

QUARTERLY ISSUES AND PROGRAMS REPORT

FOR

WBBM-FM HD-2 (STATION KNX-FM & HD-2)

4th Quarter, 2022

(Oct 1st – Dec 31st)

Prepared by:

Jared Andrea, Programming Coordinator

Issues of Concern to Los Angeles, CA
Addressed in Responsive Programming in the 4th Quarter, 2022

Subject	Description of Issue of Concern
1. Health	Information regarding the latest breakthroughs in health care is needed, including new discoveries, programs and services. Disaster preparedness to preserve one's health.
2. Economy	Our local economy has been slow to recover from the recent recession. Information on services to assist the public is needed.
3. Education & Child Care	Whether being abused, needing special education, fighting truancy or needing college prep, children & parents need assistance.
4. Local Community Services	Mentioned are free or low-cost community services available to the public to assist with spousal abuse, child abuse, animal abuse or even the arts. Information on free programs is featured.
5. Crime & Drugs	Crime and drug abuse remain a key issue in our area.
6. Public Safety	The safety of the public is priority and information on how to prevent danger and maintain caution.
7. Animals & Wildlife	As wildlife is constantly affected by the perils of man and nature, OpenLine helps to provide the means of animal protection and adoption information needed to sustain the ecosystem and its diverse chain of useful inhabitants.
8. Politics	Highlighting propositions, political issues, and presidential candidates during this year's Elections.
9. Environment	From our coastal areas to our forests, the environment needs our help to preserve and restore it.

KNX-FM HD2 (Channel Q) Programs That Address Community Issues
(Regularly Scheduled Public Affairs Programs)
4th Quarter, 2022

Public Affairs Program

Schedule and Description

1. Open Line
Sundays, 6-7am. Hosted by Tami Heide, this program features interviews with experts on community issues, along with comments from the listeners.

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter, 2022
(Oct 1st - Dec 31st)

ISSUE: Health

Open Line

Date: 10/2/22

Time: 6:00 AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Robert Kim-Farley

LA County is finally deciding to lift the mask mandate on public transit and at airports. They're now "strongly recommended." of course this is based on the county infection rate falling below 100 cases per 100,000. But is this metric even really accurate now? KNX's Mike Simpson and Charles Feldman speak with Dr. Robert Kim-Farley, professor of epidemiology & community healthy sciences at UCLA; he served as director of the division of communicable disease control and prevention at the L.A. County Public Health Department

Open Line

Date: 10/2/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Patricia McGinnis

Senior care homes and other eldercare facilities are rapidly raising their prices which is putting a strain on those living there and their families. The increases in some cases are higher than 10%, above recent annual rises of 3% to 5%. The facilities say they're dealing with higher costs of food, utilities, insurance, wages and supplies for managing and preventing covid-19. KNX's Charles Feldman and Mike Simpson speak with Patricia McGinnis, Executive Director for California Advocates for Nursing Home Reform

Open Line

Date: 10/2/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 6 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Dr. Judy Pa

Two big drug companies say results from their study show major promise for a drug to fight Alzheimer's disease. Biogen and Eisai say a drug curtailed patient decline by 27% when compared to a placebo after 18 months. The company is already seeking an accelerated approval from the FDA and the agency is expected to decide by early next year. KNX's Mike Simpson and Charles Feldman speak with Dr. Judy Pa, professor of Neurosciences and Co-Director of the Alzheimer's Disease Cooperative Study at UC San Diego

ISSUE: Health (continued)

Open Line

Date: 10/2/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Elizabeth Finley

A sharp rise in STDs has health officials worried. There was a 26% rise in new syphilis infections reported last year. That's the highest since 1991 and the total number of cases hit its highest since 1948. HIV cases are also on the rise, up 16% last year. Why aren't people taking protective measures anymore? KNX's Charles Feldman and Mike Simpson speak with Elizabeth Finley, Director of Communications at the National Coalition of STD Directors

Open Line

Date: 10/9/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 7 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Dr. Julian Lagoy

A new study has found people's personalities have changed during the pandemic. Researchers looked at pre-pandemic levels of neuroticism, extraversion, openness, agreeableness and conscientiousness and comparing that to data collected in 2021 and 2022, they found notable personality changes among the United States population. KNX's Rob Archer and Brian Ping speak with Dr. Julian Lagoy, psychiatrist for Community Psychiatry in San Jose

Open Line

Date: 10/9/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Morgan Hannaleck

A disturbing new survey came out about mental health and young adults in California. The California endowment found more than three-quarters reported anxiety in the last year, more than half reporting depression, 31% experiencing suicidal thinking and 16% self-harm. Experts say the numbers reflect a years-long trend of worsening mental health among young people that was exacerbated by the covid-19 pandemic. KNX's Charles Feldman and Mike Simpson speak with Morgan Hannaleck, California Regional Director at Minding Your Mind which helps people struggling with mental health issues

ISSUE: Health (continued)

Open Line

Date: 10/16/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Dr. Peter Chin-Hong

We might be turning the corner when it comes to Monkeypox. Officials say a decrease in LA County is probably the result of vaccination efforts, changes in behavior among higher-risk individuals and growing natural immunity for survivors. Similar trends can be seen elsewhere in California. KNX's Charles Feldman and Mike Simpson speak with Dr. Peter Chin-Hong, infectious disease specialist at UC San Francisco

Open Line

Date: 10/23/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Dr. Sergiu Pasca

Scientists at Stanford University have transplanted human brain cells into the brains of baby rats, where they grew and formed connections. It's part of an effort to better study human brain development and diseases affecting the brain. This is the first time so-called brain organoids have been placed into early rat brains. KNX's Mike Simpson and Charles Feldman speak with Dr. Sergiu Pasca, senior study author; professor of psychiatry and behavioral sciences at Stanford University

Open Line

Date: 11/6/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 4 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Dr. William Schaffner

So far, this flu season is more severe than it has been in 13 years. The flu has hospitalized a record number of people this season, underscoring the potential for a perilous winter of respiratory viruses with covid-19 and RSV. KNX's Chris Sedens and Charles Feldman speak with Dr. William Schaffner, professor of preventative medicine & infectious diseases at Vanderbilt University School of Medicine; he formally worked as an epidemic intelligence officer at the CDC

ISSUE: Health (continued)

Open Line

Date: 11/6/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 7 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Dr. Rishma Chand

RSV is becoming such a problem right now that orange county has declared a local health emergency as RSV, the flu and Covid keep hospitals busy. There's concern particularly with RSV that pediatric units could fill up and be overrun. If that's not enough for parents to worry about, there a shortage of the antibiotic Amoxicillan which treats strep throat and other bacterial infections that hit kids hard. It's because demand is so high right now and RSV is a big reason. KNX's Charles Feldman and Rob Archer speak with Dr. Rishma Chand, pediatric intensivist with Dignity Health Northridge Hospital

