WEBSITE INFORMATION EFFORTS

WCLO’s website has become a secondary resource for listeners to obtain news and information on community topics. We provide audio archives from our local talk show as well as upload current newscasts and featured news audio.

COMMUNITY SERVICE EFFORTS

Kids Helping Kids/ Salvation Army/ECHO Holiday Auction & Donation Campaign

During the period between November 27th and December 8, WCLO participated in an annual “Kids Helping Kids/Ringing and Bringing” campaign. On December 1, donated items from area advertisers were auctioned off during a 12 hour marathon “close out” broadcast. Items were up for bids from November 27th until December 1. All funds raised donated the effort. Then, from December 2 through 8th promotional inventory focused on our “Ringing & Bringing Event”. This was a staffed, 9 hour long marathon appearance at the Farm and Fleet parking lot where we set up a “drive through drop off” for cash, toys and non-perishables to benefit the local charities. More than $19, 500 in cash, and an estimated $15,000 in toys and non-perishable items were received from the two events.

WCLO donated airtime valued at more than $3000 in the form of free live remote broadcasts and free promotional announcements encouraging listeners to donate to the annual fund drive.

Issues addressed: 10, 13, 14

WCLO Community Calendar

WCLO accepts notices from all non-profit groups, clubs and organizations for our website listing. Many of these items are also featured as Public Service Announcements on the air as time permits. While not specifically scheduled, we estimate that more than 100 of these types of announcements air in each calendar quarter, giving access of the airwaves to many qualifying organizations.

PSA INFORMATION – WCLO

As a service to our listeners, WCLO donates much of its unsold inventory within our automated programming to a variety of Public Service Announcements. These announcements cover a wide range of topics, from teen drug abuse to health and wellness subjects, school and after school programs, the arts and many others. A representative listing is available by viewing our current program logs. The estimated monthly airtime total of these types of PSA announcements is approximately 3 Hours per month in total, with a value of more than $4,200.

WCLO LOCAL TALK SHOW

WCLO's "Your Talk Show" explores community issues and events through the view of callers and the program's host, Tim Bremel. Opinions on all sides of the political spectrum are welcomed and the show also features factual presentation of newsworthy items including political candidate discussions and expert "guest" interviews on a variety of topics. The show's actual topic listing for the quarter is attached for review and podcasts of most shows are available for at least 12 months on the station's website.

QUARTERLY ISSUES REPORT, OCTOBER-DECEMBER, 2023

Show # 2023-40

Date aired: 2024-10-07_ Time Aired: 5-5:30am_

Timothy W. Fong, MD, Clinical Professor of Psychiatry at the Jane and Terry Semel Institute for Neuroscience and Human Behavior at UCLA, Director of the UCLA Addiction Psychiatry Consultation Service, Co-Director of the UCLA Gambling Studies Program

In just five years, legalized sports betting has swept the nation, now embraced as a revenue source by at least 37 states. Dr. Fong discussed gambling addiction, who is most at risk and how to recognize it, particularly in teenagers. Some well-known universities have signed deals with sportsbooks or casinos to advertise on campus, in athletic venues and in some cases, directly in students' university email inboxes. He offered advice for parents to prevent the start of addictive behavior in their teen.

Lee Newman, MD, MA, Distinguished Professor in the Department of Environmental & Occupational Health and Department of Epidemiology at the University of Colorado, Director of the Colorado School of Public Health's Center for Health, Work, and Environment

Today, the average American lives just 76 years, the shortest lifespan the country has seen since 1996. Dr. Newman talked about growing data that suggests that employers can dramatically affect the quality—and perhaps even length—of an employee's life. A recent report by Deloitte claimed life span could increase by an average of 12 years, and the number of years a person spends in good health by 19 years by 2040, if employers not only made sure their employees are safe on the job, but also addressed their health and well-being in other less traditional ways.

Matt Levendusky, PhD, Professor in the Department of Political Science at the University of Pennsylvania, Stephen & Mary Baran Chair in the Institutions of Democracy at the Annenberg Public Policy Center

Many Americans do not know what rights are protected under the First Amendment and a substantial number cannot name all three branches of government, according to the 2023 Annenberg Constitution Day Civics Survey. Prof. Levendusky shared other findings from the survey, discussed the reasons behind today's widespread civic ignorance and explained why the trend is so worrisome.

Marlene Schwartz, PhD, Director of the University of Connecticut's Rudd Center for Food Policy and Health

Registered dietitians and other online influencers are being paid to post videos that promote diet soda, sugar and supplements on Instagram and TikTok. Prof. Schwartz discussed the little-known tactic often used by the multibillion-dollar food, beverage and pharmaceutical industries to sway consumers faced with often-contradictory health messages about popular products. She offered suggestions to help viewers recognize these paid messages.

Adia Harvey Wingfield, PhD, sociologist, Mary Tileston Hemenway Professor of Arts & Sciences and Vice Dean for Faculty Development and Diversity at Washington University in St. Louis, author of "Gray Areas: How the Way We Work Perpetuates Racism and What We Can Do to Fix It"

While explicit discrimination no longer occurs and organizations make internal and public pledges to honor and achieve diversity, black employees remain less likely to be hired, stall out at middle levels, and rarely progress to senior leadership positions. Prof. Wingfield discussed what she calls "gray areas:" the relationships, networks, and cultural dynamics that exist apart from specific expectations and duties required for any given job. She offered suggestions to address the problem.

Nathalie Huguet, PhD, Associate Professor of Family Medicine, at the Oregon Health & Science University School of Medicine

Prof. Huguet led a study that revealed gaps in health insurance coverage for seniors residing in the US. She found that about a quarter of low-income patients receiving care at community health centers remain uninsured when they turn 65. The main reason is that they are not eligible for Medicare because they never paid into the Social Security system, in many cases because they are not legal US citizens. She said 20% of the uninsured patients had five or more health conditions, such as diabetes or high blood pressure, that need frequent treatment and management.

Martha Khlopin, Medicare expert, nationally syndicated radio host, founder of Get2insurance.com

Vague and misleading advertisements for Medicare Advantage policies are flooding the airwaves and mailboxes of Medicare recipients. Ms. Khlopin explained what Medicare Advantage is and how it differs from original Medicare. She also shared examples of complaints from seniors who had their plans changed without their consent or knowledge, and how the scams work. She warned that some TV ads and phone calls may give the impression that they are affiliated with the federal Medicare system, when they are not. She advised seniors to be careful and seek help from legitimate sources.

David Newman-Toker, M.D., PhD, Lead Investigator and Director of the Johns Hopkins Armstrong Institute Center for Diagnostic Excellence

Dr. Newman-Toker led what is believed to be the first rigorous national estimate of permanent disability and death from diagnostic error. He estimates that 795,000 Americans die or are permanently disabled by diagnostic error each year. He said vascular events, infections and cancers cause 75% of the serious harms, and that stroke is the top cause of serious harm from misdiagnosis. He believes that a serious campaign to target diseases with high error and harm rates may reduce diagnostic errors and improve patient outcomes.

Andrew Perry, postdoctoral scholar in the Department of Educational Studies at Ohio State University

Mr. Perry was the lead author of a study that examined how teachers rate different approaches to student violence. He said teachers believe that removing or expelling students from school after a violent incident is the least effective response, because it may increase the risk of violence against teachers, as the student may come back bitter or angry. He said most teachers prefer proactive strategies, which aim to create a positive learning environment and a sense of community through socioemotional learning and school counseling.
