

ISSUES-PROGRAMS LIST October - December 2014

1. RENUVIX
Renuvix is a Fargo technology company that uses agricultural products as an alternative to hazardous products like formaldehyde and bisphenol-A. Guests include Dr. Dean Webster, chair of NDSU's Department of Coatings and Polymeric Materials and Bret Chosholm, senior research scientist at the NDSU Center for Nanoscale Science and Engineering.
Program: Mainstreet
Aired: 10-7-14
Time: 3:06-3:40pm
2. VETERAN'S SERVICES
Dan Thorstad, Veteran's service officer with the North Dakota Department of Veterans Affairs discusses the broad range of issues faces by veterans and the services that are available to them.
Program: Mainstreet
Aired: 11-12-14
Time: 3:06 – 3:30pm
3. EMPLOYING THE DISABLED
North Dakota has a "Committee on Employment of People with Disabilities" that works to remove employment barriers. The met in Bismarck to explore strategic partnerships and to discuss developments in the field. Guests include Russ Cusack, director of Bicultural Rehabilitation Division at the ND Department of Human Services.
Program: Mainstreet
Aired: 12-3-14
Time: 3:06 – 3:30pm
4. HEALTHY STUFF
HealthyStuff.org has completed lab testing on dozens of seasonal holiday products purchased at major retailers. While some of the products were free of hazardous chemicals, the majority have at least one hazardous chemical at levels of concern for humans. Guests include Healthy Stuff spokesperson Jeff Gearhart.
Program: Mainstreet
Aired: 12-16-14
Time: 3:06 – 3:20pm
5. HIV/AIDS GRANT
The University of North Dakota school of medicine has received a substantial federal grant to deal with neurological complications of HIV/AIDS. The five year, $1.45 million dollar grant was actually the second of its kind awarded to the school by the National Institutes of Health.
Program: Morning Edition
Reporter: Dave Thompson
Aired: 12-29-14
Time: 7:04am