Open Line

Date: 11/13/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Dr. Ziyad Al-Aly

A new study is good news for Pfizer's Paxlovid--the antiviral drug that can treat Covid. Researchers from the Veterans health administration find that taking the medication may also reduce the risks of later developing long Covid. KNX's Charles Feldman and Rob Archer speak with Dr. Ziyad Al-Aly, chief of research and development at the VA St. Louis Healthcare System; co-author of the study

Open Line

Date: 11/20/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Dr. Suman Radhakrishna

We've talked a lot about the trio of Covid, flu and RSV. But there's a fourth virus causing problems in southern California. It's called hmpv. It's yet another respiratory virus that we can't do much about. But it can impact kids hard and is leading to hospitalizations at a time when the other viruses are causing issues. KNX's Mike Simpson and Rob Archer speak with Dr. Suman Radhakrishna, Director of Infectious Disease with Dignity Health California Hospital in LA

ISSUE: Health (continued)

Open Line

Date: 11/20/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 4 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Dr. Daniel Ganjian

The world health organization has news guidelines to help premature babies. The guidelines advise that skin to skin contact with a caregiver – known as kangaroo mother care – should start immediately after birth, without any initial period in an incubator. This marks a significant change from earlier guidance. The guidelines also provide recommendations to ensure emotional, financial and workplace support for families of very small and preterm babies. KNX's Rob Archer and Charles Feldman speak with Dr. Daniel Ganjian, pediatrician at Providence Saint John's Health Center in Santa Monica

Open Line

Date: 11/27/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Jennifer Vanderlaan

The pandemic has apparently led to more women giving birth at home in the U.S. it's still a small number but the increase is still matters. Medical associations like the American college of obstetricians and gynecologists assert that every individual should have the right and opportunity to choose how they want to give birth. But they also say that hospitals and birthing centers are the safest places to give birth because trained professionals can intervene quickly if something goes wrong. KNX's Chris Sedens and Charles Feldman speak with Jennifer Vanderlaan, professor at the UNLV School of Nursing; trained midwife and family nurse practitioner; previously provided continuing education for midwives in sub-Saharan Africa and Central America.

Open Line

Date: 11/27/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 4 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Stephanie Robilio

Don't worry, be happy. Cheer up. Look on the bright side of things. You have to think positively. These phrases sound nice but they're hardly helpful and sometimes are considered toxic. Toxic positivity is a thing and it's not good for mental health. The reason is that it tries to make you suppress certain emotions. So why are we always pushing positivity and optimism? KNX's Chris Sedens and Charles Feldman speak with Stephanie Robilio, Clinical Director at Agape Behavioral Healthcare

ISSUE: Health (continued)

Open Line

Date: 11/27/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Steve Sayer and Dr. David Greuner

They say your life flashes right before your eyes. What they say is actually true according to a new study. One doctor says millions of people across the globe have experienced the phenomenon, known as “lucid dying.” Survivors told researchers they experienced a “perception of separation from the body, observing events without pain or distress, and a meaningful evaluation of life, including of their actions, intentions and thoughts toward others.” KNX’s Charles Feldman and Chris Sedens speak with Steve Sayer, filmmaker who had two near-death experiences and Dr. David Greuner, managing director and co-founder of NYC Surgical Associates; he had a near-death experience when he fell off a 7-story building

Open Line

Date: 12/4/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Nicholas Mathews

The fentanyl crisis keeps getting worse. KNX hosted a town hall this week called "Deadly High: Teens and Fentanyl." This came after LA county public health officials and the DA announced a fentanyl overdose working group to address this issue. Is this a long-time coming? Should this have been created sooner? Can it save lives? KNX’s Rob Archer and Chris Sedens speak with Nicholas Mathews, Founder/CEO of Stillwater Behavioral Health in Santa Monica, Porter Ranch and Montecito

Open Line

Date: 12/4/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 4 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Dr. Monica Gandhi

One prominent doctor says it's not Covid people should be worrying about this winter. It's the flu. The data shows she might be right. Flu is intensifying in the U.S. with more than six million cases confirmed so far. The CDC says it's already recorded more than 53,000 hospitalizations and 29,000 deaths from the flu this season. KNX’s Chris Sedens and Rob Archer speak with Dr. Monica Gandhi, infectious disease physician at UC San Francisco

ISSUE: Health (continued)

Open Line

Date: 12/4/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Dr. Jeffrey Klausner

The World Health Organization and the CDC say measles immunization has dropped significantly since the coronavirus pandemic began, resulting in a record high of nearly 40 million children missing a vaccine dose last year. The WHO and the CDC said millions of children were now susceptible to measles, among the world's most contagious diseases. In 2021, officials said there were about 9 million measles infections and 128,000 deaths worldwide. KNX's Charles Feldman and Chris Sedens speak with Dr. Jeffrey Klausner, epidemiologist & clinical professor of preventative medicine at USC Keck School of Medicine

Open Line

Date: 12/11/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 6 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Jenise Smith

To give you an idea about how hard cold/flu/covid/rsv is hitting right now, drug stores like Walgreens and CVS around southern California are having a hard time keeping up with demand for cold and flu medicine. Some medicines that can be particularly hard to find are fever reducers for kids, like children's Tylenol, Motrin or Advil. Drug manufacturers point to a big spike in demand. KNX's Rob Archer and Chris Sedens speak with Jenise Smith, Director of Outpatient Pharmacy at Loma Linda University Medical Center

Open Line

Date: 12/11/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Ian Gotlib

We know teens had it rough during the pandemic lockdowns. Well, a new study shows just how rough. The stress of pandemic lockdowns prematurely aged the brains of teenagers by at least three years and in ways similar to changes observed in children who have faced chronic stress and adversity. KNX's Chris Sedens and Rob Archer speak with Ian Gotlib, study lead author; psychology professor at Stanford University

ISSUE: Health (continued)

Open Line

Date: 12/11/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 6 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Dr. Suhail Salem

Actress Kirstie Alley has died of cancer at age 71. "People" magazine says it was specifically colon cancer and it was only recently discovered. This comes as soccer legend Pele is in palliative care after chemotherapy for his colon cancer has stopped seeing expected results. Colon cancer is also impacting young people. Black Panther star Chadwick Boseman died young from colon cancer as did Phantom of the Opera actor Quentin Lee at age 34. KNX's Rob Archer and Chris Sedens speak with Dr. Suhail Salem, gastroenterologist with Dignity Health Northridge Hospital

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter, 2022
(Oct 1st - Dec 31st)

ISSUE: Economy

Open Line

Date: 10/16/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Jeff Lazerson

Mortgage rates are climbing higher and higher while home prices in Southern California are falling for the first time in 10 years. Zillow says the typical Southern California home price is now nearly 6% below the all-time high reached in May. But with higher mortgage rates, will this increase affordability? KNX's Mike Simpson and Charles Feldman speak with Jeff Lazerson, President of Mortgage Grader in Laguna

Open Line

Date: 11/13/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Burton Kelso

Facebook parent Meta is laying off 11,000 workers as it contends with faltering revenue. The move that comes just a week after widespread layoffs at Twitter. Other tech companies have laid off workers too. What's going on with the tech industry? KNX's Rob Archer and Charles Feldman speak with Burton Kelso, technology/social media/cybersecurity expert

Open Line

Date: 11/20/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Dan Ives

Elon Musk has sent emails to the remaining twitter workers. Musk painted a bleak financial picture for twitter and outlined changes at the company, including an end to its remote work policy and a renewed focus on generating revenue and fighting spam. So if Twitter is in bad financial shape, are we close to it shutting down for good? KNX's Charles Feldman and Chris Sedens speak with Dan Ives, tech analyst with Wedbush Securities

ISSUE: Economy (cont.)

