In an exclusive interview, Fox 66 Special Assignment Reporter Jennifer Mobilia, was able to crack open the collar bomb that was worn around Brian Well's (Pizza Bomber), neck to give the viewers an inside look. Since the Pizza Bomber's case is officially closed, the Erie Bomb Squad Agents finally broke their silence and talked about the collar bomb that killed Brian Wells. Tom Stankiewicz, former Erie Bomb Squad Commander, recreated that now infamous collar bomb. He says the replica is identical to the bomb that killed Wells. Stankiewicz says there were many booby traps--fake wires—and bolts that had been stripped—making it impossible to open the device and de-arm it with regular tools. Stankiewicz is now using his collar bomb replica as a training model for other bomb squad agencies throughout the nation.

Erie District Judge Tom Carney was in Harrisburg April 6th, facing charges that he brought disrepute to the bench. Carney was before a panel of three Judges from the Pennsylvania Court of Judicial Discipline. In September the State Judicial Conduct Board charged Carney with seven ethics related counts. A summary conviction for waving a gun at a car on Interstate 79 in January 2009 was at the core of the most serious allegations. If Carney is convicted the Court of Judicial Discipline could order sanctions, including suspension or removal from office. (In late April, Carney testified that he did not take responsibility for his actions and the Mercer County District Attorney's Office dropped the criminal charges after he paid a $541 fine.)

The Erie School District is suffering from a 26 million dollar deficit that hit them earlier this month. It has people concerned and left many teachers jobless. The news came to the teachers via a letter in their mailboxes saying the likelihood of them coming back to the Erie School District was minimal. Three groups of teachers in particular are affected such as long term substitutes, teachers working temporarily as replacements, and teachers with low seniority from certain departments.

A 2006 injury to a newborn baby led to a multi million dollar verdict against Hamot Medical Center. The Erie County Jury awarded the family of Ja'Kareon Graham just fewer than 21.6 million dollars. Graham was born in 2006 at Hamot but due to a lack of oxygen he developed severe brain damage and cerebral palsy. The Jury found Hamot 100% at fault for those injuries. The majority of the money from the Jury's verdict will go to Graham's future medical expenses.

May 13

North East Township Supervisors presented an ordinance to residents on May 14, to prohibit the use of chemicals in hydro-fracking gas wells in the township. But the ordinance may be far from approved. Lake Erie Energy started to drill a well in North East and for residents the biggest fear is fracking, or injecting water and chemicals at high pressure into wells to fracture the rock above and release the gas below. Now, a new ordinance may stop that. Dozens of residents gathered at the township meeting to review the ordinance presented by the chairman of the North East Supervisors Vernon Frye. The ordinance, if approved, states that gas wells in North East cannot be extracted using hazardous chemicals. Questions and suggestions were raised by citizens in regards to the details and restrictions of the ordinance. The ordinance would go above and beyond any rules and regulations currently set forth by the DEP. As for what's next, they plan to create an advisory board in order to make sure they are covering all bases since this is uncharted territory for the area. The revised ordinance will be presented at their next meeting, and probably not approved until about a month or so.

Presque Isle receives best restored beach award. The American Shore and Beach Preservation Association released its much anticipated annual list of the nation's best restored beaches for 2011. Presque Isle is one of five national winners that received the best restored beach, which is an award highlighting the value of restored beaches. Beaches like Presque Isle help separate storm waves from upland structures and infrastructure and serve as habitat for species, to live, feed, and nest.

The boat sank immediately after the explosion reportedly with a woman's body trapped inside. The Erie County Coroner, Erie Police, the Erie Fire Department and the US Coast Guard responded to the scene.

At least 2,000 union workers from across the country packed the Hammermill in Downtown Erie. The "Worker to Worker Rally" is to raise awareness that contract negotiations are now under way with workers and General Electric. The current union contract will expire on June 19th and the new contract will be ratified on the local plant level soon after. (The tentative contract was approved by the UE Negotiating Committee, US Conference Board, and UE Executive Board. It reportedly includes, pay raises totaling 12% over the next four years but also calls for employees to pay more for health insurance.)

The accident happened around 2 a.m. near the intersection of South Creek Road and Old Ridge Road near Girard. Passenger, 18-year-old Brandon Nicosia was ejected during the accident and reportedly pinned underneath the car. He was pronounced dead at the scene and was not wearing a seatbelt. Nicosia just graduated the night before the accident. (David Dehaven, the driver, is charged with homicide while driving under the influence and a list of other charges. He resides at Erie County Prison.)
