and charged with Q.C.'s murder. He was released on $1 million in bail. Then he vanished. Members of the U.S. Marshals team reveal they've had some key clues to where he is. Chadwick is one of the U.S. Marshals' 15 most-wanted fugitives. The U.S. Marshals have been getting a lot of leads about Chadwick, many from around the globe, and at least one from a scammer. On-screen text graphic: Have you seen Peter Chadwick? Please call 1-800-336-0102

or submit a tip online at www.usmarshals.gov/tips. Interviewed: Ryan Peers (Police Sergeant); Bryan Moore (Police Lieutenant); Heidi (no last name) (neighbor) Karen Thorp (family friend); Art Scott (Chadwick family piano teacher); Matt Murphy (prosecutor); Craig McClusky (U.S. Marshall team leader); and Evan Ratliff (author). (C: Tracy Smith – P: Chuck Stevenson, Gayane Keshishyan Mendez)

05/18/19

48 HOURS: “What Happened to Rachael?” – a report on the investigation into the murder of Rachael DelTondo, a popular teacher who was gunned down outside her home in Aliquippa, Pennsylvania. It is the ninth unsolved murder in a city with an underfunded and understaffed police department, leaving many to wonder if the case will be solved. The investigation has led to several potential leads for the police to follow, including the actions of DelTondo’s ex-fiance Frank Catroppa and her friendship with Sheldon Jeter, a young Aliquippa High School athlete. Before the murder, Catroppa, was allowed access to a police report about DelTondo with a lot of sensitive personal information, but he denies showing it to anyone. Jeter, through his attorney, also denies anything to do with the murder. There is also the belief, that Sheldon Jeter was obsessed with DelTondo and there may have been some sort of inappropriate relationship. Her mother, Lisa DelTondo, also says her daughter told her she was cooperating in an ongoing investigation by state police, into alleged corruption in the Aliquippa Police Department, and had received death threats. It has been a year since the murder: her parents distrust the police, the authorities not saying anything, and a consultant believes if things were not the way they were in Aliquippa, Rachael DelTondo would still be alive. On-screen text graphic: Anyone with information on Rachael DelTondo’s murder should call the Beaver County Detective Bureau at 724-773-8569. Interviewed: John Paul (investigative journalist/CBS News Consultant); Lisa and Joe DelTondo (parents); Frank Catroppa (ex-fiance); Jen Glovan (once Rachael’s best friend); Joe Perciavalle (Assistant Police Chief); Michael Santicola (Sheldon Jeter’s attorney); Jackie Belcastro (Rachael’s aunt); Lauren Watkins (17-year old friend/former student of Rachael’s); Steve Colafella (Frank Catroppa’s attorney) (C: Erin Moriarty – P: Judy Rybak and Stephanie Slifer)

05/25/19

48 HOURS PRESENTS: “Pvt. Needham’s War” - a report on the case of Pvt. John Needham, a decorated soldier diagnosed with traumatic brain injury (TBI) and post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD), and who investigators say beat his 19-year-old girlfriend Jacque Villagomez to death with his bare hands in September 2008. Needham took responsibility for the murder, but remembered little of the crime, recognizing only that something inside him had snapped. After serving in Iraq, Needham returned home, shattered physically and emotionally. He suffered from combat injuries and was prescribed drugs which he downed with alcohol. He knew Villagomez, who had also struggled with drug addiction, for only a few months when she moved in with him. His drinking escalated. After his father, Mike Needham Sr., told Jacque that she had to move out and she had agreed, an old girlfriend came to the house upsetting Villagomez. An argument between the two women broke out, resulting in his ex’s departure and a call to 911. When police arrived, they found Jacque Villagomez battered and near death, with John Needham naked, crying, and smeared in blood. There was no evidence that anything other than Needham’s fists were used to beat Villagomez. Released on bail, his father sought to get his son the care he believed he needed and insisted that the crime was not murder. The father argued that if not for Needham’s war injuries, Villagomez would be alive today. Mike Needham Sr. allowed investigative reporter Michael de Yoanna and a team of filmmakers to document the unraveling of his son’s life. Before his trial, John visited his mother in Tucson, AZ in 2010 for additional back surgery. His brother, Mike Needham Jr., came to visit from California. Shortly after his arrival, Mike found his brother unresponsive -- he was dead at the age twenty-six. His death was determined to be from an overdose of painkillers, but the question remains as to whether it was an accident or suicide. The prosecutors in the Villagomez case says that John Needham may have been a good soldier, but he needed to be held accountable for what he did. Original on-screen text graphic: 48 Hours Mystery reached out repeatedly to the Army for a response to John Needham’s story. The Army declined to comment. On-screen text graphic for the 06/26/12 rebroadcast: On the anniversary of Jacque’s death, the Savino sisters tossed flowers in the ocean in her memory. We reached out repeatedly to the army for an official response to John’s story. The army declined to comment. On-screen text graphic for 05/25/19 rebroadcast: We reached out repeatedly to the Army for an official response to John’s story. The Army declined to comment. Michael Needham died last year at age sixty-three. Interviewed are: Villagomez’s close friends Sarah and Spencer Savino; Mike Needham, Sr. (father) and Mike Needham, Jr. (brother); Joe Gaul, Orange County homicide detective; Michael de Yoanna, investigative journalist and CBS News consultant; Dr. Richard Friedman, Professor of Psychiatry, Weill Cornell Medical College; Michael Becker, public defender; Steve McGreevy, Orange County prosecutor. (C: Troy Roberts - P: Chris Young Ritzen, Daniel Junge) (OAD: 11/12/11; 1st rebroadcast: 06/26/12 – both as 48 HOURS MYSTERY: “Pvt. Needham’s War”)

06/01/19

48 HOURS: “Don’t Scream” (9:00 - 10:00p) - an updated rebroadcast on Tiffany Mead of Davis County,

Utah, a young mother who called 911 claiming she had sliced her own throat while her ex-husband and child watched. When first responders arrived, the cut was so deep, police questioned whether it was really a suicide attempt. Medical experts claim there is no physical way she could have committed the act herself. Later, Mead changed her story: it wasn't suicide, it was her estranged husband Kris Ertmann, who tried to kill her. Mead claimed she met Ertmann in a secluded park to get a child support check. He suddenly grabbed her in a bear hug and slit her throat. Thinking she was about to die, she drove the car to a parking lot which became a second crime scene. An investigation led to Ertman being arrested and charged with attempted murder. He claimed he could not remember anything and had PTSD. Additional investigating revealed Ertmann ultimately trying to arrange a hit on his estranged wife, resulting in an undercover cop posing as a hit man and getting instructions from Ertmann to kill his wife. The case never went to trial. Prosecutors offered a deal to plead no contest, and will spend the rest of his life in prison. Tiffany Mead lives with her new husband and her emotional support dog. Original on-screen text graphic: Kristopher Ertmann's next parole hearing is set for May 24, 2018. Captain Jen Daley and Lieutenant Bob Thompson will be there with Tiffany. 12/15/18 Update: Four years after Ertmann's plea he appears before the parole board. Tiffany reads her victim impact statement. On-screen text graphic for the 12/15/18 updated rebroadcast and 06/01/19 rebroadcast: If you or anyone you know needs help, call the National Domestic Violence Hotline 1-800-799-SAFE. 48 HOURS: "FindJodi" (10:00 - 11:00p) – a report on new information in the search for Iowa television anchor Jodi Huisentrut, who disappeared on her way to work on June 27, 1995. When Huisentrut did not arrive at the station for her morning assignment, police were alerted. Outside her apartment, they found signs of a struggle, but her car was still at the scene. An extensive search was conducted, but she was never seen again and her body has never been found. An investigation led authorities to information that Jodi had reported a possible stalker nine months before her disappearance. Several people became suspects, including close friend John Vansice, who some of her friends suspected wanted a romantic relationship, despite their 22-year age difference. Another was Tony Jackson, a serial rapist who lived nearby at the time of Jodi's disappearance. Throughout the years, friends and family members have kept up the search for Jodi, despite her family declaring her dead in 2001 as a means to settle her estate. In 2003, a group of journalists created a website to keep the story alive and to crack the case. As of 2017, John Vansice, living in Phoenix, is still considered a suspect. Mason City police believe they are close to solving the case. On June 5, 2018, which would have been Jodi's 50th birthday, four billboards were unveiled in Mason City, Iowa, keeping her memory alive with the hope of solving her disappearance. 06/01/19 Update: On June 5, 2018 on what would have been Jodi's fiftieth birthday the findjodi.com team officially unveiled four billboards around Mason City. On-screen text graphic: FindJodi. Are you someone who can crack the case? Please call the Mason City Police Department at 641-421-3636. Interviewed: Doug Merbach (1995 news director); Robin Wolfram (1995 news anchor); Amy Kuns (1995 producer); Jack Schlieper (1995 Police Chief); Joann Nathe (Jodi's sister); Staci Steinman and Kim Feist (Jodi's good friends); John Vansice (friend and suspect - seen in 1995 interviews); Ani Kruse (Mason City friend); LaDonna Woodford (friend of John Vansice); Caroline Lowe (WCCO-TV investigative journalist); Gary Peterson, John Benson (journalists); Jay Alverio (retired detective); Jeff Brinkley (current Mason City Police Chief) (C: Jim Axelrod – P: Clare Friedland, Ruth Chenetz, Chris Young Ritzen) (OAD: 12/15/18)