Open Line

Date: 11/27/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Dr. Moe Gelbart

Who has it tougher now--men or women? Lots people would say women still but men might be the ones is more trouble now both in the workforce and in education. A new book explores the economic, social and cultural shifts that have forced men to the sidelines of the economy, including the loss of jobs in male-dominated fields such as manufacturing and the influx of women into the workforce, diminishing the need for men to serve as providers for their families. KNX's Rob Archer and Charles Feldman speak with Dr. Moe Gelbart, director of behavioral health at Torrance Memorial Medical Center

Open Line

Date: 12/4/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 4 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Rachel Michelin

The holiday shopping season is leading to lots more theft. Target and other major retailers are seeing big jumps in thefts this year, costing them hundreds of millions of dollars in lost revenue. Target reported on a recent earnings call that it had lost $400 million more in gross profit this year - so far - to retail theft, in comparison to last year. And the figure will likely hit more than $600 million for the full year. KNX's Charles Feldman and Chris Sedens speak with Rachel Michelin, President/CEO of the California Retailers Association

Open Line

Date: 12/4/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 4 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Timothy Connaghan

Santa Claus is making a comeback. Hiresanta.com says it has a 30% increase in demand over last year after losing about 15% of its performers to retirement or death during the pandemic. Inflation might be playing a role too as Santa needs to pay bills and can't worry so much about COVID. KNX's Chris Sedens and Rob Archer speak with Timothy Connaghan, the national Santa for The Kringle Group and Santa for the Hollywood Christmas Parade

ISSUE: Economy

Open Line

Date: 12/18/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: John Logan

Men are having problems in the workforce. A new study finds many of them leave the labor force when their earnings decline compared with their better-paid peers. Roughly one in nine men ages 25 to 54, an individual's prime working years, are out of the labor market today; that compared to one in 50 in the mid-1950s. But why? KNX's Rob Archer and Charles Feldman speak with John Logan, Director of Labor and Employment Studies at San Francisco State University

Open Line

Date: 12/25/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Cheryl Bates-Harris

The pandemic hasn't been all bad for everyone. After generations of being overlooked and sidelined in the job market, Americans with disabilities are enjoying an unprecedented employment boom. Widespread acceptance of remote working and an overall labor shortage have opened up historic opportunities for some of the nation's most skilled and underutilized workers. KNX's Charles Feldman and Rob Archer speak with Cheryl Bates-Harris, Senior Disability Advocacy Specialist for the National Disability Rights Network

Open Line

Date: 12/25/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 7 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: James Zahn

If you don't want to grow up and would rather spend the rest of your life playing with toys then you're not alone. Inflation and a consumer group known as "kidults" are keeping the toy industry growing right now. These kids at heart are responsible for one-fourth of all toy sales annually, around $9 billion worth, and are the biggest driver of growth throughout the industry. Are adults collecting them for investments or are they playing with the toys? KNX's Rob Archer and Charles Feldman speak with James Zahn, Editor-in-Chief of The Toy Book; senior editor of The Toy Insider

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter, 2022
(Oct 1st - Dec 31st)

ISSUE: Education & Child Care

Open Line

Date: 10/2/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 4 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Nicholas Matthews

The LA School District is set to announce its plan to fight the opioid crisis after police said at least seven teenagers in the city have overdosed on pills likely laced with fentanyl over the past month. The plan includes details on resources that will be provided to students to help limit overdoses in schools. Can the district help stop this crisis? What else should be done? KNX's Charles Feldman and Mike Simpson speak with Nicholas Matthews, Founder/CEO of Stillwater Behavioral Health in Porter Ranch and Montecito; former teen alcoholic and heroin addict

Open Line

Date: 10/15/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 4 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Jake Jimenez and Olivia D'Angelo

Boys football and girls football? Yes! The CIF-southern section approved girls flag football as an official high school sports in the region. CIF state will take it up next and it's also expected to approve the sport. It'll start next fall. Some local schools already have teams. Will flag football catch on with girls? KNX's Mike Simpson and Charles Feldman speak with Jake Jimenez, girls flag football coach at Redondo Union High School in Redondo Beach and Olivia D'Angelo, girls flag football player at Redondo Union High School

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter, 2022
(Oct 1st - Dec 31st)

ISSUE: Local & Community Services

Open Line

Date: 10/2/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 18 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Jennifer Luebke

Tami has a California Conversation with Jennifer Luebke, Chief Workforce Inclusion Officer from Pride Industries for National Disability Employment Awareness Month, which is October. Pride Industries works on Diversity, Equity and Inclusion in the work force. Those with disabilities looking for employment can call the I Am Able helpline at 1-844-IAMABLE. Pride Industries creates employment for people who experience workforce barriers, including those with disabilities, veterans, foster youth, and trafficking survivors. Through personalized employment coaching, training, and placement, PRIDE Industries helps individuals of all abilities realize their true potential and contribute to their communities. More info about all their services is at www.prideindustries.com.

Open Line

Date: 10/9/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 13 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Lizette Escobedo

Tami has a California Conversation with Lizette Escobedo, AVP, Civic Engagement and Advocacy AltaMed Health Services. AltaMed is our local community health center in SoCal, and they were also the sponsor of the Mayoral Debate on KNX. Voting is important to AltaMed and for healthcare overall, so AltaMed has created the My Vote, My Health program. To register and inform voters. October 24th is the last day to register to vote in the November 8th election. Find out what's on the ballot, how to prepare for the election, who the candidates are, what the ballot propositions are all about, and everything else you need to know at www.myvotemyhealth.org

ISSUE: Local & Community Services (cont.)

Open Line

Date: 10/16/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 12 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Amber J. Hill

Tami has a California Conversation with Amber J. Hill, Senior Managing Director of Philanthropy at UNICEF USA. Amber is here in SoCal, and told us all about this year's Trick Or Treat for UNICEF fundraiser, which has gone digital for 2022, and is going on through the entire month of October! . UNICEF USA has launched a Spooky QR code across the US to deliver impact for children around the globe. The QR code helps participants “Add some meaning to their Halloweening”, moving into the 21st century with a total digital experience. The QR code and all the info are there at www.trickortreatforunicef.org to help continue the almost 80 year tradition of children helping children by Trick or Treating for UNICEF.

