

2023 Public File

Quarter: Fourth	Month: December
-----------------	-----------------

Date: December 11, 2023	Times: 6am, 6:30am, 7am, 7:30am, 8am and 8:30am
Length: 50 Seconds	Issue: City of Danville announces completion of a shell building in Cyber Park.
Programming: This completion signifies the first construction partnership between the Industrial Development Authority of Danville and the Pittsylvania County Development Authority. Neal Morris, IDA Chairman for Danville, said, “the cooperation between Danville and Pittsylvania County continues to reap benefits for the area, as we all work together to attract industry and more jobs to Southside Virginia.” Joey Faucete, IDA Chairman for Pittsylvania County, said, “having a ready to go modern manufacturing facility like this shell building is absolutely a must in today’s current real estate market.” (Newscast)

Date: December 19, 2023	Times: 6am, 6:30am, 7am, 7:30am, 8am and 8:30am
Length: 40 Seconds	Issue: Chris Wiles promoted to Chief of Danville Police.
Programming: Ken Larking, Danville City Manager, announced Wiles’ promotion today. Wiles served as interim police chief for nearly two months and, prior to that, as deputy police chief since last December. Larking said Wiles was chosen from a field of 48 candidates. He said the hiring process was extremely competitive, but it was quite apparent that Chris Wiles was the best fit for our community. (Newscast)

Date: December 20, 2023	Times: 6am, 6:30am, 7am, 7:30am, 8am and 8:30am
Length: 20 Seconds	Issue: A reverse on an earlier decision regarding Danville’s mass transit “Reserve a Ride” hours.

2023 Public File

Programming: Last month, it was announced that, beginning January 2, the service schedule would change because of a driver shortage. However, the transit system has found sufficient personnel and a schedule change in hours will no longer be necessary. Instead, the current schedule will be maintained according to Marc Adleman, Director of Transportation. Adelman said the last loading time Monday-Saturday will continue to be 12:45 a.m. (Newscasts)