48 HOURS: "The Lost Boy" (9:00 - 10:00p) - a report on the 1979 disappearance of Etan Patz, a 6-year-old New York City boy who was allowed to walk to the school bus stop just two blocks from his home; and the case against Pedro Hernandez, the man charged in 2012 with killing him. The disappearance shocked the city and still haunts law enforcement investigators who have spent decades trying to find Patz. This case changed the way in which parents watch over their children. Police searched for him extensively, but the case grew cold. There was one suspect, a pedophile named Jose Ramos, but the case against him never moved forward because it lacked corroboration. In 2010, new District Attorney Cyrus Vance, Jr. vowed to take a fresh look into Etan's disappearance. In 2012, the NYPD got a tip from a relative of Pedro Hernandez, who had talked about hurting a boy around the time of the Patz disappearance. Police questioned him and he confessed to the crime. He also took them to locations near the Patz home where he said he disposed of the body. His court-appointed attorney says he's unreliable because of his psychiatric condition. In 2015, he went on trial, but the jury deadlocked and there was no verdict. At a second trial he was convicted and sentenced to 25- years-to-life. On-screen text graphic: Etan would be 45 years old. His remains have never been found. Pedro Hernandez's legal team is working on an appeal. On-screen text graphic for the 06/08/19 rebroadcast: Etan would be forty-six years old. His remains have never been found. Pedro Hernandez's legal team has filed an appeal. Interviewed: Cyrus Vance, Jr. (Manhattan District Attorney); Patrick Eanniello and Bill Butler (former NYPD detectives); Phil Manoney (detective, Missing Persons Squad); Stuart Grabois (federal prosecutor); Brian O'Dwyer (attorney); Chris Zimmerman (lieutenant, Missing Persons Squad); Dave Rameriz (detective); Harvey Fishbein (defense attorney); and Adam Sirois (juror in the first trial). 48 HOURS: “Jayme Closs: Hometown Hero” (10:00-11:00p) – a reedited and updated rebroadcast of a 48 HOURS SPECIAL: “Jayme Closs Comes Home” (OAD: 01/12/19), which includes new interviews by Gayle King, newly released evidence photos, the 911 call that came from her home during the kidnapping, and Closs’ powerful statement read at the sentencing hearing of Patterson who pleaded guilty to kidnapping her and murdering her parents. Jayme Closs’ story captured the world’s hearts when she disappeared from her family’s home in Barron, Wisconsin on October 15, 2018. She fled her captor 88 days later. The report focuses on the heroism Closs showed in outwitting her kidnapper, Jake Patterson. Closs was discovered missing after police responded to a strange 911 call from her family home. There, police found both of her parents dead. The search for Closs made national headlines. She was found alive on January 10 when she approached a woman walking her dog in a Wisconsin town about 70 miles from her home. The one-hour broadcast highlights the incredible strength and determination Closs used to survive the ordeal and how that has played into her life since returning home. Gayle King explores the impact her story has had on the community and the world at large. On-screen text graphic: Friends say Jayme is doing very well since coming home. She is seeing family and friends, and has started therapy. Includes interviews with Jayme’s aunt Jennifer Smith; Baron County Sheriff Chris Fitzgerald; Neighbor Jeanne Nutter, who found Jayme; neighbors Kristen and Peter Kasinskis; Jayme’s aunt Sue Allard; Jayme’s cousin Lindsey Smith; and other children who have been kidnapped and members of their family. 48 HOURS: “Portrait of a Killer” - a report about a new controversial California law that could free Daniel Marsh, who was convicted of the murders of Oliver “Chip” Northrup and Claudia Maupin. Both the victims were savagely stabbed to death as they slept inside their Davis, California home. Police found no physical evidence. Investigation had ruled out family members and police were running out of clues. Then two months after the April 14, 2013 murders, the police received a phone call from a teenager who said his best friend, the then 15-year-old Daniel Marsh, had bragged about the murders. In an interview with police, Marsh told them what happened. Experts diagnosed him as a psychopath and said he killed for pleasure. Marsh was tried as an adult - convicted and sentenced to 52 years to life. Four years after the conviction, a new California law, Proposition 57, has thrown his sentence into jeopardy. His lawyers are arguing that he should be re-sentenced as a juvenile. If successful, Marsh, now 21, might be able to be released from prison on his 25th birthday. At a hearing, a judge listened to the evidence to determine if Marsh should be re-tried as a juvenile and receive a lighter sentence. The prosecution continued to maintain he is a psychopath. In a surprise move, Daniel Marsh took the stand. In the decision, the judge found the evidence and Marsh’s testimony to be credible, but determined it was not a chance worth taking. Marsh will remain in prison. In 2018, a new law was signed into effect, saying that anyone younger than 15-years-old would never be tried as an adult. His lawyers want Marsh included retroactively. On-screen text graphic: In California, there are at least three other pending cases where juveniles have been convicted of murder and sentenced as adults. On-screen text graphic for the 06/15/19 rebroadcast: Daniel Marsh’s lawyers appealed the Court’s ruling and were denied. They are now considering filing an appeal to have Marsh included under SB 1391. Interviewed: Victoria Hurd and Sarah Rice (daughter and granddaughter of Marion Maupin); Robert Northrup and Mary Northrup (son and daughter of Chip Northrup); Paul Doroshov (Davis Police Lieutenant); Chris Campion (former Special Agent); Jeff Reisig (District Attorney); Alvaro Garibay (Daniel’s friend); Amanda Zambor (Deputy District Attorney); Dr. Mathew Soulier (psychiatrist); Dr. Matthew Logan (forensic psychologist). 48 HOURS: “Defending DJ” - a report about Danroy “DJ” Henry and the dedication and struggles his family endured trying to restore their son’s reputation after he was shot dead in Pleasantville, New York, by police officer Aaron Hess in 2010. This event triggered a seven-year journey for the family as they searched for answers about what really happened. During a night out with his teammates, a fight broke out among other restaurant patrons and police were called to the scene. DJ and his friends decided to leave. They were waiting in his car in a fire lane prior to their departure. Police approached the vehicle and told DJ he should move; his friends said DJ started to slowly move away. The police claim that DJ tried to mow officers down with his car when Officer Hess approached and that was how Officer Hess ended up on the hood of the car, shooting his weapon and fatally injuring DJ as he sat behind the wheel. The police claimed Officer Hess shot because he feared for his life. DJ's friends painted a far different version of the incident. Witnesses agreed, also saying that medical attention was slow to respond. The Henry family vowed to learn the truth – even it was bad. They wanted to know what happened to their son and filed a lawsuit. Four years after the shooting, the family was still hopeful. In 2016, the Henry family accepted the decision in a wrongful death suit against the Village of Pleasantville and Aaron Hess and were awarded $6 million. In 2017, they settled a wrongful death suit with the town of Mount Pleasant for an undisclosed amount and something more valuable to them: a public apology. Seven years after DJ's death, they cleared his name. No criminal charges were brought in the case. Today, Aaron Hess works in private security. The Henry family has founded the DJ Henry Dream Foundation to honor their son's memory. On-screen text graphic: Chief Louis Alagno retired in 2013. In 2015 New York State law changed. Police shootings of unarmed civilians are now automatically assigned to a special prosecutor. Interviewed: Dan Henry (father); Angella Henry (mother); Kyle Henry (brother); Amber Henry (sister); Desmond Hines, Brandon Cox, Daniel Parker (DJ's friends); Michael Sussman (Henry family attorney); Brian Sokoloff (Aaron Hess attorney) (C: James Brown – P: Alvin Patrick, Sarah Prior) (OAD: 12/01/18)

48 HOURS: "Missing Marsha" (9:00 – 10:00p) - a report on the 2009 disappearance of Marsha Brantley, a Cleveland, Tennessee woman who suddenly vanished, with no one, including her husband, Donne Brantley, family, or friends reporting her missing for several months, until her hairdresser, Kelly DeLude, became concerned over a missed appointment and called the police. Her husband immediately became a suspect, but there was no physical evidence of a crime. He claimed she left him, leaving everything behind, including her dogs and her home. In 2013, Brantley was arrested, but prosecutors dropped the charges after deciding they did not have enough evidence for a conviction, even though he pleaded the Fifth Amendment or said he could not remember over 100 times in a civil suit brought against him. Family members believe her husband is responsible for her disappearance. Friends from her book club would not be surprised if she turned up sometime. Following the election of a new District Attorney, Brantley was again charged with police using essentially the same evidence. Then in 2018, two days before the trial, the charges were dismissed. Police cannot prove Marsha was murdered and were afraid the judge would throw out the case. On-screen text graphic: Donnie kept the dogs. They still live with him today. To call in a tip, contact the Bradley County Sheriff's Office at (423) 728-7336. On-screen text graphic for 06/29/19 rebroadcast: To call in a tip, contact the Bradley County Sheriff's Office at (423) 728-7336. 06/29/19

48 HOURS: "Knock" (10:00 – 11:00p) - an investigation into the murders of two beloved grandmothers, Betty Jones and her friend Kathryn Crigler, who were brutally attacked in 1990 after answering a knock on the door at Crigler's Starkville, Mississippi home; and how a driven detective and cutting-edge technology helped to solve the nearly three-decades old murder and rape. The intruder forced his way into the house and immediately killed Betty. He then raped Kathryn, who died months later of complications from her injuries. The leads went nowhere and current lead Detective Bill Lott struggled for years to solve it. Jason B. Jones, a Nashville album designer and step-grandson of Betty, wanted to know what happened. He knew little about the case, but in 2005, a chance meeting between Jason's mother and Kathryn's granddaughter Juky Holt led to his renewed interest. In 2017, he launched a podcast as a way to work through his own questions about the incident and perhaps uncover new information. Jason subsequently learned that Betty had sponsored a family who escaped the Khmer Rouge regime in Cambodia and the family named their daughter after Betty. In 2018, as his podcast was coming to an end, there was no finality, because no one knows who killed Betty and Kathryn. However, Detective Lott's quest led him to Parabon NanoLabs in Reston, Virginia. Parabon NanoLabs has developed technology called genetic genealogy, which can predict what someone looks like through their DNA. The results led to a name, Michael Wayne DeVaughn, and his DNA was a match to the DNA taken from Crigler the night of the attack. Twenty-eight years after the crime, the suspected attacker was charged with Betty's murder and the rape and sexual battery of Kathryn Crigler. All may now know who knocked on the door that night, but the storyteller in Jones still needs to know how this tale ends. On-screen text graphic: Prosecutors are presenting their case against Michael DeVaughn to a grand jury. To date, there has been no indictment and DeVaughn has not entered a plea. Sergeant Bill Lott has been promoted to Lieutenant. On-screen text graphic for the 06/29/19 rebroadcast: Michael DeVaughn pleaded not guilty in January 2019. He is awaiting trial. Sergeant Bill Lott has been promoted to lieutenant. Interviewed: Jason Jones (podcaster); Bill and Colleen Jones (his parents); Anne McWhorter (Betty's sister); Julia Crigler Hold (aka Juky Holt) (Crigler's granddaughter); David Lindley (retired lead detective); Sergeant Bill Lott (current lead detective); Dr. Ellen Greytak (Parabon's lead scientist for DNA phenotyping); Thom Shaw (forensic artist); Betty Hong (daughter of the family Betty Sponsored) (C: Richard Schlesinger - P: Lourdes Aguiar) (OAD: 01/19/19)