Open Line

Date: 10/23/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 14 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Tisha Janigian

Tami has a California Conversation with Tisha Janigian of SHE Is Hope LA, a non profit for single mothers. The Fall Harvest to benefit She Is Hope LA is Sunday October 30th at the Tarzana Community & Cultural Center 11am-4pm. Expect live and interactive entertainment, games and prizes, pumpkin patch, pop up shops, raffle, free admission, merch and food trucks, and more! The Fall Harvest fundraiser helps single mothers gain the skills, knowledge and confidence to transition back to the workplace and break the cycle of [poverty]. For all the info about the4 Fall Harvest and their mission, visit www.sheishopela.org

Open Line

Date: 10/30/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 11 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Dean Logan

Tami has a California Conversation with Dean Logan, LA County Registrar Recorder/County Clerk, ahead of the November 8th election. Voters can vote in person on election day, or vote early via mail or by ballot dropbox.. Early in person voting starts October 29th. It has never been easier to vote, find out how to make voting easier and faster than ever before at www.plan.lavote.gov

ISSUE: Local & Community Services (cont.)

Open Line

Date: 11/6/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 18 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Dr. Leo Moore

Tami has a California Conversation with Dr. Leo Moore, Medical Director for Clinic Services at the LA County Department of Public Health, about Monkeypox. What is it? Who is at risk? How to avoid and prevent it, Who needs a vaccine, how it is spread and all the info you need about monkeypox is at the LA County Department of Public Health website www.lacounty.gov/MONKEYPOX

Open Line

Date: 11/13/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 13 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Dr. Sona Aggarwal

Tami has a California Conversation with Dr. Sona Aggarwal of the CA Dept. of Public Health about Covid health and prevention. We discuss vaccines, boosters, Covid therapeutics like Paxlovid, and hand washing, mask wearing and other methods of staying healthy and Covid-free this season. 1-833-686-5051 or www.covid19.CA.gov/treatment for more information.

Open Line

Date: 11/20/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 10 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Jose Alfaro

Tami has a California Conversation with Jose Alfaro, Program Director at the Al Wooten Jr. Youth Center. The Wooten Center is one of the beneficiaries of the KROQ Almost Acoustic Christmas concert ticket sales. The Center was founded in 1990, and takes a neighborhood approach to revitalization and empowerment of students in grades 3 through 12. The heart of the Wooten Center's mission is good citizenship and academic excellence. To enroll a student, find out about their programs, and to donate visit www.wootencenter.org

ISSUE: Local & Community Services (cont.)

Open Line

Date: 11/27/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 11 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: John Chamness

Tami has a California Conversation with Colonel John Chamness of the Salvation Army of Southern California about the Red Kettle Campaign BACK in full force this season! The fundraising kettle started in 1891 in San Francisco, and has grown into one of the most beloved and visible fundraising campaigns in the world. The money raised in the Red Kettle drives stays in the community, and helps fund food, utility bills, housing and education by partnering with civic, corporate and private supporters to build healthy communities throughout SoCal. You can donate online, and find out more at www.socalredkettle.org

Open Line

Date: 12/4/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 19 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Christina Mariscal Pasten

Tami has a California Conversation with Christina Mariscal Pasten, Managing Director External Affairs with Para Los Ninos. Para Los Ninos is one of the charities benefitting from next Saturday's sold out KROQ Almost Acoustic Christmas Concert ! Para Los Niños raises children out of poverty and into brighter futures through positive educational opportunities and wrap-around support. Through early education centers, charter schools, and wellness centers, we offer high-quality education integrated with family supports, mental health services, and community engagement opportunities to thousands of children living in at-risk neighborhoods in Los Angeles county. Make a donation, get involved, volunteer and find out more info at www.paralosninos.org

Open Line

Date: 12/11/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 15 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Layla Schuon

Tami has a California Conversation with Layla Schuon, a Santa Monica high school senior who created a healing music project at Verdugo Hills Hospital, part of USC Keck. Schuon was inspired to start this project after her father, Andy Schuon, was a patient at the hospital. Layla said her Dad told her his hospital experience was quiet, and she responded with, "Let's change that!" Layla's father Andy has always been involved in the music biz, at KROQ, MTV, VH1 and beyond, so music is an integral part of both of their lives. The Wilder Healing Garden at the hospital is where the permanent Healing Music Project plays 24/7. Layla is also providing music curation for other treatment centers. She can be reached at lschuon@icloud.com

ISSUE: Local & Community Services (cont.)

Open Line

Date: 12/18/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 27 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Juliana Serrano

Tami has a California Conversation with Juliana Serrano, VP of advocacy and equity for Planned Parenthood Pasadena and San Gabriel Valley. This was a 6 month update conversation after Roe vs. Wade was overturned in June of 2022 by the SCOTUS, sending decisions about safe and legal abortions back to the states. California continues to be a sanctuary state for those seeking abortion services. Planned Parenthood provides vital reproductive health care, sex education information, and they are adding a mental health care platform to their many existing services. Abortion is health care, and birth control is health care. Find out about all the services they provide, how you can volunteer, and consider making a tax deductible donation at www.pppsgv.org

Open Line

Date: 12/25/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 17 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Steve Pitman

Tami has a California Conversation with Steve Pitman, NAMI Orange County President and Board of Directors. NAMI is the National Alliance on Mental Illness. NAMI Orange County is dedicated to improving the lives of the people of our community affected by mental illness. We strive to create a better tomorrow—a tomorrow where all people affected by mental illness can experience hope, recovery and wellness in a world free of stigma. Find out how to volunteer, get services, and/or make a tax deductible donation at www.NAMIOC.org

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter, 2022
(Oct 1st - Dec 31st)

ISSUE: Crime & Drugs
--

Open Line

Date: 10/9/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 4 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Robert Schug

California has a serial killer on the loose. This time he's in Stockton. Six unprovoked murders of men ages 21 to 54 since April 2021 appear to be the work of one person. There's an image of a person of interest released. Why has it been tough to catch this person so far? Not just that but we haven't seen many new serial killers. Why? KNX's Charles Feldman and Mike Simpson speak with Robert Schug, professor in the School of Criminology, Criminal Justice, and Emergency Management at Cal State Long Beach; neurocriminologist and forensic psychologist who studies the mindset and thinking process of serial killers and multiple homicide offenders

Open Line

Date: 10/30/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 6 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Melissa Meister

The LAPD is now investigating the leaked conversation that led to the city hall racism scandal. Police want to determine if the conversation was recorded illegally. Even if it was, what could possibly happen to the person or people responsible? Would they actually face punishment? KNX's Charles Feldman and Chris Sedens speak with Melissa Meister, trial attorney; former federal prosecutor with experience conducting internal investigations

