Issue	Program/Title	Description	Date	Time	Duration
Economy	Capital Connection	Ken Lovett, Albany Bureau Chief for the New York Daily News , sorted out the complicated plan by the governor to get a minimum wage of $15 per hour. If approved by the legislature, the plan would increase the minimum wage at different rates in different parts of the state over different lengths of time.	04/03/2016	7am	30 mins.
Economy Politics	Capital Connection	Blair Horner, Executive Director of the New York Public Interest Research Group (NYPIRG), reviewed the new state budget that was passed by the legislature. He noted that the budget includes implementation of a $15 per hour minimum wage, but it would be phased in over several years. He also discussed the impact of the upcoming New York presidential primary election on other races in the state.	04/10/2016	7am	30 mins.
Politics	Capital Connection	Casey Seiler, Capital Bureau Chief for the Albany Times Union , previewed the upcoming New York State presidential primary and its importance in the delegate count. He explained how the complex delegate system works in selecting the next president of the United States.	04/17/2016	7am	30 mins.
Politics	Capital Connection	Ken Lovett, Albany Bureau Chief for the New York Daily News , analyzed the results of the New York State presidential primary, citing reasons why Hillary Clinton won on the Democratic side and Donald Trump won on the Republican side. Lovett also talked about the role Governor Andrew Cuomo played in campaigning for Clinton and what the governor's future political aspirations might be.	04/24/2016	7am	30 mins.
Politics	Capital Connection	Ed Cox, chairperson of the New York State Republican Party, reflected on the recent presidential primary in this state and why it was more important this year than in previous years. He talked about Donald Trump's campaign and offered his thoughts on people Trump might consider for a running mate.	05/01/2015	7am	30 mins.
Corruption in State Government	Capital Connection	Ken Lovett, Albany Bureau Chief for the New York Daily News , discussed the five investigations into New York City mayor Bill de Blasio, including allegations that the mayor arranged for money to be transferred to county Democratic committees in upstate New York (including Monroe County) to support downstate candidates. Lovett also talked about a top aide to Governor Andrew Cuomo being investigated for allegedly shady deals involving the "Buffalo Billion," an	05/08/2016	7am	30 mins.

		economic development program designed by the governor's administration to benefit Western New York.
Corruption in State Government	Capital Connection	Jimmy Vielkind, Albany Bureau Chief for Politico New York , an online news service, discussed the investigations into two top aides of Governor Andrew Cuomo concerning economic development deals in Western New York. The scrutiny centers on the multi-million dollar contracts given to developers to build high-tech facilities and the alleged connection to campaign contributions.	05/15/2016	7am	30 mins.
Ethics Reform in NY State	Capital Connection	Yancey Roy, Albany Bureau Chief for Newsday , said there's a lot of talk about ethics reform in Albany, but very low expectations that any real reform will occur in the New York State capital. He discussed the loophole that allows companies to donate lots of money to politicians which would otherwise be prohibited.	05/22/2016	7am	30 mins.
Sexual Abuse of Children	Capital Connection	Ken Lovett, Albany Bureau Chief for the New York Daily News , discussed whether the state legislature should extend the statute of limitations on child sexual abuse allegations for both civil and criminal cases. He explained the LLC loophole which allows companies to contribute large sums of money to political candidates. And he talked about the 90-day email auto-delete policy instituted by Governor Andrew Cuomo for the governor's office and some state agencies, and why the governor was forced to end that policy.	05/29/2016	7am	30 mins.
State Government Policies
Politics	Capital Connection	New York State Assembly Minority Leader Brian Kolb (R-Canandaigua, NY) reflected on Donald Trump's impact on the political process and on the Republican Party in particular. Kolb assessed the atmosphere in the Assembly with the change in Assembly Speaker (the former leader was ousted because of corruption). And he discussed the various investigations underway into the governor's administration and other areas of state government.	06/05/2016	7am	30 mins.
Corruption in State Government
Education	Capital Connection	Blair Horner, Executive Director of the New York Public Interest Research Group (NYPIRG), discussed the high cost of a college education and the large debt load (as	06/12/2016	7am	30 mins.

Economy		high as $25,000) many college grads have as they enter the workforce. He also talked about the governor's economic development plan which centers on using SUNY (the public university system) to create high-tech jobs, a plan marred by investigations into how contracts have been awarded to various companies around the state.
Corruption in State Government
Government	Capital Connection	Ken Lovett, Albany Bureau Chief for the New York Daily News , reviewed the end of the state legislative session and lamented that the legislators hadn't really done much of anything, although they did allow hunters to wear Day-Glo pink. He described how the law-making process works and why it's so tough to get good legislation passed that's acceptable to both the Senate and Assembly.	06/19/2016	7am	30 mins.
Corruption in State Government	Capital Connection	Rick Karlin, Capitol Bureau reporter and blogger for the Albany Times Union , discussed the ongoing federal investigation into the governor's two top aides in regards to the upstate economic development plan known as the Buffalo Billion.	06/26/2016	7am	30 mins.