NCIS: THE CASES THEY CAN'T FORGET

- 05/29/19 NCIS: THE CASES THEY CAN'T FORGET: "Road Map To Murder" (9:00-10:00pm) – a report on the investigation by NCIS agents into the case of Cory Allen Voss, a young Navy communications officer murdered after using an ATM in Virginia. This investigation, in collaboration with the Newport News Police Department – led agents on the trail of twisted relations, lies, and secret double-lives. Investigators learned that everyone had nothing but good things to say about Voss himself. They learned his wife, Cat, made up many stories about herself and took up with various men while Voss was away at sea. She went on a spending spree using almost all of a $100,000 death benefit she received on vacations, jewelry and restaurants. They came to suspect her friend, Michael Draven, spending months listening to wiretaps and conducting around-the-clock surveillance on their suspects. They ultimately learned a third party involved in the murder. Eight months after Voss was killed, his wife and two men were arrested and charged with murder. Includes interviews with Gregory Ford, Executive Assistant Director of NCIS Criminal Investigations; NCIS team members Dana Shutt, Maureen Evans, Larry Rilee, Jim Grebas, and Sandra Barrow; Ashley Doyle, a friend of Cat; Carol Wiggins, Cat's aunt; Steve Larson, Cat's ex-husband; Barbara Wilson, Cory Voss' mom; and Draven's mom Juanita Harper. (Narrator: Rocky Carroll – P: Alec Sirken)
- 05/29/19 NCIS: THE CASES THEY CAN'T FORGET: "Heartless" (10:00-11:00pm) – a report about the challenging detective work that went into cracking the murder of Lt. Lee Hartley, who fell mysteriously ill while serving aboard the USS Forestal while deployed in the Mediterranean Sea. Lt. Hartley was airlifted to a Naval hospital where his illness baffled doctors. Months later he died. His autopsy revealed he died of acute arsenic poisoning. Toxicology tests indicated he was poisoned while on duty aboard the ship. After a year, with no obvious suspects, the case went cold. Nearly thirteen years later, the NCIS cold case squad reopened the old casefile. Family, friends, and potential witnesses were re-interviewed before investigators discovered information which led them to the killer. His wife, Pamela Hartley, was unhappy in her marriage and sent homemade food to the ship which Lt. Hartley consumed. She says she didn't want to hurt him with a divorce and thought death would be a better option. She pled guilty and was sentenced to 40 years in prison. She was released six-and-a-half years later. Thirty-six years later, his daughter and her former step-mother met again. Includes interviews with retired NCIS Special Agents Pete Hughes and David Early; Gregory Ford, Executive Assistant Director of NCIS Criminal Investigations; NCIS Investigative Review Specialist Lou Eliopoulos; NCIS team member Jim Grebas; Hartley's wife Pamela; and Hartley's daughter Stephanie. (Narrator: Rocky Carroll – P: Jonathan Leach)
- 06/05/19 NCIS: THE CASES THEY CAN'T FORGET: "Shattered Glass" (9:00 – 10:00p) - Naval Criminal Investigative Service agents bring viewers inside the investigation into the attack on a marine stationed in Kuwait, which at first looked like terrorism but led them on an unexpected trail to something else. Chief Warrant Officer James "Houston" Glass was nearly killed when a grenade exploded in a guard shack in Kuwait. He barely survived the blast, suffering severe wounds to his neck, back and legs. NCIS agent Matt Timmons was stationed in Kuwait and immediately responded. The agent reveals they soon had doubts about it being a terror attack. As they dug in, they found the secret double lives of those closest to Glass, which turned the case in an unexpected direction. NCIS agents take viewers inside the case, which took shrewd detective work, including mind games on potential suspects, to find out who would want Glass dead. The case took them back to the United States, where investigation revealed a shocking conspiracy; Larry Framness, who was having an affair with Glass' wife, admitted to throwing the grenade. (Host: Rocky Carroll – Producer: Kim Kennedy)
- 06/12/19 NCIS: THE CASES THEY CAN'T FORGET: "Unbreakable" (9:00 – 10:00p) - Naval Criminal Investigative Service agents take viewers inside the emotional investigation into the brutal attack, torture and murder of Marine Corps Sergeant Jan Pawel Pietrzak and his wife, Quiana Jenkins-Pietrzak. Sgt. Pietrzak was known as a tough disciplinarian. It was also known around the base that he had gotten a $30,000 bonus months earlier and had told some people he had kept the money at their home, which was near Marine Corps Air Station Camp Pendleton in California. Whoever attacked the couple also tried to burn their home down. NCIS agents, who worked with the Riverside Sheriff's Department on the investigations, reveal the shrewd detective work that went into the case. Early clues, including different footprints at the crime scene, led investigators to believe they were looking for more than one suspect. The investigation took a turn when agents learned someone used Quiana Jenkins-Pietrzak's card at an ATM right outside the gate of Camp Pendleton, which helped lead them to unraveling the ties that bound the four suspects and the victims together. It was later found out that four Marines entered the Pietrzak home, sexually assaulted Jenkins-Pietrzak and tortured the couple before killing them. Two of the four accused Marines worked under Pietrzak's command. Riverside County authorities maintain the motivation was robbery, and the pending murder with special circumstances and sexual assault charges do not include an assertion that the crime was racially motivated. All four of the accused plead not guilty to murdering Pietrzak and his wife. After meeting with the families of the deceased, District Attorney Rod Pacheco decided to seek the death penalty on January 22, 2009. The preliminary trial hearings to determine whether the four assailants would stand trial occurred on March 26, 2009, and April 3, 2009 in San Diego. On 24 June 2013 a jury rendered a verdict of death for two of the four assailants and life in prison without parole for a third. The fourth assailant was later also sentenced to death. NCIS: THE CASES THEY CAN'T FORGET: "The Enemy Within" (9:00 – 10:00p) - When Naval Criminal Investigative Service agents and their counterparts from the Air Force Office of Special Investigations probe the murder of an Air Force sergeant in Japan, they are led on a dark, twisted trail of deception, fraud, and witchcraft. Air Force Technical Sergeant Curtis Eccleston was found brutally stabbed to death in his apartment off base in Okinawa, Japan. The respected airman had no known enemies and a career on the rise. His death shocked the Japanese island. Agents Lindsay Temes and Heather Bellar from Air Force Office of Special Investigations were among the first to arrive at the gruesome crime scene. Air Force OSI agents called in NCIS to help solve murder. NCIS and Air Force OSI agents were initially concerned because Eccleston's wife Barbara was nowhere to be found until hours after his body was discovered. Investigators soon learned Barbara was cheating on her husband. At the time of his death, the couple had been in the process of getting a divorce. She told them he had been dealing drugs and she was concerned he was killed because of a drug deal gone bad. But as agents began to look into the drug angle, something just didn't seem right. When those leads ran cold the agents went back to the scene of the crime. What they uncovered through digital forensics would reveal that the cover-up and diabolical premeditation was almost as brutal as the crime itself. Evidence revealed another airman, Nicholas Cron, murdered Eccleston because he was having an affair with his girlfriend. Both Cron and Barbara Eccleston were charged with murder. In January 2012, Cron pleaded guilty to 3 charges in an attempt to avoid the death penalty; he received life without parole. At Barbara's trial in April 2012, Cron was a witness. She was sentenced to 20 years of hard labor in a Japanese prison. (Host: Rocky Carroll – Producers: Matt Goldfarb, Lucy Craft)

The re-filed wrongful death lawsuit names all the defendants from the first suit in Beaufort County; The Parker's Corporation, Beaufort restaurant Luther's Rare and Well Done and Kristy and James Wood, claiming all had a role in the minors on the boat the night of the crash getting alcohol. This time around the suit names three generations of the same family to the defendant list; former 14th Judicial Circuit Solicitor Randolph Murdaugh the third, his son Richard Alexander Murdaugh and grandson Richard Alexander Murdaugh, Jr. The lawsuit accuses Richard Alexander Murdaugh, Jr., who's over 21, of letting his younger brother use his ID to buy alcohol. The suit also claims father Richard Alexander Murdaugh senior knew or should have known his underage son was using his adult son's ID to buy alcohol. Randolph Murdaugh the third is listed in the lawsuit for allegedly allowing minors to drink on his property referred to in the court filing as "The Island."

Mathew Ajibade was arrested January 1st, 2015 by Savannah-Chatham County Metro Police after getting in a fight with his girlfriend. He was taken to the Chatham County Detention Center, and after being held in a cell for several hours, was booked. During the booking process, Ajibade got into a struggle with jail officers, injuring one of them. He was then taken to a different holding cell and put in a restraining chair. While in the chair, he was tased several times by a jail officer. Ajibade was later found unresponsive and pronounced dead. In the criminal trial following the death, Jason Kenny was found guilty of cruelty to an inmate, Maxine Evans was found guilty of public record fraud and perjury. Southern District of Georgia Judge R. Stan Baker decided to dismiss Sheriff John Wilcher from the suit, and in the order said "No one disputes the tragedy of Mathew Ajibade's death and the emotional pain that his family has no doubt endured." The staging are for the search tonight was here at the Chatham Avenue access point onto the beach at the island's south end. Tybee Fire led the effort, assisted by the county's helicopter, U.S. Coast Guard and Tybee's Marine Rescue squadron, Tybee Police and Chatham Emergency Services. Chief Patterson confirmed three people, he says in their teens, were out on a sandbar and got stranded as the tide rapidly came in around 7 tonight. A Tybee resident told me earlier he spotted the teens and called 911. Two teens were able to swim back, but one went missing. So search and rescue crews focused their efforts roughly from the Chatham Avenue access point up Tybee Creek, following the current trying to find the missing person. This is an area that's particularly dangerous for swimmers who go out on the sandbars and get caught by the incoming tide, so much so the city has warnings posted in the area.

		(Tom Rawlings DFCS Director) This state has always been a leader in addressing issues with sex trafficking, for at least the last 15 years or so. And I think this will take us a bit further. Governor Brian Kemp also passed additional sex trafficking legislation with senate bill 158, the Anti-Human Trafficking Protective Response Act. The bill increases penalties for related sexual offenses, expands on laws that ban servitude and gives the Division of Family and Children Services authority to care for children who are victims of human trafficking.

5/30/2019	CRYSTAL HURRICANE 11:00 PM TRAINING	I would have to say that it was pretty cool seeing how emergency management agencies work behind the scenes with accessing damage in their counties. VO When you see all of the damage after hurricanes, you probably wonder how emergency management agencies report it all and how they are able to quickly send help. During today's training, you see and hear all of the counties reporting to the Georgia Emergency management agency about the damage they have. So each county in coastal Georgia sends in a mock report on a conference call. Liberty county says during disasters like a hurricane, they call in at least once or twice a day to report damage and get help. SOT "It's liberty county. We are heavily impacted as well. We have power outages. The DOT put messages out. People off of the interstate do not have gas. We'd like to continue that message forward. We did get our generator and we did get men to help us out with search and rescue."	0:01:07

The Richmond Hill police department says during a preliminary check of their records, between January 1st and May 1st of last year, they saw 48 traffic collisions along highway 144. This year, they department says they have seen nearly 63 accidents. Captain Jason Sakelarios says, the construction that started earlier this year does contribute to those higher numbers. Sakelarios says they have already reduced the speed from 55 to 45 in the area, but still, that hasn't been enough. He says the department is urging people to stay off cell phones and increase following distance. ((Jason Sakelarios-Richmond Hill police captain))	0:00:47

5/8/2019 6AM DAYBREAK	SAV FAMILY VIOLENCE CENTER	In Savannah, we're learning more about plans for a family violence center meant to house resources for victims of domestic violence under one roof. The City is offering a building to serve as a temporary site. agencies like Safe Shelter, the Rape Crisis Center, along with prosecutors from the district attorney's office and Savannah Police's Family Violence Unit will offer services. Grants are being pursued that will help hire on staff and a center director. The family violence center is on the Chatham county commission's agenda this Friday for approval. It's a project several years in the making ... the creation of a family violence center that's meant to house any resource a victim of domestic violence would need .. under one roof. Today our Sean Evans spoke to Chatham County District Attorney Meg Heap about the project that's moving along here in Savannah, and what it will offer for victims all over the county.	0:00:56

5/10/2019 The News at 5pm	SEAN: DRAYTON WHITAKER CHANGES	These rapid flashing pedestrian beacons are now at eight intersections next to Forsyth Park in an effort to improve pedestrian safety. Measures like that, lowering speed limits and putting in speed indicators are all things that help take drivers out of that auto-pilot mode, not paying as much attention as they should be. Council got to see some hard data with regard to average speed along Drayton and Whitaker, comparing 2014 to 2019. The average speed along Drayton Street and Whitaker Streets has dropped about five miles per hour. The City is buying four of these RADAR signs to place at various points along Whitaker and Drayton, looking to lower speed limits, widen sidewalks and put in raised pavement markers around Forsyth Park before marked crosswalks to keep drivers from lane changing or weaving at the actual crosswalk. Alderman Bill Durrence is keeping a close eye on efforts to make these streets and other thoroughfares in his district safer, and says why	0:01:27