Open Line

Date: 10/30/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 6 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Jeff Abrams

Beverly Hills police are investigating anti-semitic fliers that were disbursed. It comes one day after seven anti-Jewish activists made Heil Hitler gestures and hung a banner and other posters over the 405 freeway with anti-Semitic remarks. What's with this brazen surge of anti-Semitism? KNX's Charles Feldman and Rob Archer speak with Jeff Abrams, Regional Director of Anti-Defamation League Los Angeles

ISSUE: Crime & Drugs (cont.)
--

Open Line

Date: 12/25/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 10 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Robert Luna

LA County has a new sheriff. Robert Luna is getting settled into this new job. He has a lot to do already. Crime has been on the rise and the homeless crisis still looms. Not to mention, he has to make nice with the county board of supervisors and the oversight commission which were quite upset at the antics of his predecessor. What plans does Luna have? KNX's Rob Archer and Charles Feldman speak with Robert Luna, LA County Sheriff

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter, 2022
(Oct 1st - Dec 31st)

ISSUE: Public Safety

Open Line

Date: 10/9/22

Time: 6:00 AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Pete Nicoletti

Those who hacked into the la school district computer system did what they said they would do if they didn't get a ransom--they started posting some of that data online. The la times says some social security numbers were out there. LaUSD has opened up a special hotline for those who may be impacted. What steps can people take to better protect themselves? KNX's Rob Archer and Brian Ping speak with Pete Nicoletti, Field CISO of the Americas at Check Point Software Technologies; cybersecurity expert

Open Line

Date: 12/18/22

Time: 6:00 AM

Duration: 6 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Kevin Murray

Newly sworn-in mayor Karen Bass first order of business was to declare a state of emergency over homelessness in Los Angeles--but is this anything more than a symbolic gesture, and is it pretty much business as usual on the homeless in L.A.? KNX's Charles Feldman and Rob Archer speak with Kevin Murray, former California State Senator & president/CEO of the Weingart Center Association on Skid Row

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter, 2022
(Oct 1st - Dec 31st)

ISSUE: Animals

Open Line

Date: 10/30/22

Time: 6:00 AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Brendan Gepson and Kristi Hedrick

A new video game has gotten popular and is helping cats. It's called "stray." you play as a cat that has to return to the surface in a futuristic city. Some animal organizations are using it to raise money and help get more cats adopted. Gamers are even inspired and giving to shelters and rescue organizations. KNX's Brian Ping and Charles Feldman speak with Brendan Gepson, marketing specialist for the Nebraska Humane Society and Kristi Hedrick, publicist assistant at Otter PR; she's a gamer who's played "Stray" and worked at an animal hospital

Open Line

Date: 11/20/22

Time: 6:00 AM

Duration: 7 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Dr. Rebecca Greenstein

Your cat may act like he or she is ignoring you but they probably are listening. A study by French researchers found that not only do cats react to what scientists call cat-directed speech — a high-pitched voice similar to how we talk to babies — they react to who is doing the talking. They like hearing from their owner. KNX's Mike Simpson and Rob Archer speak with Dr. Rebecca Greenstein, Veterinary Medical Advisor for Rover.com

Open Line

Date: 11/27/22

Time: 6:00 AM

Duration: 6 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Louis Perrotti

Turtles are becoming a popular choice for a pet. But there's a big cost and we're not talking about price. There's been an uptick in poaching. Wildlife trade experts believe that poaching is contributing to the global decline of rare freshwater turtle and tortoise species. One study found over half of the 360 living turtle and tortoise species are at risk of extinction. KNX's Chris Sedens and Charles Feldman speak with Louis Perrotti, director of conservation programs at Roger Williams Park Zoo in Providence, Rhode Island

ISSUE: Animals

Open Line

Date: 11/27/22

Time: 6:00 AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: John Welsh

Animal hoarding cases aren't too unusual unfortunately. What is unusual is that when all are well-fed and taken care of. 72 dogs were found in surprisingly good condition at an elderly woman's home in the Cabazon area in Riverside County. It turns out the dogs kept multiplying. So how did this woman manage to take care of all these dogs and keep them healthy? KNX's Charles Feldman and Chris Sedens speak with John Welsh, Riverside County Animal Services spokesman

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter, 2022
(Oct 1st – Dec 31st)

ISSUE: Politics

Open Line

Date: 10/2/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Hernan Molina

Karen Bass and Rick Caruso squared off in their first debate. Homelessness was the top issue discussed, with both candidates acknowledging the gravity of the homelessness crisis in Los Angeles but differing on how to approach it. But did the debate sway voters enough? Were the right questions asked? Perhaps the debate on KNX will be much better in figuring out where the candidates stand. KNX's Charles Feldman and Mike Simpson speak with Hernan Molina, LA-based political analyst for Estrella TV; host of Dos Tipos Políticos, a weekly Spanish language podcast about current political affairs

Open Line

Date: 10/2/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Josh Luecht

The most iconic voice in film history is retiring. James Earl Jones says he's now done being the voice of Darth Vader. He's now 91 and wants to relax. So what happens to Darth Vader? He's not the same without Jones' voice. Well, he has signed off on archival voice recordings being used by young filmmakers, who plan to utilize artificial intelligence synthetic speech technology to recreate Jones' younger voice from his previous films. KNX's Mike Simpson and Charles Feldman speak with Josh Luecht, writer for TheForce.net, a Star Wars news website

Open Line

Date: 10/9/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 6 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Robert Ku

Spam. You love it or you hate it. But it's making a major comeback as the 85-year-old canned block of meat has undergone a cultural reinvention. Hormel has sold a record amount of spam for seven straight years, and 2022 is on pace for another such milestone. Why do people like it so much? KNX's Charles Feldman and Mike Simpson speak with Robert Ku, professor of Asian and Asian American studies at Binghamton University; author of Dubious Gastronomy: Eating Asian in the USA

ISSUE: Politics (cont.)

