

Quarterly Issues & Programs

Quarter 1-2016

KTXN-FM

City of Victoria-The Victoria Report

Sunday 6:30am

January 2016 (30:00)

Victoria Public Library's Dayna Williams Capone continued the library's campaign to let people know about the many resources available to the public for free, specifically dealing with new technologies. These programs are aimed at students of all ages, and are part of the library's added resources available to them. (12:00)

Tony Cordo of the Victoria Convention and Visitor's Bureau continued to promote the Texas Coastal Barbecue Trail. This event is ongoing for several months and part of the promotion includes appealing to barbecue lovers across the state. Local restaurants and food trucks are gaining momentum and have a big impact on the area economy, and Texas is known for its barbecue. (18:00)

February 2016 (30:00)

Tony Cordo of the Victoria Convention and Visitors Bureau talked about his first year in the department. He talked about the benefits of living and working in the city, and about lessons learned through the first year. He also gave a report card on the state of tourism for the area.(18:00)

Detective Tanya Brown of the Victoria Police Department informed residents of new scams that have surfaced in the area, and offered ways for residents to protect themselves, how to recognize scams, and what to do if they should be approached with one. (12:00)

March 2016 (29:55)

City Environmental Services Director Darryl Lesak discussed changes in the Victoria Recycling program. Fees were changed, and collection policy was also updated to deal with the large influx of recyclable items that were being collected. Residents had several questions on the issue. (17:00)

Detective Tanya Brown of the Victoria Police Department informed residents of new scams that have surfaced in the area, and offered ways for residents to protect themselves, how to recognize scams, and what to do if they should be approached with one. (12:00)