5/14/2019 NOON	ZACH: CCPD INPUT SESSION	The first meeting just wrapped up with business owners in unincorporated Chatham County. The next meeting begins at 5:30 and is open to all community members. I spoke with people in both the Georgetown and Southbridge communities and they say they're satisfied with the work of the Chatham County Police Department. I also drove through Berwick yesterday to speak with Arnoldo Gomez - the owner of Mexicali Fresh. Gomez owns this Berwick restaurant as well as another restaurant on Wilmington Island. Both locations are set in unincorporated Chatham County covered by CCPD. Gomez says as his restaurants close at night, he often sees a Chatham County Police car patrolling nearby streets. He says he and his employees feel safe - even after a violent armed robbery which happened just a few yards away from his Berwick business. VO: After a lightning strike hit liberty county's communication system, public safety agencies were forced to use their old analog system. ((maybe put a line here about which systems were impacted. 911 calls, sheriff's office calls between officers?)) Lightning hit the towers that send signals to scanners around 5pm on Tuesday near Bryan county. Mike Hodges, the liberty county director of public safety says this caused some communication to be down in liberty county as well. He says they worked around the clock to fix these radio towers, but say they still had a backup system even though their main system was down. 6/13/2019 5:30pm	SEAN: STANDING WATER DANGERS	In some cases, we saw people actually in the water, playing and splashing around. It's something you may want to reconsider though, especially if you take a second to think about what's actually in the water, either seen or unseen. Breaking down to the microbial level, water runoff can contain a variety of harmful bacteria from things like animal feces, and even pesticides if you live near an agricultural area. If flood water gets in your mouth, it can lead to gastrointestinal issues, or cause open cuts, scratches or rashes to become infected. Coastal areas have an added level of danger in flood water that the Coastal Health District director detailed for us today.	0:00:40

((Van Johnson-Savannah alderman)) "The reality is, is that these individuals are still under sentence, they're still incarcerated or under the state supervision to a degree." Johnson says he understands the need to have programs to transition people from incarceration back into society, but with residential neighborhoods so close to the center, he believes this incident poses safety concerns. "I think it provides a public safety, we've talked with the state about relocating the center to an area that's a little less populated, right now we're looking for this guy and we don't know where he is, we don't know what he's capable of Many of the people I talked to in the carver village and brickyard neighborhoods did not want to go on camera	0:00:53

Trish Bond has been living in Richmond Hill for nearly 20 years. Like most people in her neighborhood, she says she's used to seeing alligators in the lagoon behind her house, but recently she saw a gator in a place she never thought to see one. ((Trish Bond-saw an alligator in front yard)) "I went to the mailbox one day and there was a smaller gator in the ditch with all the water in our ditch and there was a small gator in the ditch and that kind of alarmed me a little bit because I'm not used to seeing them outside this water here so that made me nervous a little bit." BUTTED "As I made some noise, I took pictures of him, but then when I made a little noise he kind of backed up into the pipe that goes under our driveway so I just left him alone." The Georgia department of natural resources says gator sightings are increased right now because places like Richmond Hill, Pooler, and Savannah are experiencing a lot of growth and land development.

â€(sot) cg- Dal Attorneys for Angela Powell filed this ante litem notice to three local governments and three state agencies that she may sue them for the roles they played in separating her from hundreds of her dogs. (vo) Powell faces animal abuse charges in Candler and Montgomery counties. Back in January, I showed you the conditions in Montgomery as an animal rescue group came in as Powell surrendered the dogs. Now her attorneys have notified both counties that she's considering a lawsuit. They also notified the City of Metter, as well as Georgia's Department of Agriculture, Department of Revenue, and Department of Administrative Services. The notice says her attorneys have suggested she settle out of court for a price of $3,000,000. Powell had six months from the incident to notify City of Metter of a possible suit and 12 months to notify the counties. The notice says Powell owned the dogs legally and the agencies treated her unfairly to take them.

6/18/2019	JASPER 7:00 PM MANHUNT ON I95	A manhunt is over in the South Carolina Lowcountry. The Jasper County Sheriff's Office - Bluffton Police Department - and the Beaufort County Sheriff's Office helped Hardeeville Police with a search along Interstate 95 - this afternoon. They took Two teens into custody. Hardeeville Police say it all started with a carjacking at gunpoint near the I-95 overpass at Coburg Road. Officers spotted the car - the driver took off and eventually crashed. Officers caught one of the teens quickly. The other ran into the woods where police caught that suspect. Two more shootings happened in our viewing area yesterday. The first happened in Savannah on Riverview Drive, leaving one person with Serious injuries. Savannah Police say that happened a little before 4:45 p-m. They're still looking for the suspect. Police say that suspect is a man in his 20s wearing a brown shirt, camo pants with a low fade haircut. They say he was near the pine gardens, causton bluff, riverview and runaway point area yesterday afternoon. Police Chief Roy Minter spoke with residents in the neighborhood last night. People who have lived in the neighborhood for years say yesterday's shooting is reflective of a larger trend of increasing crime. A real shock this afternoon for some Savannahians as huge crime scene shut down more than a block of riverview drive.	0:00:31

		Track 1: Georgia Governor Brian Kemp signed an executive order to investigate Rebecca McFerrin, the Superior Court Clerk in McIntosh County for alleged misconduct, incapacity, and possible criminal charges. Track 2: In the final report the first allegation was that McFerrin deleted a speeding ticket her husband received from the computer database. The ticket states a GSP trooper clocked him driving 101 miles an hour. Track 3: The second serious allegation was that she directed her staff not to enter a criminal case into the database since the family called the office frequently to get a bond reduction. Track 4: The investigating committee recommends, and Governor Kemp agrees, Ms. McFerrin be suspended for 60 days and that there be a request submitted to remove her from her elected position.

MEMORIAL DAY

For the past few weeks WTOC has brought you stories from our national investigative unit about child abuse and neglect, and major holes in the system. WTOC's Romney Smith investigated and found that Chatham County's child protective service unit will grow by 50 percent. The regional budget was increased and Chatham County was flagged to add 9 more staff members with a goal to reduce the case load size which is far above the national average. Right now, 18 staff members take care of 30-40 cases each on a monthly rolling basis. The national average for the 42 states with reportable data is 6.7 cases a month.

PKG Before privatizing emergency medical services in McIntosh County, research showed taxpayers were spending over 7 hundred thousand dollars for EMS services such as ambulances and paramedics. SOT "One of the main reasons for the research was our EMS expenses were going up every year and our revenue was going down and currently we are spending about a million dollars every year in expenses and only receiving 275 thousand dollars back in revenue." County manager, Patrick zoucks says they decided to hire Grady as their private company after consulting with other counties first. SOT We went and met with them and everything with them went really well. The transition. They are loving the service so far and they've only had the services for about a month. The town of Bluffton is growing. Standup: In fact in the last year over 600 residency permits were given out by the town. Now the police are trying to keep up. Take a look at these numbers I got from the city manager... in 2010 Bluffton had a population of around 13 thousand people. Eight years later they had 23 Thousand Bluffton is growing... and according to Bluffton police Lieutenant Christian Gonzales... it has been for a long time. LIEUTENANT CHRISTIAN GONZALES BLUFFTON POLICE DEPT. "When I first started we had 23 officers... were close to 60 now." Gonzalez says the police need to keep up with growth to keep a city safe. South Carolina Attorney General Alan Wilson is concerned about a new federal report on opioids. He signed a letter along with attorneys general from 36 other states. They sent the letter to the U-S Health Department -- about its newest report on best practices for pain management providers across the country. They say the report moves away from C-D-C guidelines... and suggests those providers can just rely on their judgment when prescribing -- rather than evidence-based recommendations. In part, they wrote that since tens of thousands of Americans die every year from overdoses, the government needs to limit opioid prescriptions, or else Americans will suffer quote "immense harm." Georgia Attorney General Chris Carr has not signed onto the letter. AG Alan Wilson joins 36 other AGs expressing concern over HHS draft report on opioids (WASHINGTON, D.C.) â€

As temperatures climb into the high 90's and even triple digits, Oatland Wildlife center naturalist Eric Swanson says snakes might be on the prowl more often looking for cooler areas just as people are. However, he says if you can see THESE specific features on a snake..you're too close. "Based on looking they're going to be thicker in body length and in body width, they're going to be shorter, typically they're not long and skinny, they're bulkier, they also have more diamond shaped head, they're more triangular shaped head that's where the venom glands are located on the side of the head just behind the eyes, they also have slits on their eyes instead of having a round pupil it's a elongated slit eye like a cat eye."

5/23/2019 The News at 5pm		Fluid levels are big, from oil to coolant. You want to make sure your oil is relatively fresh before big road trips, and at the proper level. You can easily spot your coolant through a transparent reservoir, and it's usually a green or orange color. If it's low, fill it up to the fill line and make sure it looks clear and there's not debris floating around. Tire pressure is another big item on the hot weather checklist. In extreme heat, tires inflate an extra two to three pounds, which increases the risk of over-inflation and blowouts. So make sure you're checking the pressure and putting air in after your car's been sitting for awhile. If you notice your air conditioning isn't working well, or cutting off altogether, check your temperature gauge...because it could mean your engine is overheating. 4/3/2019 6AM DAYBREAK	RICHMOND HILL FIRE FEE	Those of you in Richmond Hill will have to pay more in property taxes now. City council unanimously passed a fire fee last night. all households will be charged 185 dollars. all businesses and commercial properties will be charged 250. According to national standards, the Richmond Hill fire department is lacking man power. This fire fee would more than double the department size. 5-year Richmond Hill resident Lavetris Singleton says she wants her department to be properly staffed. Happening tonight - Richmond Hill residents will now get an extra fee on their yearly property taxes... a fire fee. This comes after city council unanimously passed the ordinance with practically no opposition. Meredith Parker joins us LIVE from Richmond Hill tonight after following this story for weeks. Meredith -- it's suprising that there were little to no opponents at tonight's meeting.	0:00:53

The departments fire and rescue captain Hannah Jenkins says they do not call or go door to door to solicit donations for the department. If anything they may ask for donations for charities such as boot drives or public events, but they will never ask citizens for money for their department. Jenkins says it's important for people to know not to fall for scams like this one.	0:00:55

They wonder if another crew closer by could have gotten here sooner. (vo) I showed you those firefighters in action last Wednesday morning. Russ Sanders says the fire started in the wall of the home they'd moved into and started remodeling. He says that fire ignited propane tanks on the porch. He and his wife woke up, got out and called 911 for help...then waited. (sot) cg- Russ Sanders / Fire Victim They sent a fire truck from 25 miles away when they could have sent one from 4.2 miles away. For the second time this year, a fire turned fatal, when a man died inside this duplex on East 37th early Saturday morning. From Friday to Sunday, Savannah Fire Rescue responded to nine fires total caused by anything from an extension cords to bug spray being sprayed behind a gas water heater with an open flame. Savannah Fire Rescue found smoke alarms in only some of the homes and properties affected. "A lot of people think it's never going to happen to me. Smoke alarms are probably the single most important thing you can have in your house, they save lives. And so many times we have fire fatalities that there's no smoke alarm, and that could've been the difference." Savannah Fire Rescue leaders also wanted to stress another point, one that could potentially save your life in a fire, and keep those coming to your rescue safe as well. "If you have a fire, please don't ever go back into that structure to find somebody, or look...give that to us.