Open Line

Date: 10/16/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 3 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Alesandra Lozano

The big issue at the center of this whole fiasco at LA city hall is redistricting. Various groups are calling for the establishment of an independent redistricting commission. State Attorney General Rob Bonta confirms that his office is conducting an investigation into the city's redistricting process in light of those recordings. KNX's Charles Feldman and Mike Simpson speak with Alesandra Lozano, voting rights and redistricting program manager with California Common Cause

Open Line

Date: 10/16/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 6 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Mary Ziegler

The Supreme Court declined to decide whether fetuses are entitled to constitutional rights in light of its June ruling overturning the 1973 Roe v. Wade. The justices turned away an appeal by a catholic group and two women of a lower court's ruling holding that fetuses lacked the proper legal standing to challenge a 2019 state law codifying the right to abortion in line with the roe precedent. KNX's Mike Simpson and Charles Feldman speak with Mary Ziegler, professor specializing in reproductive rights law at the UC Davis School of Law; she's author of the book Dollars for Life: The Anti-Abortion Movement and the Fall of the Republican Establishment

Open Line

Date: 10/16/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Larry Viesel

The biggest cult film in cinema history is doing its thing again. A touring, interactive version of "The Rocky Horror Picture Show" is hitting the road to celebrate the film's birthday with screenings, live shadow casts, the invitation to be inappropriate and one of its original stars — Barry Bostwick. The tour will play in stage theaters across the country, including here in LA. KNX's Charles Feldman and Mike Simpson speak with Larry Viesel, he runs the Rocky Horror Picture Show fan club; he's also a shadow cast performer

ISSUE: Politics (cont.)

Open Line

Date: 10/16/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Jason Squire

ANGELA Lansbury, a versatile actor who wowed generations of fans as a murderous baker, a singing teapot, a soviet spy and small-town sleuth among a host of other memorial roles, died on Tuesday, her family announced. She was 96. KNX's Mike Simpson and Charles Feldman speak with Jason Squire, Professor Emeritus at the USC School of Cinematic Arts and editor of "The Movie Business Book"

Open Line

Date: 10/23/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 12 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Mindy Romero and Melina Abdullah

Black and Latino relations in la haven't always been smooth and friendly. Tensions have existed and the recent racist remarks caught on tape by former la city councilwoman Nury Martinez exacerbate the issues between both groups. So what happens now? KNX's Charles Feldman and Rob Archer speak with Mindy Romero, founder and director of the Center for Inclusive Democracy at the USC Sol Price School of Public Policy and Melina Abdullah, professor and former chair of the department of Pan-African Studies at Cal State LA; co-founder of the LA chapter of Black Lives Matter

Open Line

Date: 10/23/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 4 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Bill Carrick

The racist remarks caught on tape that have disrupted the city council and the entire city of LA doesn't seem to be impacting the mayor's race right now. Both candidates condemned the remarks. Neither is being dragged into the mess so far. Why is there a disconnect considering the future mayor may have to confront this directly? KNX's Rob Archer and Charles Feldman speak with Bill Carrick, Democratic political strategist based in LA

ISSUE: Politics (cont.)

Open Line

Date: 10/23/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 3 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Heather Hutt

Still no resignations from Kevin DeLeon and Gil Cedillo. Today's council meeting was canceled to avoid another shutdown by protesters. What can the council get done now moving forward? Where does the city go from here? KNX's Charles Feldman and Rob Archer speak with Heather Hutt, LA City Councilwoman

Open Line

Date: 10/23/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Matt Lesenyie

The latest LA mayor's race poll shows Rick Caruso now with a slight lead over Karen Bass. He leads roughly 40% to 37%. This comes even though Karen Bass has picked up endorsements from President Biden and other high-level Democrats. So what's changing now? KNX's Chris Sedens and Charles Feldman speak with Matt Lesenyie, political science professor at Long Beach State; expert on local and California politics

Open Line

Date: 10/23/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Stephen Stambough

Does the tightening of the LA mayor's race show Democrats are in trouble nationally? Recent polls show more people are leaning Republican. Even though LA is heavily Democratic, are people souring on Democrats? KNX's Charles Feldman and Chris Sedens speak with Stephen Stambough, professor of political science at Cal State Fullerton

ISSUE: Politics (cont.)

Open Line

Date: 10/30/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 6 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Beth Kean

ADIDAS has finally ended its partnership with the rapper formerly known as Kanye West over his offensive and anti-semitic remarks. The German sportswear company says it "does not tolerate anti-semitism and any other sort of hate speech" and called Ye's recent comments and actions "unacceptable, hateful and dangerous." how damaging were Ye's remarks? KNX's Charles Feldman and Rob Archer speak with Beth Kean, CEO of the Holocaust Museum Los Angeles

Open Line

Date: 10/30/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 6 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Amy Baer

There's a fear Hollywood is regressing after the #metoo reckoning. New York Times story details how in recent months, Hollywood's business culture has started to regress in subtle ways. New problems have become a higher priority. Fearing blowback, media companies that were vocal about #metoo and Black Lives Matter have been quieter on more recent political debates over cultural issues. KNX's Charles Feldman and Rob Archer speak with Amy Baer, producer, former studio executive and the board president of Women in Film

Open Line

Date: 10/30/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Faye Yap & Dan Preston

Spider corpse robots sound like some kind of invading enemy in a cheesy b-movie horror film. But they apparently have some kind of scientific purpose. Dead wolf spiders are being used as machines to pick up and put down objects. Necrobatic grippers could have multiple applications, including for the assembly of things like microelectronics and for collecting specimens. KNX's Charles Feldman and Mike Simpson speak with Faye Yap, mechanical engineer at Rice University; lead author of the study on robot spiders and Dan Preston, professor of mechanical engineering at Rice University; study co-author

ISSUE: Politics (cont.)

Open Line

Date: 10/30/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Larry Viezel

The biggest cult film in cinema history is doing its thing again. A touring, interactive version of “The Rocky Horror Picture Show” is hitting the road to celebrate the film’s birthday with screenings, live shadow casts, the invitation to be inappropriate and one of its original stars — Barry Bostwick. The tour will play in stage theaters across the country, including here in la. KNX’s Charles Feldman and Mike Simpson speak with Larry Viezel, he runs the Rocky Horror Picture Show fan club; he's also a shadow cast performer

Open Line

Date: 11/6/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Neal Kelley

America is getting ready to vote in the midterm election, and poll workers around the country are bracing for possible conflict in an era of polarization and misinformation. What's being done to keep poll workers safe? KNX’s Charles Feldman and Rob Archer speak with Neal Kelley, former Orange County Registrar who's now with the Committee for Safe and Secure Elections

Open Line

Date: 11/6/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 6 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Kathy Fairbanks and Becky Warren

Let's explore some of the big prop measures on the ballot. Today we look at prop 26 which involves gambling. It allows in-person roulette, dice games, sports wagering on tribal lands. Why should people support it? Why should people vote against it? We'll find out. KNX’s Charles Feldman and Rob Archer speak with Kathy Fairbanks, representative from the Yes on 26 campaign and Becky Warren, representative from the No on 26 campaign

ISSUE: Politics (cont.)

