

LIST OF PROGRAMS IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST, JULY 1 TO SEPTEMBER 30, 2018

7/24/2018- Your Tuesday Afternoon Alternative,” Two Hours, 4-6 PM ET, This program is hosted by, and was developed by Art Jipson, a professor at the University of Dayton, and was built around a popular culture course he teaches. The purpose of the show is to educate and entertain listeners about the nature, evolution and development of popular music, as well as to keep listeners informed about cultural activities, as well as social issues in the Dayton area, Cincinnati and Columbus. Guests: Jeremy Siegrist, Lynn Siegrist, local promoters

8/28/2018- Your Tuesday Afternoon Alternative,” Two Hours, 4-6 PM ET, This program is hosted by, and was developed by Art Jipson, a professor at the University of Dayton, and was built around a popular culture course he teaches. The purpose of the show is to educate and entertain listeners about the nature, evolution and development of popular music, as well as to keep listeners informed about cultural activities, as well as social issues in the Dayton area, Cincinnati and Columbus. Guests: M. Ross Perkins, local activist.

9/04/18- Your Tuesday Afternoon Alternative,” Two Hours, 4-6 PM ET, This program is hosted by, and was developed by Art Jipson, a professor at the University of Dayton, and was built around a popular culture course he teaches. The purpose of the show is to educate and entertain listeners about the nature, evolution and development of popular music, as well as to keep listeners informed about cultural activities, as well as social issues in the Dayton area, Cincinnati and Columbus. Guest: Nathan Peters, local activist.

9/18/18- Your Tuesday Afternoon Alternative,” Two Hours, 4-6 PM ET, This program is hosted by, and was developed by Art Jipson, a professor at the University of Dayton, and was built around a popular culture course he teaches. The purpose of the show is to educate and entertain listeners about the nature, evolution and development of popular music, as well as to keep listeners informed about cultural activities, as well as social issues in the Dayton area, Cincinnati and Columbus. Guest: David Fitzsimmons, Author/Children's Author.