4:30AM 5/24/2019 DAYBREAK	ELEVATED FIRE DANGER THIS WEEKEND	There's also an elevated wildfire danger in our area through the Memorial Day weekend and into early next week - due to hot temperatures - low humidity - and little to rainfall. Potential starters include... fireworks - camping - cookouts - and cigarettes.	0:00:15
5/30/2019 7AM DAYBREAK	GA PACIFIC FIRE BURNING UNTIL ITS OUT	Firefighters say they are just going to have to let a major fire just burn out on it's own at the Georgia-Pacific building in Thomson. Crews said last night they could not get the fire under control and were running low on water. Company officials don't know how the fire started, but said it began in their raw material storage building. That building holds sawdust, wood chips, and other materials that go into particle board. We're told there's been a partial collapse of the plant. Luckily, all employees are accounted for.	0:01:03
5/30/2019 7AM DAYBREAK	SC FORESTRY ALERT	A heads up for those of you in the lowcountry, South Carolina officials want to you avoid outdoor burning right now. The South Carolina Forestry Commission has issued a statewide Red Flag Alert. Officials there say the recent hot and dry weather is increasing the risk of fires. A large brush fire in Aiken County, South Carolina forced evacuations earlier this week. And a reminder.... Effective immediately -- the South Carolina Forestry Commission is issuing a statewide Red Flag Fire Alert. Officials are asking everyone to postpone any outdoor burning until this alert is lifted. They say the current weather conditions are increasing the risk of wildfires.	0:00:40

5/30/2019	HARLEY: HARDEEVILLE FIRE EMT 4:00 PM TRAINING	"The fire department tells me they usually get to incidents before EMS does. Now that they have this certification, they can immediately start helping people as soon as they get there." SOT: Joey Rowell, Assistant Chief "Because we have our fire stations strategically placed around the city, we can offer aid to those folks a lot quicker." That quick response is needed throughout Hardeeville especially with the interstate running through the area. SOT: Joey Rowell, Assistant Chief "Currently there are only four ambulances housed in the county for 9-1-1 transport. So, there may be a time when it's 10 or 15 minutes before an ambulance arrives so having those folks trained and on these calls rapidly makes the difference between life and death." The assistant chief says around 70 percent of their calls are for vehicle crashes and medical calls. Now that all firemen are trained on the basic life support level, they have a number of things they can do before an ambulance is called	0:01:47

5/30/2019 6AM DAYBREAK	NEW BLUFFTON FIRE STATION	A new fire station and emergency operations center could be coming to Bluffton. It would be located near River Ridge Academy. The estimated cost is around 3 million dollars. The Beaufort county council is hoping to fund the entire project using money from impact fees and other funds. On May 13th a proposal was made to the executive committee for the County Council of Beaufort County to build a new fire station and Emergency Operations Center ... the proposed cost? Over three-million dollars. It will be called Station 38 and it's near River Ridge Academy. The committee decided that with the --quote-- intense growth in the Bluffton area-- they believe that will bring additional impact fees that offer additional funds to complete the entire project without county assistance. As of today, no contract has been signed ... so the three-million estimate is subject to change ... but they're hoping to have a contractor officially hired	0:00:50

		SOT: Mayor Harry Williams, City of Hardeeville "This is a state of the art â€" it's a fifty-year building. This is something that is going to take the city into the future. We are going to be able to use it as an operations center. Our guys are going to be able to stay there because we're 100 percent on call 24-7." They are also in the planning process of a fourth fire station in River Port. That would add additional personnel and more fire coverage.

SEAN: SAV FIRE
4:00 PM ISO RATING

It's not just the fire department that gets the glory...the water department and 911 dispatch also played vital roles in bringing the Class-1 ISO rating to the City...now entering the fifth year with that elite status. Savannah Fire Rescue ranks in the top one percent of the nation's 48-thousand fire departments, and is just one of 74 fire departments with international accreditation and an ISO-1 rating. To earn the class-1 status, an independent company has to come in and evaluate all aspects of the fire department, from training to vehicles and personnel. The department is constantly internally evaluating, though, looking at response times and performance. "Our whole goal is to use our data to improve us. Look for inefficiencies, look for cost savings, look for the ability to provide that service even in times of tight budget, which we've been successful in over the last couple years. It's been tight for Savannah Fire.

		Good afternoon and thanks for watching WTOC, I'm Romney SMith in for Mike Cihla. As we first told you in a digital update.... A train caught fire this afternoon in downtown Savannah - blocking traffic at 40th and Abercorn streets for several hours. The 52-car cargo train was blocking northbound lanes along Abercorn, Habersham, Price, Lincoln, and East Broad Street north of 40th Street. Savannah Fire responded to extinguish the fire. But it took officials nearly two hours to move the train. WTOC spoke with a witness who called 911 about the fire....

22 graduates...the first class of the year, spent 20 weeks learning their craft, preparing to become part of the city's lifeline in an emergency. NAT: "You now, are 911." This is the first class to graduate under new fire Chief Derik Minard, who shared with the room full of graduates' family and friends a few instances where the department's new EMT training came in handy. New firefighter Makenzie Sullivan described one of those. "We were at Lake Mayer, doing, every Monday we go, we run there. So we were just doing a run and this lady came up to us and was like, can you help us. There's a man over there, he has a fish hook stuck in his mouth. So we grabbed our medical equipment and we ran down there and helped him." While firefighters will have that new added layer of training, the department will not be taking patients to the hospital. Chief Minard says the goal is to have EMT-trained firefighters at the scene within five minutes on 90-percent of their calls

“A Radical Solution” – a report on NYU Langone Medical School, which has become the first tuition free medical school in an attempt to address the problem of debt taken on by new doctors. The medical community believes the costs associated with medical school deters people from middle class and lower income families from becoming doctors, and students and medical educators agree that the NYU program will provide a better medical education, increase access to medical education in poorer communities, and begin to address the growing shortage of primary care doctors and medical care in rural and inner city communities. Includes interviews with Dr. Ezekiel Emanuel, Chair of Medical Ethics and Health Policy at the University of Pennsylvania; Dr. Rafael Rivera, Dean of Admissions at New York University Medical School; Ken Langone, a philanthropist who donated to the tuition-free initiative; and students Joe Babinski and Elaine DeLeon. 4/2/2019 6AM DAYBREAK	BRYAN CO SCHOOL BUDGET	the Bryan county school board is in the early stages of figuring out a budget for the upcoming school year. Bryan county schools superintendent Dr. Paul Brooksher says a new elementary school coming to the district means increased operational expenses. Dr. Brooksher says A millage rate increase for next year could be an option depending on enrollment and the school system's final budget, but the board is trying not to lean in that direction. The board will vote on an initial budget in May. there will be two public hearings before a final budget review in June. If approved the budget will start July 1st.  New tonight---the Bryan county school board is in the early stages of figuring out a budget for the upcoming school year. 4/2/2019	ISLANDS 7:00 PM ACADEMY	Happening now the Beaufort county school board is discussing what to do with Islands Academy. Interim Superintendent Dr. Herb Berg wanted to close the alternative school because of poor scores, but then decided to wait for legal advice. Dr. Berg asked the South Carolina Attorney General's office whether he overstepped his authority by announcing the closure of the school without approval from the Board of Education. The Attorney General's Office says the school board can only close a school "by taking collective action with a majority vote in a public session with the presence of a quorum." Meaning the Attorney General's office believes the superintendent cannot close a school without approval from the Beaufort Board of Education. 4/29/2019 7AM DAYBREAK	SC TEACHER RALLY	Looking ahead, teachers from across South Carolina will head to the state house for a protest on Wednesday. A few school districts have already changed plans to accommodate them. Dorchester 2 and Chester County have announced they'll close on Wednesday. A charter school in North Charleston is doing the same. The lowcountry districts we've talked to say they plan to let teachers take a personal day, but won't cancel class. The group South Carolina for Education will hold a rally at the statehouse to advocate for change. Teachers want a 10 percent raise, smaller class sizes, and a guaranteed break from students for 30 minutes. "The education that you receive at like a private college and public, it's not much of a difference but the loans you have and the interest and the years that it takes to pay it back later on, that's makes a lot of difference." Of course, Armstrong is now part of Georgia Southern, but the affordability is the same. The state's merit-based HOPE scholarship is funded by the lottery. However, despite increasing revenue, it covers less tuition for students than it did just a few years ago. One possible reason is that the university system of Georgia has added almost 30-thousand students in ten years, meaning more people are taking advantage of HOPE. Rep. Jesse Petrea // (R) District 166 "All of that is a good thing, but all of that demand has made it more difficult for us to keep up.	0:00:55

		Is the Georgia lottery withholding hundreds of millions of dollars for the HOPE scholarship? A WTOC investigation reveals they're contributing significantly less than the 35 percent recommended by state law. In fact, the last 5 years, they've only contributed about 25 percent to the education fund. The 10 percent difference is worth almost 2 billion dollars over 5 years. The lottery commission says they pay that 10 percent in prizes, commission, and marketing to attract more players. At least one lawmaker wants them to pay closer to 35 percent.

6/28/2019	4:30AM DAYBREAK	MEREDITH:BRY AN CO SCHOOL BUDGET 2020	The Bryan County Board of Education now has a budget for 2020. It was approved unanimously yesterday, and includes EIGHT MILLION DOLLARS more than last year's budget. That extra money comes from the state's Quality Basic Education funds, which increase as enrollment rises. We also learned yesterday that teachers will get 3-thousand dollar raises next year. "This is still the heat of hiring season. Everyone is still fighting for some great math and science and special ed teachers as you know those are still hard to come by. We are getting very close. Our principals do a great job hiring." We got a hold of a budget, but it's not itemized, meaning we don't know exactly how this increased funding will be spent other than the categories you see here.	0:01:18

6:00 PM RATING DROPS

The school climate refers to the quality, character and culture of the school. The rating system has four domain areas: School climate surveys, student discipline, safe and substance free learning environment and school wide attendance. These domains provide data for the ratings. At Gadsden Elementary the discipline domain had the greatest impact in the schools overall score. It dropped from a 5 to a one rating. The school system says there were a lot of factors that played a part in the declining score... a new principal, teacher turn over and challenging behaviors. She says they are already improving and adding resources.