Open Line

Date: 11/6/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 9 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Kathy Fairbanks and Mary-Beth Moylan

Let's explore some of the big prop measures on the ballot. Today we look at prop 27 which is the other gambling measure. It would allow people to place sports bets online and outside of tribal lands. Supporters say money generated from this will go toward helping the homeless. Opponents say it's a money grab from out-of-state corporations. (note: We reached out to the YES side but did not get a response) KNX's Rob Archer and Charles Feldman speak with Kathy Fairbanks, representative from the Yes on 26/No on 27 campaign and Mary-Beth Moylan, associate dean and professor at the McGeorge School of Law at University of the Pacific; she oversees a journal dedicated to California's initiatives

Open Line

Date: 11/6/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 9 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Zev Yaroslavsky

Kevin Deleon is holding steady, refusing to resign. This even after protestors keep disrupting city hall meetings. What's the strategy here? Is he looking to outlast the outrage? Is he seeing a small number of protestors and think they're not really important or relevant? KNX's Chris Sedens and Charles Feldman speak with Zev Yaroslavsky, director of the Los Angeles Initiative at the UCLA Luskin School of Public Affairs; former LA County Supervisor

Open Line

Date: 11/13/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Stephen Stambough

The LA mayor's race is too close to call right now. It could take a while for the ballots to be counted. However, it didn't look like it was going to be a close race several months ago. So how did Rick Caruso manage to appeal to so many people? KNX's Rob Archer and Charles Feldman speak with Stephen Stambough, professor of political science at Cal State Fullerton

ISSUE: Politics (cont.)

Open Line

Date: 11/13/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 6 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Bond Benton

Is Twitter the Wild West again when it comes to speech? A new study found a dramatic increase in hate speech on twitter immediately following Elon Musk's takeover. So is this just a short-term trolling job to anger people temporarily or something that is longer-lasting and dangerous? KNX's Charles Feldman and Chris Sedens speak with Bond Benton, professor in the School of Communication and Media at Montclair State University; co-author of a study that looked into hate speech on Twitter

Open Line

Date: 11/13/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 8 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Jacquie Jordan

Jimmy Kimmel is now set to host the Oscars next year. But is that really a good thing for him? It seems hosting the Oscars now can only have a downside. Is hosting an awards show risking someone's career, especially if the show is bad or a joke offends too many people? KNX's Charles Feldman and Rob Archer speak with Jacquie Jordan, pop culture/entertainment expert

Open Line

Date: 11/20/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 7 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Nate Miller

Dave Chappelle's comments about the Jewish community during his "Saturday Night Live" monologue are being slammed as anti-Semitic. One writer tweeted "that Dave Chappelle SNL monologue probably did more to normalize anti-Semitism than anything Kanye said." KNX's Charles Feldman and Rob Archer speak with Nate Miller, communications strategist, crisis PR expert; founder and CEO of the PR firm Miller-Ink

ISSUE: Politics (cont.)

Open Line

Date: 11/20/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Ryan Bell

Soaring housing and rent prices have led to ballot measures across the country. Santa Monica voters approved a rent control measure. One is winning in Pasadena. There were also dozens of proposals on local ballots raising money for and authorizing construction of affordable housing. Will this trend continue in future elections? Do the people have to take control and vote on these things rather than rely on politicians to pass measures? KNX's Rob Archer and Charles Feldman speak with Ryan Bell, finance coordinator for Pasadena 4 Rent Control

Open Line

Date: 11/20/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 6 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Christine Porath

Have you noticed people are more rude now, especially at stores and restaurants? If you have, a new survey confirms it. 73% said it was not unusual for customers to behave badly. That's up from 61% in 2012. 66% of respondents said bad customer behavior toward other customers is more common than it was five years ago. So why are people so rude to each other now? KNX's Charles Feldman and Rob Archer speak with Christine Porath, a professor of management at Georgetown University's McDonough School of Business; author of Mastering Civility: A Manifesto for the Workplace

Open Line

Date: 11/20/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 7 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Alan Stern

Scrabble players take their game seriously. You can't use words that aren't in the dictionary. They're very strict about this. But sometimes words become so big and ubiquitous that they have to be added. That's why 500 new words and variations have been added to the game's official dictionary. Among other new words are deadname, pageview and embiggen. Grawlix is one among the highest scorers. Don't know what grawlix is? It's that mashup of symbols on a keyboard that replace curse words in print. KNX's Rob Archer and Charles Feldman speak with Alan Stern, director of the Los Angeles Scrabble Club; M.C. for the National Scrabble Championship nine times

ISSUE: Politics (cont.)

Open Line

Date: 11/27/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 6 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Kevin Baxter

The World Cup started last Sunday in Qatar. Fans who expected a party atmosphere with the booze flowing are now greatly disappointed. Qatar announced there would be no alcohol sales during games. Don't worry you can drink Budweiser zero. Alcoholic beer will still be available at specifically permitted fan zones in Qatar after 6:30 p.m., and intoxicated fans will be sent to special zones to sober up. KNX's Charles Feldman and Chris Sedens speak with Kevin Baxter, LA Times soccer reporter; he's in Qatar for the World Cup

Open Line

Date: 11/27/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 4 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Melissa Ingle

Is the death of Twitter greatly exaggerated or something that's coming soon? Another employee exodus appears to be underway at twitter as many workers rejected Elon Musk's terms for staying with the company, choosing instead to depart, according to multiple current and former employees. KNX's Chris Sedens and Charles Feldman speak with Melissa Ingle, former TwitterSenior Data Scientist who was recently laid off

Open Line

Date: 12/4/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 7 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Areva Martin and Pearl Devers

Hundreds of Black and Mexican families have announced the filing of an amended asserting palm springs caused up to $2 billion in harm to families who were forcibly evicted from the downtown section 14 neighborhood in the 1950s and 1960s. The plan is for reparations for these families to make a wrong right. This comes after Bruce's Beach here in LA County was given back to the black family that once owned it. This also comes as the state is considering slavery reparations. KNX's Brian Ping and Chris Sedens speak with Areva Martin, attorney representing the families and Pearl Devers, she and her family were evicted from their home at the time

ISSUE: Politics (cont.)

Open Line

Date: 12/11/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 22 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Eric Garcetti

LA mayor Eric Garcetti is out as Karen Bass will be sworn in as the new mayor on Sunday. What legacy does Garcetti leave behind? Does he have any regrets? What is he most proud of during his tenure at mayor? What does he do next? He sits down with KNX for one final interview as LA mayor. KNX's Charles Feldman and Chris Sedens speak with Eric Garcetti, mayor of Los Angeles.

Open Line

Date: 12/18/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 4 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Gregory R. Nevins

What the respect for marriage act does, and doesn't do, when it comes to protecting same sex marriage rights across the country. KNX's Charles Feldman and Mike Simpson speak with Gregory R. Nevins, Senior Counsel and Employment Fairness Project Director at Lambda Legal

Open Line

Date: 12/18/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 4 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Becka Alper

2-out-of-5 Americans believes we're living in "end times;" nearly half of Christians believe that the Armageddon is upon us, according to pew research. KNX's Rob Archer and Charles Feldman speak with Becka Alper, senior religions researcher at the Pew Research Center

ISSUE: Politics (cont.)

