Are communities safer from this kind of a disaster? Also on this show: Texas libraries are set to lose federal funding, author Beverly Donofrio on her new memoir.

November 17, 2013

Still no official word from the San Antonio state senator, but Leticia Van De Putte has announced that she will make an official announcement next week. Would her addition to the Texas Democratic ticket make the party a serious challenger in 2014? Also on this show: Did race, or clever advertising, decide the winner in a Houston election? A Texas silver mine closes down on the border, causing big headaches for the area.

November 24, 2013

Before that afternoon fifty years ago, neither Sid Davis nor Julian Read could have expected what they'd be called upon to do - much less that they'd both be eyewitnesses to history. Davis was a young radio reporter based in Washington D.C. Read was on the other side of the journalistic fence, serving as press aide for Texas Gov. John Connally.

But they were both on a press bus in Dallas on Nov. 22, 1963 -the day President John F. Kennedy was shot. After 50 years of virtual silence, Austinite Julian Read recently opens about his experience that day.

December 1, 2013

Jeff Craig, City of Victoria Police Chief discusses how to avoid thefts and burglaries during the holidays and explains Tip411 that offers anonymous tips to the Victoria Police Department via cell phone and Dayna Williams-Capone, Library Director - Library expands eBook offering for everyone expecting a tablet ore-reader for Christmas.

December 8, 2013

While Gov. Rick Perry has continued his hard line on Medicaid expansion under the ACA, a new study finds that Texas taxpayers will end up paying billions for the other states that do. Never fear, it is now totally fine to say "Merry Christmas" in Texas public schools. Also on this show: Amy Tan talks about the inspiration behind her new book, "The Valley of Amazement."

December 15, 2013

Texans like hearing about how wonderful and exceptional our state is, but a recent ranking of states based on health has the Lone Star State in a less than mediocre position. Texas was ranked 36th in the nation, down from 35th a year ago.

December 22, 2013

The holidays are a time of stories. There is the divine story of the birth of Jesus and the almost infinite volume of personal stories from each of our families. There's the story of the magic of Christmas seen a child's eyes, then told many years later after that child became an adult. Texas Matters pauses to listen to those stories and we encourage you to tell your stories to your loved ones.

December 29, 2013

The Environmental Protection Agency drew fire from gas interests and politicians in how it handled the case in Parker County, which is west of Fort Worth, but the new report finds the agency followed all laws and rules in the investigation. Also on this show: Oil lobby contests crude oil export policy, Texas Monthly's Bum Steer Award(s) and a holiday tamale making tradition.