4/26/2019 NOON	ZACH: SCAD 40TH ANNIV CELEBRATION	It's sure to be a fun weekend for SCAD and organizers want you to be a part of the celebration. You can't walk around downtown Savannah without seeing a sign or building that says SCAD. SCAD President Paula Wallace started the school in 1979 with just 71 students. Today, SCAD can be found in 4 locations with around 15 thousand students. Many of those students decide to stay right here in Savannah to invest in the community. In fact, there's around 50 SCAD Alumni owned businesses here in Savannah. Another great benefit of SCAD is the restoration of old buildings, something the college has done for many years. "They had boarded or broken windows and SCAD helped to bring those buildings back to life. Now they're filled with students and faculty and its helped create that creative community." And if you want to celebrate with SCAD - here's a look at some of the events happening this weekend. Tonight is the block party in Madison Square with art demonstrations and foo	0:01:24

4/5/2019 NOON	JUSSIE SMOLLETT REFUSES TO REIMBURSE CITY OF CHICA	Actor Jussie Smollett had until Thursday to reimburse the city of Chicago for the investigation into what authorities say ended up being a staged attack on himself. The city says he did not pay that 130-thousand-dollar bill. The city's law department is preparing a civil complaint that it will file against Smollett soon. In a letter to Smollett, the city gave him seven days to pay, and said if he didn't, he might be prosecuted. The letter came after a prosecutor unexpectedly dropped 16 felony disorderly conduct charges against Smollett.	0:00:29

4/14/2019 WKEND 11PM	MOREHOUSE TO ADMIT TRANSGENDER MEN	Morehouse college in atlanta will begin accepting transgender men as students next year. The school's board of trustees approved the policy yesterday. Students who self identify as men can enroll at the all male school, beginning in the fall of 2020. Trans women will not be allowed. And anyone who transitions or begins to self-identify as female during their time at morehouse will not be eligible to get a degree from the college. Morehouse is the only all male historically black college in the u-s. Famous alumni include: martin luther king junior and spike lee. The move comes after spelman college, a private historically black all-women's school in atlanta, adopted a similar gender identity policy in 2017.	0:00:49

- 04/07/19 “The Principles of Ray Dalio” – an interview with Ray Dalio, the billionaire founder of the investment firm

Bridgewater Associates, and his belief that income and wealth inequality is a national emergency. Dalio is guided by a principle “radical truth,” filming all company meetings so employees can observe and critique each other, and in the “redistribution of opportunities” through higher taxes on wealthy people. He hopes to “move the probabilities” towards a constructive solution to the wealth inequality problem. Includes an interview with Ray Dalio’s wife Barbara. 04/21/19

“Easter Island” – a report on the Moai, the giant, human-like statues built hundreds of years ago on Easter Island, detailing the efforts to preserve the slowly disintegrating statues and the effects of tourism on the relationship the indigenous people, whose ancestors built the Moai, have with the statues. Includes interviews with Pedro Edmunds Paoa, the mayor of the only town on Easter Island; Jo Anne Van Tilburg, a professor of archaeology at the University of California, Los Angeles; and Cristan Moreno Pakarati, a historian and tour guide on the island. (C: Anderson Cooper – P: Keith Sharman)

“The Price of Generics” – a report on the State of Connecticut’s lawsuit alleging major competitors in the generic pharmaceutical drug industry are engaged in a broad conspiracy to overcharge consumers. Connecticut Attorney General William Tong chronicles the way that multiple generic drug manufacturers systemically raised prices and divided up customers and markets to ensure maximum profit, a practice which is outlawed in the United States. Includes interviews with Connecticut Attorney General William Tong; Michael Cole, head of the antitrust division in the Connecticut Attorney General’s office; prosecutor Joe Nielsen; and Dr. Thomas Pliura, who runs a clinic serving rural southern Illinois. (C: Bill Whitaker – P: Marc Lieberman, Ali Rawaf)

“Mark Bradford” – a report on Mark Bradford, one of the world’s most popular abstract artists. Bradford uses layers of paper that he tears, sands, and power washes to create his final work. Since selling his first work for $5000 while working as a hairdresser in 2001, he has become one of the world’s premiere artists and now sells works for as much as $10 Million. Bradford says his motto is “if they don’t sell it at Home Depot, Mark Bradford doesn’t use it,” with regard to his materials and discusses his attempts to stay true to himself while tackling serious social and political issues with his art. Includes interviews with Cleo Jackson, Danielle Wright, and Lynette Powell, who are longtime friends and hair clients of Bradford. (C: Anderson Cooper – P: Ruth Streeter, Kaylee Tully)

05/19/19

“Bitcoin’s Wild Ride” – a report on Bitcoin, the virtual currency created in the 2000s that has seen massive fluctuations in value over the years, but whose success has led to the growth of the cryptocurrency industry. Bitcoin was created by a still unknown student who believed in creating a peer-to-peer network over which money could be exchanged internationally. Without the need for a big bank or money transfer company, this had the potential to revolutionize the way money changes hands worldwide. Some of bitcoin’s earliest investors tell their stories of a meteoric rise and subsequent crash as they rode the Bitcoin rollercoaster. Includes interviews with Charlie Shrem, founder of BitInstant; Neha Narula, director of the Digital Currency Initiative at the MIT Media Lab; Laszlo Hanyecz, who made what is believed to be the first real-world transaction involving cryptocurrency; Marco Streng, the CEO of Genesis Mining; and Lael Brainard, one of the governors of the Federal Reserve. (C: Anderson Cooper – P: Andy Court, Evie Salomon)

06/02/19

“The Chairman” – an interview with Jerome Powell, chairman of the Federal Reserve. Topics include: U.S. economy, interest rates, the 2008 financial crisis, whether President Trump can fire him and the greatest threats to prosperity. Also includes comments from former chairs of the Federal Reserve Ben Bernanke and Janet Yellen. (See also: “The Chairman”, OAD: 03/15/09 and “The Chairman”, OAD: 12/05/10) (C: Scott Pelley – P: Henry Schuster) (OAD: 03/10/19)

06/09/19

“Rare Earth Elements” – a report on how China has become the world leader of rare earth metals, essential ingredients used in everything from smart phones and computers, to cars and missiles. The U.S. began the cultivation of these materials at Molycorp, Inc.’s mine in Mountain Pass, California after geologists identified rare earth elements in the Mojave Desert, but it was shut down in 1998 due to environmental concerns. Meanwhile, China took over the industry since they have less environmental constraints around mining and lower labor costs, which translates into lower pricing. Molycorp Inc.’s Mountain Pass mine reopened in 2010. Includes interviews with: Constantine Karayannopoulos, chairman of Molycorp, Inc.; Daniel McGroarty, principal of Carmot Strategic Group; and Ed Richardson, president of the U.S. Magnetic Materials Association. (C: Lesley Stahl – P: Graham Messick, Kevin Livelli) (OAD: 03/22/15; 1st rebroadcast: 07/19/15 - includes an update.)

“Jerry and Marge Selbee” – a report on a retired couple from Michigan who figured out a legal way to win the state lottery with simple math. Includes interviews with: James White, Dave Huff, Loren Gerber, and Ray Gerber, members of backers of the Selbee's corporation; Scott Allen, Boston Globe investigative reporter; Greg Sullivan, former Massachusetts Inspector General. (C: Jon Wertheim – P: Katherine Davis, Jennifer Marz) (OAD: 01/27/19)

Soon, you might have to pay a little more to get where you want to go. A proposed amendment moving through the south carolina state house could add tolls to I-95. If that amendment passes, the first toll could be in Jasper County. four toll booths would be created and cost $2 each. the chairman of the Jasper County Council says he worries about traffic coming off of 95 and using other roads. He says the increase in traffic on those alternate roads could damage the roads. Tom Johnson is also concerned about how tolls will affect locals trying to get to work. â€”HARLEY: If the proposed amendment is passed the first toll could possibly be in Jasper County. Other tolls would then follow up the interstate. VO: The amendment proposed by four senators, would tell the South Carolina Department of Transportation to move forward with implementing a plan to put tolls on I-95.

Hurricane Matthew was the most powerful storm of the 2016 hurricane season. One Hilton Head Island family says they had to rebuild their home after the storm. Kristin Keller works for Palmetto Electric. She stayed behind for work during the hurricane while her family evacuated to North Carolina. She says their home had two feet of water and two trees in it. One of the children had to go to crisis counseling after the hurricane. After six months, the family was able to return to their newly rebuilt home. They say the community support is something that will stick with them for a lifetime. When feature film productions come to Savannah, they bring a need for a variety of services, from catering to accounting. They also need space to do work, and that's where a company called Film Buildings comes in. "Like a lot of people I didn't know that film was so big until I really dug in down here." Gooch says his business offers up space for feature film productions. One building his business helps manage is Savannah's St. John Baptist Church, "The Mighty Fortress." The possibility of more productions pulling out of Georgia is leaving business operators who depend on film production dollars to wonder how much of an impact they'll feel. "The people that are vocal about it, and most of the industry isn't, right? But the people that are, it's about women's rights, but at the same time there's probably more women working in film now than ever."

Today, the president will start a new round of trade negotiations with China, and the talks are expected to be tense. They have a midnight deadline to make peace before a new round of tariffs goes into effect. President Trump threatened to raise taxes on billions of dollars worth of Chinese imports. China has warned it will retaliate with quote "necessary countermeasures." The president says there's no reason to worry.

5/9/2019 7AM DAYBREAK CHINA TRADE TALKS 0:00:25

Breaking overnight, President Trump has increased tariffs on 200 billion dollars worth of Chinese imports. This after a day of tense trade talks made little progress in Washington. Those negotiations aren't over just yet, but the two countries had a midnight deadline to reach some sort of agreement before these new tariffs took effect. So at 12:01 this morning, the tax went from 10 percent to 25 percent. This is the latest step in a months-long trade war between President Trump and China's President Xi. So far, we've imposed taxes on almost half of all goods imported from China. It's mostly affecting industrial components like steel and aluminum. China has retaliated by taxing 91 percent of American imports. China's leaders say they have no plans to back down.

Curtis V. Cooper Primary Health Care's medical director says their clinics see 600 to 700 pregnant women every year. A 44-thousand dollar grant from the March of Dimes and Amerigroup Foundation is giving their pre and postnatal care a new focus. Right now, check ups focus largely on children, with new moms asked just a few questions about things like breastfeeding. The grant allows doctors look at the mom and child as a unit, screening them for smoking, depression, multivitamin use and birth spacing. Doctors say that benefits the whole community. The work is happening between the bridges on Bull River and Lazaretto Creek every evening. This work is a long time coming. It was scheduled for last year, but had to wait until now. The section of 80 has to be repaved, and the Department of Transportation is raising lower areas to help prevent the flooding that closes down 80 after a heavy rain. They'll also be removing the passing lanes near Fort Pulaski. The work will last tonight through Thursday. You'll still be able to take 80 on and off the island, but traffic will be down to one lane at times. Crews will only be out AFTER 7 p-m each night, to cut down on the traffic impact. To help fill the gap, city staff presented council with a solution, using auto rental tax dollars. Thatâ€™s money generated anytime a vehicle is rented within city limits, like at the airport. Auto rental tax is existing funding, already used for a variety of things around town, but a good chunk goes to help run the current Civic Center. The Georgia Grown tour wraps up today. It's hosted by the economic development program of the states agriculture department and highlights the states food products. Dozens of writers and bloggers stopped in Metter yesterday to learn about several local operations including a blueberry farm. During that tour, metter announced that it has signed the first tenant for their business incubator with Georgia Southern. Better Fresh Farms is a hydroponic produce business. The city hopes the small businesses develop and eventually grow enough to move out on their own. The tenants say this was the perfect way for them to grow. Dozens of writers and bloggers get to taste Southeast Georgia's best crops and dishes as part of a Georgia Grown tour. Following the approval of the transfer, Chatham County Commission Chairman Al Scott reminded everyone for the record that purpose of the fund transfer and partnership is to build an industrial park to attract manufacturing jobs. Scott says the whole idea behind the Savannah Manufacturing Center is to attract higher paying jobs to the area. Today was all about approving the fund transfer to SEDA, but 5th District Commissioner Tabitha O'Dell asked about the effort going into bringing in smaller manufacturers to the site, and incentives for companies that commit to the site.