Open Line

Date: 12/18/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 6 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Shawn Robbins

Movies meant to generate Oscar buzz are falling flat. People aren't headed to theaters to see this movies like they did back in the day. Is it the pandemic still? Or are people just tired of the heavy themes many of these movies now present? Is it just best to watch them at home rather than spend an evening out? Does this mean movie theaters are in trouble? KNX's Charles Feldman and Rob Archer speak with Shawn Robbins, chief analyst at Box Office Pro

Open Line

Date: 12/25/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Stephanie Klasky-Gamer

LA Mayor Karen Bass launched a program this week to move people living in tents on streets into hotel and motel rooms. Bass says the "inside safe" program would get "people to move on their own" and wouldn't involve "sweeps." But will this actually work? KNX's Charles Feldman and Rob Archer speak with Stephanie Klasky-Gamer, President & CEO of LA Family Housing

Most Significant Issue-Responsive Programming
4th Quarter, 2022
(Oct 1st - Dec 31st)

ISSUE: Environment

Open Line

Date: 10/9/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 4 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Ross Stein

Ian is raising questions here about Southern California's preparedness for natural disasters like a major earthquake and big fires. Are we ready if the big one hits? We saw in Florida that they didn't seem to be but then again can you really prepare for something that only happens once a century or less? KNX's Mike Simpson and Charles Feldman speak with Ross Stein, earthquake expert and CEO & Co-founder of Temblor, which provides information about earthquakes

Open Line

Date: 10/9/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 4 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Shon Hiatt

First we worried about California's electric grid failing during the recent massive and long heat wave. Now, the state is dealing with sky high record gas prices due to problems that are unique to California. Why is the state so vulnerable and fragile when it comes to energy like electricity and gas? KNX's Charles Feldman and Mike Simpson speak with Shon Hiatt, energy sector expert; professor of management and organization at the USC Marshall School of Business

Open Line

Date: 10/9/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Brian Fowler

What's thanksgiving without turkey front-and-center? Well, many people across the country may find out. This year's bird flu outbreak has killed six million turkeys. That's lowering supplies and lifting prices to their highest levels ever. Since Thanksgiving is about family and friends and being grateful, you don't really need turkey to enjoy. Let's explore alternatives. KNX's Mike Simpson and Charles Feldman speak with Brian Fowler, vice president of procurement and product development at Omaha Steaks

ISSUE: Environment (cont.)
--

Open Line

Date: 10/16/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Cary Svoboda

Those pesky and irritating ankle-biting mosquitoes won't go away. You can blame the recent heat and humidity that helped them thrive here in Southern California lately. It's not just the ankle biters we need to worry about. The other mosquito that can carry West Nile virus is out there too. KNX's Charles Feldman and Mike Simpson speak with Cary Svoboda, program lead for Ventura County's mosquito control efforts

Open Line

Date: 10/16/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Terik Daly

Dart worked. The spacecraft that NASA deliberately crashed into an asteroid last month succeeded in nudging the rocky moonlet out of its natural orbit, the first time humanity has altered the motion of a celestial body. KNX's Mike Simpson and Charles Feldman speak with Terik Daly, DRACO deputy instrument scientist for the DART mission; planetary scientist at Johns Hopkins Applied Physics Laboratory

Open Line

Date: 10/23/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 6 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Ben Hottel and Maureen Murray

If you think Los Angeles is dirty and rat-infested a new survey shows you're right. La came in third on Orkin's "top 50 rattiest cities." Chicago was no. 1 again while New York checked in at no. 2. What makes these cities so ratty? KNX's Charles Feldman and Chris Sedens speak with Ben Hottel, Orkin entomologist and Maureen Murray, Wildlife Disease Ecologist at Lincoln Park Zoo's Urban Wildlife Institute in Chicago

ISSUE: Environment (cont.)

Open Line

Date: 10/30/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Carolyn Maezes

Governor Newsom has signed a new law that will allow people to choose human composting after they die. Supporters say it's a great way to help the environment since things like cremation can use up fossil fuels. It's also natural. It's already legal in three other states and there are businesses that already cater to that option. KNX's Mike Simpson and Charles Feldman speak with Carolyn Maezes, co-founder of Earth Funeral, which offers human composting

Open Line

Date: 11/13/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 4 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Zachary Steel

The Sierra Nevada forest is shrinking. A new study finds between 2011 and 2020, wildfires, drought and bark beetle infestations contributed to the loss of nearly a third of all Conifer forests in the lower half of the mountain range. The losses could have grave consequences for California wildlife. Somewhere John Muir weeps. KNX's Charles Feldman and Chris Sedens speak with Zachary Steel, research scientist with the United States Forest Service's Rocky Mountain Research Station; lead author of the study

Open Line

Date: 11/13/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 4 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Nicholas Mathews

If you head to a national park soon, don't lick a toad. The national park service has put out a PSA pleading with nature-goers to stop licking toads in the wild to get high off their gland-secreted psychedelic substance, 5-meo-dmt. It warns of serious health risks if you lick toads. KNX's Rob Archer and Charles Feldman speak with Nicholas Mathews, Founder/CEO of Stillwater Behavioral Health in Santa Monica, Porter Ranch and Montecito

ISSUE: Environment (cont.)

Open Line

Date: 12/4/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 4 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: David Pedersen

A new state report finds many water agencies in southern California could be facing significant water shortages soon because of the drought. The Las Virgenes municipal water district, which serves Calabasas, Hidden Hills and surrounding areas, is projecting a 63% shortage, according to the report. Agency spokesman Mike Mcnutt said he “wouldn’t be surprised” if that number had worsened in the last several months. KNX’s Chris Sedens and Brian Ping speak with David Pedersen, general manager of the Las Virgenes Municipal Water District

Open Line

Date: 12/25/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 5 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Felicia Marcus

A big dam problem is brewing in the American southwest. Concern is being raised over Lake Mead water levels behind Hoover Dam. There are estimates that we could see dead pool levels by 2025. That means no water will pass through the dam. That will lead to major water problems for southern California, Nevada and Arizona. What can be done about this? KNX’s Charles Feldman and Rob Archer speak with Felicia Marcus, fellow at Stanford University's Water in the West Program; former chair of the California State Water Resources Control Board under Gov. Brown of the Franklin Lab at the Hawaii Institute of Marine Biology at the University of Hawaii at Manoa

Open Line

Date: 12/25/22

Time: 6:00AM

Duration: 6 minutes of a 60-minute program

Guest: Mac Harman and Jill Sidebottom

Christmas tree, a real tree or artificial tree? Which one is better? What if you're environmentally conscious? Which one is better? That depends on who you ask. One study says artificial trees might be a little better for the environment but others say real trees are best. Who's right? KNX’s Rob Archer and Charles Feldman speak with Mac Harman, CEO and Founder of Balsam Hill, which makes artificial Christmas trees and Jill Sidebottom, spokesperson for the National Christmas Tree Association which represents growers of natural Christmas trees