ERIC FREIN MANHUNT AND CAPTURE

Two state troopers are shot in an ambush attack outside a state police barracks. One trooper is killed the other seriously injured. For 7 weeks, the suspected shooter Eric Frein leads authorities on an intensive manhunt. It involved law enforcement from all over the state, and cost the millions of dollars to hunt and capture this suspect. Our reporting this month was on the on-going manhunt and Frein's capture in an airport hangar in the Pocono Mountains of Pennsylvania.

EBOLA

Cases of Ebola began turning up in the US in the fall of 2014. The Ebola epidemic in West Africa, began to have an effect on those traveling between the US and Africa. There was widespread panic and misunderstanding about the disease, how it's spread, how it's treated, and who is at danger. Our reporting during the month included the latest on issues with Ebola, the chances of it appearing in our community, and what hospitals are doing to prepare and keep the community safe.

NOVEMBER 2014

NOVEMBER GENERAL ELECTION

November 4 is Election Day in Pennsylvania. Voters are electing a new Governor and state legislature. US Congressmen are also up for reelection. Our coverage includes expected reports on turn-out, reporting on why vote, the election process, results of the election, and conversations with the winners. The election features one of the smallest ballots in recent memory.

WHERE THE JOBS ARE?

Staring at a mountain of debt and limited prospects for climbing it is the dilemma many new college grads confront. But another chilling prospect is that their Grandparents could also be looking at a pile of student debt remaining from the seventies and eighties. Student debt, especially bank loans does not recede, and penalties and interest mount up like the vigorish from a loan shark. There is no escape from it. The point to this story is a trans-generational pattern of bank indebtedness that began in the sixties and continues with no end in sight for anyone. The cost of education rises at multiples of the cost of living, and wages have been stagnant since the beginning of the recession.

PAY IT FORWARD

The spirit of Pay it Forward is sweeping the nation. Random acts of kindness are becoming popular. More and more people are participating. Nothing feels as good as helping others in need. That's one reason why JET24 FOX 66 and YourErie.com have partnered with Lakeside Auto Group in Erie to help people Pay it Forward. Every week TV viewers are given hints as to where they can find the Pay it Forward Truck, a highly visible pick-up truck. The first person that finds the truck, claims $300 cash, and then has one hour to Pay it Forward to someone they are not related to who needs it, or a charity of their choice. This is a one year campaign to help people feel good about themselves, feel good about the community, and help others feel good has been extremely popular.

CONNEAUT LAKE PARK SHERIFF SALE

The historic Conneaut Lake Park amusement park is scheduled to be sold at sheriff's sale this month . It's nearly a million dollars delinquent in back taxes. The current park board of trustees is doing everything possible to keep it from being sold. The community is divided between those feeling it's time for the park to be treated like every other delinquent property owner and be sold to repay local municipalities and the school district. The other side feel the park must be preserved, and not sold, for the land faces certain development into prime lakeside condo's or other luxury residences, no longer serving as a tourist attraction for the region. In the end, the trustees filed bankruptcy and saved the park from auction. What happens next remains to be seen.