SOT: Lori Lynah, Director of Marketing, Savannah-Hilton Head International Airport "Holiday weekends for us are typically big on the in-bound traveler side. We had a lot of people coming in. Probably about five percent more than last year coming into the area to celebrate the holiday here and get their summer started off here in Savannah and in Hilton Head." Lynah says the airport is adding flights and will have up to 64 departing flights each Saturday. The available seat number is also climbing. Lynah says for the month of June the number of available seats is up around nine percent.

The City of Brunswick says it is bringing in goats to help with ongoing mitigation efforts in the city's College Park area. The city says the area was chosen for the goats because it is difficult for regular machinery such as mowers and weed eaters to properly clear it ...and goats thrive on poison ivy - poison oak - and other kinds of plants. The goats are expected to arrive Monday and begin working along the ditch that runs parallel to Spur 25. They will be contained in an electric fence and will be accompanied by guardian dogs. The dogs are not aggressive but are trained to protect the goats - so the city says - don't approach them.

5/31/2019 6AM DAYBREAK KG MCQUEENS TRAIL	The McQueen's Trail, or what some call the "Rails to Trails" seems to be on track right now. Over the years, the six mile trail turned out to be a popular destination, but two hurricanes and general tide damage eroded the trail to where it was unsafe. Now they county is trying to get this popular and important destination back open. "We have limited public access to the marsh here in this part of the world, and I think it's important for people to be able to get out and see that resource, from a worm's eye view literally, you are right there in the marsh, the wildlife is great, the plant life is amazing and if you're lucky enough to catch a container ship, that can be interesting too." It's also a historical resource, it's the railroad bed for the Savannah Tybee Railroad, and completed in the late 1870's early 1880's. It's also where Union troops set up to cut off aid coming from Savannah to help out Confederate forces trapped at Fort Pulaski	0:01:41

“Attu” – a report on the Japanese invasion of Attu, a small island on the western end of Alaska, during World War II, and the death of Paul Tatsuguchi, a Japanese soldier who had been conscripted from his home in America with his wife. Dick Laird, the American soldier who killed Tatsuguchi, found Tatsuguchi’s diary on Attu and was haunted for years by killing a man who should not have been there until finally making peace with Tatsuguchi’s daughter many years later. Includes interviews with Mark Obmascik, author and journalist; Harry Sasser, a U.S. soldier who fought in the Attu conflict; and Laura Tatsuguchi, daughter of Paul Tatsuguchi. (C: John Wertheim – P: Draggan Mihailovich)

04/21/19

“A Marriage Made in Hell” – a report on criminal Russian hackers, specifically the prolific Evgeniy Bogachev, and the role they play in Russian espionage. Bogachev, a master hacker who created a computer virus that has stolen over 100 million dollars for businesses and individuals, was turned into an intelligence asset by the Russian government and given cover to continue his cybercrime. According to former assistant attorney general for national security John Carlin, the Russian government’s treatment of Bogachev is just one of many examples of the way Russia and the Vladimir Putin regime decline to prosecute cyber criminals, instead using their skills to spy on other countries. Includes interviews with former assistant attorney general for national security, John Carlin; Dave Hickton, a former U.S. attorney who oversaw the Borgachev investigation; Tom Burt, vice president of cybersecurity at Microsoft; and Brett Stone-Gross, an analyst from the cybersecurity firm CrowdStrike. (C: Lesley Stahl – P: Richard Bonin, Ayesha Siddiqi)

04/28/19

“On the Border” – a report on the massive number of migrant families crossing the U.S. southern border and the Department of Homeland Security’s attempts to handle the large crowds. Kevin McAleenan, the acting Secretary of Homeland Security, who enforced the department’s now defunct policy of separating children from parents at the border as a way of deterring migrants from attempting to cross, explains how DHS facilities are overrun with families, which they are not equipped to handle. McAleenan also explains how U.S. law allows migrant families to remain in the country until they’ve seen a judge, which can take up to five years with the current case backlog. McAleenan calls the situation at the border “absolutely both” a humanitarian and national security crisis. Includes interviews with Marcelino Medina, a U.S. border patrol officer; Chief Patrol Agent Rudy Karisch; Sister Norma Pimental, who runs a Catholic Charities Respite Center in Texas; and migrant families. (See also: “Chaos on the Border”, OAD: 11/25/18) (C: Sharyn Alfonsi– P: Oriana Zill de Granados, Michael Rey)

“The High North” – a report on Norway, its role in NATO, and the border it shares with Russia. Norway is the northernmost country in NATO and plays a critical role in gathering intelligence on Russian naval operations. New Russian submarines make Norway’s role even more vital, and the U.S. recently staged a military demonstration in the arctic circle as a message to Russia that the U.S. will protect Norway. Includes interviews with Lieutenant General Rune Jakobsen, Norway’s joint force commander; Captain Carina Vinterdal, who guards Norway’s northern border; Admiral James Foggo, commander of U.S. naval forces in Europe; Major Leif Otterholm, a tactical flight coordinator; and Ine Erikson Soreide, Norway’s foreign minister. 60 MINUTES PRESENTS: “Under Fire”

“Friendly Fire” - an interview with three former U.S. soldiers: Brandon Branch, Army Paramedic; Henry Montalbano, Sergeant, Green Beret; and Derrick Anderson, team commander, Green Beret -- who dispute a classified report that blames human error for the death of six others, including two Green Berets in Afghanistan. On June 9th, 2014, an American B-1 bomber plane incapable of detecting soldier’s strobes killed its own forces after misidentifying them as Taliban. The surviving U.S. soldiers maintain that this faulty targeting system was responsible for the incident. Also includes interviews with: Woody Studenmund, father of Scott Studenmund, a Green Beret Staff Sergeant who was killed in the friendly fire attack; and Jeffrey Harrigian, former Air Force Major General. (C: Bill Whitaker – Producer listed at the beginning of Part I: Howard L. Rosenberg; Producers listed at the beginning of Part II: Howard L. 06/16/19 “SGB” - Stellate ganglion block, a procedure used to ease pain for decades, is now an experimental treatment for PTSD that veterans say is greatly easing their symptoms. Now the Army is testing it as a potential therapy. Some call for the procedure, commonly used since the 1920s for chronic pain treatment, to be made a part of all PTSD treatments. Includes interviews with PTSD sufferers Sergeant First Class Jonathan Zehring, Marine Sergeant Henry Coto, former Green Beret Don Bolduc; Bolduc's wife Sharon; Dr. Sean Mulvaney; and Dr. Michael Alkire. (C: Bill Whitaker – P: Heather Abbott)

06/30/19 “The Nuremberg Prosecutor” - an interview / profile of Ben Ferencz, the last living prosecutor from the Nuremberg trials after World War II. Ferencz's trial was of 22 commanders of the Nazi SS units called Einsatzgruppen, which murdered more than a million people, the largest killings outside the concentration camps. The trials were the first international war crimes tribunals. (C: Lesley Stahl - P: Shari Finkelstein, Nieves Zuberbuhler) (OAD: 05/07/17)

IRAN DRONE ATTACK

We're following breaking news from the Middle East this morning. U-S and Iranian officials are both reporting that Iran has shot down a United States drone. It happened in the Strait of Hormuz, which is between the Persian Gulf and the Gulf of Oman. The U-S official says the drone was in international airspace -- but Iran says it was flying in Iranian territory. Iran certainly has the capability to shoot down a drone. Earlier this month, the defense ministry released video of their air defense system. They claim their missiles can hit "several targets" and detect targets with stealth shielding. These reports come as tensions between Iran and the United States are very high. The White House insists that Iran was behind an attack on two tankers. The Iranian government denies that. Secretary of State Mike Pompeo has said all options are on the table as a response, including

IRAN DRONE ATTACK

We're following breaking news from the Middle East this morning. U-S and Iranian officials are both reporting that Iran has shot down a United States drone. It happened in the Strait of Hormuz, which is between the Persian Gulf and the Gulf of Oman. The U-S official says the drone was in international airspace -- but Iran says it was flying in Iranian territory. Iran certainly has the capability to shoot down a drone. Earlier this month, the defense ministry released video of their air defense system. They claim their missiles can hit "several targets" and detect targets with stealth shielding. These reports come as tensions between Iran and the United States are very high. The White House insists that Iran was behind an attack on two tankers. The Iranian government denies that. Secretary of State Mike Pompeo has said all options are on the table as a response, including

A C-130 from the 165th Airlift Wing at the Savannah Air National Guard Base now carries with it the "spirit" of Savannah... with a special decal and dedication to the city the unit calls home. City and military leaders came together for a dedication ceremony today inside one of the hangars of the 165th. This 25-year-old C-130 Hercules is the only plane at the 165th with a special designation like this... and it's meant to commemorate and recognize the relationship between the City of Savannah and the 165th. The C-130 Hercules is a familiar sight for Savannahians... the hum of its four engines is constant in our skies. The "Spirit of Savannah" logo will remain on the side of the plane. The only time it will be taken off is if the plane is entered into wartime operations.

Today - the Beaufort Veterans Community will come together to honor three Veteran heroes. The remains of three former military members were found in Colleton County. But they couldn't find anyone to claim them. So today, they're calling on the community to give them a proper burial. Zach Logan joins us live from the Beaufort National Cemetery which is where these veterans will be laid to rest today. Everyone is invited to attend today's burials. The cemetery director says he'd be happy to see several hundred people paying respect to these heroes.

Breaking news this morning -- Wikileaks founder Julian Assange has been sentenced for missing bail. Julian Assange appeared in a British court this morning. The judge gave him the maximum sentence in this case -- 50 weeks. He had asked for leniency since he spent the last seven years hiding in the Ecuadorian Embassy in Britain. Assange is also facing extradition to the United States, where he's accused of hacking the democratic party in 2016.

TRACK: Technology is changing by the day. Its a double edge sword - hurting and helping the cyber crime industry. "Basically a constant cat and mouse game. They are finding new ways to stay anonymous and to stay hidden and we're constantly finding new techniques that allow us to track them down." TRACK: Special Agent in Charge Debbie Garner with the Child Exploitation and Computer Crimes Unit says she started fighting cyber crime five years ago specializing in crimes against children. Then, they maybe averaged 150 tips a month. Today, they average 500. That doesn't necessarily mean there's more crime, but there's a new way the crime is being reported. "One of the reasons for this increase is that the internet service providers are getting better at finding the content on their platforms, so technology is helping us find more of this content." TRACK: internet crime is any illegal activity on the internet. and there's more than 30 categories of offenses

Facebook is taking new steps this morning to combat the rise and spread of online extremism. The site is changing some of its rules after the mass shooting at two New Zealand Mosques. Starting today, anyone who breaks Facebook's "most serious policies" concerning violence and extremism, will be immediately banned from using Facebook Live. The shooting in Christchurch was streamed on Facebook live -- and the suspected shooter had a history of anti-Muslim posting beforehand. Social media extremism is seen as a widespread global threat, which a United Nations official pointed out when he visited Christchurch overnight.

A Guatemalan official says a migrant toddler has died after crossing the border into the United States. The official says the boy entered the U-S with his parent early last month. They say the boy had a high fever and difficulty breathing -- and authorities took him to a children's hospital where he was diagnosed with pneumonia. The boy remained hospitalized for about a month before dying Tuesday. That boy is the fourth minor known to have died after being detained by the Border Patrol in the last 6 months.

ATTACK

Breaking overnight -- 2 people were killed in a knife attack in a town just outside of Tokyo. This was in the city of Kawasaki. A group of school girls were waiting for a bus, when police say a man came up and threatened to kill them. Local media reports 19 people were stabbed, and most of them were young girls attending a nearby Catholic school. Police have confirmed 2 people were killed, but haven't said if they were also students. They also say the attacker killed himself. Japan's Prime Minister says he plans to take measures to improve children's safety in response.

4/1/2019 7AM DAYBREAK	DEMS HOLDING MUELLER DEADLINE	Attorney General William Barr says it will take him "weeks" to release the full report on the Special Counsel's Russia Investigation. But Congress wants it sooner than that. Democrats on the House Judiciary Committee set a deadline of April 2nd for him to turn over the report. That's tomorrow. Barr has already released a 4 page summary, but the full document is reportedly almost 400 pages long. In that summary, Barr says the investigation found no evidence of collusion between Donald Trump's campaign and the Russian government, but did not clear the president of obstructing justice.	0:00:35

4/1/2019 7AM DAYBREAK	BIDEN ALLEGATIONS AND RESPONSE	Former Vice President Joe Biden hasn't officially announced if he's running for president in 2020. But if he does, his campaign is already under scrutiny. Biden was accused of inappropriate conduct over the weekend. A former political candidate from Nevada named Lucy Flores says he came up behind her, kissed her and made her feel "uneasy" at a campaign event in 2014. Those allegations were made Friday. Biden responded on Sunday. He says he remembers getting close to people at campaign events, but doesn't remember acting inappropriately. Flores appeared on CNN minutes after that statement, and said the former V-P missed the point.	0:00:41

4/1/2019 7AM DAYBREAK	HEARTBEAT BILL LIKELY BECOMING LAW	Jen Jordan/ (D) Georgia State Senate: "What gives this body the right to substitute it's choices for those of the women who will no doubt bear the scars, the consequences and who will face death and now likely prison. It is not for the government or the men of this chamber to insert itself into the most personal, private and wrenching decisions." The bill has also drawn protests from Hollywood stars, who say they don't want to do business in Georgia if the law passes. Several business leaders have also spoken out about it, including officials with Coca-Cola. And the ACLU says it wil take legal action. But when we sat down with Governor Kemp last week, he told us he isn't worried about the fallout.	0:00:41

4/1/2019 NOON	GA: TOMORROW LAST DAY OF LEGISLATIVE SESSION	(nats voting) shame! shame! (track 1) protesters rallied at the georgia statehouse, as opponents came up just 2 votes short of defeating the controversial abortion ban. the bill is now headed to the desk of georgia's governor, brian kemp. (track 2) (gfx 1 in) it makes abortions illegal once a fetal heartbeat is detectable... as early as 6 weeks after conception... before many women even know they're pregnant. (gfx 1 out) (track 3) state representative ed setzler is the bill's main sponsor. (sot setzler) we've established that a child in utero, that has a beating heart, is a living distinct person, that it gets full legal rights under georgia law. (track 4) (gfx 2 in) the bill gives a fetus "natural person" status... which allows the fetus to be entitled to child support... claimed as a dependent on tax returns... and included in georgia's population. (gfx 2 out) (track 5) (gfx 3 in) abortions will be allowed only if the fetus has a fatal deformity..	0:02:00

4/2/2019 7AM DAYBREAK	DISASTER BILL STALLS	A disaster aid bill won't go any further, after the Senate voted against it overnight. Republicans now say farmers in the Southeast will suffer without it. But Democrats blocked the bill because they wanted more funding for Puerto Rico's recovery. The U-S territory is still crippled after Hurricane Maria in 2017. President Trump offered 600 million dollars in this bill. Democrats are asking to double that number. In all the bill would have given more than 13 billion dollars to disaster zones, including south Georgia. Senator David Perdue blames Democrats for hurting farmers who are struggling after Hurricane Michael.	0:00:36

4/2/2019 7AM DAYBREAK	SC RIDESHARE BILL	Today in Columbia, a South Carolina representative will file a bill designed to make rideshare services safer. It was inspired by the death of a University of South Carolina student. The bill would require Uber and Lyft drivers to display easy-to-see stickers on their windshields. Right now, laws only require a reflective sticker. This bill would require those stickers to be lit up. The lawmaker was inspired by Samantha Josephson, who got into a car that she THOUGHT was her Uber last Friday morning. She was found dead that afternoon. http://www.live5news.com/2019/04/02/governor-lawmakers-react-kidnapping-murder-uofsc-student/	0:00:34

Fair Fight Action, an organization co-founded by Stacey Abrams, filed the lawsuit after she lost the governor's race in November. The suit accuses state elections officials of mismanaging the 2018 election. It calls for major reforms and asks that a federal judge approve any changes to Georgia's voting rules. Lawyers for the state argue local officials are to blame. Governor Kemp - who was the state's top election official during the race - denies any wrong doing. He signed legislation this month for a new voting system that the Secretary of state says will be implemented before next year's elections. 		The chief clerk of Chatham County's Probate Court says the County is bringing in much more revenue than last year, mainly because they brought the whole application process in house. That includes things like fingerprinting for background checks. "Over the last year we've added staff, we've added space, we've added equipment...because in the years past, and last two years we had developed about a four to five year backlog." Not wanting to put up with the wait, Williamson says that likely led to fewer applicants coming down to the courthouse to submit the paperwork. "Weapons carry is now a one-week turnaround, unless something shows up on the background that prohibits or requires a hearing." The Chief Clerk for the Probate Court says they're projecting processing more than 5000 applications this year, compared to the 43-hundred they did in all of 2018. 6/7/2019 6AM DAYBREAK	SAV CITY COUNCIL: CITY SERVICES RELOCATION	City leaders are also working on a new home services currently located where the new Savannah Arena will be built. That includes offices like street and fleet maintenance as well as storm water supervision. The goal over the next few years will be to move city staff and services to a spot at Interchange Drive. City staff says there is enough funding to support the new complex, and it will come from a combination of the general fund, enterprise funds and SPLOST. The timeline right now put project completion in the Spring of 2021. When the new arena and all that will go in around it starts to take shape, the city of Savannah will have to relocate city services currently located on that lot. Right now a number are housed there, anything from street and fleet maintenance to storm water supervision. Sean Evans shows us what plans the city has to relocate all those services.	0:00:52

Now, some crosswalks are even getting flashing lights to alert drivers when a person is crossing the street. Last year, the city installed several of these flashing lights at nearby crosswalks along Whitaker and Drayton Street. A crew completed around 345 crosswalks last year and they hope to do more this year.	0:00:30

Chatham County Commission had to approve accepting the grants that were given by the Criminal Justice Coordinating Council to Juvenile Court here in Chatham County. Now that that's through that money will go a long way, just over 150-thousand dollars toward their operations here. It was a formality, and one that passed easily on the Chatham County Commission action calendar. The funds will benefit two components of Chatham County Juvenile Court: the Specialized Probation and Rehabilitation Court, known as SPARC, and the Family Treatment Court. SPARC's mission is to improve community safety through specialized probation by collaborating and connecting families with services in the community. Family Treatment Court's goal is to secure safe and permanent families for children by addressing drug abuse of a parent or caregiver. "So I think the misconception for juvenile court for a lot of the community is that it is meant for punitive and punishment reasons.

Members of the Downtown Neighborhood Association are helping to write this draft. I spoke with the President of the DNA this week. He says city council could soon be voting on the proposed ordinance soon. Members of the DNA say Savannah, specifically downtown, has become THE spot to host events from races that block off streets to movie crews impacting different neighborhoods. The DNA says they're happy to see so much interest in this part of the city, but believe these special events should be managed properly. The DNA President says he hopes the ordinance will help to spread these events out into other parts of the city.

		After Pooler precincts looked like this during last year's governor's race, chatham county election supervisor Russell Bridges knew something needed to change. Russell Bridges/supervisor of elections, chatham county: "We don't want a repeat of the lines that occurred in the polling places last year, and we certainly don't want the voters to have to stand in line for two or three hours." Bridges says Pooler's had three voting locations for about the last 10 years, but with more people moving into the city, the number of people voting in each precinct is increasing too. Bridges proposed and city council is considering adding two more ahead of November's municipal election. Russell Bridges/supervisor of elections, chatham county: "these actions are essentially to add new voting locations to spread those voters out and to do it in a logical plan that can balance the distribution of the voters and to absorb the growth that's still ahead of pooler."

		We have an update for you after four city vehicles became stuck on federally protected land on Tybee Island about 3 weeks ago. The city of Tybee Island says its now planning a series of training programs for to prevent something similar from happening again. That includes: a course on law enforcement ATV operations with the Georgia Public Safety Center. A defensive driving course for all employees. and Training on marsh and coastal jurisdictions in multiple departments. Tybee officials say if they complete this training and also restore the beach, they may avoid fines from DNR. City leaders are also working to revise its policy for vehicle use.

6/19/2019 6AM DAYBREAK	SAVE THE MERCER	The clock is ticking on the Savannah Civic Center. City leaders are moving forward with their plans to tear it down. And that means the Johnny Mercer Theater inside the civic center will go with it. Now, there's a movement to save the theater. Advocates say the Theatre is a center for Savannah's culture, hoping that the city will keep it. Mayor Eddie DeLoach is advocating for a new theatre instead.	0:00:24

6/21/2019 6AM DAYBREAK	ROY MINTER CITY COUNCIL	Roy Minter, Savannah Police Chief "Residents over there in that area were very upset about what happened in their community. And they've taken a very proactive and very involved stance in saying, we're gonna do whatever we can to assist you with this investigation. We're going to go around and see if anybody saw anything, if they can provide any video. And that's the kind of cooperation we need." To continue building relationships in the community, the police department is partnering with several community and religious groups to reach out to neighborhoods all around town in a new effort called the Hope Walk. The first one will happen tonight in Yamacraw.	0:00:40

6/24/2019 6AM DAYBREAK	6AM ZACH	Last month, the city released an online survey asking people what they thought about lowering the parking rate in between the areas of Bay and Oglethorpe and Lincoln and Habersham. People who park in this area are currently charged two dollars per hour. And right now - this area of town is seeing too many open spaces. So the city wants to lower the rate in order to fill these spaces again. Around 400 people took the survey last month with around 87 percent saying they were in favor of the change. People seem to also be liking the longer service times of the city's free DOT shuttle which is operated by Chatham Area Transit. The Forsyth shuttle moved around 40 thousand passengers last month.	0:00:41

6/25/2019 6AM DAYBREAK	SAV ELECTRIC CARS	The City of Savannah introduced its first two electric cars yesterday. The two Nissan Leaf's are the newest addition to the City of Savannah's fleet. As part of the strategic plan, the City wants 15% of the fleet to be electric or hybrid by 2023. Right now the City of Savannah has 500 vehicles, meaning 75 would need to be converted in the next few years to meet the 15% goal of having green cars. But the city says the number is likely to change. The City of Savannah introduced its first two electric cars today. Its part of the Strategic plan to convert 15% of its fleet to hybrid or electric cars. Romney Smith joins us now. Romney you found out the city may have to change that goal. The City is well on its way to reducing its carbon footprint, but target goal may have to change depending on the results of these new electric cars.	0:00:49
